Smooth, well-kept hair is now so easy to have!

UNKEMPT hair was once as nearly universal as smooth, neatly-combed hair is today.

Of course, well-dressed men realized then as well as now that nothing spoils the whole appearance so quickly as hair that is out of place.

But what could they do?
Old-fashioned pomades only matted the hair and made it greasy. Water evaporated within an hour and left the hair drier and more unruly than ever. There wasn't a thing that could keep the hair smoothly in place from morning till night—natural, soft, lustrous.

That's why Stacomb was invented.

At last—a way to keep the hair in place

At first known only in California colleges, the story of Stacomb quickly spread. Today, well-dressed men everywhere have found in Stacomb what they have

Twenty Years Ago

An editorial was directed against the shabbiness and utter disregard of appearance for which about a half dozen instructors were noted. In conclusion it was said, "Let them discard their time-worn thread-bare suits and appear, for once, on the campus dressed as they should be—as gentlemen.

Nebraska went down to defeat before the Haskell Indians, 6 to 14 at Kansas City. Although Nebraska had the heavier team she went into the game handicapped by the absence of Captain Benedict. The Indians, playing as a team, fast, playing low, and always alert, were too much for the Nebraska eleven that had never played together before. A safety and a place kick from the thirty-five yard line by quarterback Bender accounted for the Nebraska score. At the close of the game the ball was in the possession of the Indians on the Nebraska eight yard line.

Seventeen men made up the football squad that left for Kansas City to meet the Haskell Indians. The men were in good condition with the exception of the center. In the probable lineup were listed Borg, Hunter, Mills, Cotton, C. Mason, Robertson, Bender, G. Mason, Eager, and Birmer. Captain Benedict did not make the trip due to injuries incurred in the Iowa game. The band and two hundred and fifty students made the trip by a later train.

The call for men for the basketball squad was repeated for it was said that there were not enough men out to make it worth while to open the chapel floor.

The Burlington and Missouri Pacific railroads were offering excusion rates of four dollars for the round trip to Kansas City for the Haskell Indian game. A large crowd was wanted to cheer the Cornhuskers to victory.

A five dollar meal ticket for four dollars was being offered by one of the local cafes. From the number of ads there must have been nearly as many campus restaurants as there are now.
