300 PICTURES TO BE TAKEN IN NINE DAYS

Editor of Cornhusker Says No Photos Will Be Made After November 12.

The following statement was issued Saturday by Wendell Berge, editor of the 1925 Cornhusker, in regard to the taking of junior pictures:

"Only nine more days are left to take junior pictures. Nearly four hundred have been taken. We want three hundred more.

"Absolutely no junior pictures will be taken after November 12. Our contract with the studios provides that junior pictures must be taken by November 12 to allow the studios time to make up the panels which will be sent to the engraver before December 1.

"Juniors must realize, therefore, that the staff cannot make any exceptions to this rule. Every student, regardless of college, who has 53-58 hours inclusive is a junior for our purposes.

WENDELL BERGE, Editor.

PLAN TO EMPLOY MORE GRADUATES

Farm Equipment Manufacturers Need Agricultural Engineers.

Prof. Oscar W. Sjogren of the department of agricultural engineering, upon his return from a meeting of a cooperative relations committee, declares that the manufacturers of farm equipment are planning to employ a large number of agricultural engineering graduates.

This plan was put under way at the National meeting of manufacturers of farm equipment in Chicago last week. Manufacturers are now working out a plan of training for these men which in general will be similar to that now in use by the manufacturers in the electrical engineering industry.

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers instigated this movement thru its committee on Cooperative Relations headed by Prof. H. B. Walker of Manhattan, Kansas, assisted by Prof. J. B. Davidson, Ames, Iowa; S. H. McCrory, Washington, D. C., and Prof. C. W. Sjogren, Lincoln, Nebraska.

A similar committee from the manufacturers is now working among the manufacturers making plans for and perfecting courses of training suitable to the various lines of farm equipment manufacture and sales.

F. A. Wirt of Racine, Wisconsin, a graduate of the University of Nebraska college of Engineering and now engaged in the industry, is taking a very active part in the work of this committee.

A joint meeting of the two committees was held last week in Chicago, at which time plans were further formulated for the definite carrying out of the courses of training.

Other manufacturers are hoping to announce similar plans soon. The committee also discussed: Plans for carrying out a cooperative scheme of investigation and research, plans for assisting in farm machinery instruction in colleges and high schools, and plans for tractor schools to be conducted on a co-operative basis between local and equipment men, local schools, and the agricultural engineering extension men.

LABOR LEADER SPEAKS HERE

Paul Blanshard Will Address World Forum Luncheon.

IS AUTHOR OF TEXT USED AT NEBRASKA

Paul Blanshard, New York City, field secretary for the League for Industrial Democracy and lecturer and writer on labor problems, will be the speaker at the World Forum meeting in the Grand Hotel Wednesday noon. He will address several sociology, economics and political science classes in the University on Thursday and Friday.

Tickets for the luncheon are on sale at the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. offices and must be purchased by 5 o'clock this evening. The price is twenty-five cents.

Mr. Blanshard was formerly educational secretary of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, one of the strongest unions in the country. His experience during several strikes are said to have furnished him with a wealth of material for use in his speeches.

"An Outline of the British Labor Movement," one of the text-books used in the University of Nebraska, was written by Mr. Blanshard after he had made a thorough study of conditions in England. He is also a frequent contributor to such magazines as The Nation and The New Republic.

Mr. Blanshard became interested in the labor movement while a student at the University of Michigan. Later he did graduate work in economic and industrial subjects at Harvard and Columbia University.

"The human and social aspects of the labor problem have claimed Mr. Blanshard's attention for the most part," said Arthur Jorgenson, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., in speaking of Mr. Blanshard. Mr. Jorgenson is a close friend of Blanshard.

Mr. Blanshard was one of the principle speakers at the Student Volunteer convention in Indianapolis last spring. The League for Industrial Democracy, for which he is field secretary, is striving to make self-government and democracy in the industries of the United States a fact.

Mr. Blanshard will also speak to the Social Service Club of Lincoln at their monthly meeting at the Grand hotel Saturday and will hold numerous conferences with students interested in the labor movement and social work.

Some of the subjects on which Mr. Blanshard will speak while in Lincoln Challenge of Labor to the College are: "The Ideals of Labor," "The Student," "British Labor in Power," and "Labor and the Next War."

BAPTIST STUDENTS MEET AT BANQUET

Hundred and Fifty Hear Miss Burrell Speak on Power of Personality.

More than one hundred and fifty students attended the bi-annual banquet of the University club of Baptist students, Friday at the First Baptist Church. Miss Jessie Burrell of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., the highest-salaried woman professor in the United States and recently on the staff of the National Geographic Magazine, spoke to the students on "The Unlimited Power of a Single Personality."

Two numbers on the violin were given by Robert Bramlette, accompanied by Alice Springer. Dr. B. B. Braeden, director of institutional education for the Nebraska Baptist convention, expressed his approval of the gathering of the students for a common purpose.

Victor Hicks, of the Missouri football team, was an impromptu speaker. "Down in Missouri," said Mr. Hicks, "I have been raised under the impression that up here in Nebraska, they raise only Cornhuskers and brutes. I came here tonight expecting to be a stranger among enemies; Miss Burrell would be the only one that I know. Now I've met a lot of you and feel that I was greatly mistaken. We have been training for this game for a long time and tomorrow we are going into the game with everything we have. If you win it will not be our fault."

Miss Burrell told the Nebraska students something about Missouri spirit and sang for them "I'm from old Missouri." Each one was treated for some definite purpose. By unfavorable comparison with another person, men often fail to make much of themselves. "Don't compare yourself with others," is Miss Burrell's advice, "You are a personality all by yourself. Don't try to be an imitator."

MANY OUT FOR RIFLE TEAM

Only Two Members of Last Year's Team Lost by Graduation.

The rifle team has more material available than for several years, Capt. L. W. Eggers of the military department announces. The team last year lost only two men by graduation. There are more new men who are good marksmen than usual. Practice is being held daily on the indoor range in Nebraska Hall. More interest is being shown this year in pistol shooting.

The University of Missouri rifle team will come to Lincoln to meet the Nebraska team on the local range if negotiations are completed. An effort is being made this year to organize a Missouri Valley rifle tournament.

BAND WILL GO TO NOTRE DAME

Business Men and Other Organizations Contribute to Fund.

DRIVE AMONG STUDENTS DECLARED A FAILURE

The band will go to Notre Dame, according to a statement made yesterday afternoon. Although the student drive was not as successful as it might have been, business men and organizations have promised enough financial aid so that there will be a forty-piece band at South Bend to cheer the Cornhuskers on toward victory over the Irish.

Each member of the band is making a personal sacrifice to make the trip. The fund from the collection within the band will defray about half of the expenses while the collection from the student body resulted in less than one-fifth of the actual amount needed to send a band with the student football team, according to Emmett V. Maun, chairman of the drive.

One business man stated that he would give one hundred dollars toward the fund if the student body failed to give enough to send the band. A business organization of Lincoln promised another hundred dollars and one campus organization has offered a hundred dollars. With the voluntary contributions and the assessments made on each member of the band, Captain Maurice Shickley feels that it is quite certain that the South Bend students will hear "The Cornhusker" played by the Nebraska band and hopes that the band may lead the victory parade after the game.

PRaise Y. W. C. A. WORK IN LINCOLN

Commissioner of Immigration Commends Americanization Classes.

Americanization work among the foreign population of this city which has been under way for several years under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. has recently been warmly commended by the commissioner of immigration at Washington who have declared that Lincoln is doing the best work in this line of any city of its size in the United States.

The annual call for volunteers from among the upperclass women of the university to do this Americanization work has just been issued. Women who are interested should see Miss Appleby in Ellen Smith Hall or call Sylvia Lewis at the Delta Delta Delta house, telephone F5540.

The work which is undertaken is of two kinds. The one kind calls for afternoon work among the foreign women, mainly Mexican, who cannot attend night school. Workers go directly to the homes of these families. At least eight girls are needed for this type of work.

The second phase of the work consists of teaching of night classes in English in the city schools. Classes meet from 7 to 9 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Women who have had teaching experience are especially desirable applicants. Those who apply may express a preference to teach in the school which is nearest to their home, or is most convenient for them. The work will continue until the first of March. Each woman teaches one night a week.

At the McKinley school at Fifteenth and N there are vacancies for eight women on Monday nights. Tuesday and Wednesday night positions at this school are full. At all of the other schools listed there are vacancies for two teachers on all three nights.
