SKATING RINK ON CAMPUS IS WOMEN'S PLAN

Women's Athletic Association To Fit Hockey Field For Ice Skating

PROGRAM IS APPROVED

University Authorities Authorize Plans for Extensive Program of Winter Sports

The Women's Athletic association has been authorized by University officials to plan a season of winter sports. A skating rink is to be constructed on the large hockey field back of the Social Science building and a toboggan slide at one end of the rink.

This program is to be financed by the Women's Athletic Association, but all University people will be invited to use the rink. To cover the expense a fee of ten cents will be charged for a period of three hours in the late afternoon, and a similar fee will be charged for the evening. The rink and slide will be open until ten o'clock week nights. It is the plan of the women's physical education department to offer several hours of credit for work on the ice.

Open to All

It is the hope of the organization that the winter sport season will be under way by Christmas vacation. If weather indications are correct, the season will be long, and the ice should be good.

The Women's Athletic Association extends a cordial invitation to all the men and women of the University to enjoy a season of winter sports.

BANQUET TICKETS ON SALE MONDAY

Tickets for Men's Cornhusker Banquet Friday Placed in Fraternity Houses

The ticket sale for the Cornhusker Banquet, to be held Friday, December 12, at 6 o'clock at the Scottish Rite Temple, will start Monday morning. Tickets, which sell for one dollar, may be secured at the student activities office, at the desk of the Lincoln Y. M. C. A., and from representatives in each fraternity house.

All football letter men of the past season will be present, and, together with the coaching staff, will be the guests of honor at the feast.

Last year's banquet was the largest ever held at Nebraska and plans are well under way to make the coming event even better than the 1924 affair. Two orchestras will furnish music during the banquet.

The Scottish Rite Temple has been selected as the scene of the banquet in order to accommodate the expected number of Cornhuskers who will gather to honor one of the best Nebraska teams of recent years.

Marjorie Shanafelt Speaks at Museum

Miss Marjorie Shanafelt of the University Museum staff, will give the first of a series of lectures on the museum this afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock. She will speak on "Museum Babies," and will tell of the many interesting creatures which have been brought to the University and reared at the museum in former years. The lecture will be given in the laboratory room on the third floor of the museum building, and will be open to the public.

If sufficient interest is shown, a more extensive series of such lectures will be arranged when Morrill Hall is completed and sufficient space provided for more adequate display of the museum's collections. Similar lectures will be prepared later for school children, according to the present plans.

Six Hundred Seek Teaching Positions

About six hundred students have already registered with the department of educational service and indicated their desire to secure teaching positions in public schools next year. Of this number about five hundred are now registered in Teachers' College, and about one hundred in the College of Arts and Sciences. At least four hundred of them will have degrees before accepting positions, and many will have completed some graduate work.

The director of the department is urging all students who can to spend at least four years in college before seeking teaching positions, as it is thought that at least that much training is required for the satisfactory handling of the work. Registration of students will continue until January 1.

EXTENSION COURSES LISTED

Outline of Correspondence Work in Latest Extension News

A complete list of correspondence courses offered by the University of Nebraska Extension division is published in the current issue of the University Extension News.

Since this type of instruction was introduced at the University of Nebraska, 2,536 students have completed courses carrying a total of 10,703 credit hours. The records indicate that the majority of the correspondence students need only a few hours each, but provision is made for recognition of a liberal amount of such work. One student has a record of fifty-two hours, one of thirty hours, five of twenty-five or more hours, and eleven of over ten hours.

The directors of the work point out that although such instruction lacks some of the advantages of resident study, it has compensating advantages of its own.

SHORT PLAYS ON PROGRAM

University Players to Give Series of One-Act Productions This Week

YENNE DIRECTING WORK

An evening of one-act plays will be featured by the University Players for their third production of the season, the evenings of December 10, 11, and 12, with a Saturday matinee. Herbert Yenne will direct the plays.

The program consists of six short plays in all, three one-act plays, and three interludes. The one-act plays are "Poor Aubrey," "Why the Chimes Rang," and "Op-O'-Me-Thumb."

"Poor Aubrey is the one-act version of the play 'The Show-Off' by George Kelly. He first wrote 'Poor Aubrey' which became so popular that he enlarged it into three acts.

Popular Last Year
"Why the Chimes Rang," by Elizabeth McFadden is in keeping with the holiday season. The play is adapted from Raymond Allen's story of the same name. A musical theme runs through the latter half of the performance.

The scene of "Op-O'-Me-Thumb" is laid in a laundry. There a laundry queen dreams of romance and a lord. Her dream does not come true. The interludes are "Thirty Minutes in the Street," "The Noble Lord," and "All on a Summer's Day."

The evening of the one-act plays was an innovation in the work of the Players last year, but the program proved to be the most popular of all. Last year "The Valiant," which has since become the best known American one-act play, was presented.

The casts for the three one-act plays are:

"Poor Aubrey"
Aubrey.....Harold Sumption
Amy.....Frances McChesney
Mrs. Cole.....Elizabeth Tracy
Mrs. Fisher.....Charlotte Beck

"Why the Chimes Rang"

Clem (Mrs.) Galloway.....Rose Schmecke
Rose Jordan.....Florence Fladder
Celeste.....Ida Mae Flieden
Horace GreenSmith.....Harold Sumption

Display of Noted Pictures Secured
Tentative arrangements have been made for exhibiting an exchange collection of modern art work from the American Federation of Art in the University gallery for three weeks in January. The pictures in the collection are loaned by the individual artists, the Krauscher Art galleries, the Phillips Memorial galleries, and the Ferargil galleries. It includes specimens of the work of many of the most noted modern artists, including among others, Arthur B. Davies, Sloan Bredlin, Ernest Lawson, Eugene Savage, John Sloan and Eugene Higgins.

"Every Minute Full of Fun" Is Plan for Girls' Cornhusker Party

Various Stunts Being Arranged by Committees for Women's Annual Costume Party and Frolic to be Held in the Armory Friday.

An evening full of fun and every minute full of entertainment is the hope of the committees working on the Girls' Cornhusker Party, to be held Friday in the Armory. The party will begin promptly at 7:30, but the doors will be open sooner if some wish to put the finishing touch to their costumes after they arrive.

There will be original stunts given by the different honorary organizations on the campus to enliven the evening. Xi Delta will present the "N Co.-d Chorus," Silver Serpents will give "Pygmies in Pantanone and Song," and the Tassels will have "The Tassels and Corncocks in Vaudeville." The Mystic Fish have not yet decided upon a name for their stunt. Directly following the stunts, which will begin at 7:45 o'clock, there will be a grand march in order that everyone's costume may be shown to

FORMAL PARTY SEASON OPENED

Three Hundred Couples Attend Annual Military Ball Friday Evening

HALL GAILY DECORATED

The formal party season was opened with military splendor and ceremony Friday evening when over three hundred couples assembled for the thirty-fourth annual Military Ball at the city auditorium. Frances McChesney, honorary colonel elected last October, and Donald Sampson, cadet colonel, led the grand march.

The hall was gaily bedecked with red, white, and blue streamers. A military setting was produced by placing field pieces, machine guns, and stacked rifles in prominent parts of the floor. Over a hundred trim-cut blue cadet uniforms with a sprinkling of dashing khaki uniforms of the active army officers and members of the reserve imparted an unmistakably military atmosphere.

Honorary Colonel Presented
The presentation of the honorary colonel was the feature of the evening. The lights were turned low. A field piece was fired. At this signal a blue spotlight was thrown on the stage, and the honorary colonel made her appearance. Marching to the front of the stage and down an aisle formed by the musicians she stood at attention for a brief moment, received the salute of the cadet officers formed in line on the floor below.

The cadet colonel joined her, and together they marched down the stairway to lead the grand march. Cadet officers followed behind in order of rank, first the lieutenant-colonel, then the majors, captains, lieutenants and sergeants. The next dance was a cadet officers dance.

Sabers for Favors
Favors given at the door were miniature silver sabers, engraved on one side "U. of N. Military Ball 1925." They were attached with red, white, and blue cords to the programs which were embossed in gold with an emblem of the United States.

Among the guests at the party was H. M. Leaky, the cadet colonel from the North Dakota agriculture college. Patrons and patronesses for the ball were Governor and Mrs. Adam McMullen, Major-General and Mrs. B. A. Poore, Major-General and Mrs. J. P. Paul, Mayor and Mrs. Frank Zehring, Colonel and Mrs. A. B. Dockery, Colonel and Mrs. Tenney Ross, Chancellor and Mrs. Samuel Avery, Dean and Mrs. C. C. Engberg, Dean and Mrs. W. A. Seavey, Mrs. D. M. Butler, Miss May Pershing, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. M. C. Bigelow, Captain and Mrs. A. D. Foster, Captain and Mrs. F. C. Harding, Captain and Mrs. Louis W. Eggers, Captain and Mrs. V. G. Huska, Captain and Mrs. C. A. Hoss, Captain and Mrs. I. A. Hunt, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. C. J. Frankforter, Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. F. A. Kidwell and W. L. Cummins.

A Christmas bazaar will be held in Ellen Smith Hall on Wednesday of this week. The conference staff of the Y. W. C. A. has charge of the bazaar.

There will be three booths, the novelty booth, of which Blanche Stevens will have charge, the handkerchief booth, in charge of Martha Farrar, and the children's booth in charge of Alice Sanderson.

Booths will be open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. each day. Home made candy will also be sold.

Members of the conference staff are: Cyrena Smith, chairman; Margaret Walker, Helen Van Gilder, Martha Farrar, Alice Sanderson, Vera Upton, and Blanch Stevens.

Thirty Men Study Student Problems

About thirty freshmen men have been attending the freshmen council conference held every Thursday evening by the University Y. M. C. A., under the direction of Arthur Jorgenson, Y. M. C. A. secretary, and John Allison, '27. A study is being made of Dr. Bruce Curry's book entitled "Facing Student Problems." Although this is the first year that such meetings have been arranged, considerable interest is being shown.

Sealock and Moritz To Teachers Meeting

Dean W. E. Sealock of Teachers College, and R. D. Moritz, director of the department of educational service, will represent the University at the meeting of the Nebraska State Teachers association in Omaha this week. The meeting is attended by delegates elected at the regular district convention, and is for the purpose of electing officers, legislating for the association, and determining the program and activities for the coming year.

Advantage. The chaperones for the party, Miss Mabel Lee, Miss Marguerite McPee, and Miss Louise Pound, will act in the capacity of judges, and will award prizes to the prettiest costume, the most unique, and the funniest. Although the party is sponsored and given by the Associated Women's Students, the honorary societies will act as assistant hostesses. The Girls' Cornhusker party is the one social event of the year which is for women students only. Its date always coincides with that of the men's Cornhusker Banquet. It has proved to be one of the liveliest and cleverest school parties of the season, and since 1918 there has always been an attendance of over a thousand. The hostesses this year are planning on greater numbers than have ever before attended. Admission to the party will be twenty-five cents, and every one is urged to bring the correct change, as well as a few spare dimes and nickels extra, as there will be booths selling pop and ice-cream sandwiches.

Honorary Colonel Frances McChesney Presented at Ball

Frances McChesney, honorary colonel of the University of Nebraska cadet regiment, was formally presented at the Military Ball held at the city auditorium Friday evening. She was elected by students of the University early in the Fall. This was her first appearance in the uniform in which she is pictured above.

Newer Players Demonstrate Their Ability in "Toymaker of Nuremburg"

Y. W. C. A. TO HOLD CHRISTMAS BAZAR

Booths, in Charge of Conference Staff, to be Open Wednesday and Thursday

The play, given for the "Children's Theater," was in keeping with the Christmas season. It was a fantasy woven around a quaint old toymaker of Germany who loved his dolls so much that he refused to make teddy-bears, which had become tre fad, when he endangered his small wages. His devotion to the art of doll making nearly ruins the romance of his son, David, and Hesta, daughter of his employer. The play ends happily when the old man's son arrives from America, bringing a great fortune which he had made from the teddy-bear fad.

Jack Rank interpreted the part of the Toymaker, in which he proved himself to be an excellent character actor. Ruth Schrank depicted the part of a German frau well. Honorable mention must be given to those who played in the roles of The Boy and The Girl. They were students from the children's dramatic classes.

The cast for the play:
The Sentry.....Carroll West
The Street Cleaner.....K. T. Davis
The Sergeant.....Zolley Lerner
The Boy.....James Stone
The Girl.....Dorothy Jackson
The Lamplighter.....Cecil Schmith
The Mother.....Ruth Schrank
The Lamplighter.....Cecil Schmith
The Employer.....Don Helmsdoerfer
The Stranger.....Charles Warren
The Boy's Friend.....Henry Ley
The Poet.....Howard Bell
The Children.....June Porter, Alice Elizabeth Nolan, Gene Wolfe, Ook Smith, Bobby West, Jack Stone.
The Toymaker.....Jack Rank
The Clerk.....Herbert Morrison
The Driver.....Wayne Landon
Coachman.....Charles Sikes

$5000 Offered for Criticism of Book

Announcement of a $5,000 prize for the best adverse criticism of "Profits," a new book by William Trufant Foster and Waddell Catchings, has been received by the College of Business Administration. The prize is offered by the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research, and the criticisms will be judged by a committee composed of: Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company; Allyn A. Young, president of the American Economic Association; and Wesley C. Milch, director of research for the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Bulletin on Summer School Soon Ready

Several requests have already been received for the preliminary bulletin of the University summer session for 1926. Work on the bulletin is now under the supervision of Dean W. E. Sealock, of Teachers College, who will act as director of the summer session. The bulletin will be ready for distribution in January, according to present plans.

WEIR'S COAST TRIP IS BARRED

Valley Heads Rule Husker Tackle Will Forfeit Amateur Standing

It is probable that Ed Weir, Nebraska's All-American tackle, will not take part in the all-star, East vs. West game which is to be played at Pasadena December 26, as he had planned.

Prof. R. D. Scott, faculty representative at the conference of Missouri Valley schools held in St. Louis yesterday, wired Weir that it had been ruled that he would automatically forfeit his amateur standing by accepting the Pasadena offer. Weir still has a season of track competition ahead of him.

The game is being promoted as a benefit for the Shriner's hospital fund and none of the players are to receive more than their expenses. The conference ruled, however, that the game is in direct opposition to the Valley rules and that Weir's participation in the game would disqualify him from further Valley competition.

INSTALL NEW FRATERNITY

Local Phi Tau Epsilon Becomes Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Theta Chi

TWENTY-EIGHT INITIATED

Formal installation of Phi Tau Epsilon, local fraternity, as Alpha Upsilon chapter of Theta Chi, national social fraternity, was held Saturday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, followed by a formal banquet in the evening at the Lincoln hotel. The installation followed the informal initiation of the members Friday afternoon, and an informal entertainment at the chapter house that evening.

Saturday morning the election and formal installation of the officers of the new chapter was held, followed by the initiation of the alumni members. James Lewis was elected president, Merlin Upton, vice-president, Harry Bull, treasurer, and George Work, secretary.

Kelley Toastmaster
Chairman Stuart Kelley presided as toastmaster at the banquet. The subject of "Alpha Upsilon Chapter and Phi Tau Epsilon" was treated by Francis H. Mayo of the class of 1923, who was the first speaker on the program. Chancellor Samuel Avery then spoke on "Nebraska University and Theta Chi." George D.

MISS DERRICOTTE VESPER SPEAKER

Colored Woman, Connected with National Y. W. C. A., to Talk To Women Tuesday

Miss Juliette Derricotte, colored secretary of the national Y. W. C. A. staff at New York City, will speak at the Vesper services Tuesday evening.

Miss Derricotte has traveled extensively throughout the United States in behalf of the colored students, centering her efforts in the southern states.

Among the social functions to be held in honor of Miss Derricotte is an informal tea, given by the Vesper Staff, in Ellen Smith hall. At this time all of the girls are invited to meet and get acquainted with Miss Derricotte. The committee arranging the schedule consists of Ruth Dickson, Wilhemira Schellak, and Laura Whepley.

Color Print Exhibit Arranged by Library

Plates from "Rivere-LaCeramque Dane l'Art d'Extreme Orient" have been placed on exhibit on the display case at the entrance to the University library. They are remarkable examples of color printing and represent vases and art work from China, Japan, Korea, and other oriental countries. It is possible that an extensive series of such art and craftsmanship exhibits will be arranged for the coming summer.

Bulletin on Summer School Soon Ready

Several requests have already been received for the preliminary bulletin of the University summer session for 1926. Work on the bulletin is now under the supervision of Dean W. E. Sealock, of Teachers College, who will act as director of the summer session. The bulletin will be ready for distribution in January, according to present plans.

FIVE MISSOURI VALLEY GAMES ON 1926 SLATE

Football Schedule for Next Year Almost Completed At St. Louis Meeting

NOTRE DAME PLAYS HERE

Bearg Seeks Big Ten Game—Huskies Play in Seattle Thanksgiving—Oklahoma Dropped

With the exception of one game the gridiron schedule which the Nebraska Cornhuskers will play in 1926 has been completed. The schedule was drafted Saturday in St. Louis, where coaches and directors of the Missouri Valley were in session. The games definitely booked for next year, as announced by Acting Athletic Director Gish and Coach Bearg are:

Oct. 2—Drake at Lincoln.
Oct. 9—Missouri at Lincoln.
Oct. 23—Kansas at Lawrence.
Oct. 30—Iowa State at Lincoln.
Nov. 6—Notre Dame at Lincoln.
Nov. 13—Kansas Aggies at Lincoln.

Nov. 25. (Thanksgiving)—University of Washington at Seattle.

The only open date on the schedule is October 16, and final negotiations for a game on that date will depend on the result of Coach Bearg's trip to Chicago where he is attending the conference of Big Ten coaches. It is the desire of the Nebraska coach to pit the 1926 Cornhuskers against one of the leading teams in the Big Ten. It is likely that Coach Bearg will endeavor to schedule either Minnesota or Wisconsin on home-and-home two-year contract. Failing in this he will look elsewhere for first-class opponent for Nebraska.

Michigan Says Nay

Michigan and Northwestern have turned down offers of the Nebraska coach for a game for next season, both stating that they had listed all of the important games that they wished to book. Undoubtedly they do not care to undertake the stiff competition that the Cornhuskers would offer.

Five home games are listed on the schedule for next year and the eighth and final game which the Nebraska coach is endeavoring to book will be played in the Nebraska Memorial stadium, as this would throw the 1927 schedule out of balance.

Iowa State Again

Oklahoma will not be on the schedule next year and Iowa State has been substituted instead.

The trouble which led to the severing of relations between the school at Ames and Nebraska has been fixed, to the pleasure of all concerned. The contract calls for three games between the two schools, two of them to be played in Lincoln.

ENGINEERS PLAN A "BOOT DANCE"

Tickets for "Tough" Party to be Held December 12 on Sale Monday Morning

Tickets will go on sale Monday in all the engineering buildings for the Engineers' "Boot Dance" to be held in the Knights of Columbus Hall the evening of December 12.

Arrangements for one of the most unique social functions of the year are being made under the direction of a committee composed of Theodore Armstrong, Fred Wehmer, Edward Wanek, and E. C. Carter. Engineers attending the dance are expected to wear a typical "tough" outfit—high boots, checker shirts, leather jackets, etc. No hobnailed boots will be allowed, though.

The dance, which will be open to all students, will be chaperoned by George Chapman, Giles Haney, and August Luebs, all of the College of Engineering. The Venetians Orchestra, rapidly gaining popularity, has been secured to furnish the music. Tickets will be on sale tomorrow at one dollar.

Educational Service Department Created

The name of the Teachers Placement Bureau was officially changed to the Department of Educational Service at the last meeting of the Board of Regents. The change was made because the work of the department is much more diversified than is indicated by the former name, as it includes help in school administration and collegiate positions, and the gathering of statistical information concerning Nebraska schools.

Weather Forecast
Sunday: Generally fair; rising temperature.
