BOOTS AND SENNING ATTEND CONFERENCE

Discuss Problems, Methods of Research at Political Science Institute.

Prof. R. S. Boots and Prof. J. P. Senning spent a week in Chicago before the University opened, attending the Political Science Institute. This is a round-table conference where professors from all over the United States discuss problems of research, and the method by which these problems can best be investigated.

The Nebraska professors were in a round-table conference in which statistics as a measure of political opinion were considered. The conference decided that the questionnaire method and the straw vote system employed by the Literary Digest, the Outlook, and various other magazines might be used to advantage by the political scientists in a study of political opinion in any community.

Professor Senning intends to put this form into immediate practice. He has been appointed by the Kiwanis club to take charge of the work of inducing people to register for the coming election. A personal canvass of voters will be made in each precinct, and the attitude of the people of Lincoln on voting in the November election will be ascertained.

ELECT OFFICERS IN TWO WEEKS

Filings for Class Presidents and Honorary Colonel Close October 3.

ANNOUNCE CANDIDATES WEEK FROM SUNDAY

Class presidents for the first semester will be elected Tuesday, October 7, at the Student Council room in the southwest corner of Social Science Building. The honorary colonel of the regiment will be elected at the same time.

The results of the election will be announced on the evening of October 7, and official results will appear in the Daily Nebraskan on the following morning. The Student Council, in charge of the election, will make all announcements concerning the result.

Filing for all offices, including that of honorary colonel, must be done at the Student Activities office before 5 o'clock Friday, October 3. Absolutely no filings will be accepted at the office after the time set.

All filings will be sealed and will not be opened until a short time before the announcement of candidates is made in the Daily Nebraskan on Sunday, October 5. Voting will take place all day in the Student Council room on Tuesday following the announcement of the candidates.

Filing for the position of honorary colonel of the regiment is introduced for the first time this year, and any junior or senior girl is eligible for the position. Last year, Miss Rosalie Platner, Omaha, held the position. She is a senior in school this year.

"Names of those filing will be sealed as they are received, and will be disclosed in no way until official announcements are made October 5," said Emmett V. Maun, president of the Student Council, yesterday. He also said, "This has been done to eliminate any political slate that might arise during the election." Maun cautions those filing that they be sure that they are eligible for the offices they seek.

TICKETS TO BE FOR STUDENTS

Selleck Declares Season Athletic Books Not to Be Sold to Outsiders.

ORGANIZATIONS MAY GET SEATS TOGETHER

"This is the third year that athletic tickets have been offered and we expect that by this time the students will have realized their value sufficiently to make the sales bigger than ever," John K. Selleck, business agent for athletics, said Wednesday. "When the idea of student tickets was first introduced it was necessary to persuade the students that the thing was all right; now they have become so popular that our greatest problem is to see that only University students buy them. People outside want to get the benefit of the lower rates too."

"A number of organizations have signified their intention of buying blocks of seats under the student ticket system so that the members may sit together. We will require that a list of the purchasers be turned in by 5 o'clock Friday so that we may check them and make sure they are bona fide students."

Early Ones Get Best Seats.

"Whoever gets there first when sales begin at 8 o'clock next Monday morning at the booth east of University Hall will get the best seats. These seats will be reserved in the best part of the Stadium for every game this season, and the holder of the ticket will get the same seat for each game. The student section will be from the 20-yard line to the 20-yard line, and from the first to the twenty-second row."

"In case a holder of one of these tickets has friends or relatives attending some game and he wishes to sit with them, he can turn in his student ticket and exchange it for one with his friends in another part of the stadium."

TO HOLD COSTUME PARTIES SATURDAY

Husks and Kernels Have Charge of "Kid" and "Hard-Times" Affairs.

Two costume parties will be given Saturday by the Y. W. C. A. at Ellen Smith Hall with the Husks and Kernels in charge. Freshmen and upper-classwomen are invited to attend whichever party they choose. The first will be a "kid" party at 2:30 and the second a "hard-times" party at 8 o'clock.

Decorations, favors, refreshments and programs will be in keeping with each party. Get-acquainted games, dancing and programs of music and readings are going planned for the entertainment of the guests. The membership committee of the association is cooperating with the Husks and Kernels in giving the parties.

The Husks and Kernels are organizations of the membership body of Y. W. C. A. and form the third unit in the association, the cabinet and staff being the first two. They were started last year. Every woman in the association will be identified with one or the other before the close of the year.

Allow Students to Register in Lincoln

The City Clerk's office was opened from 7 to 9 o'clock last night to enable students, and others who could not be there at the regular hours, to register for the election, November 4.

Students who have registered in their home towns will be compelled to vote there of course, but those who will be in Lincoln forty days prior to the election, are enabled to vote here. Students are not allowed to register by mail in their home towns, but may cast their vote in Lincoln instead.

All registering must be done at the City Clerk's office before October 26, and although only about 12,000 have registered to date, that many more are expected before closing time.

COMIC MONTHLY GIVEN APPROVAL

Chamber of Commerce Advertising Committee Endorses Awgwan.

FIRST ISSUE WILL APPEAR OCTOBER 15

Official approval of the Nebraska Awgwan as an advertising medium was granted Tuesday afternoon by the Advertising Censorship Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The Awgwan, formerly one of the leading college comics, was reinstated last spring by the Student Publication Board, and the first issue for more than a year will be ready for distribution October 15.

Letters were written to the Censorship Committee by Chancellor Avery and Professor M. M. Fogg, chairman of the Student Publication Board, which explained to the committee the basis on which resumption of publication was made. The editor and business-manager of the Awgwan are now appointed by Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic fraternity, subject to the approval of the Student Publication Board, and all profits are strictly limited and regulated by the board.

Work on the first issue has been started, but there is room for any who wish work on the editorial staff. They should apply in the basement of University Hall within the next few days. Artists, and writers of short humorous skits are especially needed.

Paul Richardson is editor and Clayton Snow is business manager of the comic, and applications should be made to them. On the business staff, advertising solicitors and circulation assistants are needed, and any students with previous high school or college experience are asked to apply. There will be a meeting of all applicants for positions, with the editors in the near future, and applicants should watch the Daily Nebraskan for the date.

This picture was taken at the close of the freshman initiation Tuesday morning when 2,500 freshmen gathered in front of the Social Science Building and still and motion pictures were taken of them. The motion pictures will be shown in theaters throughout the state. Chancellor Samuel Avery, Dean Carl C. Engberg, and Wendell Berge, '25, president of the Innocents, who addressed the convocation are in the foreground of the picture.
