CLUB TO HOLD BIZAD SMOKER

"Bizad Day" Is Planned for Second Semester Instead of the First.

The Commercial Club will give a smoker for all Business Administration students at the Grand Hotel, next Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. Freshmen are especially invited to attend. There will be a program including speeches by Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the College of Business Administration and several others. The committee in charge of the smoker is August Holmquist, chairman, Charles Hoff, and Lindell Campbell.

At a meeting yesterday it was decided that Bizad Day will be held during the second rather than the first semester as is customary, there being too many other activities occurring at this time. Also there will be three meetings a month, of the club, one a business meeting, another a dinner, and the last a meeting for the purpose of hearing some constructive speeches. The next meeting will be held October 23 in S. S. 303.

NEBRASKA ALUMNUS WRITES OF FRANKS OF OTHER DAYS

greatest invention, must have made a slight impression, or my later adventures on plains, mountains, and rivers was proof that 'the devil takes care of his own.'

"I appreciated Miss Smith, who when off duty, endeavored to convince me that I was really a member of the genus-homo, but who when in the class room called me an imp of Satan, as I was called by practically all those with whom I came in contact.

"I know that Professor Collier convinced me that there were spirits that appeared from invisible sources, shot out tongues of fire, and gave me such shocks as no ordinary mortal could have done.

"Percept nor precept made any impression at that time. Devilishness and disease had no apparent relation. Warped in mind and dwarfed in body, I disgraced the University as well as my family and home town.

"When interviewed by a representative of Who's Who in America, I probably should not have stated that I attended the University of Nebraska, but the question was asked and it seemed a very natural answer that I should reply to it in the way I did.

"I was nearly thirty years old before my propensity for adventure, wherever it lead or whatever it involved, was practically assuaged.

"It finally dawned upon me that I was worthless, not but what I might have gotten some money had I cared to, but that as far as the community was concerned I was a total loss and no insurance.

"I began to realize that a man was worth only the amount of service which he was able to do for society. It may have been simply a suggestion, an impulse, or a revelation; some might have called it a conversion. However, from that time I began in every way that was within my very limited power, to serve those within my small circle in the community.

"The card which I am enclosing will give you an idea of some of the positions of service which I am trying to fill. I am rather active, notwithstanding so many years of wasted life. I am, however, lacking in capacity to do the greater things in life."

Bloodgood and Kamm Who Are Pilots of the Husker Team

PAUL KAMM

AL BLOODGOOD

Al Bloodgood, former Beatrice high gridster, and Paul Kamm, Colorado man, have been alternating at quarterback on the Varsity squad.

Bloodgood is the lightest man on the team, tipping the scales at less than 150 pounds, while Kamm weighs 163. Both will probably be given plenty of opportunity to show what they can do before the season is finished.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS—Dr. H. Y. Benedict, dean of the Arts and Science College, says Texas students may get married if they wish to. "It isn't a question of hampered studying ability, but I imagine it would be a question of finance with most students."

For Young Men
There is nothing like a
STETSON
MOST young men today know the importance of looking fit. Good appearance counts much in the game of life. The young man who dresses with taste has a decided advantage.
But—it is surprising how little thought the average man gives to his hat. It is his crown, yet he seems to stop dressing at the neck.
Be careful in your selection of your headwear. When you buy a hat, select a Stetson. Its style is right, its quality means long wear.
