

GRID MEN TO WORK IN OPEN

Coach Bearg Invites Public to Witness Work at Stadium Today.

SQUAD PUT THROUGH A STIFF SCRIMMAGE

Open practice will prevail this afternoon on the Cornhusker spring football training ground, with a scrimmage between the red and white teams. It will be the first public practice of the football team since Coach E. E. Bearg opened spring practice two weeks ago. Visiting high school players are invited by Coach Bearg to see part of the future 1925 Cornhusker team in action.

The practice session will start at 4 o'clock, and will be on the field south of the stadium. Spectators will be allowed to watch from the north and east side of the field.

Another good afternoon of scrimmage featured the workout yesterday. Coach Bearg added some practice in place-kicking and drop-kicking from the five-yard line after touchdown. Peaker, halfback from Kearney, was one of the best ball-carriers in the workout, going through the line for many gains, and running well in open field.

The attendance was light, only enough men showing up for two teams, on account of the fact that many of the men are officiating in the basketball tournament. Bearg again had the best men on the offensive, ranged against a defensive team built around Zuber at center and Scholz at guard.

Grow was center on the offensive team. Joe Weir played end, and Clarke Casey played tackle. In the backfield Bearg used Stevens, Shostak, Peaker and Armour, whom he shifted around some during the scrimmage.

COMMITTEE PLANS EXHIBITION GAME

Invite State Coaches to Women's Basketball Game Saturday at Armory.

Saturday at 11 o'clock the Women's State Basketball Committee will sponsor an exhibition basketball game in the Armory. The game is being given entirely as an educational feature. This committee works in connection with the Women's Division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation. Miss Mable Lee, head of the department of physical education at Nebraska, is chairman of the Nebraska State Committee.

All superintendents, coaches, and teachers present at the State High School Tournament are urged to attend the exhibition game, especially those who have anything to do with the coaching of girls' basketball. The committee which is sponsoring this feature is as follows: Mable Lee, University of Nebraska, chairman; Mary R. Wheeler, University of Nebraska, representing the colleges and the state university; Eleanor Bennett, Central High School, Omaha; Evelyn Hinton, Y. W. C. A., Omaha; and Harriett Schackelton, physical education instructor of the Beatrice Public Schools.

The teams which will play in this feature game are chosen from all class squads. The seventeen members of the squad were chosen for technical skill, sportsmanship, spirit, and improvement of playing during the year. To be placed on this squad is one of the highest athletic honors of the year. There is no class nor any organization behind these teams and the spirit of the playing will be good basketball and not strong competition.

Those women who have earned a place on the honor squad are as follows: Seniors—Luella Reckmeyer, Ella Nuernberger, Louise Branstad, and Meda Fisher. Juniors—Elga McFerrin and Margaret Hymor. Sophomores—Elizabeth Roberts, Marie Hermanek, Kathro Kidwell, Ruth Wright, Leone McFerrin, and Ester Robinson. Freshmen—Irma Otten, Helen Lohmeier, Helen Clarke, Geraldine Scofield, and Lucile Bauer.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS—A stream of oil has been discovered under the campus grounds. Money derived from this source will form a permanent endowment for the institution.

OKLAHOMA A. and M. COLLEGE—Students who have library fines against them will not receive their grades until the fines are paid. The amount of the fines ranges from $9.34 to two cents.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS—Students are not allowed to have cars of their own at school. A similar rule is in force at the University of Oklahoma.

End of 1925 Basketball Season Sees Nebraska Tossers In Second Place

Kansas Wins Fifteen of Sixteen Valley Games, Finishing in the Lead.

By Bob Lasch

The 1925 Missouri Valley basketball season has breathed its last. The season card, declared by many to be one of the best in its history, expired last night when Kansas defeated Washington and Drake lost to Grinnell.

For two months and a half the battle waged back and forth, through a hectic schedule, ever uncertain and always interesting. The real race was between Kansas, Nebraska, and Washington.

Early reports gave the Oklahoma Sooners a good chance—they conceded the championship lie within Oklahoma's grasp. But early defeats let the Sooners out.

Nebraska with a dazzling burst of speed finished in second place, nosing out the Washington team by a scant margin. The Pikers, going strong during the entire season, finally broke and lost to Nebraska last Friday. Saturday they dropped another game to the Kansas Aggies, and were completely left out of second place hopes.

The Husker's first game was with the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan, which ended with a victory for Nebraska. The next night Nebraska got by Oklahoma, and the first road trip ended a success.

The first home game against Drake, Nebraska won by a score of twenty to eight. The team which appeared for the first time on the home floor appeared to have a tight defense, for it let Drake down with only one field goal in each half.

The first defeat came January 31 on the Armory floor, at the hands of the leading Kansas Jayhawkers. Kansas displayed a smooth working offensive and a defensive which kept the Husker score down to twenty points while the Jayhawks piled up twenty-five.

A string of three victories followed, and then another defeat by Kansas. The Jayhawkers proved themselves to be the rightful claimers of the championship.

Nebraska lost the next week to Washington. The game was one of the fastest of the season and the Pikers nosed out Nebraska in the last half. From then on victories were scored continuously, the string counting up to eight.

Among these victories was included one which might be said to come out of the hardest game of the season. It was when Nebraska defeated Creighton at Omaha. The teams battled through the first half with defenses tight as possible, until the score was Creighton, six, Nebraska four. The Huskers came up from behind in the last half and won by four points, fifteen to eleven.

The Creighton game is one of the highlights of the Nebraska season. Another is the Missouri game on the home schedule. For thrills and action, that contest surpassed anything offered on the home floor. The Huskers won, twenty-four to twenty-one. The steadiest, most nearly perfect basketball five on Missouri Valley courts this winter was undoubtedly Kansas. The Jayhawkers lost but one game, that to Kansas Aggies. But the Aggies spent themselves in that match, for they never were able to come back again.

Kansas won its games steadily and consistently, with no dazzling flash and high scores. But always the Jayhawkers were out in front by just as many points as were needed. When a poor team came along Kansas played easily, and ran up no big score. But when a fast team came around Kansas had the reserve stamina to win. They played within their opponents—just hard enough to beat them.

The records show Kansas with many "narrow escapes." Several times they won out only in the last few minutes, but a point or two. Nevertheless, they won fifteen of their sixteen games.

Oklahoma was a strong contender from the start, but never quite strong enough to beat out the leading teams. They and the Kansas Aggies were the leading scares for the conference.

And now the individuals. Oh, yes, the individuals. Probably every fan has his all-Valley team picked, but somebody told us we could not pick one without seeing the regular selections. And so, merely to prove that we could, we did it:

Ackerman, f (C), Kansas.
Bunker, f, Kansas Aggies.
Peterson, c, Kansas.
Tipton, g, Nebraska.
Cox, g, Washington.
Leading the honorable mention list are Goodson and Volz of Nebraska. Mincer, Washington, Moran and Grinnell, McBride of Oklahoma and Wheat of Missouri.
Maybe you have your opinions—we have ours.

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA—A course in petroleum engineering is to be added to the curriculum next semester.

TRACK MEN TO HOLD TRYOUTS

Coach Schulte to Have Time Trials Today for Valley Indoor Meet.

EXPECT BREAKING OF SEVERAL OLD RECORDS

Final track tryouts for the Missouri Valley indoor meet at Kansas City on the 20th and 21st, will be held this afternoon at 3:15 under the east stand of the stadium. The order of events previously announced has been changed so that the half-mile run will come first on the program at 3:15. The field events, high jumping, broad-jumping, shotput, and pole-vaulting will all start at 3:15.

Yesterday was a dull day on the Husker indoor track, with most of the competitors in the races today, taking things easy and resting for the tryouts. Last Saturday, in the track gala day, several valley records for the season were broken, and a similar performance may be expected this afternoon.

The stellar events of the day will be the dashes and hurdles, in both of which events, Nebraska has potential national champions in Ed Weir and Roland Locke. Two other good races will be the half-mile and two-mile runs, in which several men who have broken the varsity record will run.

Special arrangements will be made this afternoon to accommodate the crowd. Last Saturday, there were about one hundred and fifty at the tryouts, and over two hundred are expected this afternoon on account of the number of visiting high school athletes who will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the track team in action, and observing the training methods of Coach Schulte.

There will be something going on all afternoon from 3:15 to 5:15. One track event will follow immediately after another, and field events will be held simultaneously in the open space inside the track. The first track event will be the half-mile run, in which Lewis, Houderschildt, and Beckord will compete. Next will come the fifty-yard dash with Locke, Rhodes, Mandery, and Dailey appearing. Then the high hurdles, in which Ed Weir, Reese, Dailey, and Beerle are running.

The two-mile run has been changed to 4 o'clock. Zimmerman and Lawson will race it out in this event. Last week Zimmerman beat Lawson to the tape by a margin of only several yards, and a good race is expected between the two.

ENGINEERS TO HEAR ADDRESS BY DODSON

Acting Chief Engineer of Bell Telephone Company Con- cation Speakers.

H. I. Dodson, acting chief engineer of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company at Omaha, will speak on "The Engineer's Responsibility in the Telephone Business" at a College of Engineering convocation in Mechanical Engineering 206 at 10 o'clock today.

Graduating in electrical engineering from Ohio State University in 1907, Mr. Dodson has been employed by various telephone plants, including the Valley Telephone Company, Lebanon, Ohio; the Central Union Telephone Company, at Indianapolis; the New York Telephone Company at Brooklyn and Buffalo, and, finally, the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company at Omaha, of which he is now acting chief engineer in the absence of R. A. Gantt, '09, University of Nebraska.

The relationship between the engineer in the university and the engineer in industry will be among the topics on which Mr. Dodson will lecture. He will outline problems which the engineer will meet in the telephone business.

Many men graduating from the various branches of engineering are employed each year by telephone companies. Mr. Dodson is here, however, not as a company representative but as a practicing engineer, to give advice and explanations of interest and benefits to students of the College of Engineering.
