Preparedness
To the Editor:
I note with surprise and regret the agitation which is making itself felt concerning the military training in the University. It is arousing, I feel, a great deal more attention than it deserves, being, as it is, fostered—and so obviously—by red propagandists. You will recall that Paul Blanchard, who spoke here last year for the League of Industrial Democracy, was responsible for the agitation, originally.
The idea of world peace at this moment is not only impossible but insane. How can we have world peace when all the other nations of the world are in arms, and ready to attack any armless nation at any moment? We know for a fact that France and England have no special liking for America, and have large armies and air forces. Also Japan. I do not jingoistically point toward the fact that attacks by these nations are inevitable, as do some alarmists; but I do say that, considering the circumstances, it would not be at all a bad idea to be prepared.
It is our moral obligation to support the Morrill Land Grant Act, which has, to a large extent, made possible the growth of the University to its present size. I got more moral and physical good, and more mental discipline, out of my military training than out of any other of my subjects.
The idea that United States should set the example for world peace is absurd. We can, of course, maintain a peaceful policy, but there is no need absolutely to disarm until the other nations show some definite intention.
My counsel to the whiners would be to go to Wisconsin, where training is optional, or to Russia, where they can give vent to all the communists, destructive yowlings that they choose.

Ten Years Ago

"Tim" Corey, captain of the football team, issued the first call for spring practice, to begin after the spring vacation.

The Delta Tau Delta five won the interfraternity basketball championship for 1918 by winning from the Sig Alpha's by a score of 12 to 8. The first half was slow, then 6 to 2 in favor of the Deltas. The tournament was one of the best undertaken and the games showed remarkable speed.

The eleventh annual gymnasium exhibition showed that the University was doing a great work for physical education. Following the program the evening was given over to dancing and over a hundred couples were on the floor.

The Iowa State Agricultural College at Ames sprang a surprise on Nebraska by winning all but one of the matches in wrestling. The Ames team lost its first match to Iowa, a team that Nebraska defeated, and this made the Nebraska downfall all the more surprising.

much more able to select better men—men who had made good in school and proved their worth.

"It would eradicate the mis-fits every fraternity gets now and then," he stated. "Sometimes a fraternity takes a man on snap judgement, during the first few days of rush week, and is afterwards disappointed to find that he is the wrong man. This makes trouble in the fraternity and the school. These differences would tend to be reduced, to a considerable degree, if men had a longer time in which to become acquainted with the freshmen."

Become Center of Power
Dr. Pool also feels that under this system the fraternity would have a better chance of becoming what it is supposed to be—a center of tremendous power for the furtherance of the better class of activities in the school. Fraternities would run more smoothly because the men would be picked with more care, and accordingly they would be mutually interested in each other's plans and welfare, and would really strive to develop an all-around scholarship.

He further pointed out that men coming to get pins would not be able to do so under this system. A good many men of this type ordinarily drop out at the end of their first semester or year. The men coming back the second year would be those who came because they had a definite notion of what they were going to do, not because they wanted to join a fraternity. The quality of men taken in under these circumstances would be improved.

Easier for New Students

Students themselves, Dr. Pool showed, would have a better chance to acquaint themselves with what the fraternities were like and what they stood for. Now, freshmen are whirled around from one place to another, each fraternity trying to ring a decision from the man before the others can get at him.

In concluding, Dr. Pool said emphatically, "The greatest argument in favor of mid-semester pledging is the fact that it would give the fraternities a chance to pick their men with greater care and so enable them to get a really select group of men."

Men! Dress Up for Spring at Peterson & Ryan's!

—especially in the accessories of dress are they prepared to serve you with all that stylish and snappy! You'll find at Peterson & Ryan's, 1212 O, complete selections of new shirts, ties, underwear, hosiery, and belts from which to choose. And, as a special inducement to come into their store Saturday and see these new things, they offer you: new spring caps—collegiate and attractive to the Nth degree, for only $1.85. Caps that are regular $2.50 and $3 values! Caps that will improve your face!

The Modern Cleaners Make Dressier Vacations Possible!

—it's not a bit too early to think of your going home costume, and what you'll wear for all the Easter-week festivities! Your new spring clothes probably have the edge off by now, so bundle them off to Soukup & Westover for a freshening up. They'll clean your scarfs, gloves, hats and sweaters too, so they'll look like new. All in all, just patronize this reliable cleaning establishment and the home folks will have an added good impression of the benefits of higher education. Even the band at the station will play more enthusiastically!

Dresses at $11.75--a Bargain at Ben Simon & Sons!

—please oh please, bargain-seeking co-eds, do NOT confuse these delightful springtime frocks with those you would ordinarily be able to buy at this inconsequential price! Look at them, and you'll think they're value-marvels; examine them closely and you'll KNOW it! The quality of fabric is excellent, the workmanship is fine, while styles and colors are utterly captivating. There are clever little two piece frocks for campus wear in flannel and knitted fabrics; dresses of Georgette, crepe Roma, flat crepe and printed silks too—fashioned in every conceivable style. $25 values for $11.75 at Ben Simon & Sons!

Give Dick Stryker your Easter Flower Orders Now!

—in the last before-vacation rush of mid-semesters, initiations, and preparations for boarding the choo-choo, it's going to be pretty difficult to remember all those thoughtful things you should remember! So why not make a list now, of the people on your Easter plant and posy list (both local and out-of-town). Then bring or phone it to the Stryker Floral Co., and Dick will do the rest of the "saying it." Remember also that there will be a Special in spring flowers Saturday that will create quite a flurry among the Scotch. Stop in Saturday and see what it is!

The Globe Laundry is up to its Neck in Suds!

—seems as though there are plenty of fore-minded students at Nebraska, judging by the amount of pre-Easter laundry work that arrive daily at the Globe! It is a satisfying feeling to put your washable wardrobe in order before going home for spring vacation. Clean clothes certainly save many a last-minute purchase, especially when they are sudsed the Globe way. Lee Ager himself sees to it that every garment sent to his laundry is sent home plus—perfectly immaculate, so call B 6756. And when your bundle comes back, you'll be as snugly surprised at its price, as at the state of your clothes!

Reflections of FASHION show spring hats chic and becoming.

Beautiful springlike colors, smart shapes, fresh crisp materials, combine to make the new models most attractive.
Fine straws such as Ballbuntl, Bangkok, Visca, and silks such as taffeta, Faille, and belting ribbon are most popular materials.
The Gigolo, the off-the-face style, the soft crush shape, the beret and the tam are equally popular.

A fulcrum for every modern Archimedes

"GIVE me a fulcrum—and I will move the earth!" said Archimedes. Too bad that he lived twenty-two hundred years too soon.

For you modern followers of Archimedes, you men who apply his well known principles in the study of mechanical engineering, the fulcrum is ready. If a part in helping the earth to move appeals to you, look for your fulcrum in the communication art.

A world of possibilities opens up here for the man whose bent is mechanical. Distances shrink because mechanical engineers have found how to draw well-nigh every bit of air out of a repeater tube. A million telephones are made—and the millionth is like the first because mechanical ingenuity has shown the way. Quantity production in a great telephone plant calls for constant improvement in mechanical technique.

Every day is a day of new facts, new things, new achievements by mechanical and electrical engineers. Nothing stands still. Here the world does move.
