UNIVERSITY CHORUS TO GIVE ORATORIOS (Continued from Page One.) oratorio differed widely from all his previous compositions, although "The Seasons," sung by the chorus two years ago, is similar in type. "The Creation" is one of the three oratorios most widely sung; the other two are "The Messiah" by Handel, and "Elijah," by Mendelssohn. Soloists in "The Creation" will be Grace Rogge, soprano; Hobart Davis, tenor; and Dietrich Dirks, bass. The University Orchestra, which will accompany both oratorios, is composed of Edward J. Walt and Fred Cardin, first violins; Ernest Harrison and Robert Bramlette, second violins; William T. Quick, viola; Lillian Eiche, cello; Mark Pierce, bass; C. E. Lwing, clarinet; Don Berry, cornet; and Mr. DeLong, trombone.

Give Annual Concerts Several concerts and oratorios are produced annually by the chorus. "St. John's Eve," by Cowan, was sung in the fall with Elsie Neely, soprano; Hobart Davis, tenor; Dwight Merriam, bass; and Sylvia Cole, alto, as soloists. The production of "The Messiah" by Handel before Christmas which has existed at the University for some time. The soloists this season were the same as those for "St. John's Eve," with the substitution of Dietrich Dirks for bass. All performances were directed by Mrs. Raymond and accompanied by the University orchestra, the personnel of which seldom varies. Miss Eiche has been a member of the string quartet for years; Mr. Quick has also played with the orchestra for some time. Mrs. Raymond organized the University of chorus in the fall of 1894. She has watched its growth from an aggregation of forty or fifty voices to an assembly of 250 voices. The chorus sings primarily for University functions, but has contributed frequently to community programs. The productions to be sung are prepared in the chorus class, which meets several times a week. Once a series of folk songs were studied and presented by the group, but their progress was stopped by the war. The chorus has sung before such famous visitors as Rabindranath Tagore, and has been accompanied by the Minneapolis and Chicago symphony orchestras.

KEEP IN FORM FOR REMAINING MEETS

Match with Kansas Aggies and Missouri Valley Meet Left on Track Schedule.

Track workouts continued light today and Coach Schulte's proteges are merely keeping in form for the two meets which are left on the Husker schedule. The Huskers meet the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan Saturday of this week and the following week wind up the season with the annual Missouri Valley meet at Norman, Oklahoma.

Coach Schulte anticipates little trouble in disposing of the Aggie team next Saturday although Kimbro and Balzar in the distance runs, and Brunkeau and Gartner in the field events may force the Huskers in these events to extend themselves to win.

The dopsters have figured out that Nebraska will again win the Missouri Valley meet. If Nebraska does do it will be the fifth consecutive championship to be won by the scarlet and cream.

Here's the way the four leaders are dooped to score:

Table with 4 columns: Mo., Kas., Neb., Grin. 100-yard dash 2 3 6 0, 220-yard dash 0 4 7 0, 440-yard dash 0 2 4 0, 880-yard run 0 1 2 0, Mile run 0 5 0 0, Two-mile run 1 3 0 0, 120-yard H. H. 2 0 3 6, 220-yard L. H. 1 0 3 7, Pole vault 5 0 4 0, High jump 2 8 0 0, Broad jump 2 8 1 0, Shot put 7 0 1 3, Discus 5 0 0 3, Javelin 0 0 0 2, 880 Relay 2 3 5 1, Mile relay 1 2 5 3, Totals 30 39 41 24

The most favorable "doping" that can be worked out shows Nebraska to hold only a slight advantage over her Valley opponents and indicates the vast amount of interest that prevails in track throughout the Valley. The meet, as indicated by the chart, should develop into a four-cornered affair between Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Grinnell, with Oklahoma, Drake, Washington, Ames and the Kansas Aggies picking out a few points here and there.

Kansas and Nebraska will virtually be left to fight out the relays with Grinnell having a chance at the mile event. The Kansas half-mile quint are one of the fastest relay teams that the Valley has ever turned out and Coach Schulte hopes to win from this team with a quartet that should come close to the world's record time for the event.

A freshman telegraphic meet with the University of Kansas freshmen will be held tomorrow. There is a possibility that the University of Missouri frosh may enter the meet making it a triangular affair, but no definite word has been received.

Reports of the annual Missouri Valley Freshmen Telegraphic meet, one of Coach Schulte's donations to M. V. track, are not complete and have not been given out. Each team contests on its home track and the reports are sent into the central offices at St. Louis where the times for the various events are compared and the final results tabulated.

RACE SUICIDE

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, voices concern over the threatened suicide of our race, and the apparently unfortunate effect of education upon this condition as evidenced, for example, by the fact that in the last half century Harvard graduates have failed either to marry, or if married, to reproduce their own number. And the circumstances are still worse in regard to women's colleges, according to Dr. Eliot.

"We ought all to fight against this threatened suicide of our race," he avers. "There is no career for a woman which compares in lasting influence, in satisfaction, in hopefulness, in all the rewards of right living, with that of wife and mother." Married life is the best life for both men and women, he believes.

The attitude of young people toward marriages is one of the most important things, he continues. They must take it seriously in the first place, and not enter into it lightly, considering that they can get out of it if things go wrong. Incidentally, Dr. Eliot believes in love at first sight.—Syracuse Daily Orange.

Entrants in the tournament are urged to play their games as soon as possible. The schedule is posted on the bulletin board in the entrance of the Agricultural Hall.

Wisconsin-made music, composed especially by Dr. H. C. Mills of the School of Music, is a new feature of the University of Wisconsin commencement exercises.

An Important Message to Ambitious College Men The S. S. Kresge Company operates 270 stores located in the East and Middle West and is continually adding new stores to the chain. For these new stores and other vacancies occurring we require managers. The only way to obtain satisfactory managers is to engage young men possessing the necessary qualities and give them a practical course of training through the various positions in our stores. A young man is placed in the stock room to learn merchandise; later he is promoted to floor work where he assists the manager in buying of merchandise for the store. It is necessary for him to serve in most all departments—stock, floor, window trimming and learn through these positions the general system of organization and the handling and directing of male help and female salespeople. The requirements, in addition to a satisfactory education are: An excellent moral character, an aptitude for merchandising, must check up favorably on loyalty, personality, initiative, judgment, enthusiasm, observation, action, health, intelligence, industry, executive ability and memory. Applicant must have faith in himself and the proposition such as to warrant being willing to meet the requirements of the training period by expecting to study merchandise, organization and store conduct, working hard and putting in long hours if necessary. The beginning wage will be small, but will be increased from time to time as applicant becomes more valuable. Successful applicants are placed under the direction of competent managers, and learn our merchandise and store methods in a practical way by actually doing store work. The training time required before appointment to store management depends largely upon the ability demonstrated. We have to offer in the beginning: Hard work, long hours and small living wage. This, a great many times, does not appeal to the average college graduate; but if he shows an inclination to spend sufficient time in training a very bright future awaits him. Managers are paid on a commission basis and earn from $3,000 to $15,000 and above per year. We promise no one a store manager's position in less than three years, and it may take longer. The possibility of holding a good position within four or five years should be considered more seriously than the obtaining of one paying a higher salary in the beginning with little or no future possibilities. If interested and confident that you can qualify, send for application blank. We will write you further regarding a personal interview. We prefer men between the ages of 22 and 30 years. Some students may, of necessity, be compelled to accept for their positions after graduation by paying the highest possible salaries. If, after trying out such positions, you do not feel satisfied, we shall be glad to have you write us. S. S. KRESGE COMPANY Personnel Department Kresge Bldg., Detroit, Michigan.
