PHI KAPPA IS ESTABLISHED

Nu Alpha Installed Recently as Pi Chapter of National Catholic Fraternity.

NATIONAL OFFICERS ATTEND CEREMONIES

Nu Alpha, local social fraternity, was installed as Pi chapter of Phi Kappa, national Catholic fraternity, last Friday and Saturday. Members of the organization from Iota chapter of Manhattan, Kansas, Xi chapter of Ames, Iowa, and Delta of Iowa University conducted the work. The probation was started at 8 o'clock Friday morning and continued until Saturday afternoon. The informal and formal initiation took place at the Knights of Columbus hall. The installation of the chapter was completed at a banquet at the Lindell Hotel Saturday evening. At this time the members of the new chapter received their pins and charter.

National officers present were W. A. Hauck of Columbus, Ohio, supreme secretary-treasurer, and L. E. Linnan of Algona, Iowa, supreme vice-president. Dr. E. G. Zimmer and Mr. E. L. Flaherty were inducted as honorary members.

The national officers and honorary members were honor guests at the banquet. Thomas Sweeney, president, served as toastmaster. Responses were given by Frank Kotinek, Vincent Nass, Richard Hrabak, James Cody, and Dr. E. G. Zimmer. Special music was furnished by W. D. Edberg and Joseph Zimmerman.

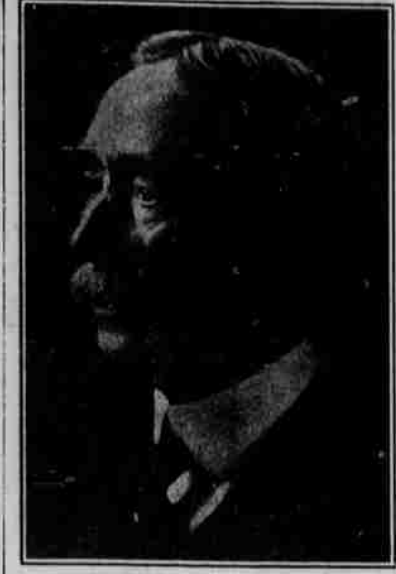

Thomas Sweeney, '26, Lincoln, is president of the new chapter. The other officers are: A. R. Meston, '25, Des Moines, Iowa, vice-president; Howard O. Edberg, '27, Ong, secretary; and Randolph G. Mestl, '26, Howells, treasurer.

Local Organized in 1923
Nu Alpha was organized May 15, 1923 as a local Catholic fraternity. It now occupies a house at 2511 O Street.

Phi Kappa was founded in 1889 at Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island. It now has chapters in seventeen colleges and universities. Among the prominent men who are members of Phi Kappa are John A. Price, Theta, the present Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, and "Honest John" Burke, Delta, three times governor of North Dakota, United States treasurer during the Wilson administration, and at present a member of the North Dakota Supreme court.

Members initiated into the Nebraska chapter are: John J. Buckley, '25, Omaha; James P. Cody, Lincoln; Walter J. Collins, '25, Greeley; Peter F. Coniglio, '27, Lincoln; Edward R. Crowley, '26, Cambridge; Howard O. Edberg, '27, Ong; Paul Flaherty, '26, St. Edward; Russell A. Hand, '28, (Continued on Page Two.)

"Dean" of Editors To Speak Tomorrow

M. A. BROWN
The Kearney Daily Hub.

The "dean" of Nebraska editors, the oldest member of the Nebraska Press Association which this week holds at the University its fifty-second convention—he is M. A. Brown, who at the age of seventy-two (Thursday, February 19, is his birthday) is the active editor of the Kearney Daily Hub and who, out of his more than half-century experience in Nebraska journalism field, will address the students of the School of Journalism Wednesday morning on "Newspapering in Nebraska, 1870-1925."

"Dean" Brown still writes an editorial column daily and keeps an eye on all departments of his newspaper. His one diversion is golf.

ENGINEERS PLAN INSPECTION TRIP

Trip of Upperclassmen This Year Will Be Made to Kansas City April 6.

Tentative plans for the engineering upperclassmen's inspection trip to Kansas City April 6 are being completed.

The College of Engineering faculty has been corresponding with the Chamber of Commerce at Kansas City in mapping out the itinerary. This year's inspection trip is to be the short journey which alternates with the biennial long trip. Upperclassmen in the College of Engineering are required to make the trips in order to graduate.

A day on the Missouri River, investigating work being done to control the river, is perhaps the most interesting feature which the engineering inspection trip committee is trying to arrange.

FEBRUARY ISSUE OF BLUE PRINT IS OUT

Cover Designed by University Student; Special Articles Appear.

The February issue of The Nebraska Blue Print is being distributed this week. This is the official publication of the student chapter of the Nebraska Engineering Society.

Among the features in this issue are the new cover design, which is an original pen sketch by Lloyd E. Tucker, '26, Sterling; "An Analysis of a Public Utility Organization," selling what a commercial engineer did to deserve his title, by H. F. McCulla, commercial engineer of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company; and "A Metallurgist Speaks of Fuel," by F. W. Davis, metallurgist of the United States Bureau of Mines, this being abstracted from Mr. Davis' talk to the mechanical engineering students.

Square and Compass Club Plans Meeting

Dr. Robert H. Wolcott, head of the department of Zoology, will speak on the theory of evolution before the Square and Compass Club at Faculty Hall in the Temple, Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

A special musical program to precede Dr. Wolcott's address has been arranged for. Harold Buenz will preside at the piano, Roy Dreisbach at the saxophone, and Orville Andrews will sing. All faculty and student masons are invited to attend the meeting.

Reverend Inglis to Be Vespers Speaker

Rev. Irvin C. Inglis, pastor of Vine Congregational church, will be the speaker at Vespers at 5 o'clock tonight in Ellen Smith Hall. Miss Helen Kinquist, accompanied by Grace Montrose, will furnish special vocal music. Irma Gchl will be the leader. All University women are invited.

ERICKSON TO GIVE SPEECH

Head of R. O. T. C. at University Will Address World Forum Wednesday.

TICKETS ON SALE AT Y. M. C. A. OFFICE NOW

"The Necessity for Preparedness," the address which Major Sidney Erickson, professor of military science and tactics in the University, will give to the students at the weekly World Forum luncheon at the Grand Hotel Wednesday noon, will be of especial interest to men students, according to chairmen in charge of the luncheon.

Men may secure tickets at the Y. M. C. A. office in the Temple until late Tuesday afternoon, or secure them from members of the ticket sales committees. All reservations must be made by 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, when members of the committee are required to turn in the number of tickets they have sold.

Groups or individuals unable to secure tickets may have places reserved by calling V. Royce West, '27, Cozard, treasurer of the committee, until seven o'clock Tuesday. All tickets purchased Wednesday morning will be thirty-five cents. Previous to that time they will be twenty-five cents.

The members of the committee selling tickets are: Marial Flynn, Robert Shields, Herbert Frederick, Julius Frandsen, Douglas Orr, Isabel Fletcher, Dorothy Withers, Kate Goldstein. Tickets will be on sale Tuesday evening at Vespers. They will also be available at the Y. W. C. A. office in Ellen Smith Hall.

The subject for this week's address is the second of a series of three upon the general subject "Varying Views of Militarism." Dr. A. Bruce Curry of the Biblical Institute of New York, first addressed the group on "The New Loyalist" last Wednesday. The Rev. E. T. Inglis, pastor of the Vine Congregational church will be the speaker a week from Wednesday.

Attendance at the World Forum luncheons during the first semester averaged 145, according to the record. The majority of those attending have been University women.

SPECIAL CHARTER DAY PROGRAM SENT

KFKX Station at Hastings Broadcasts Traditional Numbers to Alumni Clubs.

Charter Day exercises were broadcast over Westinghouse Station KFKX, Hastings, from Art Hall last evening. Music by University organizations and speeches by faculty members chiefly composed the program. Alumni clubs throughout the country had arranged to "listen in." Speakers included Chancellor S. Avery, President Earle Campbell of the Alumni Association, Coach Henry F. Schulte, Ed Weir, Nebraska's All-American tackle, Dean L. A. Sherman, James Stuart Dales of the Board of Regents, Dean A. L. Candy, and Professors Guernsey Jones, Robert H. Wolcott, Grove E. Barber, Lawrence Fossler, E. H. Barbour, G. R. Chatburn, and Clara Conklin.

The University Band, the University Orchestra, the Men's Quartette and the Girl's Octette were the organizations contributing music. The total number of student participants exceeded 125.

Special Charter Day meetings were held by 37 alumni clubs throughout the United States, who supplemented the radio program with addresses on the traditional day for the individual meetings. Professor F. W. Upson spoke at Sioux City, Iowa, Professor Morrow Fling at Alliance, and Professor Philo M. Buck and Director of Athletics Fred T. Dawson at Grand Island. Moving picture films and slides depicting campus life were sent by the Conservation and Survey division of the University to alumni clubs at Helena, Mont., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Cleveland, O.

The program was sent to Hastings by long distance telephone where it was broadcast over Westinghouse Station KFKX. Microphones were installed in Art Hall. Last year the broadcasting was heard in Canada, Mexico, and every state in the Union except perhaps Nevada. University Station WFAV did not take part in the broadcasting.

All Group Pictures Must Be In March

All group pictures for the Cornhusker must be in at the office by March 1. The Campus studio is now dated up until February 20, but after that time they will be open for dates until March 1.

SHOULD LIST ACTIVITIES

Juniors Must Fill Cards by Friday; Corrections May Be Made Now

Juniors who have had their pictures taken for use in the Cornhusker must have a list of their activities on their cards by Friday, February 20, when the cards will be sent to the printers. Corrections, if they be necessary, may be made at the Cornhusker office before that time. If no one is in the office, Juniors should make the correction on a piece of paper, and place on the Editor's desk.

POLLS TO OPEN THIS MORNING

Positions of Presidencies, Orator, and Student Council Members Open.

LIST OF CANDIDATES EXCEPTIONALLY SMALL

The polls will be open today from 9 until 4 o'clock, at which time students will be given a chance to vote for candidates who filed for positions of class presidents, Ivy Day Orator, and the three Student Council vacancies. The voting will be done in the basement of the Administration building on the city campus and in the office of Dean Burnett on the Agricultural College campus.

Very few candidates have filed for offices and in the case of the three Student Council vacancies, only two persons have filed for three positions. This extra chair will be held open until the next election next fall. It was made vacant by Dale Reynolds, representing the College of Pharmacy, who graduated, and his place on the council is vacant.

All students are eligible to vote for their respective class presidents, for the Ivy Day Orator, and for all Students Council candidates except the representative of the Pharmacy College.

The list of candidates who have filed for the various offices are:
Senior president: Leicester Hyde, Pi Kappa Alpha, Norfolk; and John Kleven, Alpha Theta Chi, McCook.
Junior president: Orr Goodson, Beta Theta Pi, Lincoln.

Freshman president: Newell Joyner, Alpha Delta, Broken Bow.
Ivy Day Orator: William N. Norton, '25, Phi Alpha Delta, Polk.
Student Council: Harry L. Riffe, '25, Wray, Colorado, Pharmacy; and Dorothy Peterson, '26, Gamma Phi Beta, Chicago.

Buck Will Talk on "Colyum"-Writing

OLE BUCK

Field Manager, Nebraska Press Association, Author of "Buck-Shot."

The author of the "Buck-Shot" column that is run by more than three hundred newspapers and the field manager of the Nebraska Press Association, Ole Buck of Harvard (of Lincoln during the session of the Legislature), took his first fling in the weekly newspaper business when he purchased the Long Pine Journal in 1896 and began his editorial career that has covered thirty years.

Since 1921 he has devoted all his energies to the organization work of the Association, in which work he is assisted by Miss M. M. Hansen, formerly in charge of the Service department of the Lincoln branch of the Western Newspaper Union, and his daughter, Miss Naomi Buck, secretary of the Association.

Instead of the $800 deficit the Association had six years ago, it has now a surplus; and the organization work has been carried to a degree of efficiency unparalleled in any other state. The Nebraska Press Bulletin has also developed from an occasional circular to a regular monthly publication.

His address on "Colyum"-Writing Tuesday morning to the School of Journalism students is the opening feature of the Journalism Week program.

CENTURIONS PLAN SMOKER

Organization for Arts and Science Men Sponsors Event Thursday Night.

MUSIC AND SPEECHES BEING PROVIDED FOR

A smoker, sponsored by the Centurion Club, an organization for Arts and Science Men, will be given Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the University Club. The smoker is for Arts and Science men only and good entertainment is promised.

After a program of music, a lunch will be served, and Professor Philo M. Buck, and Horace C. Demming, will speak. After the speeches a short discussion will be made by those present.

Tickets will go on sale soon and the following men have been placed on the ticket committee: John Allison, Frank Moore, Howard Buffett, Albert Ernest, John Kleven, Maynard Frank Mooney, Walter Arnold, Edward Morrow, George Towne, John Charvat, Fulius Frandsen, Victor Haeckler, Paul Zimmerman, Ellsworth Duteau, Robert McGaffin and Royce West.

General Committees appointed were: Program—Vernon Schopp, John Allison and Henry Eller. Publicity—Douglas Orr. Business Manager—Charles Warren.

Those who are selling tickets may get them this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Daily Nebraskan office.

PERSHING RIFLES SELECTS MEMBERS

Ten Freshmen Chosen by Organization Following Try-outs Last Week.

Ten freshmen were recently selected to be members of Pershing Rifles, honorary military organization, following the tryouts held last week. These men will be pledged soon and initiated later. The active chapter is now made up entirely of basic course men with only the officers in the advanced course.

The following are the newly-elected men: Frederick Van Valin, Archibald Eddy, Sigfried North, Eugene Thomas, McGrew Harris, David Sher, Arthur Sweet, Moritz Krieg, Phillip Bruce, Kenneth Mallette.

These men will also appear in the Cornhusker picture which is to be taken this noon at 12 o'clock sharp at the Campus Studio.

FEBRUARY ISSUE OF ALUMNUS IS READY

Articles About Charter Day Program and Coach Bearg Are Featured.

The Nebraska Alumnus for February is off the press and ready for distribution. Articles on the annual Charter Day program, Coach Bearg, and the new dean of the College of Medicine, Dr. J. J. Keegan, are featured. The publication contains eighty pages.

The "Chancellor's Corner," "Cornhusker Athletics," "Who's Who," and "News of the Classes" departments again appear. An article on "Is The College Doing Its Job" by F. M. Chase, one on "The Alumni and the College" by E. D. Burton, and another on "Recognition of University Needs" by R. P. Crawford are included.

Many Vaccinated in Pharmacy Building

Because more than two hundred students were exposed to smallpox last week in the Pharmacy building, vaccinating is going on there on a large scale, and any student wishing to be inoculated may have it done in Room 204 at any time during the day.

Pharmacy students, and no doubt others, were exposed to the disease all last week, when a student attended school while he had smallpox. He is now in a hospital.

Will Hold Services For Student Today

Due to an error in the proof reading, the account of the death of Ruth Jones in the Sunday Daily Nebraskan incorrectly read Ruth James. Miss Jones was a pledge of Delta Delta Delta sorority and was a junior in school, her first two years being spent at Wesleyan. Services will be held this afternoon at the home of her parents at Wayne, Nebraska.

Association Head To Give Address

MRS. MARIE O'DONNELL WEEKES

President, the Nebraska Press Association and of the Tri-State Press Association; Editor, The Norfolk Press.

In recognition of the efforts of Mrs. Marie O'Donnell Weekes, editor of the Norfolk Press, who speaks today on "Country Newspapering, A Woman's Opportunity for Service," for the advancement of journalism—efforts which have made her name a household word in Nebraska and in surrounding states and her paper a welcome visitor in many homes—the Nebraska Press Association elected her in 1924 its first woman president.

Not singly have honors come to Mrs. Weekes. Recently the Tri-State Press Association, composed of newspaper workers in Nebraska, Iowa, and South Dakota, elevated her from the vice-presidency to the presidency. She was Nebraska's first woman candidate for Congress.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT TICKETS SOLD SOON

Friday Morning at 10 O'clock Set as Time When Sale Will Commence.

University Night tickets will be placed on sale Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Orpheum box office, according to an announcement made Monday evening by Clayton E. Goar, '26, Kansas City.

The program, to be presented at both the Orpheum and Temple theaters Saturday night, February 28, will be composed of eight acts. The Corncobs, Dramatic Club, Engineers, Tassels, and an orchestra will present twelve-minute acts, while three eight-minute curtain skits will be put on by Moore and Crocker, Holland and Miller, and William Norton.

All seats will be reserved. Prices will be announced later. The curtain will rise on the first act at 8 o'clock, both at the Orpheum and Temple theaters. The same acts will be presented to both houses, but will be in different order. The performance will last about two hours.

PLAN GYM CLASS FOR FACULTY MEN

Eight Members Meet with Dr. Clapp to Organize—Expect More in Future.

Eight men met yesterday with Dr. Clapp, Professor of Physical Education, for the organization of a faculty men's gymnasium class. This first meeting was held in the Armory, and similar ones will be held during the remainder of the week at 12 o'clock every day. Each meeting will last for forty-five minutes.

Light gymnastics, simple apparatus work, and games are on the schedule this week. As the men become accustomed to the work, the exercises will be made more strenuous.

Although the number was small at the first meeting of the class, it is thought that it will increase as faculty members hear more about it. Letters have been sent from the Physical Education office describing the class.

Women Athletes To Have Picture Taken

All members of the Women's Athletic Association are asked to be present at the Campus Studio Wednesday at 12 o'clock sharp for the picture of the organization. This is the first year that the picture of the whole Association has appeared in the Cornhusker and those in charge of the section are desirous of having a large representation.

Pictures of the winning soccer, hockey, baseball, and volleyball teams will be taken immediately after the Association picture. The members of those teams are asked to bring middies and bloomers for those pictures.

JOURNALISM WEEK OPENS

First Program at University Will Begin This Morning—Students to Attend.

STATE EDITORS WILL GIVE LECTURE SERIES

The first Journalism-Week program at the University of Nebraska opens Tuesday morning, February 17, when a series of addresses by state editors begins, followed by round-table discussions, especially for the 122 students in the School of Journalism. These students, who have been excused from their other campus engagements Tuesday and Wednesday morning, will be seated by classes in Social Science 107.

Those students in the class in News Writing, in Newspaper Editing and in Small-Town Daily and Country Journalism will submit to their instructors critical reports of the addresses. Journalism students are urged by Prof. M. M. Fogg, director of the School of Journalism to attend also the meetings of the Nebraska Writers' Guild, Wednesday and Thursday, and especially the Friday afternoon and Saturday morning sessions of the Nebraska Press Association. Excuses from classes to attend the meetings may be secured at the office of the Executive Dean, C. C. Engberg.

Overnight entertainment of Press Association guests of the University has been arranged at fraternity and sorority chapter houses for Thursday and Friday nights—for 39 men and 35 women. Detailed arrangements will be concluded at the office of the director of the School of Journalism, University Hall 112.

To Wear Badges
All Journalism students will wear "Journalism-Week Badges" and will act as a reception and information committee during the week. The badges were distributed Monday afternoon.

Tuesday morning program, beginning at 9 o'clock in Social Science 107, follows:

"The Colyum"—Ole Buck, Field Manager of the Nebraska Press Association; author of the "Buck Shot" column used by over 300 newspapers.

"The Country Newspaper Editorial Page"—Frank O. Edgecombe, editor, the Nebraska Signal, Geneva; winner of the National Editorial Association first prize in 1923 for the best editorial, and of its 1924 first prize for the best editorial page.

"A Ten-Letter Word Meaning Success"—J. P. O'Furey, editor and publisher, the Cedar County News, Hartington; winner of the National Editorial Association's third prize in 1924 for the best community series. (Continued on Page Two.)

J. P. O'Furey Will Be One of Speakers

J. P. O'FUREY
The Cedar County News, Hartington

Mr. J. P. O'Furey, editor and publisher of the Cedar County News, Hartington, has been the Nebraska vice-president for the last three years of the National Editorial Association. He was awarded the Nebraska Press Association cup in 1923 for the best front page and awarded by the National Editorial Association third honors in its 1924 national contest for the best community service.

Mr. O'Furey has been president and vice-president of the Nebraska Press Association and a member of its board of directors for eight years; he was the prime mover in the organization of the Tri-State Editorial Association meeting annually at Sioux City, of which he was the first president; and he is serving his ninth year as secretary of the North-eastern Nebraska Editorial Association.

His address to the School of Journalism Tuesday morning is on "A Ten-Letter Word Meaning Success."

Famous Editorial Writer Will Speak

FRANK O. EDGECOMBE.
Nebraska Signal, Geneva

To Frank O. Edgecombe, editor and publisher of the Nebraska Signal, Geneva, were awarded in 1923 the National Editorial Association first cash prize for the best editorial article, and in 1924 for the best editorial page among the members (numbering between three and four thousand), the President's cup. The winner of these notable honors addresses the School of Journalism Tuesday morning, February 17, on "The Country Newspaper Editorial Page," and conducts a round-table discussion of the subject.

Mr. Edgecombe was president of the Nebraska Farmer Company from 1904 to 1908. For twelve years he was president of the company that published the Beatrice Daily Express, his interest in which he sold five years ago. He is treasurer of the Nebraska Press Association.
