

FINAL FOOTBALL RALLY PLANNED

To Hold Pep Session Wednesday Evening to Develop Spirit for Game.

The final football rally of the season, to develop spirit for the Thanksgiving game with Oregon Aggies, will be held Wednesday evening. It has not been decided whether it will be held on the drill field or in the Armory. The Innocents are in charge.

It is probable that several members of the team will be called upon to speak. Two or three other speakers are being secured and the band will be out in full force.

While the Oregon Aggies have not a particularly successful season, they are making the trip half-way across the continent determined to do something. Schissler, the Aggie coach, was formerly an assistant coach here.

Dr. Charles Fordyce, professor of educational measurements and research, is author of an article in the current issue of the Bulletin of Educational Research entitled "The Psychograph." It shows in graphic form the relation between academic achievements of the student and his mental level, so that the instructor may readily determine how the student's accomplishments and program correlate with his mental capacity.

Need Women to Sell Apples at Stadium

All women, who wish to sell apples and candy at the Thanksgiving game, are asked to sign their names on the W. A. A. bulletin board or give their names to Mrs. Pierce in the gymnasium, by Wednesday noon.

Coeds Practice Sport Made Famous By Merry Outlaws of Robin Hood

The women on the campus have been indulging this fall in the sport which was made so famous by the famous English yew-artists of the Middle Ages. Nearly every hour of the day a dozen or more individuals file out of the women's gymnasium with bows and arrows in their hands and a look of vengeance in their eyes. They are out to hit that target!

Archery is a new sport at Nebraska this fall, and it would be a very popular sport if there were sufficient equipment to accommodate all of the coeds who want to become skilled with the use of the bow and arrow.

Equipment for archery is more expensive than for the other sports and it will be some time before enough will be on hand to offer classes to all who are interested. Now archery is limited to those who are unable to participate in the more strenuous forms of exercise.

The range is on the north end of the Stadium where the turf is green. Some of the archers are becoming such accurate shots that plans are under way for a public exhibition in the spring. This sport is becoming popular everywhere and is used as a recreation at many summer camps. Several women of the faculty at Nebraska have expressed a desire to learn this art, and if a sufficient number are interested, a class will be organized for them in the spring.

The second freshman meeting of the year will be held tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the Temple theater. This will probably be the last meeting before the Olympics next Saturday and Jared C. Warner, Sheridan, Wyoming, president of the class, urges every freshman to attend. Important business is to be taken up, according to Warner.

Twenty Years Ago

A twelve page special edition of the Daily Nebraskan filled with special articles was put out for Thanksgiving. Two pages were devoted to pictures of the football team, short writeups about each of them, Nebraska songs of the time and final scores for the past four years.

In an article entitled, "Professionalism vs. Amateurism" by Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews, was a discussion of needed reforms in college athletics. He said that, "I do not for my part see why a young man of character and scholarship, sincerely a collegian, should be kept off college teams, simply because, now and then, in a summer vacation, he has, instead of pitching hay, pitched ball and received a few dollars for doing so. A man may actually be a professional in some game and yet never have taken money for playing it."

Other articles in this issue were entitled, "Football and College Spirit" by Prof. M. M. Fogg; "Retrospect" by Prof. J. I. Wyer; "A Resume of the Season" by J. D. Rice, editor of the Daily Nebraskan; and "No Humbug at Nebraska" by Dean Roscoe Pound.

The summary scores for the year showed that Nebraska had played eleven games, winning all but three which were lost to Colorado, Minnesota, and Haskell by close scores.

It was rumored that a telegram had been received from the Conference of Womens Self-Government Association which told of a new rule that had been made for the various Universities. It was to the effect that the co-eds should be accompanied to their parties by chaperones. The articles went on to say that an executive force would have to be created to see that this rule was carried out.

Drake had caught the Billy Sunday fever. All the sororities had voted to suspend all evening entertainments during November and December while the Billy Sunday meetings were in progress in Des Moines.

Thomas Rice, soil inspector with the United States Bureau of Soils, was in Nebraska last week going over the results of the soil survey made this year. Dr. G. E. Condra, director of the Conservation and Survey Division of the University, accompanied him to all areas surveyed during the year. Mr. Rice will complete inspection work in Missouri and then go to Washington.
