HUNDRED CARS GO IN CARAVAN

Tickets for Game on Sale at Latch Brothers; Block of 400 Reserved.

ASSIGN POSITION IN LINE AT ONE TODAY

More than one hundred cars will make up the Cornhusker caravan which will take students to Manhattan for the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska football game Saturday. Although no actual count has been made it is believed that this number is assured and many more are expected to join when positions in line are given to applicants beginning at 1 o'clock today.

A lead car will be at the head of the procession to set the pace and to act as a pathfinder car and a hospital car will bring up the rear to take care of all trouble. Careful driving by all students will be demanded. The only rule in regard to driving in the caravan will be that of staying in the position allotted. Several stops will be made on the way.

Drivers are to receive their positions in line today after 1 o'clock at the Student Activities office in the east end of the Armory. No registration will be required but drivers must receive their numbers which will be placed on windshields some time today. Those applying first will lead the procession, the numbers being given out in numerical order.

The rosters will organize at the drill field north of Social Sciences. It is expected that the line will be made up and will be ready to start at 5 o'clock. The trip will be made all the way on the Cornhusker highway.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Latch Brothers, 1118 O Street. A block of four hundred tickets has been sent for sale in Lincoln. Officials declare that all the effectiveness of the caravan will be lost unless the students sit in the Nebraska section. If the tickets are bought in Manhattan it will be impossible to obtain them in that part of the stand.

BARBOUR SPEAKS BEFORE FRESHMEN

Explains Planetsimal Theory of Earth Formation at Weekly Lecture.

An explanation of the planetsimal theory of the formation of the earth was given by Dr. E. H. Barbour, chairman of the departments of geology and geography, in speaking to the freshman lecture sections Monday and Tuesday on "The Earth in Formation."

According to this theory there was nothing in the beginning but a great mass of minute dust particles floating in space. Gravity and the magnetic attractions of the bodies brought them together in great whirling masses.

As this process continued the body became exceedingly hot because of the great pressure. While the mass was still at a very high temperature and whirling in a rather loose nebular fashion the planets are supposed to have been thrown off. The central body became the sun which we know.

Some idea of the state of the earth at the time when it became a separate body can be gained from observations of the sun. The sun is a molten incandescent mass and tremendous volcanic upheavals are constantly taking place.

Matter is often thrown to a distance of 250,000 miles from the sun during these disturbances. The conditions on the earth were much the same when it was new, though the eruptions were on a smaller scale.

Gradually the earth cooled down and the crust began to shrink. The continents and oceans were formed during this shrinking process. The fact that the earth is still in a process of formation and changing was emphasized by Dr. Barbour.

Earthquakes and volcanic disturbances are reminders that the interior of the earth is still in an unstable state.

Slides showing artists' conceptions of the different stages of the formation of the earth and other illustrative material was shown.

"I know of nothing that raises one's mind from common place things and sets one to thinking on the higher things of life as much as does a study of astronomy," said the speaker.

Hope that the University officials would soon provide a building to

1924 Football Teams Face End of Season with Many Disillusionments

With the 1924 football season nearly finished, only a few of the teams that played their first games with the hopes of being among the undefeated elvens of the country, are undefeated or have not had their record marred by a tie score.

Notable among the undefeated teams of the country is the Notre Dame eleven, called "Rockmen," because of the wonderful coach that has brought them forward through one of the hardest schedules ever played by a college football squad.

Stanford on the coast is still undefeated, but gets her supreme test Saturday, when she tangles with Coach Amy Smith and his Golden Bears, on the Berkeley gridiron. California deserves much recognition also, although they were held to a 7 to 7 tie, by Washington. However, Washington is far from being anything but a first rate team.

Drake, the only undefeated team in the Missouri valley, has been playing a winning brand of football all year, but has one more barrier to cross before it can lay undisputed claim to the championship. That barrier is the Ames eleven, which two weeks ago chalked up a 7 to 7 tie with Minnesota, conqueror of the Illinois.

In the east, things are pretty much upset. There remains four undefeated elvens in that section, as the result of last Saturdays games. However all four teams have played tie games this season. The elvens are: Penn U., Dartmouth, Rutgers, Yale. Of these four teams, Dartmouth and Penn are not scheduled for a Saturday contest, and Rutgers plays at Bucknill, with Yale scheduled to clash, in their final season game against their ancient Harvard foe.

The Oregon Aggies, Nebraska's Thanksgiving Day opponents will play Oregon U. Saturday, in a game that should be characterized by a close score. Coach Schisler of the Oregon Aggie team, former mentor at the University of Nebraska, predicts that he will bring a formidable eleven to Lincoln November 27. The Aggies are reported to be heavy, and are rapidly acquiring a smooth working offense.

In the Big Ten conference, the final windup of the season is to take place. Chicago has still to conquer Wisconsin before she can rest assured of gaining the conference title. Illinois whose title hopes were blasted last week at Minnesota will play Ohio State in the Illinois stadium. Iowa will be at Michigan, Indiana will be at Purdue, and Northwestern will entertain Notre Dame at the Evanston gridiron. That leaves Minnesota to clash with Vanderbilt in an inter-sectional clash at Minneapolis.

Other important games on Saturday's card are:

- Idaho at Southern California.
- Washington U. at Washington State.
- Mississippi Aggies at Florida.
- Bethany at W. Va. Wes.
- Vermont at Boston College.
- Quantico Marines at Carnegie.
- New Hampshire at Brown.
- Lafayette at Lehigh.
- Marietta at Penn State.
- Norwich at Army.
- Colgate at Syracuse.
- Canisius at Holy Cross.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL HAVE DINNER

Hold First Monthly Meeting of University Organization at Grand Hotel.

The first monthly dinner of the University Commercial Club will be held Thursday, November 20 at 6 o'clock, at the Grand Hotel. Clayton Gosar, chairman of the Monthly Dinner Committee states that entertainment of some kind will be had along with the dinner.

These monthly dinners are one of the regular activities of the club as they serve a double purpose in that they get the men of the Bigad College together as well as being a connecting link with the business world, since some business men usually speak at these dinners. It is well worth the time of every member of every member of the Commercial Club to attend these dinners.

Rifle Team Has Few Upperclass Vacancies

There are still vacancies on the University Rifle team which have not been finally selected as yet. Any upperclassman is eligible. More try-outs for the team would be appreciated by the military department.

Norris Has Position with Road Commission

Mr. W. A. Norris of the University of Nebraska in 1918 and former assistant in the Geography department is in charge of material testing for the Wyoming Highway commission at Cheyenne. The commission has started the publication of "Wyoming Roads," a very commendable highway magazine setting forth the present road situation of the state.

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Meets Wednesday

A meeting of the cabinet of the University Y. M. C. A. will be held at 7:15 this evening in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Temple. Arthur Erickson, secretary, urges every member to be present because the conference is an important one.

DIRECTORIES ON SALE TODAY

Contains Organizations, Fraternities, Faculty, Students and Medics.

MAY BE PURCHASED AT CITY AND AG CAMPUSES

"Copies of the 1924-25 Student Directory will be on sale on the campus Thursday morning," according to V. Royce West, '27, editor of the Directory. "The books will be invaluable to students and all others connected with the University. We expect the sale to be larger than ever before."

The Student Directory may be bought either Thursday or Friday at the booth on Twelfth and R streets, and at another on the Agricultural College campus.

In order that the book be made as accurate as possible, all information given was checked over with the original cards turned in by the students. The price of the book will be 50 cents—the same price that has been asked in former years.

The 1924-25 Student Directory contains the following items: List of organizations and their presidents; fraternity and sorority addresses and telephone numbers; faculty list; general student section containing approximately nine thousand names; Omaha Medical College division which contains the Omaha faculty lists, and the Omaha students by classes and fraternity lists.

PLAYERS NAME CAST FOR PLAY

Tickets For Dramatized Mystery Story on Sale at Ross P. Curtis Company.

PRESENT MELODRAMA, "WHISPERING WIRES"

The cast for "Whispering Wires," a mystery play, which the University Players will present at the Temple Theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon of this week is as follows:

- Montgomery Stockbridge—Harte Jenks.
  - Barrie McGill—Dwight Merriam.
  - Mr. Bennet—Harold Sumption.
  - Drew—Darrall Starnes.
  - Jackson—William Norton.
  - Payson—Edward Taylor.
  - Trouble Hunter—Harry Moore.
  - Doris Stockbridge—Neva Jones.
  - Ann Cartwright—Della Weatherhogg.
  - Jeannette—Florence Surber.
- The story, "Whispering Wires" by Henry Leuerage ran in the Saturday Evening Post. The plot portrays a baffling situation of the shooting of an elderly millionaire, who has been warned of his impending death. He has been informed that a grave has been dug for him. He locks himself in his room. The windows are shuttered, and the door is barred with detectives outside. Nobody can get in, or out. And yet, the millionaire is shot down in his tracks, and not from the outside, and there is nobody in the room. The romance of a dashing captain, Barry McGill, and the beautiful young heiress, Doris Stockbridge, is the revolving point of this amazing mystery.
- Tickets may be purchased at the Ross P. Curtis company.

To Allow no Mixed Parties in Caravan

No mixed parties are to drive to the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska football game Saturday in the Cornhusker caravan, it was announced yesterday by Carl C. Engberg, executive dean. Cars must contain either all men or all women and cars with women must be chaperoned.

Those were the only rules set down for students in the caravan to Manhattan. The procession will leave here Saturday morning and will arrive in the Kansas Aggie camp before noon. It is believed that the trip can be made in less than seven hours.

Freshman Olympic Tryouts Are Today

Freshman Olympic tryouts for track, boxing and wrestling will be held today and tomorrow. Trials in all classes of wrestling will be held today in the Armory at 4 o'clock. Boxing aspirants are to try out at 7 o'clock as previously planned and track tryouts will be held on the Stadium track tomorrow at 4 o'clock. According to Ray Randall, chairman of the freshman Olympic committee, there will be places for many on the teams and men are urged to try out.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON—"Cuts" are not allowed at this university. There are only excused or unexcused absences.

University Postman Carries Mail 23 Years; Then Refuses Pension

The following story about Henry Witte, 66 years old, who has delivered mail on the campus of the University for the last 23 years appears in the November number of the Nebraska Alumnus.

"Some traditions of the University of Nebraska still live.

"The old iron fence is gone; old Nebraska field is gone; many of the traditions dear to the hearts of the oldest of graduates have passed away or been replaced by more modern versions of what traditions should be.

"But, U. of N. has one tradition which still is a part of our daily life. And, strange to relate, this tradition will pass on in October 1925.

"Henry Witte, 66 years old, came to the University in 1901 as the mail carrier for Station A, when that branch of the Lincoln postoffice was established. He has carried mail continuously on the campus since then, and was eligible to retire on a government pension at the age of 65 in October, 1923. He liked the service, however, and requested that he be allowed to continue until he had completed thirty years of service. That will be in October, 1925. He was retained as the University mail carrier because of his excellent record, a record which has won for him the recognition of being one of the most efficient mail carriers in the service. Retention of Mr. Witte, past the regular age for pensioning is the first instance of its kind in Lincoln, according to officials of Station A.

"Mail carrier Witte came to the University when there were but seven buildings on the city campus—University Hall, Chemistry (now pharmacy) Hall, Grant Memorial Hall with the west annex, Nebraska Hall, central steam plant, Library building and Mechanic Arts building. He has seen the erection of the Physics, Administration, Museum, Temple, Engineering, Bessey Hall, New Chemistry, Teachers College, and Social Science buildings, and the Nebraska Memorial Stadium on the city campus. He has seen the University from the time it enrolled slightly more than 2,000 students a year to the present day when more than 10,000 attend the institution.

"Henry Witte goes quietly about his work from day to day. He carries his University route three times, visiting every building on the campus. Seldom is his bag light, usually being filled to overflowing.

"Early each morning this carrier reports at Station A to sort the morning delivery. Then he starts his route, his big bag almost as large as himself. Late in the morning he makes another round of the offices, and in the afternoon he walks the campus again. And the walk all over the city campus, with a stop at each building, and a climb to the third floor in almost all of them, is no small job. It would wear down a much stockier man than Mr. Witte. But, regardless of this, Mr. Witte continues to carry the University mail day after day."

"OUR HEADS ARE NOT DOWN"

Coach Fred Dawson Talks at Rotary Club Luncheon.

"Our heads are not down," said Coach Fred Dawson, when introducing the Nebraska football team to the Rotary club at a luncheon given Tuesday noon by the Rotarians, for the University and high school athletes and athletic board. "I can say for every member of the 1924 team, that next year they will each have a clear, full memory and a determination to fulfill," said Dawson.

PLENTY WORK FOR VARSITY

Weir and Hutchinson Will Battle Bachman's Aggies at Manhattan.

DAWSON DIRECTS HARD PRACTICE THIS WEEK

More hard work for the Varsity was Coach Dawson's program for Tuesday practice. Hard scrimmage with the freshmen, entirely different from the easy program necessitated by injuries before the Notre Dame game, was gone through.

Coach Dawson's proteges will probably have plenty of work ahead if they defeat the Kansas Aggies, and from the earnestness with which the men practiced, they seem to realize it.

Most of the regulars are getting back in shape after the Notre Dame battle. Ed Weir, who was prevented from practicing for two weeks prior to the game at South Bend, is now in good shape and going strong.

Hutchinson, former center, who played tackle against the Irish, is also in shape to battle the Aggies. His collar bone, broken in the Illinois game, was not again injured last Saturday.

The Aggies are also reported to be working hard. All Valley teams play through the season with the idea of beating the Huskers, and Coach Bachman's Aggies are no exception to the rule.

To prevent the Aggies from realizing their dream will be a large assignment. The Aggies, as has been said before, held the formidable Drake team to a 7-to-6 margin last Saturday. This is a fair indication of their present strength.

Nebraska beat Kansas two touchdowns to one; the Aggies won from K. U. by one touchdown. Not much difference in strength is indicated by this.

With a large delegation of Nebraska rosters to cheer, the Huskers should not be under the great handicap of playing on the other fellow's field. Present indications are that many students will make the trip to Manhattan.

Hold Y. W. Vespers on Agricultural Campus

A meeting of the College of Agriculture branch of the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday at 12:30 in the home economics parlors. The program included a candle-lighting ceremony. Alice Slama gave a violin solo. A joint meeting of the College of Agriculture Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. will be held next Tuesday.

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS—The men's student council has passed a ruling that the use of tobacco is not in keeping with the plan of economy at the university and that they should not be used except in inclement weather.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON—The annual Stadium Day has been held at the University recently. More than 600 men cleaned the stadium and grounds.

THETAS LEAD IN CAMPAIGN

Must Buy Cornhusker Now, According to Staff; Price Same as Formerly.

DOROTHY O'SHEA IS HIGHEST INDIVIDUAL

We wish to impress upon the students the necessity of purchasing the Cornhusker this week. A great deal of money is being spent this year in improving the book and therefore we can order only a certain number. The cost of the book makes it impossible to order very many extras. Students must order their books now. The price is the same as last year.

—The Cornhusker Bus. Staff.

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority was leading all other organizations and Dorothy O'Shea was first in the individual contest at the end of the second day of the Cornhusker sales campaign, as shown by the check late last night. Other sororities among those highest in the campaign are as follows: Alpha Omicron Pi, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Delta Theta, Phi Omega Pi, and Gamma Phi Beta. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Alpha Phi, who were among the highest Monday, had dropped below the others.

According to Robert Lang, business manager, the contest is so close that the winner will not be known until results are checked up after the end of the campaign at 4 o'clock Friday. The individual contest is equally close. Dorothy O'Shea is leading Joyce Adair by only three sales. Others close behind are as follows: Verona Hall, Frieda Lemke, Frances Harrison, Lois Cleland, Grace Dunne, Irene Lovely, and Mary Rothermel.

The entire sales campaign is being handled by Nebraska women both in individual and organization contests. A large number of prizes is being given to winners. The organization selling the most books will receive furniture valued at fifty dollars. The second highest will be awarded a specially bound book with the name of the sorority or dormitory stenciled on the cover. Prizes for the six highest individuals in the contest are free Cornhuskers with the winner's name stenciled in gold.

HOLD ANNUAL KID PARTY THURSDAY

Offer Prizes for Best Boy and Girl Costume at Kindergarten Supper.

The kindergarten party will be held at Ellen Smith Hall Thursday evening from 6 to 8 o'clock. All kindergarten students are requested to come dressed as children. A prize will be given for the best boy and girl "kid" costume. Supper will be served at six o'clock.

Tickets cost 50 cents and are on sale at Miss Wilson's office or may be obtained from any member of the council. The sale closes Wednesday night.

The following committees have been appointed:

- Food committee—Florence Osthoff, Helen Schwager, Nellie McReynolds, Blanche Strader.
- Games committee—Betty Langworthy, Betty Raymond.
- Entertainment—Ruth Atkinson, Dorothy VanVrankin.
- Publicity—Marcia Follmar, Eloise McMonies.

To Hold Rifle Match Just Before Holidays

The annual inter-fraternity rifle match will be held immediately after Christmas vacation, according to plans issued from the military department.

An exact date has not been set for the inter-company shoot, but it will be held a short time before the Christmas recess.

Dr. B. B. Davis Will Speak at Smoker

The monthly dinner and smoker of the Pre-Medic society will be held Thursday night, November 20, at the Grand Hotel. Dr. B. B. Davis of Omaha will be the principle speaker. He will talk on the position of surgery as a field in medicine.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO—There is a ruling in this university that freshmen cannot enter the stadium until the upperclassmen have found their seats. They are also supposed to hold a snake dance between halves at football games.
