

'N' CLUB FIRM IN OPPOSITION TO ALL BETTING

Emphatic Resolution Denouncing Practice Is Passed At Meeting

FOUR MEN ARE INITIATED

Shildneck, Newton, Palmer, and Brown Taken into Letter Men's Organization

The N Club, composed of University of Nebraska letter men, at their last regular meeting condemned the practice of betting on Nebraska games and, consequently, on all intercollegiate contests. The following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Resolved: That betting on Nebraska games is injurious to the best interests of athletics; that the man who bets either for or against Nebraska does a great harm and should be classed as an enemy to our interests."

Various members of the club discussed the question of betting on games, either on or against Nebraska. The evils of the betting game were pointed out.

Extreme disfavor was voiced by the members against any man voicing opinions to bettors on the possible outcome of the contests, and every man pledged himself to aid in the discouraging of the practice of betting among the followers of sports.

Four men were initiated into the club at the meeting. In tennis, Paul Shildneck, Lincoln, and John Newton of Ponca, were taken in. Two members of the golf team, Harold Palmer, Omaha, and Joe Brown, were also initiated.

Botanists from every part of the United States and from Canada will attend the meeting. The American Botanical association is an organization of botanists whose aim is the advancement of that science.

Other members from the botany department in the University of Nebraska who will attend the meeting are: Dr. Elda Walker, Dr. Herbert Hanson, Professor Emma Anderson, Dr. George Peltier, and Dr. Robert Goss.

PLAY EXHIBITION BASKETBALL GAME

University Women in Demonstration Game Before Audience of Visiting Teachers

The women's state basketball committee of which Miss Mabel Lee of the University is chairman, presented an exhibition game of basketball Thursday afternoon before an audience of visiting teachers. The purpose of the game was to demonstrate form and technique of basketball for girls and women. An opportunity was given between the halves for the audience to ask questions concerning basketball rules and the advisability of women playing interschool games.

Two teams, gold and purple, made up of University women, first demonstrated the several kinds of passing. They showed forms and the ways of passing the ball the length of the floor with good team work. Pivoting was demonstrated, showing plays where it is best.

The game was fast and well played. All the members were evenly matched and the score was close.

The lineup was as follows:

- | | |
|--------------|--------------------|
| Gold Team | Purple Team |
| Hymer, M. | r. g. Kidwell, K. |
| Bauer, L. | l. g. Schustel, C. |
| Safford, H. | c. Clark, H. |
| Zorbaugh, M. | r. g. Hermanek, M. |
| Ottien, I. | l. f. Lohmeier, H. |
| Schlyter, H. | r. f. McDonald, K. |
- Referee: Miss Wheeler of the Department of Physical Education.
Umpire: Miss Wagner of the Department of Physical Education.

Tickets for the junior women's breakfast must be purchased Friday by 5 o'clock. They will be on sale in the afternoon, in Social Science, library, and Ellen Smith hall. The breakfast, which is sponsored by Silver Serpents, will be held in Ellen Smith hall, at 9 o'clock.

ALL EYES TURN TOWARD DRAKE

Nebraska-Bulldog Contest Is Headliner on This Week's Valley Schedule

DECIDES SECOND PLACE

With eight football teams playing within the conference tomorrow, the Nebraska-Drake game at Des Moines occupies the top notch in point of interest to Valley followers.

Drake and Nebraska will clash in a contest which decides the occupant of second place in the Missouri Valley averages. Today Nebraska occupies that berth under the Dickinson plan of rating, and tomorrow it will be definitely decided whether the Huskers remain there or not.

Nebraska has the edge, but the strength of Drake has been exhibited in more ways than one and the Cornhuskers can expect a stiff battle.

Tigers Meet Easy Foe

Other Missouri Valley teams are playing pretty well already, if hope means anything. Missouri, playing Washington at St. Louis, is slated to mop up the well-known gridiron with the Pikers.

Ames meets Grinnell, and again the Cyclones are expected to win decisively over Grinnell. Whether they live up to expectations or not is a matter of conjecture. One thing—the Grinnell team is pointed for this game like Yale points for Harvard, and they have a spirit that repeats "Beat Ames" over and over again. But they say that spirit does not win football games.

The outcome of the Oklahoma-Kansas game should be mildly interesting. Both of the opponents who meet at Norman have been defeated by the Kansas Aggies and Nebraska, and both are slated to meet the royal Tigers of Missouri before the season is over.

Kaggies Take on Marquette

Thoughts of the Kansas Aggies, who play Nebraska a week from tomorrow, remind one that the farmers journey northward this week to play Marquette University at Milwaukee. The Oklahoma Aggies are also playing out of the conference, engaging Southwest Teachers College at Stillwater.

There will be some mighty mobs file into bowls all over the country tomorrow. Chicago meets its old rival, Illinois, in the stadium at Urbana, and the clash of the two is expected to draw a mammoth crowd.

The other premier game of the Big Ten is that of Northwestern versus Michigan at Chicago. Ohio meets Indiana at Columbus, while Minnesota and Purdue play out of the conference.

Big Games in East

In the east the ancient classic, Harvard against Princeton, will be repeated this year at Princeton. The Army and Navy eleven will play small games, the former with Davis and Elkins, and the latter with Western Maryland.

Cornell and Dartmouth play at Hanover, Syracuse and Ohio Wesleyan at Syracuse, and Pennsylvania and Haverford clash at Philadelphia. The Notre Dame team, followed by an ever-watchful Nebraska eye, will play Penn State at State College, Pennsylvania.

On the coast Stanford plays with Washington University, the same Washington which Nebraska played to a tie—at Seattle. The other Washington team, Washington State, goes south to play the University of California at Berkeley, while Southern California battles Santa Clara at Los Angeles.

All in all, tomorrow's slate should produce some interesting football.

English Course by Radio Begins Soon

The radio correspondence course in Business English will begin next Tuesday evening, November 10. A large number of registrations have been received by the University Extension department for this course, which is conducted by Professor Maurice Weseem, of the department of English.

Each lecture will begin promptly at 8:05 p. m. every Tuesday, and will last for twenty-five minutes. The last lecture will be given Tuesday, March 30, 1926.

Y. W. C. A. ON LAST LAP OF FINANCE CAMPAIGN TODAY

Drive to Secure Funds from University Women Closes This Evening

ARE FAR FROM GOAL

Association Raises Only Seven Hundred and Fifty Dollars on Second Day of Canvassing

According to the report made on Thursday noon at Ellen Smith Hall, the Y. W. C. A. fell behind in their quota for the day, checking in only $750 when it was hoped by the directors of the drive that at least half of the goal of $1800 would have been reached.

The team of which Eloise McAnan is captain is leading the other teams with a total of $117 for the two days. The team captained by Virginia Taylor continues to hold second place with a sum of $68. The winning team in the contest will be entertained by the members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet at a dinner a short time after the drive closes.

Friday's luncheon, which is the last of the group of three luncheons served at Ellen Smith Hall by the social staff, will be in charge of Miss Marial Flynn. Devotional services will be led by Ershal Freeman. As Friday closes the drive it is hoped that a large group of girls will attend the luncheon. About fifty women attended the luncheon Thursday.

"We did hope to be half-way towards our goal," said Elsa Kerkow, chairman of the finance committee in speaking of the report of the drive. "The committee was disappointed that the drive lagged, but it is hoped that the rest of the money will come in Friday."

Friday afternoon the team workers may interview any man or woman on the campus who has not pledged but must turn in the money before 6 o'clock. Money turned in after that time will not count in the team contest.

FRESHMEN TO GO TO DES MOINES

Will Take Thirty-Five First-Year Men to See Saturday Clash With Drake

Thirty-five freshmen will reap the benefits of their seasons work this week end when they will be taken to Des Moines to see the Husker-Bulldog clash. Thirty-two have been selected and three more will be chosen tomorrow. The list now includes: Andrews, Ayers, Betts, Beck, Bushby, Culver, Drath, Durich, Gates, Grow, Holm, Hall, Holmes, Johnston, Jackson, Krall, Lucas, McMullen, McNickle, Peaker, Phillips, Richards, Schultz, Swartz, Skinner, Westouppal, Wyatt, Zust, Huunt, Reeves, Staats, Howell.

These men as well as the other three deserve this trip because of the good work this season, the officials feel. The freshman line is fast and heavy, the backfield is fast and has a fine passing ability that has given the Varsity some valuable assistance in developing the defensive game that has kept several teams from crossing the Husker goal line.

Thirty freshmen reported for the football practice Thursday afternoon and a short time was spent in punting and passing. A signal practice followed the drill in fundamentals. No hard scrimmage was on the program for the afternoon's work.

Jewett Issues Formal Order for Cadets To Parade Armistice Day

The formal order for participation in the Armistice Day parade Nov. 11 by the University of Nebraska R. O. T. C. regiment was issued yesterday by Commandant Jewett. The Pershing Rifles will march as a unit directly in rear of the band ahead of the first battalion. There will be no color company as the flags will be grouped with those of other organizations marching.

First call will be at 1:20 p. m. on the east end of the drill field. The regiment will form on the east end of the drill field in line of battalions, facing east, instead of on the north.

All members of the regiment will participate in the parade unless they are properly excused. Cadets must be ready to fall in at the east end of the field when assembly is sounded at 1:30. On completion of the parade officers will march their companies in formation to return rifles and belts, the cadets not being dismissed until after rifles are properly put away.

Students interested in the various languages are cordially invited and those who wish to take part in the programs should leave their names with the instructors in charge. They should also indicate the feature of the program in which they are particularly interested.

"Y" FUND FAR FROM GOAL AT END OF DRIVE

About One Half of $2,000 Is Secured in Three Days of Campaign

CONTINUE CANVASSING

Association to Go Ahead with Work Until All of Necessary Funds Are Raised

With only about one-half of the quota of $2,000 raised, the formal finance campaign of the University Y. M. C. A. closed last night. A complete check of the final reports had not been made late in the evening, but it was not expected that the total would be much over a thousand dollars.

It is the plan of the "Y" to continue work in a quiet fashion, until the entire $2,000 is secured. More detailed plans, and the time for the next meeting will be announced later.

The greatest difficulty has been that team members have not had sufficient time to see people, so it is not thought that there will be any great difficulty in reaching the quota in due time.

AMES IS OUT OF SATURDAY RACE

Iowa State Harriers Not to Run Against Nebraska and Drake Teams

A last minute decision has eliminated Ames from the cross country run Saturday, making the race a dual affair with Drake, as was first planned. The race will be run at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

Seven Husker harriers will make the trip, leaving with the football squad over the Rock Island at 1:19 this afternoon. The men chosen by Coach Schulte to take the trip are: Captain James Lewis, Jack Ross, Lester Lawson, Frank Hays, Paul Zimmerman, Carl Reiler and James Searle.

CORN COBS WILL GO TO DES MOINES

Thirty-Three Members of Nebraska Pep Organization Accompany Team to Drake Game

The Corn Cobs, Nebraska pep organization, will make the trip to Des Moines on the special which leaves tomorrow night.

Between halves of the game the Corn Cobs will present a stunt as is done at all home games. Immediately on arriving at Des Moines the Corn Cobs will form a parade of the Nebraska supporters and parade through the business section. During the game the men will remain together so that Nebraska may have an organized rooting section.

Thirty-three men have been declared eligible to make the trip. They are: James Bailey, Elton Baker, Glen Buck, Judd Crocker, Glen Curtis, Charles Gould, Robert Hoagland, Charles Hudson, Ralph Ireland, Loyd Kelly, Robert Moore, Dick Ross, Bob Stephens, Milton Flannan, Royce West, Herbert Yenne, Glen Davis, Fred Foss, Harold Hepperly, James Jensen, Merle Jones, William Jones, Bud Nelson, Max Neuman, Oscar Norling, Jim Owens, John Schrover, Eugene Spellman, Dwight Wallace, Clarence Wright, Howard Ahmansen, Dewitt Green, and Heine Jorgensen.

Make Fresh Wear Bibs

Freshmen at Hays State Teachers' College were presented green "bibs" at a recent chapel service with the word "Freshie" inscribed on them. They were compelled to stand on the stage during the service and all had to wear the "bibs" during the day.

Scabbard and Blade Seeks Crown For Queen of Military Carnival

An intensive search for a crown for use in the coronation of the Queen of the military carnival, November 14, is being made by members of Scabbard and Blade, military fraternity sponsoring the carnival. They expect to procure one in Omaha, together with other articles of regal splendor which will insure a very popous ceremony.

The queen will be crowned by Donald F. Sampson, captain of Scabbard and Blade.

Ballots for the election have already been printed. The system of balloting is being carefully worked out, so that returns can be had during the evening as completely as is possible.

Organizations have until Saturday noon to file names of candidates at the military office on the second floor of Nebraska Hall. Announcement of the Queen and the coronation late in the evening will be the grand finale of the affair, and is expected to become a fixed part of the military carnival each year.

A percentage system of points for judging of the wild west costumes will be devised by the judges, so that a definite comparison can be made between the different costumes. The committee is working on selection of suitable prizes to be awarded for the best man's outfit, and the best woman's costume.

Need 250 More Ushers For Thanksgiving Game

About 250 more men are wanted as ushers for the Notre Dame game. The men must be members of the R. O. T. C., and may sign up at the Student Activities offices in the Armory at once.

SPECIAL TRAIN LEAVES TONIGHT

Nebraska to Be Well Represented at Husker-Drake Game Saturday

PARADE IN DES MOINES

That Nebraska will be represented this Saturday at the formal opening of the new Drake stadium is assured. Officials of Rock Island state that tickets for the special to Des Moines have been selling at a rapid rate and that a big rush for tickets is expected today. It is urged that all students wishing to purchase tickets do so sometime before evening, and thus help to eliminate a last minute rush.

The special will leave Lincoln at midnight and will arrive in Des Moines at 6:50 o'clock tomorrow morning, giving all of those on the train plenty of time before the Nebraska-Drake game. The train will leave Des Moines at 12:30 Sunday morning and will arrive in Lincoln at 7 o'clock the same morning. Round-trip fare is $7.38, with Pullman reservations extra. Lower standards will sell at $3.63 and uppers are $2.90. The special will make a stop at Omaha to take on a number of rooters from there.

Many Are Driving

A parade and snake dance will be put on by the Nebraska students and rooters as soon as the train arrives in Des Moines. This parade will pass through the business district of the city and will be led by the Nebraska band and the Corn Cobs. Students who drive to Des Moines in cars are asked to be at the station and to form in the parade so as to make a real Cornhusker showing.

The Nebraska-Drake game will be the best on the program in the Missouri Valley this week end. Both of the teams have lost only one game and they are virtually tied for second place in the Valley standings. This is the first time that these two teams have met for several years and to make the game more important it will follow the dedication ceremonies for the new Drake stadium, which is the finest in Iowa. Thirty-five members of the Nebraska freshman team will make the trip as the guests of the athletic department of the University.

CLUB PLANS FOR SATURDAY MIXER

Block and Bridle Club Will Use the Proceeds from Party to Pay Team Expenses

Everything is in readiness for the Ag Mixer sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club to be held at the Armory tomorrow night. All proceeds of the mixer will be used in helping to pay the expenses of the Senior Fat Stock Judging team on their trip to Chicago to compete in the inter-collegiate judging contest at the International Livestock Exposition.

The Hastonians, a seven-piece orchestra have been secured and the arrangements have been made for entertainment during intermission, which will be provided by R. M. Sandstedt.

The mixer will be sponsored by Prof. and Mrs. H. J. Gramlich, Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Loeffel, and Prof. H. D. Fox, all of the Animal Husbandry Department of Agriculture. Punch and wafers will be served during the evening. There is also provision for free checking.

ORATORIO GIVEN AT CONVOCATION

University Chorus Presents Scenes From "King Olaf" by Ed-ward Elgar

Scenes from the saga of "King Olaf," dramatic oratorio by Edward Elgar, were presented by the University chorus, accompanied by the orchestra, to an appreciative audience in the Armory Thursday morning. This was the third of a series of musical convocations which are being given each Thursday.

"It was a rather remarkable performance," declared Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, who directed the presentation. "King Olaf" is essentially a choral work, the theme of which is the conflict between the god of war and the god of peace. Because of its varying moods it is very difficult to present. The chorus, however, caught the spirit of the oratorio and sang it with real interest. The voices in the chorus this year are of a beautiful quality. The ten-piece orchestra gave the chorus admirable support.

Soloists in the presentation were Edward Ellingson, as King Olaf; Herman Decker, as Ironbrad; Joy Schaefer, soprano; Albert Friedl, as tenor; and Dwight Merriam, bass.

HUSKERS, SET FOR BATTLE, LEAVE TODAY

Twenty-Five First String Men Depart for Des Moines At 1:19 Today

WILL BE HARD CONTEST

Drake Primed for First Game with Nebraska in Nine Years—Hus- kers Must Show Their Stuff

Winding up the week's practice with a short workout this morning, the Nebraska football team leaves this afternoon at 1:19 o'clock on the Rock Island railroad for Des Moines, Iowa, where the Huskers will meet the Drake Bulldogs Saturday in the dedicatory game in the new Drake stadium.

It will be one of the outstanding games on the Nebraska schedule. Drake, with but one defeat, and Nebraska, with a like number of losses, will match backfields and lines in a game which is likely to be a grueling battle for both teams.

More than one hundred and fifty Nebraska rooters will follow the team on the student special which leaves Lincoln at midnight, and many fans are expected at the Rock Island station, 20th and O streets, when the team leaves today.

Huskers in Shape

Nebraska will be represented by a team in mid-season form, and what the Huskers do tomorrow will undoubtedly be the criterion for the judgment of Husker strength from now on.

Coach Bearg sent his men through the last stiff work of the week yesterday afternoon. The teams spent the time in running signals and light scrimmage. For the second string the program was rigorous and stiff, calculated to bring out the talents of certain members of that aggregation who are likely to be called upon in tomorrow's game.

The seconds were put against the freshmen, the latter team using the Drake plays, for a final drill on the defensive. The regulars were running signals in constant rehearsal of their act to be presented in Des Moines.

Dedicate Drake Stadium

The new Drake stadium, which is to be officially dedicated with the first kickoff tomorrow, is sold out. A block of seats which were put on sale here were pretty near sold out.

It has been nine years since Nebraska played Drake. The last game between the two schools was in 1916, when the Huskers came away with a 53-0 victory. All the imagination in the world can hardly conceive of a like result tomorrow.

Coach Ossie Solem will throw his best lineup into the game, which is expected to be "the hardest game in the last decade," according to a news writer of Des Moines. Practice at Drake this week has been intense, with hard scrimmage and chalk talks being delivered almost daily.

The entire Varsity squad will be at the game. The twenty-five who are expected to play will leave this afternoon, while the rest of the men who are eligible and who have been out to practice regularly will go on the special train tonight.

A forty-piece band, the Corn Cobs and a car full of business men of Lincoln will be among those who will fill up the special train.
