FACULTY CLUB HEARS GARNER

Illinois Professor Will Give Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi Address at Temple This Evening.

WILL DISCUSS EDUCATION

Tells Faculty Members of the Future Outlooks for International Law—Is Noted Author of Political Works.

Dr. James W. Garner, chairman of the political science department of the University of Illinois, who will deliver the Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi address at the Temple theater this evening and speak at convocation this morning, was the principal speaker and guest of honor at the Faculty Club banquet last evening. His subject was "The Outlook for International Law." He will speak on the subject of "Education in International Affairs" tonight and on "Proposals for International Peace" at the general convocation.

"One of the good results of the great war was the popular interest stimulated in the international law," Dr. Garner declared. He said that now the ordinary citizen talks about it whereas before the war only the specialist dared discuss it.

"International law has all the defects of national law; it has many weaknesses that national law does not have. In spite of this international law is better observed than is national law in many communities of this country. A new up-to-date law of nations is an imperative need of the day," he said when discussing the codification of international law.

Dr. Garner is the author of a number of books on history and political science. He was awarded the Legion of Honor last January by President Doumergue of France, because of the numerous articles he wrote for the French government.

Seventy-five senior engineers at Auburn recently completed a week's inspection tour which included industrial plants in Montgomery, Birmingham and Muscle Shoals.

Must Submit Poems And Essays Today

Essays and poems for the contest being sponsored by the English Department must be submitted to the committee in charge by midnight this evening. A first prize of fifty dollars for the best poem submitted, a second prize of twenty-five dollars, and a prize of fifty dollars for the best essay submitted, are being offered.

HISTORY MEETINGS ARE OPENED TODAY

Professor Krey of Minnesota Will Speak to Students at Convocation.

A convocation for students and faculty of the department of history, at which Prof. August Charles Krey of the University of Minnesota will speak, opens the annual meeting of the Nebraska History Teachers Association today. The convocation will be held in the auditorium of Social Sciences building.

The Lincoln city teachers will meet in the afternoon at the McKinley school where Professor Krey will again give an address. Guests at the annual dinner which is to be held this evening will also hear Professor Krey.

Papers on the aspects of western history will be read at the American History session tomorrow morning in Social Sciences 107.

N. E. S. TO ELECT OFFICERS

Nominations To Be Made Today—Election May 15

Nomination of candidates for the offices of the Nebraska Engineering Society, sponsor of general engineering convocations and engineer's week, will take place Friday at 10 o'clock in E. E. 104. The election of officers for next year will be held May 15.

Nominations will also be made for the offices of associate editor, associate business manager, and associate circulation manager of the Nebraska Blue Print, official publication of the College of Engineering. These officers to be automatically re-elected the second year.

DELINQUENTS ARE SOLICITED

Drive for Payment of Stadium Pledges Is Successful Among Greeks.

PAY UP CAMPAIGN TO CONTINUE NEXT WEEK

Only two fraternities and one sorority have not turned in a report to the alumni office on the drive for payments on stadium pledges which all the Greek letter organizations are carrying on. These three must be checked in by Friday or they will be placed on the list of comparative standings for the last drive as absolute failures.

During the last week the personal solicitation campaign in sororities and fraternities netted a good amount of cash as well as a number of promises to the Stadium Association.

The city is being divided into districts for a similar campaign among non-fraternity and non-sorority students and by the end of next week complete results of the last drive will be published. If the students holding delinquent pledges in this last group pay up as well as did the others in the personal solicitation campaign the drive will be judged a success.

Two or more persons from each district, who are holders of stadium pledges, will be chosen to do the soliciting, and every delinquent will be visited before the end of next week. The plan will be the same as was used among fraternities and sororities and it is hoped that results will be as gratifying.

Any student who is a holder of a delinquent pledge, and who has not been visited in any of the drives, will be doing the association a great favor if he will stop at the office and make arrangements to get his payments up to date.

Sunday, a list of fraternities and sororities and their standings in the last drive will be published in The Daily Nebraskan. The list will be figured on a percentage basis.

More than 2,500 students regularly enroll in the education courses at the University of Wisconsin Summer Session.

Players Will Give Shavian Drama At Fair

A new feature of the Farmers' Fair this year is the presentation of a play, "The Devil's Disciple," by the University Players. The play, an out-of-door production, will be given Saturday afternoon and evening. No admission will be charged. Herbert Yenne and Dolores Bosse will play the leads.

"The Devil's Disciple" is a melodrama by the famous Englishman, Bernard Shaw. It deals with a man, Richard Dudgeon, who had been brought up in a Puritan community. He rebels at the restrictions of the Puritan life and leaves his home. After the death of his father he is forced to return home for the reading of the will.

After his return he is mistaken for a minister and is taken away to be hung. He bravely accepts the masquerade. Because the English general, whose watch is two minutes slow, will not go by American watches, Richard Dudgeon gains the chance to live. During the two minutes, the minister returns to save him and restore his own good name.

The play was written a quarter of a century ago. It was first introduced to American audiences by Richard Mansfield. Mr. Shaw tries to prove in his play that all good men are cowards and that only blackguards can be counted on to do the right thing.

The University Players gave "The Devil's Disciple" as one of their regular performances last winter. The cast is:

- Mrs. Dudgeon—Marion Sargent.
- Essie—Pauline Gellatly.
- Christy—Ray Ramsey.
- Uncle Titus Dudgeon—Henry Ley.
- Uncle William Dudgeon—Edward Taylor.
- Mrs. William Dudgeon—Florence Flodeen.
- Richard Hawkins—Dwight Merriam.
- Major Swindon—Harold Sumption.
- Sergeant—Clyde Cone.
- Chaplain—Henry Ley.
- Hangman—Harold Stribling.
- Judith Anderson—Dolores Bosse.
- Rev. Anderson—Hart Jenks.

The champion interfraternity basketball team of Iowa State College defeated the university coaches by a score of 22 to 15.

BIZADS TO HOLD FUNFEST TODAY

Parade, Picnic, Ball Game and Dance on Program for Bizad Day.

RIBBONS WILL EXCUSE STUDENTS FROM CLASSES

Bizad Day, the annual funfest of the College of Business Administration, which will be held today, promises to be one of the most successful ever held, according to the committee in charge. All Bizads wearing ribbons are excused from classes for the day. Ticket sales, which closed yesterday, are said to have been good.

Activities will begin at eleven o'clock with a parade led by the University Band. Lincoln merchants have given several floats. I. J. Zavadny, chairman of the committee in charge of the program, has requested that all students having cars bring them to the parade so that those who do not have them can be accommodated.

A ball game at 11:00 between the faculty and seniors of the college is next on the program. Another ball game in the afternoon is scheduled between the Bizad team and the freshman team at Wesleyan.

There will be track and field events on the afternoon program at the Ag campus as well as the baseball game. Lunch is scheduled for 12:30 and speeches by members of the faculty of the College and student representatives will be made at this time.

The Bizad spring party, which will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, will close the day of festivities.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN—Optional attendance at classes and lecture is being considered as a means of weeding out undeserving students.

THE CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL

The University authorities are spending $5,000 in trimming and beautifying the city campus—so you hit to make the campus more attractive by keeping off the grass and picking up the loose paper.

Call for Applications For Awgwan Positions

Applications for the positions of Editor and Business Manager of the Awgwan, University humorous publication, will be received by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, until Friday noon. Application blanks may be secured either at the office of Prof. M. M. Fogg or at the Student Activities office. Applications should be left for Marion Stanley, president of Sigma Delta Chi, at the office of Prof. Fogg.

AG COLLEGE IS READY FOR FAIR

Crowds of Students and Townspeople Expected to Attend Seventh Annual Farmers' Fair Saturday.

PLAN VARIED PARADE

Work of Every Student in College of Agriculture Represented in the Fair—Plan Educational Exhibits.

All students in the College of Agriculture will be excused today so that final preparations may be made for the Farmers' Fair. All students are required to register for work on the campus at 7:00 this morning.

The seventh annual Farmers' Fair will be staged tomorrow at the College of Agriculture campus for a crowd which is expected to break all former records. From the parade in the morning to the last dance in the evening, the committee promises that all who attend will find plenty in the way of amusement. Educational exhibits have also been prepared and will be on display for the visitors.

The Fair will represent the work of every student in the College as they will all turn out today and work on the final things to be done before everything is ready for the visitors tomorrow. A dance, exclusively for Ag students, will be given this evening. The Fair Board which manages the event this year is composed of the following: Joseph O. Culbertson, manager; Nat Tolman, assistant manager; Loyall Rulla, secretary; Raymond Swallow, treasurer; Leona Davis, Betty Bosserman, and Alice Slama.

The program for the 1925 Farmers' Fair has been enlarged and there will be more concessions than in previous years. The following is a program for the day:

12:00—Parade down O Street.
1:30—Midway Carnival opens, Concessions open, Barbecue, Monte Carlo.
