"In the near future we may expect the League to formulate a general treaty similar to the specific ones adopted at Locarno. These acts at Locarno also open the way to disarmament. Up to this time all efforts at disarmament have failed. At present the armies are as large or larger, than they were in 1914. After fruitless efforts to secure disarmament from the formula of arbitration, security, and disarmament, the European statesmen have finally abandoned that formula and adopted a new formula-security, arbitration, and the disarmament, Locarno has made the first step in assuring security and, in opening the way to arbitration with security, has opened the way to a general disarmament conference."

Expects Disarmament Conference Mr. Page stated that he expected such a conference would be called within two years. We must expect rivalry for the control of the world's resources that surpass anything in the past. Unless we can build substitutes for war which can take care of the conflicting interests bound to arise in our economic life, we cannot avoid war."

Pleas For Study of Facts

Mr. Page closed with a plea for a study of the facts and an exertion of influence to help the United settling and solving of the vast problems confronting the world today. A first small step would be the affiliation of the United States to the World Court.

Following his talk a discussion was held by those not having one o'clock classes. Mr. Page answered ques-NEW LOCARNO TREATY tions concerning various world problems. Style Demands the Wide Belt

Harpham "wides" give that swagger effect all good dressers want. Snappy, long wearing. The Western, a predominent style, is made of finest selected grain bridle leather, lock-stitched with wax thread and richly finished by hand. Say, "Harpham, wide" to your dealer and look for the trade mark inside the belt.

HARPHAM BROS. CO.,

The "Prof" may not admit it -but it's true

HE probably will not tell you that clean, neat, typewritten work brings better marks—but it does—and the reason is obvious. It relieves him of that tedious task of deciphering longered and been him of that tedious task of deciphering longhand, and keeps him of that fedious task of deciphering longhand, and keeps him in perfect "reading humor". Then too, you'll find the New Remington Portable a great time-taver in compiling notes and keeping up with your correspondence. Students prefer the New Remington Portable because it is the lightest, smallest, and most compact of all standard key-board portables. It fits in a case only four inches high and can be tucked away in a desk drawer or bookcase when not in use.
