

BISHOP FLAYS MILITARISM IN UNIVERSITIES

Paul Jones Tells Audience Compulsion May Lead To Habit

WORLD WAR AIMS RIGHT

But Speaker Remarks That the Method of Bringing Them About Was Wrong

"In war we have method contrary to Christianity which wins by love-war compels," stated Bishop Paul Jones, as representative of the National Society of the Fellowship of Reconciliation before a group of students and faculty members at a luncheon Thursday noon at the Grand Hotel.

Mr. Leavitt, Congregational student pastor in introducing Bishop Jones, pointed out that he was one of the most foresighted, most loyal and most interested workers for the welfare of the country at the time when others were swept off their feet by the trend of war.

"Fellowship of reconciliation" continued Bishop Jones, "means little to the average person but it is plain to see that the principle to work on all feeling increases when it comes up against war. It is interesting to note that in the rosiest days of Germany and France neither attempted to take boys of high school age and put them in strict military training."

"That is just what we have been doing since the war, putting emphasis on military training in our universities and colleges," he explained, "there are one hundred and twenty-five thousand young men drilling in these institutions while thirty-four thousands are in citizen's military training camps thus totaling some one hundred and sixty thousand now getting military training. In ten years if the number continues at the same rate this will mean a million men in militaristic training."

The danger is not wholly in the fact that the drill is compulsory but in the fact that the compulsion may lead to habit. "Take the fellow who has had military training, Bishop Jones pointed out, "it is going to be easy for him to take this matter of settling questions without the thought of arbitration. It is easier for him to take the military way than the peace way for this attitude has been drilled into him."

"One need not criticize the aims of the late war," he stated, "for they were perfectly fine, perfectly worthy, the world took the wrong way to bring these about. It took seven years after the signing of the Armistice before France and Germany could get together with any degree

DEADLINE SET FOR ANNUAL PICTURES

Fraternity and Sorority Prints Must Be Made by Thursday, February 18

Pictures for the sorority and fraternity sections of the 1926 Cornhusker must be taken before Thursday evening, February 18. This is the absolute deadline and no pictures will be accepted after this date.

Practically every sorority girl in school has had her picture taken, but in the fraternities the average is not quite so good, reports Donald Sampson, editor. By next week a list will be sent to all the fraternities showing what men have failed to have their pictures taken. The editor is very well satisfied with the number of pictures taken so far.

Appointments should be made at either the Townsend or Hauck studio. The price for a picture using last year's negative is fifty cents and for taking a new picture $1.50.

WEATHER FORECAST

Friday: Cloudy and unsettled; colder

Weather Conditions

The eastern storm area is passing northeastward off the New England coast, followed by clearing and colder weather. Fair and cold weather prevails in the lower Mississippi valley and south-east with freezing temperatures so northern Florida. An area of low pressure and warm weather overlies the Rocky Mountains, the northern Plains and the upper Missouri valley, attended by considerable cloudiness but no precipitation as yet. Snow and rain have fallen west of the Rockies.

Puppet Show Delights Youngsters In Lincoln Public Grade Schools

Would you like to see Goldylocks and the Three Bears in almost real life? Of course you would, even yet, and the youngsters would just dote on it. That's one reason why an unusual puppet show of this childhood delight has been staged by the students in Education 106, under the tutelage of Miss Clara O. Wilson and Miss Florence Osthoff. Moreover, in developing English in the primary grades puppet shows offer exceptional opportunities.

A little doll, seated at a music-box piano seems to play a prelude before the blue curtain goes up on the miniature stage. There one sees the bear's white house, with its green roof and shutters, its white embroidered curtains at the windows, and its garden wall, encircled with green woods and spring flowers.

The next scene shows the bears, worked by strings from above seemingly at home in the dining room, with its blue upholstered furniture, its dish sets of three standing upright in the cupboard, and three clay bowls, containing porridge, on the table.

It is in the bedroom, however, that the most originality has been shown. The bears, if you please, have linen feather-stitched in blue and daintily monogrammed. Each white bed is covered with a blue and white quilt which rivals those of our grandmothers.

ORIENT WORKER TALKS AT DINNER

Miss Vera Barger, University Guest, Explains Her Work In China

150 ATTEND THE BANQUET

"Physical education has been and still is the thing which opens the doors of missionary and government schools in China," declared Miss Vera Barger, head of the physical and recreational work in China, who spoke before 150 university women at a dinner at the Grand Hotel last evening. "They don't know what Christianity is and it seems to me that they are asking us to prove Christ."

Some people cannot understand how physical education work can be missionary work. They feel that to be a missionary one must preach upon the church corners, but it has become evident that sometimes the only way a Christian worker can get into a government school is through the physical education department. China is coming to realize that in order to progress must have healthy women.

Miss Barger's school was at first a physical education school by itself but lately has united with the college at Shanghai. Its influence is thus extended because the graduates are now equipped with a college education.

The difficulties that confront a graduate of this college as well as a few of her difficulties were outlined by the speaker. "Sometimes they are the only Christians in the school in which they teach," she said. "Sometimes there is much opposition to Christianity, when they say nothing but can only live, which is after all the best way."

"With the orient it is such a disgrace to lose a game, that I have seen a volley ball team walk off the floor rather than complete a losing contest," Miss Barger said in speaking of sportsmanship. She told of how her school tried to spread the western spirit of sportsmanship and that she believed they were accomplishing something in that respect. "The graduates who go out from our school have a wonderful opportunity to spread this spirit and it is after all the Chinese who must spread Christianity in China."

Miss Barger expressed her appreciation of the support given by Nebraska women to the cause for which she is working, and stated that she felt she had a real spiritual inheritance in the Grace Coppock memorial fund.

Elsie Gramlich presided and Eloise MacAbraham introduced the speaker and outlined the history of the Grace Coppock campaign. Eloise McMonies, chairman of the Grace Coppock staff, presented Miss Barger with a leather writing case from the Y. W. C. A.

VALENTINE PARTY WILL BE SATURDAY

Special Features Are Arranged For Annual All-University Social Function

The All-University Valentine party will be held on Saturday evening in the Armory immediately after the Nebraska-Creighton basketball game. Everyone is invited.

Elsie Walbridge will dance the Sweetheart Waltz, a Valentine dance novelty, during the intermission. The Hostonians will furnish the music for the evening. Fritted punch and wafers will be served. The usual admission of twenty-five cents will be charged.

Special attention is being given to the decorations for the party. Members of the decoration committee are requested to report to their chairman at the Armory Saturday morning.

HUSKER MATMEN MEET JAYHAWKS

Wrestling Meet To Be Held Saturday After Basketball Game

KANSAS YET UNDEFEATED

Nebraska wrestlers will face the Kansas university grapplers in the new Field House, Saturday. The matches will take place immediately after the Nebraska-Creighton basketball game.

Kansas is thus far undefeated and they have some experienced men in Captain Skinner, Delp, Smith and Stoklas.

A bout in the 108-pound division is scheduled. Nebraska will be represented by Jones, who has had considerable experience, and the Jayhawk representative will be Stoklas. Stoklas won third place in the Valley conference meet last year.

Captain Skinner of the Kansas squad is well known as a wrestler. Two years ago he won second place in the Valley meet and first in the Western Intercollegiate. He was injured last season and was unable to compete to any great extent. He will oppose Weber, of the Huskers, in the 125-pound tussle. Weber won his match in the Iowa meet last week.

Delp, a Kansas letter man, will grapple with Dale Skinner. Not much is known of the other Jayhawk men, with the exception of Smith, in the 175-pound class, and it is doubtful whether he will be able to perform because of injuries. If not, the Kansas wrestler will be McFarland. Captain Highley, who will be the Husker choice in this class, is not wholly recovered from a wrenched shoulder received in the Iowa meet.

According to Dr. R. G. Clapp, the squad is all in good condition, and ready to give the Jayhawks a hard contest. Buck, who defeated Weber in a tryout for the 125-pound class, afterwards sprained his ankle, and will not suit up.

Farmer Burns will again be present to see the meet. He has been helping Dr. Clapp once a week and will be able to see some results of his aid, perhaps.

The referee for the matches will be E. G. Schroeder of Iowa State University, a widely known wrestling official.

CHURCH STUDENTS WILL HAVE PARTY

Congregationals to Entertain at Valentine Party in Temple Saturday Night

Congregational students of the University will hold a Valentine party Saturday evening, February 13, in the Temple, room 204. The party will begin at 8 o'clock.

One object of the party is to help the student to become better acquainted and another is to give a special welcome to new Congregational students.

The Congregational pastors and their wives, and the Christian Association secretaries are among those who will be chaperones at the party.

Valentine decorations will be used, and a short program consisting of music and readings will be presented. Games will be played.

METHODISTS WILL ENTERTAIN

Program of Games and Music Arranged for Valentine Party

A Valentine party will be held by the Methodist students of the university, Friday evening, February 12, in the Art Hall of the Library.

A program of games and music will be given. One of the big features will be an old-fashioned family album, made up of living pictures. Refreshments carrying out the idea of Valentine Day will be served later in the evening.

All students who care to come are invited.

SATURDAY IS LAST DAY TO ENTER MEET

No Entrants in Interfraternity Basketball Tourney Taken Next Week

ENTRANCE FEE TO BE $1

Fraternities entering teams in the interfraternity basketball meet are requested to turn in a complete list of the members of their teams. A list of the members of the team, the fraternity represented and a dollar entrance fee must be turned in to the athletic office by Saturday morning.

The athletic department wishes to make out the schedule and the drawings of the tourney Saturday afternoon. A complete schedule of the tournament will be published in The Daily Nebraskan Sunday morning.

The majority of the games will be played on the Armory courts. However plans are being made to secure the new Field House for the semifinals and the final games.

In past years the winning teams have been presented with a skin and a loving cup.

The athletic department has issued these rules governing the contests:

In order to participate in intramural athletics, either in individual championships or as a member of a team in inter-organization competition, a student must fulfill all of the following requirements:

Scholarship
1. Be a bona fide student in the University (registered for and carrying satisfactorily 12 hours.)

Participation
2. Not be a regular varsity squad man of a sport in season, unless it be in his own sport at the written consent of the coach but not in violation of 4. (If the status of a man is doubtful, his organization shall consult the varsity coach involved before competing the man.) In the interest of varsity athletics, a varsity coach may withhold any man or men from participating in intramural sports.

3. Not represent more than one organization in any one tournament.
4. "N" men in the sport involved and men who have played in a varsity game (of the sport involved) during the current season shall be barred.

5. The complete entry list of each organization shall be filed in the Athletic Office not later than 24 hours before the opening of the tournament.

NOTE: Any organization violating 1, 2, 3, or 4 of the above shall forfeit all games won, and shall be barred from further participation in the tournament.

NEW CAGE MENTOR FOR THE HUSKERS

Charles Black, Now Basketball Coach At Grinnell, Will Relieve Bearg Next Year

Coach Charles Black, head basketball mentor and assistant football coach at Grinnell, has been secured as head basketball coach and assistant backfield football coach at the University of Nebraska, it was announced yesterday by Herb Glish, acting athletic director here.

The announcement said that the contract calls for Black's appearance here September 1, 1926, but it was said that he may come to Nebraska in the spring to take part in spring football practice.

The securing of Coach Black by Nebraska came following attempts by the university athletic board to find a man to take the load of basketball from the shoulders of Coach Bearg, who desires to put more of his time on football work.

Black is a former Kansas University athlete where he played three years of basketball and was quarterback on the football team of 1923 that held the Cornhuskers to a 0 to 0 tie at the dedication of the Nebraska stadium.

When he was only ten years old he began to take drawing lessons from Olof Erlandson, a good, but unknown artist until he graduated from the College of Skara in 1890. This same year he entered the University at Lund where he studied French and esthetics.

Then Sandzen decided to become a professional painter and studied drawing and painting in the Artists' League at Stockholm under Anders Zorn and Richard Bergh, and in Paris under Aman-Jean.

Early in 1894 he accepted the offer to teach in Bethany College. Here he has been studying for twenty-eight years, specializing in oils, water colors, wood-cuts, and lithographs. His pictures in oils of the Southwest proclaim him a genius, according to The New York American and the American Art News.

W. A. A. MEMBERS RECEIVE HONORS

Katherine McDonald Given "N" at Dinner; Others Get Numerals

BANQUET ANNUAL AFFAIR

The Women's Athletic Association held a dinner-dance at Ellen Smith Hall Thursday evening, in honor of the "N" women, and for the awarding of honors of the association. This was a combination of the traditional mid-year banquet, and the treat at the close of the soccer season. Small tables were decorated in red and white, each woman having a red "N" menu card at her plate. Miss Kathryn Krieg, the social chairman was in charge of the dinner-dance.

The highest award of the organization was presented to Katherine McDonald by the president. This "N" is presented to the women earning twelve hundred W. A. A. points, and who are good sportswomen, honored by the association for their ability, character, and service to the association. There were awards given to twenty-five other women who had won class numerals. To win a class numeral a woman must be a member of the organization, win five-hundred W. A. A. points, and be the type of sportswoman that W. A. A. wishes to see on the Nebraska campus. There were ten members of the class of twenty-six who were awarded numerals. They are:

Alice Pfeiffer, Florence Sturdevant, Mildred Wohlford, Ruby Damm, Eleanor Flatemersch, Ershel Freeman, Elsie Gramlich, Margaret Hymer, Kathryn Krieg, and Dorothy Peterson. All these women have been active in several sports, and will graduate from the association this spring.

There were ten members of the class of twenty-seven who were awarded numerals. They are Hazel Safford, Clara Schuebel, Helen West, Madge Zorbaugh, Laura Whelpley, Leora Chapman, Marie Hermanek, Ruth Kess, Kathro Kidwell and Katherine McDonald.

Five members of the class of twenty-eight also received the numeral. They are Lucille Bauer, Blossom Benz, Helen Clarke, Victoria Kuncel and Hazel Olds.

LIFE SERVICE TEAM WILL VISIT SCHOOL

Among those who will be on the team are W. C. Fawell, who has spent several years in India, and C. M. McConnell of Chicago.

The Methodist Student Council will hold a reception for the team on Saturday evening, February 20. Sunday the members of the team will speak in the Methodist churches of the city, and Monday and Tuesday, February 22 and 23, will hold interviews with all those who are interested who may arrange for interview through Rev. ## Beta Gamma Sigma Initiates New Men

Six new members were initiated by Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary fraternity in the College of Business Administration, at a recent meeting.

The new members are Bruce Sievers, Edward Petr, Fred L. Enders, Gordon B. Rockefeller, Lloyd R. Wagner, and Leslie G. Curtis.

CREIGHTON TO MEET HUSKERS ON SATURDAY

Special Train Will Bring Blue Jay Fans to See Return Game

KANSAS WRESTLERS HERE

Husker Matmen Will Engage Jay Hawks in Auditorium After Basketball Game

The Creighton University basket flippers from Omaha will be the next opponents to face the Nebraska Cornhuskers on the basketball court. The Blue Jays, anxious to avenge the defeat handed them by the Huskers earlier in the season, will present a somewhat stronger line-up in the Field House Saturday night than they did in the previous game played in Omaha.

Creighton fans are planning on running a special train from Omaha to Lincoln for the game and it is expected that nearly five hundred fans will accompany the team. Reports circulating from Omaha state that the Blue Jays intend to win the game. So far the two teams have met four times on the hardwood floor and in three of these engagements the Huskers have returned victorious.

The clash between the two teams Saturday night will mark the first time that Creighton has appeared in Lincoln as Nebraska's opponent on the basketball floor. The previous games have all been played in Omaha.

Cornhusker fans will be given a double treat Saturday night in the form of athletic contests. The Creighton-Nebraska game is due to start at 7:30 p. m. and will be followed immediately by a wrestling meet between Nebraska and the Kansas Jayhawks.

A decided change in the Nebraska line-up is looked for in the coming game. Coach Bearg has not been any too well pleased with the showing made by the Huskers in their last two performances and has hinted that a general shake-up will take place in an endeavor to find a scoring combination.

With the beginning of the second semester several men have become eligible and it may be that the Nebraska mentor will use some of them in this game. A loss to Creighton would not effect Nebraska's standing in the Missouri Valley conference and quite a bit of experimenting will probably be done during the game.

VERA BARGER IS HONORED AT TEA

Two Hundred University and Town Guests Served by Coppock Staff

GUEST OF HONOR TALKS

More than two hundred university women and town guests were served at the tea given in honor of Miss Vera Barger, physical educational director in China, by the Grace Coppock staff of the Y. W. C. A., yesterday afternoon in Ellen Smith Hall.

Miss Barger was presented by Miss Erna Appleby and talked for a few minutes about the Chinese New Year. On the last day of the year, February 11, Miss Barger said, each Chinese household burns its kitchen god. This little god hangs in the kitchen all year and is supposed to keep account of the actions of the family. Until the new kitchen god takes his place festivity holds full sway in China. February 12 is the beginning of the New Year; all shops are closed on that day and the day is spent in calling and the exchange of presents.

Decorations and refreshments carried out a Valentine color scheme of red and white. Arvilla Johnson presided at the serving table and the members of the Grace Coppock staff acted as hostesses. In the receiving line were Miss Barger, Miss Appleby, Miss Amanda Heppner, Elsie Gramlich, Eloise McMonies, Eloise MacAhan, Geraldine Fleming, Caroline Buck, Agnes Hentzin, Eloise Keefer, Dorothy Thomas, Frances Watermann and Wilma Searson.

INTER-FRAT RELAY MEET IS POSTPONED

Annual Greek Competition May Be Run Off on Outdoor Oval Later Coach Schulte Says

The annual interfraternity relays which were to have been run off next week, are postponed indefinitely because of the interfraternity basketball tournament. This will allow the men to devote their whole attention to the one sport instead of competing in two at the same time.

Coach Schulte is not anxious to push the relays and stated that if the weather permits after the basketball tournament they will be run on the outdoor track. This postponement of the relays will also keep the men interested in track work and give them time to practice their touch-offs.

The indoor track meet has brought out a great many men for a practice in competition and this fact will prove a large factor in the relays. They are arranged in such a way that distance runners as well as sprint men run in the same race thereby bringing out the best in each event.

CONVOCATION HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Appreciation Shown Talented Artists Who Offer Musical Numbers on Piano, Violin and Cello

An audience as appreciative as any so far, and a little more than average in size, heard the musical convocation held in the Temple theater at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. The trio, composed of Miss Kinsella, pianist; Prof. Carl F. Steckelberg, violinist; and Prof. Herbert Gray, cellist, will present the same program at 3 o'clock Sunday in the Art Gallery. Opus 1-No. 1 ..... Beethoven

Serenade ..... Widor
A la Bien Aimee ..... Schnett

At the Brook ..... Boisdoffe
"Scherze" from Beethoven, and "At the Brook," were especially well liked.

STUDENTS TO HEAR RACE DISCUSSIONS

Cosmopolitan Club Meeting Sunday Will Be Open; Several Views To Be Presented

University Cosmopolitan Club will hold an open meeting at Faculty Hall Sunday at 3 o'clock, at which time the race problem will be discussed.

The plan for the discussion was prompted by charges that have been made against lack of intelligence of the average student mind for world problems. Mr. Hurry, general secretary of the committee on Friendly Relations, applied "confusionism" to the student mind.

Rev. Fay, student pastor of the Disciples Church, who has given the race problem much study, will present the general views taken on this world problem.

Since the Cosmopolitan Club is composed of members of many races, it is securing many different opinions. The conclusions reached will be sent to other Cosmopolitan Clubs.

An invitation to attend is extended to all persons interested. Guests will have an opportunity to offer their views.

Candidates For Student Offices Must File Today

All candidates for class presidents, Ivy Day orator and three positions on the Student Publication Board must file their applications in the Student Activities office in the Armory before 5 o'clock today.

No one had filed late Thursday for Ivy Day orator nor for the senior or sophomore vacancies on the Student Publication Board nor for junior president. One filing has been made for freshman and senior presidents. Two sophomores have filed for sophomore president and one junior has filed for the Publication Board.

Tentative candidates must see to this matter at once, urges Leo Black, president of the Student Council. Student elections will be held Tuesday, February 16.
