CORNHUSKER WILL GO ON SALE MONDAY

Varney, Business Manager of 1926 Annual Announces Campaign Plans

HONORARIES WILL SELL

Valkyrie, Xi Delta, Mystic Fish and Tassels Will Compete for Prize of $50.

The 1926 Cornhusker goes on sale Monday, October 12, at $4.50, the same price as last year. The sale campaign as announced by Tom Varney, business manager of the 1926 Cornhusker, is being managed by those who have applied for positions on the Cornhusker business staff, the class organizations, and the honorary societies.

Organizations which will sell the Cornhusker are Xi Delta Valkyrie Tassels and the Mystic Fish. A prize of $50.00 will be given to the organization which sells the greatest number of subscriptions during the campaign. Organizations may enter in the ticket-selling contest by applying to the business manager before Monday.

Students may reserve their Cornhusker from solicitors or at tables which will be placed on the campus. The location of these tables will be announced later. As very few extra copies will be ordered from the printer students are urged to place their order immediately.

No changes are being made in the size of the 1926 Cornhusker. Extensive improvements are planned in both the composition and art-work. Realizing that the student-life section has been neglected in the past, Donald Sampson, editor, plans to make this section one of the important of the Cornhusker.

The year-book is a publication of the entire student body, and every effort is being made this year to have it supported by all. The purchase price, $4.50, may be wholly paid at the time of reservation or a deposit of $2.50 may be paid to insure the reservation of a copy of the 1926 Cornhusker.

Besides the prize of $50 which will be given to the organization that sells the greatest number of tickets during the sales campaign, honorable mention in the Cornhusker will be given to the organizations with next higher totals.

ELECT SIXTEEN TO MEMBERSHIP

Corn Cob Chapter of Pep Organizations Chooses Pledges at Thursday Meeting.

Sixteen men were elected pledges of the Corn Cob chapter of Pi Epsilon Pi, national pep organization, at a meeting Thursday evening in the Temple.

Corn Cobs will greet the returning football team at the Burlington station at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. An escort from the train to the station gates will be maintained by the Cobs in order that the returning men will not be delayed in reaching their homes.

Program committees were appointed to work out the details of skeleton stunts for this season's games. The committees are: Robert Hoagland, Richard Hrdlicka, and V. Royce West, Washington game; Jacob Arnot, William Bailey and Elton Baker, Kansas game; and Glen Buck, Lloyd Kelly and Richard Ross, Oklahoma game.

Decision to secure a new and more distinctive uniform was made. A heavy scarlet sweater will feature the new costume, with a heavily lettered "Nebraska" on the back in felt, and a Corn-Cob monogram on the breast. The sweaters will probably be on hand for service at the first home game.

The new pledges are: Max Neumann, Eugene Spellman, Walker Bennett, Merle Jones, Oscar Norling, Harold Hepperly, James Jensen, Glen Davis, Dwight Wallace, Ben Ravitz, Johnny Schroyer, William F. Jones, Fred Foss, Bud Nelson, Jim Owens and Clarence Wright.

Varsity cheer leaders have been made associating non-voting members of the Corn-Cobs in order that a closer cooperation in working at the games may be obtained.

ENTERTAIN WOMEN AT TEA THURSDAY

Associated Women Students Board Receives Three Hundred at First Weekly Tea

About three hundred University women attended the tea given by the Associated Women Students Thursday afternoon at Ellen Smith hall at which the women were given an opportunity to get better acquainted with each other. Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, presided at the table. Marguerite Forsell was general chairman. Members of the A. W. S. board were in the receiving line. They are Ruth Wells, Mariel Flynn, Dorothea Dawson, Henrietta Dirks, Ruth Barker, and Doris Pinkerton. Entertainment was directed by Oral Rose Jack, and refreshments by Katherine McWhinnie.

Music continued throughout the tea. Thelma King gave a vocal solo, and Myrth Aileen Cheyney, a violin number. Margaret McHaffey, Ruby Teeter and Opal Wind played the piano. Dancing followed these selections. The color scheme was carried out in red and white.

Teas of this type will be given every Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. The purpose is to promote friendship among the University women, for whom they are given. Mortor Board, senior honorary society for women, will entertain next week.

WASHINGTON IN SPLENDID SHAPE

Seattle Report Credits Western Eleven With "Best Line in History"

WILL OUTWEIGH HUSKERS

Feeling on the part of the Nebraska football fans that the University of Washington (Seattle) football game carded for October 17 at Lincoln will be a setup affair for the Cornhuskers is not well founded—at least not on reports coming from the camp of the Pacific coast school.

At Seattle, it is firmly contended that the Washington Huskies have the "best line in history." That, to those who know Washington football history, is saying a mouthful, for the Huskies have never yet been known to have a particularly weak forward wall.

And, when you add this to the fact that Washington has eight backfield lettermen from their 1924 team back in the harness this year, the prospects point to a full day's work for the Huskers.

Given a line to protect them, the Washington backfield shows promise of making every member of the Nebraska eleven hustle the full sixty minutes of the game. With such men as George Wilson, Walter Camp's selection for halfback on his all-American football team last year, Captain Elmer Tesreau, all-Coast conference fullback, and Captain Elmer's older brother, Louis, playing his first year for Washington, in the backfield, the Huskies give promise of having, without question, the best backfield on the coast and possibly in the country.

But this is not all of the offensive power of the Huskies, for added to this trio are listed two quarterbacks from the 1924 eleven, Les Sherman and George Guttermen; a veteran substitute fullback, Bill Charleston, and four other veteran halfbacks, Harold Patton, Harold Shidler, High Beckett and Mike Hanley, a brother of Dick Hanley, coach at the Haskell Institute.

Then there are two men, graduates of the 1924 Husky freshman squad, who are making these lettermen step. John Stenbaugh, 175-pound halfback, and Earl Wilson, 180-pound fullback, are among Washington's most promising of the new men.

For the line, Coach Enoch Bagshaw, although Washington is becoming the loss of the 1924 forward wall from tackle to tackle, has five lettermen on which to depend. From Seattle comes the report "Washington will have a sophomore line that eats, drinks, and talks football; that plays football because they love the game." Those are the kind (Continued to Third Page.)

MISSOURI WILL BUILD STADIUM

Expect to Complete First $300,000 Unit by September 1, 1926, Says Director

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 8.—The first $300,000 unit of the University of Missouri memorial stadium will be completed by September 1, 1926, C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, and chairman of the recently formed stadium corporation, announced here today.

Plans for its construction and financing were approved last Saturday by the board of curators. The final papers in connection with the financing were signed yesterday and contracts for the first unit, providing for completion by September 1, 1926, will be let as soon as possible.

The first unit, which is to be completed in plenty of time for the Tigers to play their entire 1926 home schedule on the new field, will seat 26,000 persons. The seating capacity can be increased to 30,000 or 35,000 by temporary arrangements.

Additions have been planned, Mr. Brewer said, and they will be built from time to time as the need arises. The ultimate capacity of the stadium will be 98,575, making it the largest in the middle west, and one of the largest in the country. The Missouri director pointed out that there is no contemplation of early completion, but that the plans were made with the idea of being able to meet any future needs in football.

The stadium will be built in a natural ravine, opening to the south, and in the shape of a horseshoe. The striking feature is that about half of its seats will be below the ground level. This factor will make for economy of construction. Entrance to the field will be made from doors at the thirty-seventh row, which will be on the ground level. Thirty-five rows will be above the ground.

Will Hold Rally on Return of Teams from Battle With Missouri

The Nebraska football and cross-country squads will return to Lincoln Sunday morning at 10 o'clock on the Burlington road. A rally, equaling the one which followed the Illinois game, is expected to be formed at the station to greet the teams.

Plans are being formed whereby the crowd will have a chance to see and hear from the teams at the station. Space will be roped off through which the squad will pass through the crowd. Several were disappointed last Sunday when they failed to see the team.

All Cornhusker followers are urged to attend the rally Sunday. The two sports, football and cross-country, are Missouri Valley contests and a huge rally, whether the games are won or lost, will have a stimulating effect upon the morale of the squads.

PUBLICATION BOARD MAKES STATEMENT

Will Appoint Two Assistant Business Managers on 1926 Cornhusker Staff in December

In view of the fact that the 1926 Cornhusker sales campaign is about to open, the Student Publication Board, through its chairman, Prof. M. M. Fogg, made announcement on Thursday concerning the appointment of the assistant business managers. It is as follows:

"The Student Publication Board voted last May to delay until December the appointment of the two assistant business managers of the 1926 Cornhusker. These appointments will, of course, be made on the basis of proved qualifications for discharging the duties of these positions. Among these qualifications are ability to sell subscriptions, ability to sell advertising, scholarship, and general University record."

GREEN CAP RULE TO BE ENFORCED

Freshmen Are Required to Observe the Wearing of the Green by Iron Sphinx

The enforcement of the green cap rule begins today. All freshmen will be required to wear green caps until notified by the cap committee to discard them. The Iron Sphinx, sophomore men's organization, will supervise the checking up on the wearing of the caps.

About sixty caps were sold to freshmen yesterday. This leaves a number of freshmen who are excused regarding the green cap rule. No excuses will be accepted for the failure to wear the caps. Ten dozen caps are now on hand at Farquhar's clothing store to take care of the extra demand for certain sizes.

Freshmen must wear the caps until November 21, date of the annual struggle between the freshmen and sophomores. If the freshmen win the contest they will be allowed to discard the green caps. If they lose they must continue wearing them until notified by the green cap committee to discard them.

Five Sets of Prothers Battle For Places on Washington Squad

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 8.—"The Team of Brothers"—that might be the name attached to the University of Washington football eleven. Five sets of brothers—just lacking one man for a complete team—are turning out every day, battling for positions on the squad.

Captain Elmer and Louis Tesreau, and Hugh and Welton Beckett are fighting for backfield berths. Herman and Egbert Brix, the fighting boys from Tacoma, "Brick" and John Mitchell, and Bob and Gordon Thompson are all battling for positions in the line.

"If one of us were only twins," said Elmer Tesreau, "We could go onto the field a full 'Team of Brothers.'"

Freshman Class Will Complete Organization

A freshman class meeting which is to be held Tuesday, October 13, at 11 o'clock in the Social Science auditorium has been called by the president, Reginald Miller. The primary purpose of the meeting is the nomination and election of the remaining officers. The officers yet to be filled are those of the vice-president, secretary and treasurer. In addition other permanent organization of the class will be affected. Standing committees are to be appointed, and the class will be generally organized for the Olympics, the great event of particular interest to freshmen.

OPENING PLAY SCORES HIGH

"The Goose Hangs High" Is Successfully Presented by University Players

MISS HOWELL IN THE CAST

Miss H. Alice Howell, and Frances McChesney took honors in the play "The Goose Hangs High" by Lewis Beach which was presented by the University Players last night in the Temple theater. The play will be shown again Friday evening, Saturday evening and Saturday afternoon.

Miss Howell appearing on the stage after an absence of a year, plays the role of the mother in a very sincere and pleasing manner. Her dramatic strength and charm again appealed to the audience.

Frances McChesney, as the grandmother, plays a very difficult role, adding much to the success of the play. Her character was well sustained.

Mr. Felton and Mary Yaffro roll back through the play winning the audience and holding them through the entire performance. Mr. Felton's interpretation of his part made a strong appeal for the younger generation.

Herbert Yenne, a favorite of the public, played the older brother in his usual excellent way.

Mr. Theodore Diers, a new addition to the Players, playing the part of the husband, supports Miss Howell in an admirable fashion.

The play is one of the best recently devoted to the upcoming generation. It is a delightful comedy depicting family loyalty and affection. It brings abundant laughter and not a few sniffles of tears.

If all plays were as bright and as clever as "The Goose Hangs High" there would be little fault found with the present day playwrighting. The play is strongly dramatic in its swift alternations of household comedy and domestic tragedy. Its philosophy is sound, its witicism unforced, and its plot carried logically to a happy conclusion.

The scenery for the play was the work of Mr. Kirsh's stage design class.

The redecorated theatre gives the Players a new and added background for the year's work. The addition of new lighting equipment makes possible a much more finished presentation of the play.

PLAYERS DRIVE IS SUCCESSFUL

Thursday Evening Attendance Reaches High Mark Says Business Manager

CAMPUS SALE IS CLOSED

"The best Thursday evening house for the Players I remember," was the verdict of A. L. Erickson, business manager of the University Players, dramatic organization opening its season Thursday evening, after closing the sale for the performance.

"The three-day drive on the campus has evidently been very successful," according to Mr. Erickson, "judging from size of the sale. At any rate, the house is well filled, and that is the main thing."

V. Royce West, '27, Elmwood, was in charge of the drive. A committee of approximately fifty people served in the selling of the coupons for the season tickets Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Money and unsold tickets held by members of the committee must be checked in to Mr. Erickson in Room 201 in the Temple Friday or Saturday, or to V. Royce West, chairman of the committee, before Saturday evening.

No definite check from individual sales is yet possible, but calculations indicate a greater interest in the work of the Players throughout the student body, as well as in the resident community, than ever before.

Coupons as yet not exchanged for season tickets may be exchanged today and Saturday morning at Ross P. Curtice's Music Store, or at the Temple theater a short time before the curtain rises.

GRID SQUAD LEAVES FOR SECOND GAME

Huskies Hop Train to Missouri With Hope of Twisting Tiger's Tail

RALLY SHOWING POOR

Few Students Turn Out at Burlington Station for Intended Send-off For Team

With the defeat of Missouri as its object the Husker football team left yesterday at 1:45 for Columbia. A poor crowd was at the Burlington station for the rally which was to send off the team.

Twenty-seven gridsters made the trip, accompanied by their mentor, Coach E. E. Bearg, and Coaches Day and Scherer. They will arrive at Columbia early this morning, and will work out on Tiger sod today in preparation for the contest Saturday.

The Huskers truly moved to Columbia, instead of traveling to the Missouri town. They carried all of their beds, mattresses, and bedding in two chartered baggage cars. According to advance word, hotel accommodations in Columbia would be scarce, due to a Kiwanis convention there this week.

Coach Owen Frank took a trip to the Pacific coast, where he will scout the University of Washington and Montana game Saturday. Washington starts east Tuesday and will travel half-way across the continent to meet Nebraska in the first home game October 17.

A final home practice was held at noon yesterday, when Coach Bearg drilled the squad on plays.

At Missouri real secret practice has been instituted for the first time this season. In preparation for the rushes of the Nebraska forwards, the Tiger line is being drilled long and hard in charging and interference. The backs are being coached on Cornhusker plays, with stress on the passing game.

"The line-up is uncertain," says the Columbian Missourian, "in fact, everything is uncertain except the desire in the hearts of a Tiger team to beat the great team the Huskers have this year. And if ever determined men fought on Rollins Field there will be such a team defending the Missouri goal Saturday afternoon."

Three new men made the trip, and they may get a chance to show their wares against Missouri. Evard Lee, a scrappy end from South Dakota, went along instead of Vint Lawson, who is temporarily laid up. Another guard who has been showing up well is Robert Whitmore of Scottsbluff. He was taken in addition to Raish, Scholz, Pospisil and Kriemeleyer.

James Wickman, Morrill, made the trip as reserve quarterback. He was on the squad last year but did not get in any of the games.

Red Molzen, tackle, and Dorsey McIntyre, end, are not with the squad. Molzen has an injured hand which will keep him out of play for a time.

The probable line-up will be as follows: Spragle, left end. Stiner, left tackle. Scholz, left guard. Hutchinson, center. Raish, right guard. Ed Weir, right tackle. Lee or Joe Weir, right end. Brown, quarterback. Rhodes, left half. A. Mandery, right half. Dailey, fullback.

CIVIC CLUBS WILL VISIT AG COLLEGE

Block and Bridge Club Makes Plans to Entertain Lincoln Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs

Plans for entertaining the Lincoln Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at the College of Agriculture were discussed at the meeting of the Block and Bridge club held at the home of Prof. and Mrs. H. J. Gramlich, 3220 Starr street, Wednesday evening. It was decided to indefinitely postpone the "Baby International" student stock show, in the interests of entertaining the civic clubs.

It was the general opinion that entertain a set of these two clubs would be of more benefit to the College than the "Baby International" which has been held in the past.

Original stunts will be arranged and presented by the students who are interested in Animal Husbandry. The stock that is being fitted for showing at the leading live stock shows of the country will be an exhibition during the afternoon's entertainment.
