Methodists Complete First Unit Of Wesley Foundation Building

The first unit of the Wesley Foundation Building, 1417 R Street, was completed during the summer of 1924 at a cost approximating $16,000. It will be the home of Rev. Harry F. Huntington, Methodist student pastor, and center of Methodist student activities until the main portion of the building is constructed. The structure is three stories in height, of English style of architecture and constructed of brick and stucco veneer. Four large rooms, a lavatory and ample room for hall and stairs are provided on the first floor. Three bedrooms one of which has a private lavatory a sleeping porch, a sewing room, a bathroom and hall are on the second floor. On the third floor is a bedroom, lavatory and store room. The basement is large and light, with a cement floor. A large brick fireplace is built into the east wall of the living room, around which friendship groups will meet during the winter months. This room is 16 by 22 feet. All floors, except those on the third floor, are of golden oak. All woodwork is gumwood, stained to dull mahogany richness. The plastering throughout is smooth, and left uncovered in the upstairs rooms. First-floor walls and ceilings as well as the second-floor hall, are papered with light-colored paper. The lighting fixtures are of special design, and in keeping with the general atmosphere of the house. Ample closet and cupboard space is provided in every part of the house. The second and main unit of the building, which will house the offices of the University pastor, provide a large parlor for receptions. Two halls for general social purposes of the Methodist students, will be added in three or four years, the Rev. Mr. Huntington hopes. It will be constructed entirely of fireproof material, with walls of brick. The east wall of this addition is already in place, being the west wall of the parsonage. Although the roof of the residence is covered at present with composite roofing, the roof over the whole structure will probably be of slate.

Nebraska Alumnus is Author of One Of Best Short Stories of the Year

"Two Women and Hog-Back Ridge", a story written by Melvin Vandenberg, an alumnus of the University, has been selected to appear in the 1925 edition of Edward J. O'Brien's collection of the year's best short stories. It first appeared in the September Bookman under the heading, "The Ten Best Short Stories." Mr. O'Brien has written to Mr. Vandenberg for a biographical sketch to appear with the story. Melvin Vandenberg graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1922, and has achieved quite an honor by having his story appear among the first ten best. The honor is made greater by the youngness of the writer. Mr. Vandenberg taught after his graduation in an Omaha high school, and from there went to the University of Iowa where he is now. The Bookman said of the story: "The same interplay of character and environment, born of the same rebellion appears in Melvin Vandenberg's 'Two Women and Hog-Back Ridge.' (Midland, June-August). A country school teacher was persecuted because she dared to walk on a Nebraska sand hill at night. It is the story of the eternal lash which torpid men lay upon the shoulders of the more sensitive. 'Mr. Vandenberg realizes his locale with success to which anyone who knows the middle west cannot help but pay tribute."

In the College World

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS—The first issue of the "Sour Owl," humorous publication of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, will appear on the campus October 25, the date of the Nebraska-Kansas football game. The day is also Homecoming day at Kansas. UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA—Student control of the co-operative book store will be effected soon if present plans are carried out. The entire stock valued at $308,000 will be turned over to the managerial board. AUGUSTANA COLLEGE—The freshmen were victors in the annual sack rush between the freshmen and sophomores here Tuesday. The field had previously been soaked by the Rock Island fire department, producing a muddy, soggy field. UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN—The final registration totals 8,892 students enrolled, an increase of forty over the enrollment of last year. Slight decreases were present in the Literary, Medical and Engineering colleges, and small gains noted elsewhere. UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI—"Tin" Adams, M. U. back, suffered an injury last week which is keeping him out of practice for the present. He is keeping in shape by a daily work-out on the track and may get into the first game October 4. UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA—The R. O. T. C. queen was named Saturday following a four-hour balloting period. Only advanced men in the cadet corps were allowed to vote for the sponsor, and less than 200 ballots were cast. COLORADO AGGIES—The University band has recently been granted a charter from Kappa Kappa Psi, an honorary fraternity which seeks to promote better scholarship and closer relationship between college bands. UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA—Early fraternity rushing was

JAYHAWKERS HAVE GRUELING PRACTICE

Kansas Gridiron Candidates Are Subjected to Long Work Out.

UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI, Columbia, Mo., Sept. 28.—Football practice yesterday afternoon was characterized by its length. Coach Gwinn Henry kept his squad on the field from 3 to 6:30 o'clock. "It takes lots of time when you're working slowly and spending lots of time on individuals," he commented this morning. Forward passing practice was the feature of the afternoon. Five different pass formations were given the backs and ends and after an hour's schooling they were tried in scrimmage. In passing Stuber, quarter on last year's freshman team, showed up well. Tuttle, Simpson and Walsh worked well at receiving. With Coach Henry calling the plays a snappy signal drill was held. Last night the squad assembled in Rothwell Gymnasium for "skull practice." With headgears for balls four teams walked through plays given them by the coaches. Considerable time was spent on the punters yesterday. Faurot, Richerson, and Underhill seem to be best and of these Faurot seems to have the edge. It is possible that Coglizer will receive instructions in this department of the game. Although punting might spoil his drop kicking toe it would be better for the team if he could get kicks off with distance and placement, it is argued.

SOONER COACHES TRY NEW LINEUP

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA, Norman, Okla., Sept. 30.—Hopes of finding a winning backfield combination for the varsity eleven, resulted in Sooner coaches shifting rear rank men Friday at practice. The new combination with Hendricks at full, "Red" Carol at quarter, and Haller and Ledford at halves formed a speedy passing offensive that skirted the Boomer ends and line for gains almost at will. In the arrangement Owen unearthed a sweeping offensive that easily broke down frosh barriers. Woodall and Mathias at the flank positions were receivers of short passes and the two wingmen generally sifted thru the opposing line for large gains. Haller circled around right end at one time aided by interference to run the distance of the field. Carol had the ball snapped to Hendricks most of the time, who either passed it or hit the line or circled around an end. Bristow and Lamb put everything they had into the punting game Friday. Coaches were pleased at the result of the first scrimmage in which punting was used Thursday night. Another play was given to the team in signal practice by Owen Friday. The varsity first demonstrated it before other players and then used it against the freshman team.

schedule were put on sale Friday. The tickets sold for five dollars for the four games. Separate tickets sell at $1.50 for the first game and $2.00 for each of the others.

A detailed study of the core of the drill on the Nehawka anticline has been made by the geological survey of the University of Nebraska. A report was sent out that the drill had encountered granite, but Dr. Condra finds that it is a material very unlike granite consisting of compact limestone and pebble rock, though resembling granite in certain superficial aspects. Select your own food and pay only for what you eat at the Temple Cafeteria.—Adv.

Play Your Best With the Best... College Gossip says--

Yesterday while strolling through Ridges' (that's where I spend all my spare moments) I saw a darling little gray slip-over sweater, with long sleeves that had bright orange stripes running through the cuffs and around the bottom. You'd never be able to guess the price, it was so low, so I'm going to tell you without even giving you one guess,—it was only $3.50. If you want a good looking sweater, and every school girl needs at least one, you'll be able to find just what you want at Ridges' on N street.
