Yost Has Coached Many All-Americans

Fielding H. Yost, familiarly known as "Hurry-Up" Yost because of his tremendous pep and his use of it in speeding up his players, has been a leading football coach for twenty-seven years. Prior to this he was a tackle on the Lafayette eleven one year and on the University of West Virginia eleven three years. He was graduated from the latter school in June, 1897.

 That autumn he was head coach of Ohio Wesleyan. In 1898 he coached Nebraska, in 1899 Kansas, in 1900 Stanford, and then in 1901 came the engagement that was to bring him permanent fame. He joined the University of Michigan, where his enormous success has not only confirmed his position as head football coach but made him director of intercollegiate athletics, director of the summer school for coaches and director of the four years course in physical education.
 In the twenty-three years Yost has been at Michigan (not including the season of 1924), his teams have won fifty-four games and lost but nine while in competition with elevens of the Big Ten, or Western Conference. Three games were tied. In these contests Michigan scored 1,171 points to their opponents' 239.

 Yost has developed twelve Michigan men for Walter Camp's All-American teams, almost as many as Camp has placed from the western rivals of Michigan combined. Two Yost players, Schultz (center) and Heston (halfback) are on the all-American eleven.

More Than a Pen—A Part of Your Education
 A good fountain pen is an essential tool with which to carve out your career. More than just a pen—a real help-mate and a part of your education.
 Get a pen that will not flood or leak, one that writes with a jewel-like smoothness the instant the point touches the paper.
 Of course it will be a Sheaffer Lifetime Pen. $8.75.
 The worthy companions of the Lifetime Pen are the 46 Special at $5.00 and the Student's Special at $3.75.
 All are finished with gold bands to prevent the caps from breaking and with 14K gold points tipped with the hardest native iridium, assuring incomparable writing qualities and long years of usefulness.
