UNIVERSITY TO DISPLAY MEATS

Will Take Active Part in "Quality Meats" Exhibit To Be Held at Chicago

Nebraska agricultural experiment station is to take an active part in the "Quality in Meats" exhibit to be held at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, November 28 to December 5.

Livestock, showing the results of experiments conducted by the Nebraska Station, will be shipped to Chicago for slaughtering, and the carcasses and cuts of meats will be arranged at the exhibit to form a part of the educational meat story, which is to be told by this means.

Agricultural experiment stations of Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, North Dakota, Iowa, Arkansas, and Indiana as well as the U. S. Department of Agriculture will also contribute to the exhibit. The experiment stations' displays will show graphically the results of breeding, feeds and management on the meat animal, and many other points of interest and value to the livestock producer.

Gilbert Lovell, vocational counselor for Presbyterian students, will meet men for conference on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, 9 to 12 o'clock a. m. and 2 to 4 o'clock p. m. at Temple 101. Miss Elizabeth Schaeff will meet the Presbyterian girls in room 3, second floor of Ellen Smith Hall, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 o'clock p. m. Appointments may be made through D. R. Leland, F6110 or B 6891.

There is nothing the home folks would appreciate more than a really good photograph of yourself. A glimpse into Townsend's display windows on South Eleventh street will demonstrate the superiority of their portraiture. Here "you will always find familiar faces."

You'll see Many "Budgeteers" at the Game Thursday!

—probably a good big percentage of the well-dressed male contingent you'll see, bought their clothes on Mayer Bros. Co. ten-pay plan! It's a great convenience to college men—this system—for it allows you not only to select a suit or overcoat, but the whole regalia from hat to shoes. Buy a tuxedo on this plan too. As the Building and Loan Companies say: "Aval yourself of this service, and after ten payments, you'll have a fine suit you can call your own—instead of a bunch of rent receipts!"

Fortify Yourself, with Turkey at the Grand Cafe!

—a real Thanksgiving dinner—the kind that will do justice even, to the eventful day when Nebraska beats Notre Dame! You may have it in the cafe either before the game or after, and it costs but a dollar from the kick-off to the final whistle. There'll be cranberry sauce accompanying the noble bird, home made mince and pumpkin pies, and the many other delicacies one associates with Thanksgiving dinner. Should you prefer a chicken dinner, it too awaits you at the Grand, and for 75c. Served from 11:30 till 2, and from 5 to 8.

Feminine Gift Inspiration at George Brothers!

—this is the shop where men like to choose! You could shut your eyes, point your finger at random, say "Gimme that," and even then you'd have a gift that the divine Ermintrude would clap her hands over! It's just THAT impossible to go wrong in Christmas buying at George Brothers. Especially attractive now, are their gift tables at $1 and $3—featuring desk sets, pictures, beautiful frames, calendars, boxes, candle sticks, wax flowers, and a hundred other distinctive gift possibilities. Christmas cards, too, at George Brothers!

The Wreckers, not the Campbell's, are coming to Speier's!

—and that's why every piece of merchandise in their store carries an astonishing price reduction! It's YOUR opportunity, therefore, to buy suits, overcoats, shoes and furnishings at prices that are lower, even than those customary in January. Indeed, so sensational are the values, that Speier's were forced to call out the police last week-end to traffic the crowds! Fashion Park clothes, even, go in this sale—so hurry down with your clothes-dollars. Their elasticity will astonish you!

Take Sugar Bowl Candies to the Game!

—and celebrate with them afterwards, for here you will find candies as sweet as the taste of victory itself! Delicious boxed chocolates from Richmond, Strauch or McDonald; a large assortment of bulk candies from which to choose; and a complete line of all the Henries, Charlies, Lenas and other personalized candy bars. But whether box, bulk or bar, you may be sure of absolutely fresh candies at Walter Johnson's. Prices are lower than you'd expect too, for sweets of such excellent quality!

CONFERENCE STAFF WILL HOLD BAZAAR

Members Want Students to Make Contributions For Sale to Be Held December 9-10

Contributions for the Christmas bazaar which the conference staff of the Y. W. C. A. is holding December 9 and 10 in Ellen Smith Hall are being asked for by the members of the staff. All contributions must be taken to Ellen Smith Hall by Friday, December 5.

Letters are being mailed to the president of each sorority house and to each rooming house explaining the purpose of the bazaar and requesting contributions. If articles or novelties cannot be contributed the committee is asking that home made candy be given.

There will be three booths, the novelty booth, of which Blanche Stevens will be in charge, the handkerchief booth in charge of Martha Farrar and the children's booth in charge of Alice Sanderson. Some of the articles suggested by the committee as contributions are: aprons, pillow cases, pin cushions, collar and cuff sets, luncheon sets, shoe trees or dollies.

Representatives from each of the sorority and rooming houses will meet with the conference staff at Ellen Smith Hall at 4 o'clock on Tuesday to make plans for the bazaar. The members of the conference staff are: Cyrena Smith, '27, Phillipsburg, Kans., chairman; Margaret Walker, '28, Gibbon; Helen Van Gilder, '28, Hastings; Martha Farrar, Twin Falls, Ia; Alice Sanderson, '26, Lincoln; Vera Upton '28, Lincoln, Blanche Stevens, '27, Beaver City.

The True Meaning of University

What is the true meaning of University? That is a question which has been answered in a variety of ways by many men and which will undoubtedly continue to call forth different answers as long as there is a University. The Dragon, of the University College of Wales, Aberystwyth, gives an opinion on this subject which is well worth quoting here.

The true meaning of University, it says, is found in "that spirit of the universal that crashes down the barrier of narrow convention and ignorant creed and embraces with like fervour the white man, the yellow man, the red man and the black man—that spirit of fellowship which is in sympathy with the Mahometan and the Jew—that spirit of noble humility that recognizes that we are all merely petty mortals 'whirled round in earth's diurnal course 'mid rocks and trees and stones'—that spirit of eternal questing that cries out to the world, like Hassan,

We are the pilgrims, master; we shall go
Always a little further; it may be Beyond that last blue mountain barred with snow
Across that angry or that glimmering sea.

And so we see that the intention of a University College is not to make us learn passively that Yokohama is in Japan, that South Wales exports the largest amount of coal in Great Britain, that man is homo in Latin, that pier squared equals the area of a circle, that Henry VIII had six wives but was a good king, that a murderer is liable to be hung, that the hyacinth has bell-like petals, that water can be made from hydrogen and oxygen, that the verb avoir is irregular, that there is aether even in matter, that Pestalozzi wished to psychologise education, that a good poem must have form, that democracy was originally rule by the people, that Hamlet is the finest tragedy in the history of letters, that beauty is truth and that man may have possibly evolved from something similar to an ape. Its purpose is to help us to appreciate all that is best in mankind, our literature, painting, sculpture, architecture, music and the fruit of our thought in science, to understand wherein mankind is evil, wherein good, to give is a comprehensive conception of the world and to show us that Britain is not the only nation, that white men are not the only race, that London is not the only city, that there are other governments than the British, other civilizations than the European, other religions than the Christian and other worlds than that of the earth. Its object is to teach us to think and, having thought, to act. Although our immediate goal is a barbarous examination—the iniquitous solution to the problem of human frailty discovered by men who knew not what they did—yet we shall soon find a greater and more ennobling destination in Citizenship or our duty to ourselves and our fellowmen.—McGill Daily.
