The Varsity turned in a 5 to 4 victory over the Nebraska Indians in a baseball game which was played in a fierce snow storm. The severe cold made it almost impossible for either team to play in its regular form but an exciting game was witnessed by those who braved the elements.

The Nebraska Debating team won their eighth victory of the season when they triumphed over the University of Iowa debaters by a unanimous decision. The Nebraska team was composed of Charles Sawyer, Earl Marvin, and Charles Sunderlin.

At a meeting of the Advisory Board of the University Y. M. C. A. Mr. Arthur Jorgenson of Omaha, formerly of De Pauw University, was unanimously chosen to act as general secretary. Mr. Jorgenson had had experience in the Omaha association and at the University of De Pauw where he met with more than ordinary success.

Ten Years Ago

The Intefraternity Council placed a ban upon the use of cabs by students for social functions except in inclement weather. A committee of girls from the Intersorority Council appeared before the men's meeting and pledged their support on the action taken. Any fraternity which violated this rule would be barred from giving a party for four months.

A sham battle was staged at Belmont between the cadets on the campus and those of the city campus. The two battalions comprising the farm regiment defended the town from the attack of the three battalions of cadets from the city campus. The battle was made more realistic by the use of blank cartridges which were issued to each man.

Captain Zumwinkle, Scott, Deeting, and Bates composed the one-half mile relay team which left to compete in the Drake Relays at Des Moines. Coach Reed was very optimistic concerning Nebraska's chances at the Relays even though many of the best track teams in the country were entered.

approval on him from all three angles. Houses completely sold out testify more forcefully than words to the great things he is doing."

Mr. Verbrugghen is, however, keenly alive to the world outside his own musical sphere. He has his hobbies; for instance, he is a lover of horses; he is an excellent golfer; he is a collector of antique musical instruments. His accumulation includes a piano of the period of Beethoven, and at least a dozen violins, including a Joseph Guarnerius instrument.

During the 1923-24 season, the entire orchestral works of Beethoven were played by Mr. Verbrugghen and his orchestra. The announcement of the six concerts created discussion as to the ability of the music public to appreciate so heavy a program. So great was the popularity of the first concerts that the entire Ninth Symphony was repeated the following Sunday afternoon at a so-called "popular concert." Every seat was sold three hours after the box office opened, and fifteen minutes of applause followed the concert. The management was besieged, next day, with requests for still another performance.

The conductor is also noted for his interpretations of the more modern orchestral works, including the compositions of Tchaikowsky and other Russian masters, the modern French composers, and the Wagnerian works.

Henri Verbrugghen, though small in stature, has the carriage of an athlete. A massive leonine head topped by a mop of unruly black hair, carries the impression of height. Mr. Verbrugghen is immaculate in his dress; he always wears a bow tie. He conducts more by facial expression, by gesture slight, but eloquent, than by undue motion of his body and flourishes of his baton.

A newspaper library is just being completed at University of Iowa's school of journalism which will contain editions of every daily paper published in the United States, some 2,500 in all. Each paper is being fastened to wallboard in a vertical position so that its makeup can be studied easily.

This is believed to be the only library of its kind in existence. Its purpose is to give journalism students an acquaintance with a wide variety of newspaper makeups.

Practically all of the 600 weekly newspapers published in Iowa are represented. Papers from distant points include the Anchorage, Alaska, Daily Times, which sells for 10 cents a copy, a paper from Porto Rico and one from the Hawaiian Islands. The list is constantly being increased.

Ho for the land of Cheese, Chocolate, and yodels! We went alping first thing this morning among the foothills to get in condition for the Olympic's Yodeling contest day after tomorrow. Imagine representing our country in such a famous international tilt!

I put the finishing touches on a new crescendo-profundo yodel with which we hope to carry the field. Jack is acting as my all-round manager, rubber, and trainer and I have to give him credit in spite of our spat over Kitty.

This is a beautiful country, old feline, but you can't help but notice how the advertisers have slipped up on a wonderful opportunity to cover the mountainsides.

The VAN CRAFT Shirt

Made in 3 superb fabrics—poplin, mercerized cotton, pongee, and very fine broadcloth.

COLLEGE MEN like collar-attached shirts because they're so comfortable—even if they are slightly messy.

And from now on it's very likely that you'll insist on the Van Craft Shirt, because it has the Van Heusen Collar attached. That makes all the difference in the world, as you will see. All the solid comfort of your old collar-attached shirts, without their wrinkles and tendency to wilt and crumble.

Van Craft is smart and cool and crisp. Play in it, dance in it, lounge in it. It's all one to the Van Craft.

No bands or seams in the collar, no starch to irritate the neck. Cannot wilt. Faultless fit without a wrinkle—plus the Van Heusen—more comfortable than a soft collar, better looking than a stiff collar.
