

CHANGE DATE FOR ROUNDUP

Period of Three Days Before Final Examinations to Be Set Aside.

UNIVERSITY SENATE REVISES SCHEDULE

A change in the schedule of the events which take place at the close of the school year has been made by vote of the University Senate.

Thursday, May 28, Ivy day. Friday, May 29, alumni day. Saturday, May 30, alumni day.

Mrs. Dewese Suggests Change. The plan was presented by Mrs. Alice Towne Dewese, representing the honor class of 1926.

Under the new schedule the University will be able to be host to the alumni while the institution is in full session and with all the faculty and students on the campus.

The Saturday preceding commencement will be the big day for the alumni. Competitive drills and other functions will be provided for entertainment.

It is believed most visitors will have gone before examinations begin, and that following commencement day everything can be in readiness for the influx of teachers and advanced students who wish to enter for the summer school which will start June 8.

SET DEADLINE FOR RETURN OF PROOFS

Saturday Noon Is Limit For Pictures Taken Before Last Wednesday.

The proofs of all pictures that have been taken for the Cornhusker up to last Wednesday must be returned to the studios by Saturday noon.

The time for the sorority pictures has been extended to Saturday evening. The studios report a large number of appointments so the sorority pictures will probably be finished by then.

Any student who wishes to have his picture taken for the Cornhusker and at the same time have pictures finished for Christmas may do so any time and receive the regular Cornhusker rates.

was the most interesting football story so far this season.

We're boastfully proud of the "Four Horsemen," Don Miller, Layden, Crowley, and Stuhldreher. And the Juggler hastens to join the student body in a sincere handclasp to Coach Rockne, Captain Adam Walsh (whose name has been indelibly engraved in Walter Camp's little note book) and the team.

LEAGUE CONSIDERS LAW ON MARRIAGE

Mrs. C. C. Clayton Speaks to Women Voter's Organization About the Statute.

"It seems to be the ten-day-notice clause of the marriage law which is being opposed rather than the compulsory physical examination provision," declared Mrs. Clara C. Clayton at a meeting of the Junior League of Women Voters in Faculty Hall of the Temple at 5 o'clock yesterday.

"You all have announcement parties," she contended, "why should you object to having a notice filed at the court house? It is not necessary to have it printed in the papers, and it is not the foolish provision that it may seem to you. Many young people rush into marriage without thinking; surely ten days is not too long to think it over."

"I have talked to many young people and have yet to meet one that objects to a compulsory examination before marriage," stated Mrs. Clayton. "Every child is entitled to be well born." She went on to explain that this is only possible when there is compulsory examination, and feeble-minded persons and those subject to hereditary insanity are denied the right to marry.

There was an open discussion of the subject at the close of Mrs. Clayton's talk. A second speaker will discuss the problem on November 26.

METHODISTS PLAN BANQUET

Two student speakers have also been secured. Robert Shields will speak on "Christ and the University," and Perry Tolman's topic will be "Christ and Myself." Songs and cheers will conclude the program.

GIVES SPEECH ON CIVIC ART

New York Sculptor Compares Works of Sculpture With Orchestra Music.

USES STEREOPTICON SLIDES IN LECTURE

"Civic Art" was the subject of Burt W. Johnson, New York sculptor, speaker at convocation yesterday morning in the Temple theater. He illustrated his address with stereopticon slides, showing mainly examples of monumental sculpture and soldiers' memorials.

"Civic art is oftentimes inspirational to better works in sculpture and architecture," he said. "But to be a really great work of sculpture there must be harmony, rhythm, and beauty, just as there must be in a musical selection played by an orchestra."

Mr. Johnson compared some art with music by an orchestra of which some instruments played a selection from Chopin and some played the latest jazz. The main idea of sculpture, he said, is to carry the eye quickly to the head or heads of the figure. A piece which presents a strong head, and still retains harmony and beauty, is the ideal.

The sculptor showed slides of works in monumental sculpture, by other artists and himself. Many examples of equestrian statues and also of medallic work were illustrated. Among them were his Pomona group in Pomona, California, and the Returned Soldier, in Woodside, New York City.

One illustration showed a fine piece of work which was located in ugly surroundings. "You can see how vital the surroundings affect the work, even if it is a great one," he said. "Here the statue was placed in a small square and looming up behind it are billboards advertising cigarettes and biscuits. This spoils all the effect of art and people should be more considerate in matters like this."

THIRTY-ONE CORNHUSKERS ENTRAIN FOR NOTRE DAME

Several Hundred Nebraska Rooters Will Follow Squad on Special Train Leaving This Afternoon; Lincoln Stores Are Sending 126 Students.

HUSKERS MAY ONCE MORE ACT AS THE "JINX TEAM"

Nebraska's Cornhuskers pulled away at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon for South Bend, where they will clash Saturday with Notre Dame—the "wonder team" of American football. Several hundred Cornhusker followers will leave twenty-four hours later on a special train being sent on the Burlington.

Nebraska, the Notre Dame jinx, may again toss the proverbial wrench into the well-known works by doing something the football world expects it won't—beat the Irish. But the football world has expected Knute Rockne's blue and white warriors to win the last two years also, and each year the Huskers were victorious.

2000 HUSKERS AT SEND-OFF

Football Squad Leaves for Annual Gridiron Clash with Notre Dame.

TEAM MEMBERS AND COACH DAWSON SPEAK

With the final strains of "The Cornhusker" from the throats of over two thousand students ringing in their ears the Nebraska squad left Lincoln at 4 o'clock yesterday from the Chicago and Northwestern station, Ninth and S streets, for the Notre Dame football game at South Bend, Indiana, Saturday.

Coach Fred T. Dawson, after repeated demands from the crowd led by Monroe "Duke" Gleason, expressed the feeling of the team. "I have nothing much to say," he said. "The more we say now the less we will do. We are having our fun, of course, but down in our hearts we are far too serious to say anything but 'Fight.'"

The crowd began to gather as early as 3:30. Companies H and I of the R. O. T. C. marched to the station in a body and many classes were excused. Freight cars and baggage trucks overflowed with students.

"Duke" Gleason, head cheerleader, led the crowd in yells before the team appeared. When a member of the squad was caught sight of emphatic demands for him were repeated until he appeared and spoke. Captain Ed Weir, Harold Hutchinson, Doug Meyers, and "Choppy" Rhodes addressed the crowd.

"There is more truth than poetry," said Captain Weir, "in the old saying that history repeats itself." Hutchinson, Meyers, and Rhodes thanked the students for turning out. "We know you are back of us," Rhodes declared, "and you can depend on it that we are going to give all we've got."

Reports from Notre Dame state that the betting there is 4 to 3 on the Irish. This shows a surprising lack of confidence in the Rockne team. From the records the Irish should have longer odds. Apparently the "betting gentlemen" are taking the Nebraska jinx into account.

The entire stadium at Cartier Field has been sold out. Speculators are reported to be selling tickets for from $40 to $50 in spite of the efforts of Notre Dame officials.

Lincoln stores are sending 126 Nebraska students to the game. The total number of students going will probably be increased to three or four hundred by the time the special leaves. The band will also make the trip.

Reports on the game, play by play, will be megaphoned to crowds at The Lincoln Star and The State Journal.

OLYMPIC TRYOUTS ARE HELD

Sophomores Compete for Heavy-weight Class of Boxing Team.

Sophomore Olympic tryouts were held yesterday at 4 o'clock in the Armory for the heavyweight class of boxing. The remaining two tryouts for boxing will be held some time next week.

Next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the tryouts for wrestling will begin and the selection of men to represent the sophomore class in the Olympics in both wrestling and boxing will take place the end of next week. Further notices of tryouts will appear in the notice column of the Daily Nebraskan.
