

LOCKE STARS AS HUSKERS REGAIN TITLE

FULL PROGRAM FOR THREE-DAY CELEBRATION

Round-up Schedule Crowded With Reunions, Meetings, and Social Events

STUDENTS IN FESTIVITIES

All Classes Suspended for Ivy Day Ceremonies and Special Events For Returning Alumni

The fifth annual Cornhusker Round-up, with the usual reunions, social functions, sporting events, and all the good times generally connected with such affairs, will be in full swing Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. All classes will be suspended Thursday and Friday to give students an opportunity to take part in the Round-up events.

Invitations were issued during the past week to 18,000 alumni scattered throughout the country. Many have already made arrangements to attend. Max Meyer of the class of 1906 is the chairman of the Round-up committee.

Ivy Day is Thursday. The morning exercises will begin at 10 o'clock on the campus north of the Administration Building. The traditional May Day ceremonies will be carried out, with the daisy and ivy chain processions, the entrance of the queen, with her co-ed and children attendants, and the crowning of the Queen.

Planting of Ivy
Two dances, the "Cycle of Hours" and one representing the spirit of Nebraska will be special features on the program which will include the customary planting of the ivy by the junior and senior presidents, Glen A. Buck of Dewitt and William Trumbull of Elwood.

Souvenir programs bearing the prize Ivy Day poem and the prize frontispiece will be distributed.

The afternoon festivities will start with the interfraternity sing, sponsored by the Kosmet Klub, at 1:30 o'clock. Most of the fraternities will compete for the silver loving cup, won last year by Delta Tau Delta.

Alexander McKie of Omaha, a senior law student, will deliver the Ivy Day oration following the sing. His subject is "Compulsory Military Training."

The masking of the new members for Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, and the tapping of the Innocents, senior men's honorary organization, will close the program.

Friday "All Cornhusker Day"
Friday is to be known as All-Cornhusker Day. The program is of interest to both students and grads. Alumni registration will begin at the general alumni headquarters in The Temple at 9:30 o'clock and will continue throughout Friday and Saturday.

At 9:45 the alumni council will meet. Regent George N. Seymour will outline the University's building program and will lead an open discussion on housing conditions for University students. He will explain the so-called dormitory and fraternity area and the probability of an adequate dormitory system within

Bureau Receives Calls For College Teachers

(University News Service)

The Bureau of Recommendation for Teachers has received calls for instructors in a new junior college at St. Joseph, Missouri, and for the new Municipal University of Wichita, Kansas, where Fairmont College was recently taken over by the city. There will be a reorganization of the college with practically a new faculty. Positions open are in the departments of English, education, Spanish, German, French, history, chemistry, and botany.

WEATHER FORECAST

Sunday: Generally fair and somewhat warmer.

Weather Conditions

The storm area has moved eastward to the lower Lake region and showers occurred yesterday or last night from Iowa eastward to Pennsylvania. It is followed by high pressure and clear, cool weather over most of the Missouri and Mississippi valleys, with light frost at places in Wisconsin, northern Iowa, and northern Nebraska. Pressure is falling in the northern Mountain region, causing showers and warmer weather in western Canada and North Dakota.

REED APPOINTED CHAIRMAN

Extension Director Heads Committee On Entrance Requirements

Prof. A. Reed, director of the University Extension division, has been appointed chairman of a special committee of the North-Central Association of Schools and Colleges to propose possible plans for redefinition of entrance requirements in the terms of senior high school credits for all types of colleges—technical as well as academic. The appointment was made by Prof. J. D. Elliott of the University of Missouri, who is president of the association. Others on the committee are Registrar Ira Smith of the University of Michigan, Dr. C. H. Judd of the University of Chicago, Principal Merle Prunty of the senior high school at Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Principal H. H. Ryan of Ben Blewitt Junior High School, St. Louis.

FUN CARNIVAL GALA AFFAIR

Field House Scene of Elaborate Student-Alumni Entertainment Friday

NEW DANCE FLOOR LAID

The Carnival of Fun to be held at the Field House Friday, May 28, will without a doubt be the largest and most elaborate affair of its kind ever staged on the campus. From the time the doors swing open at 7:30 until they close again at 11:30 there will not be a dull moment nor a thing lacking to make an ideal carnival.

The entire Field House is to be converted into a huge mid-way for booths, game-booths, eskimo pies, chance-stands, dancing, horns, parades, prizes and the indispensable horse-shoe stand are only a few of the things that will line the three-block mid-way.

Admission Free
Admission to the Carnival of Fun, as well as the dancing, is free.

The "Streets of Caro" will give the Carnival a tinge of the oriental. This big attraction will take half the floor space and will have for its main events dancing girls, mystic fortune-tellers, side-shows, and every sort of oriental mystery.

Flavia Waters and a group of dancers will be found in one of these side-shows in a most unusual program of dancing numbers. Other exhibitions will be there which the onlookers will not be able to resist.

The fancy dress parade of the representatives from all the sorority and fraternity groups on the campus will be one of the many unusual features of the evening. The balconies will provide an excellent place to view this and other events during the varied program.

The booths which will line the mid-way will be colorful, clever and attractive. A prize will be given to the group having the best booth.

Competitive Drill
Dancing will be continuous from 7:30 until 11:30. There will be no charge for dancing and no intermissions. The dance floor is being laid and will be large enough for everyone to dance comfortably. The University Band will play for dancing the first half of the evening.

The Collegians with several extra pieces added to their usual orchestra will continue the music when the band stops at 9:00.

The final events of competitive drill will be staged during the evening. The winning company will be presented with the Omaha Cup. Following the presentation the winning company will parade down the mid-way in a grand march with their leaders.

A five-minute drill will be given by the Pershing Rifles. Another military event will be individual "comp" when the winning cadet will be decided by the completion of the elimination.

Dean LeRossignol to Give Lecture Course

(University News Service)

Dean James E. LeRossignol of the College of Business Administration, will deliver a course of six lectures on economics at the sixth annual session of the National School of Commercial and Trade Executives, to be held at Northwestern University, on August 16 to 28, under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the National Association Commercial Organization Secretaries, the Chicago Business Secretaries, Forum, and Northwestern University.

1926 ANNUAL GOES ON SALE EARLY MONDAY

Business Manager of Cornhusker Urges Students to Get Copies Tomorrow

BOOK IN SIMPLE STYLE

Plain, Dark Cover in Keeping with Tone of Publication; Campus Events Section Attractive

The 1926 Cornhusker will be placed on sale Monday morning in the south-west corner room of Administration building. Students are urged by the business manager to get their copies as soon as possible as the selling campaign will be limited to the early part of the week. Enough copies have been secured to provide for those who failed to reserve their books.

Simplicity and dignity typify the art work and the dark cover of the yearbook. A three-color process has been used on the division pages. The sub-division pages have a beautiful border with still-life half-tone inserts appropriate to each division.

Notable among the improvements in the new books is the grouping of the honorary and professional fraternities into a separate section rather than by their colleges as in former years.

The campus events and the student life section have been enlarged and contain the important events in student life and activities. The many cuts of athletes and athletic events feature the sports section. The books are now on display at Magee's and at Miller and Paine's.

PAY TRIBUTE TO PROF. FOGG

Funeral Services for Director of School of Journalism Held Friday

AVERY PRAISES WORK

The last services for Miller Moore Fogg, director of the School of Journalism, and professor of English, were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the family home, 1540 South Twenty-first Street. Peacefully resting—his face without a trace of the wracking pain he had suffered for over six weeks—Professor Fogg was seen for the last time by his many Nebraska friends, colleagues in the faculty, and students in the University who came to pay a final tribute to the great teacher who had served the University so well for twenty-five years.

The services were short and simple, even as Professor Fogg himself would have directed they be. The Rev. Dean R. Leland, Presbyterian University pastor, read from the Scriptures and gave the prayer. Lucille Cline and Doris Cole Clapp, accompanied at the piano by Dr. J. M. Mayhew, sang "Abide With Me," and "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." Chancellor Samuel Avery praised in high terms the principles and relationships of Professor Fogg in the home, the University, and the community. He reviewed briefly his life and achievements.

The body will be at Wadlow's chapel until 4:40 this afternoon when it will be taken to Rosemont, New Jersey, for burial in the family lot. Professor Fogg's sister, Mrs. Lida Kerr, of New York City, and Mrs. Roy Herbert Whiteham of Boston, son-in-law, will remain in Lincoln for about a month, and then will return East.

Chancellor Avery's Tribute
"Miller Moore Fogg was born January 15, 1868 at Kingwood, New Jersey, the son of a Baptist minister," Chancellor Avery said. "He was graduated from Peidie Institute at Hightstown, New Jersey, the same school from which Mrs. Fogg was also graduated. He then went to Colgate, his father's university, where he studied two years, and then entered Brown university, where he received the degree of bachelor of arts in 1890 and of master of arts in 1891. Immediately after receiving his A. B. degree, Professor Fogg was appointed an instructor at Brown, which was considered a great honor, and he served in that capacity for five years. Chancellor Andrews was at Brown at that time.

"On September 11, 1895, Professor and Mrs. Fogg were married, and while Mr. Fogg was studying for the degree of doctor of philosophy at Harvard, Chancellor Andrews wrote

He Did!

What?
100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds, equalling world's record.
220-yard dash in 20.7 seconds, breaking world's record.
Ran 220 in 880-yard relay with running start in less than 20 seconds, faster than any human ever ran before.
—just a day's work for Roland Locke.

MORTON PRESIDENT ENGINEERS SOCIETY

Forrest Hall New General Manager of Blue Print; Mead Editor and Hawke Business Manager

Friday morning the Nebraska Engineering Society elected the following officers for the coming school year:

President—Eldred Morton, Cook. Vice-president—Homer Scott, Lincoln. Secretary-Treasurer—Ernest Polard, Nehawka.

SIX VALLEY TRACK MARKS SMASHED; 4 BY NEBRASKA

Wirsig Vaults to New Height While the Dazzling Locke, After Observing Custom of Breaking World Records In Dashes, Cinches Relay Mark

MISSOURI PLACES SECOND; OKLAHOMA IS THIRD

Southerners, With Cox Tossing Javelin to New Distance, Display Unlooked for Strength; Richerson Lives Up To Expectations in the Shot Put

One world's record was broken, one equalled, and six Valley records shattered in the stadium yesterday afternoon while the University of Nebraska was winning the 19th annual Missouri Valley intercollegiate track and field meet, which was brought to a close when the famed Roland Locke, running his last race in the stadium for Nebraska, overcame a 15-yard handicap and won the 880-yard relay, by running faster than any human being had before.

THE SCORES
Nebraska	50 1-10
Missouri	35 1-10
Oklahoma University	33 3-5
Kansas University	17 3-5
Iowa State	13 3-5
Drake	8 4-5
Grimmell	8
Washington	4 1-5
Kansas Aggies	4
Oklahoma A. & M.	1

Husker Team Well Balanced

Placing in all but four events, two track and two field, the Husker athletes swept to a clean-cut victory, with 50 1-10 points. Missouri, who squeezed the Huskers out last year, was second with 35 1-10, closely pushed by Oklahoma University with 33 3-5 points. Kansas University finished a poor fourth with 17 3-5 points with Iowa State trailing them with 13 3-5. The other scoring was as follows: Drake 8 4-5, Grimmell 8, Washington 4 1-5, Kansas Aggies 4, and Oklahoma A. & M. 1.

VALLEY TENNIS FINALS TODAY

Royer, Oklahoma, and Sigoloff Of Grinnell To Fight It Out in Singles

HUSKERS ARE ELIMINATED

Royer of Oklahoma and Sigoloff of Washington will play for the Missouri Valley tennis championship on the University courts at nine o'clock this morning. The Kansas doubles team composed of Rogers and Hoag will meet Royer and Brandenburg of Oklahoma at two o'clock in the afternoon. Royer and Brandenburg won the Missouri Valley meet last year.

There were 31 singles players and 14 doubles teams, representing all the schools in the Valley, in the tournament this year. It took two days for the eliminations and the meet resolved itself into an endurance contest.

All of Nebraska's singles men were eliminated in the first round, Shildneck losing to Hoag, Kansas, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5. Elliot lost to Turner, Missouri, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2; and Newton lost to Sturbbie, Grinnell, 6-0, 6-1.

In the doubles matches Shildneck and Elliot won their way to the second round by defeating Robertson and Evans of Ames. They were put out in the second round, however, by Landon and Mason of Oklahoma. Newton and Sunderland of Nebraska were eliminated in the first round of the doubles by Campbell and Clutter of Grinnell.

MORE STRINGENT ELIGIBILITY RULES

Valley Coaches Decide One Year's Competition in Small School To Equal Year in College

Several changes were made in the Valley rules at the meeting of the athletic officials of the ten conference schools held here during their stay for the meet.

Eligibility rules were changed so that a year's competition in a small school counts as a year's intercollegiate competition. Previously, two years counted as one.

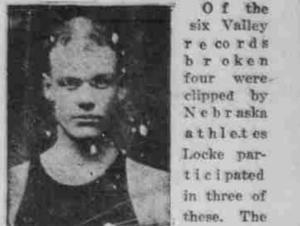

The basketball guarantee for traveling teams was raised from $250 to $400 with an option of the visiting team making arrangements to take 50 per cent of the gate receipts.

The size of the tennis tournament caused discussion regarding limiting the number further. The conference officials were in favor of lowering the entry list from four singles players and two doubles teams to two singles players and one doubles team from each school.

Brown-Tefft Article Published (University News Service)
Prof. D. J. Brown of the department of chemistry and Ralph F. Tefft, graduate student, have an article, "The Manganese Dioxide-Permanganate Electrode," in the May number of the Journal of the American Chemical Society.

Locke had already tied the 100-yard record and broken the world mark in the 220 when he entered the 880-yard relay. With his running start he literally flew over the cinders for the final 220 yards in something over 19 seconds—a most amazing feat when it is realized that no one other than Locke has ever run the 220 in less than 20.8 seconds.

Wirsig
Wirsig, Stephens, Ross, Dalley, and Wyatt are considered the likely representatives in addition to Locke. The meet is not a team championship affair but determines the individual collegiate champions for the year.

Wirsig records that were broken were the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, pole vault, discus throw, javelin throw, and 880-yard relay. The Nebraska team which broke the relay record was composed of Daily, Wyatt, Weir and Locke, running in that order. Their time was within 3-5 of a second of what was the world's record before the performance of Hein, Dalley, Davenport, and Locke at the Kansas Relays this spring.

Locke's performances were the outstanding in a meet filled with thrilling races and record-breaking work. A slight breeze blew from the south during part of the meet but the starter succeeded in getting the 100 and 220 dashes off during a lull.

In doing this on the 100, he had to hold them on their marks a little long. Locke had a poor start but breasted the tape easily in 9.6, again tying the world's record. A flag standing in the middle of the course hung limp throughout the race. One catch caught him at 9.5, one at 9.6, and the other at 9.7.

Locke's Record Certain
The 220 went the same way, with Locke again breaking Paddock's record of 20.8. Locke stepped it in 20.7, the same time he made a week ago. This is the third time he has run it in better than 20.8 and the second time under official A. A. U. sanction, so it is almost a certainty that he will be credited with the record.

His running in the 880-relay was amazing. Kansas had a fifteen-yard lead and Missouri ten. For the first time this year, Locke looked like he was running instead of just striding along. For once he had a real job ahead of him. The time of less than 20 seconds is tremendously fast but of course the running start makes a slight difference. Coach Schulte

LOCKE TO NATIONAL MEET

Cosch Schulte announced after the Valley meet yesterday afternoon that positively Lock would go to Chicago for the National Intercollegiate track and field championships June 11 and 12 and that four or five others would probably go.

Wirsig, Stephens, Ross, Dalley, and Wyatt are considered the likely representatives in addition to Locke. The meet is not a team championship affair but determines the individual collegiate champions for the year.
