Thirty Greek letter baseball teams will engage in mortal combat this week in the first round games of the annual interfraternity baseball tournament. Drawings for the tournament resulted in pitting twenty-eight fraternity teams against each other, with two organizations drawing byes.

Rules for the competition are the same as those of other intramural contests. No varsity letter men of a sport in season may enter the tournament. This means that track and baseball men are ineligible for competition with any of the teams. Varsity coaches may also forbid any of their men from playing.

The Greek teams will agree on their own umpires and on the playing field. Rock Island park will be available every day this week after 5:30. Permission to play there may be obtained at the athletic office.

First round games must be played this week in order to insure smooth running and finish of the tournament before the last week of school. The games will be seven innings.

DRAKE RELAY TO BE HELD SOON

Husker Track Team Will Be Strong Contender at Annual Races.

Final tryouts for the Drake meet will be held this afternoon at four o'clock. The freshmen track men will also run the tryouts for the Missouri Valley telegraphic meet at the same time.

Having copped several honors in the Kansas Relays last week, the Husker tracksters are rated as strong contenders in the coming Drake events. About twenty-two men will be taken on the trip.

Yesterday's workouts consisted mainly of light warming-up exercises, resting the men after the Kansas trip and preparing them for today's tryouts. Fred Wrae and Watson, both from the World Herald, were out on the field yesterday afternoon securing pictures and dope concerning Nebraska's entries in the Kansas and Drake events.

The schedule for the tryouts are as follows:

- 100-yard dash—4:00.
- Mile run—4:10.
- 220-yard dash—4:20.
- 120-yard high hurdles—4:30.
- 440-yard dash—4:40.
- 220-yard low hurdles—4:50.
- Half-mile run—5:00.
- Field events:
- Pole vault—4:00.
- Shot put—4:00.
- High jump—4:00.

A newspaper library is just being completed at University of Iowa's school of journalism which will contain edition of every daily paper published in the United States, some 2,500 in all. Each paper is being fastened to wallboard in a vertical position so that its makeup can be studied easily.

This is believed to be the only library of its kind in existence. Its purpose is to give journalism students an acquaintance with a wide variety of newspaper makeups.

Practically all of the 600 weekly newspapers published in Iowa are represented. Papers from distant points include the Anchorage, Alaska, Daily Times, which sells for 10 cents a copy, a paper from Porto Rico and one from the Hawaiian Islands. The list is constantly being increased.

In order to afford college men and women an opportunity to obtain a firm grasp of civic administration and fit themselves for an active public life, a new Syracuse University division, the School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, has been formed and will commence with the opening of the first semester this fall. This latest addition to the curriculum of Syracuse is in a great measure the work of Chancellor Charles W. Pitt.

WOMEN ATHLETES START PRACTICE

Number of Women Have Already Signed to Play Outdoor Baseball.

Track and out-door baseball practices for women start this week with a practice in outdoor baseball tonight at 5 o'clock and one in track Wednesday at 5. Practices will be held on the women's field east of Social Science.

A number of women have already signed to play out-door baseball. New equipment has been purchased for this sport. The players will use a hard regulation baseball and mitts. Louise Branstad will have charge of the sport. The work-out will be much the same as for indoor baseball except that practices will be only twice a week on Tuesday and Thursdays at 5 o'clock instead of each day. The season is from April 21 to May 28.

Track practices will be held every Wednesday and Friday at 5 o'clock for about a month. Five practices will be necessary before any woman can enter the meet. Those who are interested in any phase of this sport should come out Wednesday of this week and get started with the teams. Mildred Armstrong is manager.

RETAINING ONE'S IDEALS

It is often taken for granted that an individual grows older he is expected to witness the destruction of many of his ideals. Otto H. Kahn, a world renowned banker, and one of America's most successful men in business, once told young business men, "Do not let alleged worldly wisdom make you believe that ideals are useless and futile. They are not. They are an asset of true value in business. Even your illusions, don't give them up too easily. You may be taken advantage of, once in a while, but that price is worth paying." The bitter realities of life are often sufficiently strong to make one lose faith in his ideals, strong though they may originally have been. In fact many are under the impression that the ideals which they held in former years must be forgotten if one is to succeed in the cold world of business. But to drop forever such ideals may deprive one of that force which can be both a comfort and an asset in one's daily activities.

Ideals need not be forgotten as the years roll by. If they were once secured with a force sufficiently binding they can not be passed aside in a moment. And those who will cling to them until honestly convinced that they no longer can have a place in their being will find that their temporary residence has been a power productive of actual good. Don't become cynical. Don't scoff, don't lose faith," says Otto H. Kahn. Too many men have laughed at the dreamer only to find that the laugh is on them.—Purdue Exponent.

THE NEW JOURNALISM

The placidity of old-time college journalism is gradually disappearing. In its place is coming an almost militant attitude toward college questions. The Harvard Crimson, for example, arraigns the "powers that be in the university" when a Professor of dramatics leaves to enter a neighboring institution. The Dartmouth is ever insistent for educational freedom and the Williams Record has just concluded a vitriolic campaign against compulsory chapel. Even the editorial platform of the Yale News rings out like an academic declaration of independence.

Confronted by such undergraduate independence, the administrative frown cannot longer have the force of law. Under the glare of merciless publicity, faculty appointments and educational policies become no more "private affairs" of the college than Freshman Rules or College Spirit.

Occasionally, it is true, some administration attempts to check this new type of college journalism. Thus, the President of the University of Indiana recently rebuked the editor there for excessive frankness and in the University of Dubuque the editor of the college paper resigned because he could not "support the administration." These are but exceptions. On the whole, the mod-

FOOTBALL MEN KEEP WORKING

End and Backfield Material is Being Drilled in Pass and Kicking Game.

Coach Bearg is putting a squad of from twelve to fifteen backfield and end aspirants through light training on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons. The practice was started as soon as the spring football season ended and will continue until the end of the semester.

Practice for the men consists of passing, kicking and defense against the passing game. Nebraska grid-iron teams have been weak in the past in some games in defense against a skillful passing team and Coach Bearg is building up a formidable defense to the aerial game this spring.

Joe Weir, letter man at guard, is one of the regular men at these practices. He is rounding into shape for a wing position. Another contender for an end berth is Dove. Stephens, who showed up well on the freshman squad last fall is also out this spring.

Other men who have been coming out for the training are: Presnell, Randels, Shostak, Stiner, James, Lawson, Reller, Glasgow, and Sprague.

ern undergraduate newspaper attains a vigor and a discretion undreamed of half a century ago.

Any justification of the new ideals of liberality and independence in college journalism is unnecessary. To confine comment to "immoral students, people who do not cheer at baseball games, radicals and Freshmen Who Walk On The Grass" insipid. The college paper which sings a continual paean of praise or becomes an enlarged official bulletin board, can contribute little to the college welfare. It is only by arousing intelligent discussion that improvement in student conditions dent.

Invite Masons To Banquet. All Masons in the University are invited to attend the annual Square and Compass banquet at the Scottish Rite Temple at 6 P. M. today.

To the editor of the University of Colorado (Silver and Gold) goes the pleasure of quizzing the faculty. A series of twenty questions were submitted to the faculty recently. Each week one question will appear in the Silver and Gold with a gist of the faculty answers.

1. What, in your opinion, is the most outstanding cause of flunking?
2. Do you believe in final examinations? Why?
3. Do you take students' outside activities into consideration when grading?
4. Do you believe that Phi Beta Kappa is, or should be, the goal of the student?
5. Do you consider the price of text books when ordering for your class?

Where food ferments

FOOD collects in those tiny V-shaped crevices formed by the joining of the teeth and gums—The Danger Line. This food ferments. Acids form. Acid Decay of the teeth results. The gums, too, become irritated and sore.

Squibb's Dental Cream, made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, safely neutralizes these acids. It protects the teeth from Acid Decay at The Danger Line and elsewhere. It keeps the teeth clean, attractive and sound. It soothes the gums. Use it—morning, noon and night. Keep a tube or two on hand. At drug-gists everywhere.

Which Point Will You Have?

You can get all five degrees in the Classic Duofold Pens

And All Points Guaranteed for 25-Years' Wear

FOR what kind of writing do you use a pen? How do you hold it? And what style of writing is entirely natural to your hand? Close figure work or fine memoranda, for example, call for a fine or an extra-fine point. But the medium point, the broad, or the stub—these give one's penmanship a personality and character that make mighty valuable impressions in a letter or a signature.

These are reasons why, in the classic Duofold Pens, Geo. S. Parker gives the world the whole five degrees of points that the five degrees of writing require.

Points you can lend without a tremor, for no style of writing can distort them. Points that are tipped with super-smooth Iridium, for which we pay a premium of 200%. Points that we guarantee, if not mistreated, for 25 years' WEAR.

And every point set in a shapely, hand-balanced barrel that feels so inspiring you hate to lay it down.

Any good pen counter will sell you this beauty on 30 days' approval. Flashing black or black-tipped lacquer-red, the color that's handsomer than gold and makes this a hard pen to mislay.
