PRICE 5 CENTS

HOLD RALLY AT STATION

Cheerleaders and Band Will Lead Songs and Yells at 3:45 O'clock.

EXPECT 3,000 STUDENTS/
TO CHEER CORNHUSKERS

Over 3000 are expected at the final Notre Dame football rally at the Chicago and Northwestern railway station, Ninth and S streets, today. The last demonstration before the great intersectional game of the season is expected to draw at least that many, due to the significance of the game and the fact that this is the first station rally this year.

"Attendance at last evening's rally is enough," said cheerleaders. "Every student who can possibly do it must be at the station at 3:45 o'clock today." Confidence was expressed that the crowd would number 3000.

The rally will begin at exactly 3:45 o'clock as the train carrying the team will leave the station at 4 o'clock. Cheerleaders and the University band will lead the rooters in songs and yells. It is the belief that the turnout will be doubly large on account of the poor showing made before the Oklahoma game.

"At the time of the game with the Pittsburgh Tigers," said a member of the innocents, "over 3,000 students were present to send the team off. The reason was that they realized that the game was a big one and that it would mean much to win it. That is why we expect at least that number today, as we are sure every one realizes the importance of this game with the Catholics."

Any sophomore, junior or senior is eligible for the team and there are several vacancies in last year's team. The requirements for eligibility are the same as those of any other inter-collegiate sport.

The team will be required to participate in at least twenty matches before they can be given letters. The letters will be awarded by the University "N" club.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY—Freshmen were substituted for apples in the annual initiation held here Halloween night. Led by the band, the freshmen were paraded until the "Fountain of Knowledge" was ready and then they went by three and four into the water far below. When they crawled out they were received with open arms and rolled in the inviting mud next to the fountain. One freshman became stage struck and took the master of ceremonies with him as he went down, accompanied by screams of glee from the feminine section of the audience.

Talks were made by W. K. Fowler, '16, and W. T. Vivian, '10, outlining the purpose and conception of this club.

Plans were made to hold monthly meetings and later in the season a special social evening is planned. It was brought out that there are in Schenectady, in the employ of the General Electric Company, thirty Nebraska graduates.

Mandery and Dailey Score for Varsity; McIntyre Makes Touchdown for Losers.

Members of the Varsity football squad and the freshman team played a practice game in the Stadium Wednesday afternoon before several thousand spectators. The Varsity made two touchdowns and the freshman one. Regular Varsity men were not used in the game.

Dailey, playing halfback for the Varsity, was the star of the game. Dailey rounded the freshman end for a 60-yard run but failed to score. A long pass to Dailey scored one of the Varsity touchdowns; R. Mandery scoring the other counter on a similar play.

The freshmen executed the Notre Dame shift with enough efficiency to bother the Varsity reserves. Steady gains were made by the yearlings with this style of play. The freshmen touchdown came when McIntyre, former Lincoln high player, picked up a Varsity fumble on his own 2-yard line and raced 98 yards to a touchdown. The work of "Jug" Brown, former Lincoln high quarterback, was also outstanding. The stands were fairly well filled for the "open house" practice staged by Coach Dawson before departure for Notre Dame at South Bend.

ECOLOGY SETTLES DISPUTE

Greely Tells How Oklahoma-Texas
Border Was Defined.

F. C. Jean of Greely, Colorado, talked on the settling of the Oklahoma-Texas boundary line disputed by ecological methods at the Sem Bot meeting held Wednesday evening.

The state line was originally marked by the river channel, but the river changed its course and the rich oil lands on the boundary were claimed by both states. Ecological experts were called in to decide the original course of the river by means of marks on the tree trunks, and by plant life. The dispute was settled by these means.

TO ANNOUNCE PRIZES SOON

Cornhusker Staff Will Reward
Winners in Sales Campaign.

CONTEST IS OPEN TO ANY UNIVERSITY WOMAN

Announcement will be made in a few days of the awards that have been selected for the winning organization in the Cornhusker sales campaign next week. Business Manager Lang states that there will be two elaborate prizes for the winning organizations and six prizes for the women making the highest individual sales records.

The competition is confined solely to women. Tables will be set up in each of the main buildings to serve as headquarters for all who are taking part in the drive. The contest is not limited to sororities but is open to every girl in school. The dormitories and literary societies will take part in the campaign. Any organizations that did not compete last year but wish to this year, should see Mr. Lang immediately and make their entry in the contest.

The price of the Cornhusker will be $4.50, but if enough books are sold to warrant a reduction, fifty cents will be refunded when the book is delivered. Students may pay $2.50 next week, and the balance when they secure the book. The goal this year is 3,500 Cornhuskers sold to students.

"The Cornhusker of Service" is trying to fulfill a real need," stated Business Manager Lang. "We want to make students and citizens outside the University realize that the University of Nebraska is serving the taxpayers of the state in a vital way. Every student who has the interest of the University at heart will realize the importance of this theme. I hope the students will respond in the sales campaign so that the Cornhusker will be a financial success. If a book is not a financial success it cannot be successful in its broader purpose," Lang declared.

History Will Repeat Itself!!!

Nebraska's loyal sons and daughters today will do their duty. At least three thousand loyal Huskers will assemble at the Northwestern station at 3:45. They will send our fighting team off with a cheer that will still be echoing when they line up for the first kick-off Saturday at South Bend.

NEBRASKA SPIRIT is a powerful thing. It will sweep across seven hundred miles of prairie next Saturday and, if humanly possible, it will carry our team to victory.

Rockne's proteges are not supermen. Frank Birch, well-known referee, is credited with saying, "NEBRASKA WILL BEAT NOTRE DAME." Why not? We did it before when the odds were against us.

It can be done—it must be done—IT SHALL BE DONE AGAIN.

Will Lecture on Civic Sculpture

Specimens of Mr. Johnson's skill are found in all parts of the country. He is a former pupil of Augustus St. Gaudens and has studied at the Art Students' League of New York City.

RETURN FROM BIENNIAL MEET

Twenty-eight Colleges Represented at Convention in Kentucky.

RE-ELECT UNIVERSITY
ALUMNA TREASURER

Barbara Wiggernhorn, '25, Ashland, returned Tuesday evening from Lexington, Ky., where she attended the fifth biennial convention of Mortarboard, national honorary organization for senior women, held November 6 to 8. Katherine Warner, '25, Dakota City, delegate to the convention from the local chapter will return on the special train from Notre Dame where she will attend the game. Mrs. R. N. Westover of Lincoln also went east for the convention and was re-elected national treasurer.

Twenty-eight colleges were represented at the convention. Forty-five members attended. Charters were granted at the University of Oklahoma at Norman and to the University of California at Berkeley.

The convention went on record as favoring the honor system. Six colleges reported as having the system and it was reported to be working satisfactorily in four of these.

The University of Nebraska was considered a step in advance of many of the chapters, according to Miss Wiggernhorn, because of the way in which it has worked out the point system, because it is the only chapter where an honorary faculty member is elected and because of its method of choosing and notifying its members.

At every other college the members are notified of their election before it is made public, and at no other college are they elected by a vote of the senior women.

The program of the convention included business sessions on each morning of the three days. Lunches were given for the convention by the W. S.-G. A. and the Y. W. C. A., and by the Pan-Hellenic Association. The president of the University of Kentucky entertained the delegates at a tea at his home. A tea at the Green Tree tea room, famous historically, given by the alumnae association of Mortarboard, and a trip to Shakerstown, the former home of a famous religious sect, were included for the entertainment of the guests.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM LEAVES FOR CONTEST

Will Represent University of Nebraska in American
Royal Show.

The senior stock judging team will leave today for Kansas City, where they will represent the University of Nebraska in a judging contest to be held in connection with the American Royal Stock Show. Members of the team are: Nat Tolman, Lincoln; Honor Oschner, Madison; Jay Hopper, Norfolk; Dorsey Barnes, Leppert; Clarence Fortna, Octavia; and James Barnes, Chicago. Twelve states were represented by teams in the contest at Kansas City last year, and the contest is said to be larger this year.

The judging team will compete Saturday and they will visit several large stock farms in the vicinity of Kansas City, Friday. After the contest at Kansas City, the team leaves for The International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. They will make several stops at stock farms on the way to Chicago and will compete there in the week from November 29 to December 6.

OHIO STATE—Orange, peach, and raspberry lipstick will soon occupy important positions on the co-ed's dressing table. A pharmacy has sent in an order for these appetizing beauty concoctions, and expects a delivery daily.

WESLEYAN TEAM DEFEATED

Simpson College Wins From Nebraska
School by 6-to-0 Score.

Simpson College of Indianola, Ia., defeated Nebraska Wesleyan 6 to 0 Tuesday afternoon in a game played in the Nebraska Memorial Stadium.

Alabaster and Wiberg starred in the Wesleyan backfield, while Mercer, fullback, was the big noise for Simpson. Mercer booted two placement kicks from the 20-yard line in the last quarter, giving his team the margin needed for victory. Simpson maintained its record of no defeats by the win.

Wesleyan went strong in the first half, but the offense seemed to go to pieces in the second. In the last quarter the Simpson backs tore through the line for good gains and twice brought the ball close enough to the goal posts to allow Mercer to score from the field.

The game was the Homecoming game for the University Place school and many old grads attended.

GEORGIA TECH—The senior jacket, similar to those worn at English Universities, has been chosen. It is a box coat of high grade English flannel with the college seal and class colors on the pocket. The coat may be worn to informal dances and yet it is serviceable enough to be worn on the campus.

East, West, North and South Await Results of Saturday's Big Clash

Few people who have followed football from year to year will hesitate about expressing their opinion as to just what football contest is the most important one on this week's schedule. There can be but one answer—the Nebraska-Notre Dame game, at South Bend to be played this Saturday.

Last year when Rockne's eleven swept through the country defeating team after team, and scoring touchdowns after touchdowns, they were characterized as the "Wonder" team. Buoyant roars which jammed the unfinished Cornhusker stadium last November, saw a more-than-wonder team defeat the Notre Dame eleven by a score that left no doubt in the

HOWLING CROWD CHEERS HUSKERS

"Fightingest Bunch of Cornhuskers Ever Known" Says
Gridster Coach.

DAWSON, HARTLEY AND
BERGE TALK AT ARMORY

"I have no promises of victory. Must you, Nebraska, have a promise of victory from me before you will support your team? I say you do not. We are going against the greatest team in America next Saturday with the bravest, fightingest bunch of Cornhuskers ever known. You are sending them there telling them to do their best and they are going to do it."

Thus Coach Fred T. Dawson addressed the howling mob of students which last night filled only three fourths of the Armory, but responded loud enough and long enough to make up the difference. The crowd began to gather before 7 o'clock and long before the cheerleaders and teams arrived broke into spontaneous outbursts of sheer unorganized howling.

Wendell Berge, '25, Lincoln, president of the Innocents, presided and introduced the speakers. Coach Dawson was the first to speak. Harold "Chic" Hartley, captain of the Varsity football team of 1922, was the second speaker.

"I know you don't want me to stand up here and tell you how badly we are going to beat Notre Dame," he said. "I'm here to tell you something about them. They have won from Princeton, Army and Georgia Tech. But that doesn't mean anything to Nebraska—the conditions were the same the last two years. With your spirit and your backing carrying them across I think there is no cause for worry."

Hartley was called upon to introduce the team, Captain Ed Weir being absent. Following the introductions cheering and singing of "The Cornhusker" concluded the demonstration. The rally lasted only thirty-five minutes, breaking up at 7:35 o'clock.

Mr. Berge reminded the rooters of the rally at the Chicago and Northwestern railway station, Ninth and S Streets, today. He expressed the desire that "every man of us and fifteen hundred more be down there to see the team off for the greatest intersectional contest of the season."

PROOFS MUST BE IN BY SATURDAY NIGHT

Extend Time Because Many Were Unable to Make Appointments.

All proofs for pictures taken for the 1925 Cornhusker must be returned to the studios with the selection marked before Saturday evening, was the statement issued yesterday by the annual staff. If proofs are not returned, the Cornhusker will make the selection of the picture to be used.

In connection with Cornhusker pictures it was announced that sorority pictures have been extended until Saturday. Many women were not able to make appointments before yesterday, which was previously set as the final date. Junior pictures, however, can not be taken unless by special appointment with the studios.

Just 550 junior pictures had been taken by yesterday evening. The studios will not begin on the work of making up panels until Monday, which will enable a few who did not make appointments to do so this week.

Regular Cornhusker rates will be in effect at both Hauck's and Townsend's studios all this week. Seniors who wish to obtain extra prints for Christmas must make appointments this week in order to secure the special price.
