ANNOUNCE CAST FOR "TUT TUT"

Sixty People Given Places in Annual Kosmet Klub Production.

MEETING IS CALLED FOR MONDAY EVENING

Announcement of the cast for the 1925 Kosmet Klub production, "Tut-Tut," was made yesterday by the committee of members of Kosmet Klub in charge of the tryouts held two weeks ago. The cast includes nearly sixty people, some of which will be eliminated in further trials so that the total number will be about fifty.

A meeting of all members of the cast and business assistants will be held Monday evening at seven o'clock in the chapel in the rear of the Armory. It is very important that everyone be present. Practices will be started immediately under the direction of the three directors, C. L. Coombs, Herbert Yenne and Prof. A. G. Hinman.

The production this year will see some familiar faces of persons who have appeared in former Kosmet plays. The list includes twenty principal parts and choruses numbering thirty-five. Three choruses will be used; the pony chorus, a male chorus and a chorus of eight women. The last two will appear together in the play.

"Tut-Tut" is a two-act musical comedy written by Cyril L. Coombs. The story is of an archaeologist named Professor Whereisho who cannot be cured of his "digging" tendencies by his wife and daughter. They finally plan a trip for the professor and the results are surprising.

Six scenes portraying action in five places are included. The first scene takes place in America, the next on board the ship, "Acrobatic," from there to Port Said, Cairo and Tutankhamen's tomb. Some novel effects will be produced by special scenery and the music and costumes will be unusual.

The comedy will be produced at the Orpheum April 24 and will be taken to Omaha for presentation at the Brandeis the following night. The 1923 and 1924 plays were both taken to Omaha, showing to large and appreciative audiences on each occasion.

Several parts are as yet not filled because of ineligibility and other reasons. These will be selected by the club in the near future.

PHI DELTS END CELEBRATION

Phi Delta Theta Observes Golden Anniversary of Founding of Chapter.

HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET ON SATURDAY EVENING

The two-day celebration by Phi Delta Theta of the golden anniversary of the founding of the Nebraska chapter closed Saturday evening with the annual banquet at which were the members of the active chapter and about 175 alumni. The events on the day's program were a memorial service for deceased members in the morning, a luncheon at the house at noon, and the unveiling of a memorial tablet and a reception in the afternoon.

Governor Adam McMullen, Mayor Frank C. Zehrung and Chancellor Samuel Avery spoke at the noon luncheon.

"The fraternity teaches loyalty, understanding and friendship," Governor McMullen declared. "These are the qualities that are needed in life and particularly in government. What a man gains from the textbooks is important, of course; but the friendships and the qualities of brotherhood which he acquires will remain longer."

"I wish to compliment the Nebraska chapter of Phi Delta Theta on its fifty years of existence at Nebraska. No institution which has endured so long could have failed to have far-reaching effects, and I believe those effects were good."

"Oftentimes we hear of men who have associated together closely—as in the colleges of Oxford—who have become famous. There is something more in this than the caliber of the men, for surely all the men in such a group are not of unusual ability. Association had something to do with it, and such association is present in the fraternity today."

Mayor Zehrung, in a brief address, spoke of the advantages of a college fraternity in forming friendships. The fraternity, he believed, was closely allied with the school, and anything connected with such a "factory of brains" was beneficial.

Chancellor Avery, after giving some reminiscences of old days at Nebraska, declared that the associations such as are found in a fraternity make a man much better able to take care of himself in the world. Many students fail to take advantage of this contact with others, he Chancellor said, not realizing that this was important in University life.

Phil McCullough '17, of Omaha, was toastmaster, both at the luncheon and at the banquet. Earl Cline of Lincoln, member of the Board of Regents, spoke in the afternoon at the unveiling of the memorial tablet commemorating the founding of Phi Delta Theta at Nebraska.

Mr. Cline also stressed the importance of acquaintanceships and of the advantages to be gained from fraternities. The criticism of fraternities on the ground that they promoted snobbery was untrue, at least insofar as western schools are concerned. That they failed to promote scholarship was one criticism in the past that is now disappearing, he declared, for fraternities are making strides in bringing high scholastic work.

Robert P. Brewer of Tulsa, Okla., national president of Phi Delta Theta, unveiled the memorial tablet, bringing to the Nebraska chapter the congratulations of the national fraternity. Many telegrams were received from other fraternities, other chapters of Phi Delta Theta, and alumni, sending semi-centennial greetings.

Ernest E. Bearg, head football coach at the University; Dr. E. O. Weber of Wahoo, Frank C. Bulta of Omaha, and Herbert Cameron '26, Kearney, president of the Nebraska chapter, were called on for toasts at the banquet.

ARRANGE TO TAKE COMPANY PICTURES

Will Make Photographs for Military Section of 1925 Cornhusker.

Company pictures for the military section of the 1925 Cornhusker will be taken this week, according to the editor of that section, Victor Hacker. Arrangements have been made to erect a stand on the west side of Social Science building for this purpose.

The picture of each company will be taken during the regular drill period. A schedule of the exact time for each company will be posted Monday so that cadet officers assigned to the company will have a chance to be present at that time. There will be no group pictures of lieutenants taken this year, and their only chance to have their pictures in will be with the companies.

The money for the pictures has been coming in slowly and it will be necessary to collect from the cadets before the pictures are taken.

All individual pictures of the captains, majors, and other executive officers should have been taken some time ago and those who have not done this yet are asked to make appointments immediately at either the Hauck or Townsend studio. This includes those captains who are second in command of the companies.

Work on the military section is progressing rapidly and several new features will be added this year. There will be a special section for snap shots and anyone who has pictures pertaining to the regiment and especially about camp last summer is asked to give them to the editor of the military section.

DR. JAMES SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

Gives Address on the Federal System of Brazil Friday Morning.

Dr. Herman G. James of the University of Texas stated at the University convocation Friday morning in an address on "The Federal System of Brazil," that Brazil regarded the diversity of laws among the various units which form the United States of America as an unfortunate result of the federal constitution of this country. Dr. James was introduced by Chancellor Avery as a man distinguished in his own right and by inheritance, being the son of a famous president of the Illinois and Northwestern universities.

Dr. James, in speaking of visiting Brazil, said that it was interesting to note the manner in which they had used the Anglo-Saxon form of government. He showed that while the constitution of the United States was taken as a model, it had been adapted to suit the needs of Brazil. The entire address was especially of interest to students of law and political economy.

Brazil differs greatly from the United States in the assignment of national and state power. In place of the diversity of state power found in the United States, Brazil places its twenty states under national criminal, commercial, and civil codes. Only the procedure of law is left to the states. The chief source of revenue is derived from the export tax, a levy being made on all goods which pass from one state to another. This is regarded in Brazil as an unfortunate circumstance. One of the commendable features of their government is the choice of the president by the direct vote of the population.

In describing these governmental advances, Dr. James invariably used the word "progress" instead of "evolution." He stated, "I don't know how you are here, but I have friends who get a cold chill down the spine at the mention of evolution."

Dr. James said that Brazil, now totalling thirty million people, ranks along with Italy and France in Europe, and that if the present rate of development in population, wealth, and material progress continues, she will soon be a factor to be considered in world affairs.

Overcoming a Lincoln lead of five points in the last half of the game, Omaha Tech last night defeated Lincoln high school 13 to 12, in the final game of the fifteenth annual basketball tournament. The victory won the third state championship for the Omaha high school in five years.

The game started at 9:30 on the Coliseum floor. Tech was the first team on the floor, and was greeted by a wild burst of applause from the audience. The game commenced with sparring around and passing for a minute or two, with good team work on both sides. Then Nelson of Tech shot a clean one through the basket that did not even touch the hoop. Witte of Lincoln soon countered with a field goal after breaking through the Tech five-man defense.

The first quarter was Tech's, ending with a score of 4 to 3. It was featured by close guarding by Tech, and the ball was in the hands of the Omaha team most of the period.

In the second quarter Lincoln opened up. A bad pass by Tech gave the ball to Lincoln. Witte, star Lincoln forward of the game, got the ball and made the field goal that put Lincoln ahead. Two free throws by Witte raised the Lincoln score to eight. Tech was able to make only one point from a free throw in this period. Score at end of half Lincoln 8, Tech 5.

The Lincoln lead was raised to 10-5 in the first minute or so of the second half, when Witte made another basket for Lincoln. Two free throws from fouls garnered Holm of Tech two points. After some floor work, Nelson, of Tech, slipped the ball into the basket from the side, the score was brought nearer even, Tech 9, Lincoln 10. Lincoln began stalling in the last part of the third quarter. A free throw by Kahler, Lincoln guard, added another point to Lincoln's score. Just before the end of the quarter Holm, Tech forward, made the basket that tied the score, 11 to 11.

The game at the beginning of the fourth quarter became hot, and tense. The referee had to toss up the ball four times to get the game started. Tech was beginning to wear down the Red and Black team, and had the advantage on floor work. A foul on Witte netted the Lincoln team another point. Then Nelson of Tech flipped a high arched ball through the basket for the final counter of the game. With only two minutes remaining Tech stalled and the game ended 13 to 12.

The lack of enthusiasm evidenced in the preliminary rounds of the tourney, continued up to the final game last night at the Coliseum, and even there the crowd was smaller than last year.

Cheers of applause greeted Monte Munn of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce when he expressed hope that next year the old system would again be in force.

In the class B finals the Alma-St. Paul game ended at the half in a tie of 8 to 8. The game began slow in the second half, the ball going back and forth, until D. Bauer, of Alma, received the ball near goal.
