stooping to flagrant misrepresentation of facts seems to be in your own remarks, Mr. Melick. You have made too many assumptions which are not true nor have we represented them as true.

The writer, as well as, the Nebraska Engineering Society resents any such insinuations as your remarks contain. As to your informant if he is not satisfied with facts as stated, tell him to see me personally and I will endeavor to set him right.

tionary, covered follies that warp and poison the mind; that the wisest thing to do with a fool is to encourage him to hire a hall and discourse to his fellow citizens. Nothing chills folly like exposure to the air; nothing dispells folly like its publication; nothing so eases the machine as the safety valve."

These are the words of Woodrow Wilson, late Commander-in-Chief of the great host who went forth to make the world safe for democracy. On our campus we have learned of late what different men think in regard to compulsory drill. Evidently some have thought too loudly and are to be muzzled. The writer is satisfied to know that there are still some religious workers in modern society who are intellectual honest and morally courageous enough to speak their minds even though they do not conform to the traditions of the elders.

According to the figures given in the "Annual Report of the Secretary of War for 1925 there were 217,495 applicants who desired to enter the Citizens Training Camps during the period 1921 to 1925 inclusive. Out of lack of funds only 124,305 applicants were given the six weeks training course.

If this be true, it would seem to indicate that there are still a sufficient number of young men who volunteer for army service outside of the universities. Even though compulsory drill were to be abolished there would still be a great many even among us desiring the training the Federal Government has to offer. Let those who believe in war continue to prepare for war, and let those who believe in the movement which tends to make man less animal and more human devote their time to a preparation for peace. If it be true that the religious workers on the campus are to be hedged in by state control it is high time that other quarters be sought outside the building which has been wrongly named the Temple.

In 1915 the war to make the world safe for Autocracy came to a close. Not so long ago we ended the war to make the world safe for Democracy. Some say that the next war will be fought to make the world safe for Plutocracy. There are but two roads open, a gradual and persistent application of the principles of the Nazarene, to all phases of human life, or a repudiation of these which will eventually mean the self destruction of the "Superior Race." The road of progress is not an easy one, only those who have vision and moral courage will choose to trod it. The thoughtful student welcomes the moral leadership of men who are trying to make the world a better place to live in for future generations.

It gives a cor rison of the problems of the American engineer with those of the engineer in foreign countries.

Emerson Mead, C. E., '28, in an article under the heading "Research of Strength of Reinforced Concrete Title," tells of the tests which have been made by the Nebraska department of Applied Mechanics under the supervision of Associate Professor C. M. Duff during the past several months.

"The work was started about the middle of December, 1925," the article states, "and up until the present time approximately 45 pipes have been tested. Twice this number will be tested before the research is completed."

Spend Your Easter Gift Dollars at George Brothers!

—waiting to tuck into home-going bags, are innumerable items that are truly individual at $1, $2, and $3! Glance into George Brothers $2 window if you want an idea of the attractive moderately priced gift novelties within. There are things that will delight mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, uncles, cousins, friends and sweethearts (if any). It is George Brothers too, for Easter cards that are far above the ordinary in artistry, and for Easter party favors that will make collegiate functions surpassingly individual!

"Wild Oats Lane", a Marshall Neilan Picture, at the Lyric this Week!

—a thrilling photo-drama, you'll have to admit, with a "down-to-the-deeps, up-to-the-heights" plot! See it, if you enjoy an excellent story as well as a notable cast in the pictures you witness. Viola Dana and Robert Agnew are the leads, with an able supporting cast. A story, this, of life as she's led in the underworld, with the romance of the hero and heroine thrillingly portrayed both before and after they are regenerated. "Wild Oats Lane"!

A New Fifth Avenue Hat Service at Ben Simon & Sons!

—a decided innovation in millinery merchandising is this, and such a timely one with the Easter hat question before us! Briefly the idea is this: Each week 12 hats are chosen as representative of the best in the displays on Fifth Avenue, New York. Straightway, these hats are copied and sent to Ben Simon & Sons, arriving Tuesday of each week. There are no duplicates in this service, and each hat is surprisingly low priced at $10. So come in TODAY if you would choose your hat from the first shipment!

Champe Speaks of Rainy Weather and Permanent Waves!

—"do you realize", says this enterprising owner of the Champe Beauty Shop in the Lincoln Theater Building, "that April showers make bigger and better Nestle Lanolis, as well as the oft-mentioned May flowers?" It's true, co-eds, that rainy weather, that death-dealer to marcel, actually improves a permanent wave, so set accordingly and make your appointment with Mr. Champe. So well equipped is he with the necessary apparatus, that he can put in 50 permanents a week. Better make your appointments well in advance, too, for this is of course, the busiest time of the year, permanently speaking!

"Say it with Pictures" says Walter Johnson of the Sugar Bowl!

—after the Easter fashion parade, why not preserve the memories of your fashion triumph for future generations, the Anseo Camera way? The Sugar Bowl is in complete readiness with everything photographic, from camera to album. There is any type of machine you might want, and films of all sizes; then too, the Sugar Bowl can render you expert photo finishing in the least possible time it takes to do good work. Just bring your pictures in before 8 in the evening, and they'll be ready for you (good ones too), at three the next afternoon.
