FIRST HUSKER GRID RALLY IS FRIDAY NIGHT

Coliseum Scene of Mammoth Pep Meeting on Eve of Drake Game

TO INTRODUCE PLAYERS

Coch and Members of Squad Will Address Nebraska's Student Body

The first Cornhusker rally of the 1926 grid season will be held Friday night at the Coliseum. The Drake rally will be the first in Nebraska history to be held in the new building and a record attendance is anticipated. Students are urged to turn out en masse, in order to start the most prospective season on the grid-iron that Nebraska has seen in several years.

The program which is not completed as yet will include an introduction of the 1926 Cornhuskers by Coach Ernest E. Bearg. Captain Lonnie Stiner of Nebraska, and assistant coaches Oakes and Black will be formerly introduced to the student body. It is also probable that the Drake captain will be introduced since the Bulldog squad arrives in Lincoln Friday morning.

The varsity yell leaders and the University Band will instill the usual pep into the students. The new cheer leaders will make their initial appearances and new songs and yells will be used for the rally and the game.

The rally will start promptly at 7:15, and end at 8 o'clock, so that anyone that has other engagements can attend the pep meeting first. The officials in charge of the rallies realize the importance of these gatherings to the football team and are depending upon a one-hundred percent attendance of the student body to bring Nebraska through with a good year.

Many Visit Displays In University Museum

An unusually large number of people visited the Museum Sunday afternoon. Many of them were particularly interested in the display of recent additions to the Museum, which is placed near the entrance to Dr. Barbour's office. A display of ivory specimens and a Japanese screen of ivory and teakwood representing the four seasons of the year, were some of the most interesting of these.

REV. PAUL JOHNSON SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Title of Theme is "Mountain Meditations" in Talk to Women Students Tuesday Afternoon

"It does seem when you raise your eyes to the hills, cleft with snow and peopled with trees, that there is a God Almighty," stated Rev. Paul C. Johnson in speaking on the subject of "Mountain Meditations" at Vespers, Tuesday at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall. The service was led by Ruth Shalcross and Dorothy Howard played a violin solo.

"Your presence here at Vespers, shows that you realize that your education is not complete without religious inspiration," further stated the speaker. "The wonder and awe of the mountains makes you dream how they stood there for centuries, and then wonder at God Almighty and his power."

"Jesus found a sense of mystery in nature," exclaimed the Rev. Johnson, "and also a sense of peace."

The speaker then gave the geological story of the Rocky Mountains telling how first there was an ancient range of mountains in their place, which wore down below the level of the land. Then came the upraising of lowered section and then the Glacier. Thus had God Almighty again ordained his will. The Rev. Johnson then described a trip up a mountain taken during the past summer.

"First the forest of astors, the acres of great tall pines and on and on up, as the trail switched back and forth, then the ghost forest, still trees, all bent and knarled. Then past the timber line," described the speaker. He further stated that every one in the party on the return trip after watching the sunrise from the mountain top, reflected deeply on the regularity of God.

Jesus found a great peace in nature. The life of Jesus was especially intense, continued the Rev. Johnson, and often he was bitterly assailed. When Jesus wished rest he went up into the mountain and there found rest and peace.

"Go on and keep the fires of your inspiration kindled at the fountain itself. Have Jesus as your friend all year around, and if you keep close to the fount of inspiration, God Himself, you may have the great calm of His infinite peace," said the speaker in closing.

DEAN KEEGAN WILL ADDRESS PRE-MEDS

College of Medicine Head Will Speak to Students at First Monthly Banquet

Dean J. Jay Keegan of the College of Medicine at Omaha will speak on the subject "Some Phase of Medical Education," at the first monthly banquet of the pre-medical students Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, at the Grand Hotel. From 150 to 175 pre-meds are expected to attend this banquet which is the first of a series of banquets at which some prominent physician or member of the University of Nebraska Medical College faculty will address the students. The guests of the evening will include Chancellor Avery, Dean James, Dr. Thompson and Dr. Manter.

These banquets are held to acquaint the new students with the vital phases of the education they are trying to attain. Closer contact with the instructors and among the students themselves at the banquet should demand the attendance of every Pre-Med.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS START REHEARSALS

"Seventh Heaven" is Title of First Play To Be Presented to Public By Stock Company

Miss H. Alice Howell has started rehearsals for "Seventh Heaven," the first production of the University Players this year. This is the thirtieth season that Miss Howell has directed the Players.

The University Players have been established upon the campus since 1915. During their years of existence they have grown into the Temple Stock Company. All plays of the various departments, classes, and organizations were coached by Miss Howell and presented in a city theater before the University Players were organized. At first, only a few plays a year were offered to the public or fellow students. The season's repertoire now consists from seven to ten presentations.

Miss Howell, now known as the director of the Players and head of the Dramatic Department, has been with the University since 1896. She was engaged as an instructor of English at that time but her real interest was in the Dramatic field. She has created and inspired among the students for thirty years an interest in the histrionic art.

SUPPLY OF GREEN CAPS ALMOST GONE

Stock of Seven Hundred and Fifty Fails to Meet Demand. Few Left; More Ordered

Most of the seven hundred and fifty green caps that were ordered for the freshmen through Magee's clothing store by the innocents are now gone and those few who have neglected to purchase one will benefit by getting one at once. The original lot of caps will be entirely sold out by tomorrow noon and those who do not have them will have to wait for the next shipment which will probably be received at Magee's in about a week.

The demand for freshman caps has surpassed the estimation of the innocents and Magee's, who ordered upon the supposition that about six or seven hundred freshmen would be wearing the caps this year. There will probably be two or three hundred without caps upon the official opening of the green cap season, which has been set for October second, the date of the Nebraska-Drake football game. All those who have them will be required to wear them thereafter.

A definite statement from the innocents in regard to the caps and those not having them will be made at an early date. All freshmen are required to have a green card with their names on in order to procure a cap. These cards were sold by the innocents, and those who do not have one may acquire one at Magee's where there is a representative of that society selling them. These cards cost one dollar and the bearer will be given a cap upon presentation of the card.

HUSKERS DRILL AGAINST DRAKE PASS ATTACK

Bulldog Formations Used by Freshmen Nets Them One Touchdown

LINE-UP IS UNCERTAIN Backfield Probably Will Consist of Howell, Presnell, Dailey and Brown

"Watch that pass!" was the slogan of the Huskers yesterday afternoon, as they drilled on the passing game in preparation for any aerial tricks that Coach Solem and his eleven Bulldogs may spring in the Saturday contest.

The freshmen, using the Drake formations of former seasons, took the ball on the twenty-yard line and were allowed numerous downs in their attempts to slip through for a touchdown. Stress was placed on the aerial game and, after several unsuccessful attempts, the first year men slipped past with a neat toss, Miller to Sloan, for their lone touchdown of the practice. They scored two points later in the practice when the Varsity fumbled and were downed back of their line.

Brown, Presnell, Howell, and Holm were in the backfield for "A" team when varsity took the offensive. Blue Howell and Glenn Presnell ploughed their way through the husky frosh linemen for consistent gains, and each scored a touchdown by the pounding method.

Brown at Quarter
Jug Brown made both attempts good for the extra point after touchdown. Judging from the lineups in the recent scrimmages, Brown will probably be at the quarter position when the team goes against Drake.

No definite lineup has as yet been made for the Drake tussle. The linemen, however, with the exception of the ends, have remained about the same, and probably will be Captain Lonnie Stiner and Cliff Ashburn at tackles, Clarence Raish and Dan McMullen at guards, and Ted James at center. Several ends have been alternating in the work-outs. Eward Lee, Joe Weir, Leon Sprague, and Vint Lawson are putting up stiff competition for the positions.

Blue Howell will probably be in at fullback. The two half positions lie between Glenn Presnell, Avar Mandery, Frank Dailey, and Elmer Holm. Dailey made an impressive showing in the Saturday bout with the freshmen, and Presnell demonstrated his line-plunging ability both Saturday and yesterday afternoons. According to comparisons of the weights of the two squads, Drake will have the advantage in the line while Nebraska will have the heavier backfield.

CORNHUSKER STAFF AIMS FOR HIGH GOAL

After First Award in National Annual Contest. Many Changes Made in 1927 Year Book

The goal for which the 1927 Cornhusker is striving, according to the editor and business manager, is the securing of the first award in the national annual contest, sponsored by the Artcrafts Guild, a national association of engravers.

Many departures from previous Cornhuskers will be made in both editorial and business departments, but the new features in the former will be withheld until the book is issued. Some of the changes in the business policy are set forth at this time however.

Although the price of the Cornhusker remains at $4.50, there will be no partial payments as heretofore. That is, the full subscription price must be paid at the time the reservation is made.

"This change," says Ralph Bergsten, business manager, "will give us a definite idea of the number of books actually sold and will obviate the necessity of much expensive bookkeeping. The money saved by this step will be used to provide for more art and color work in the editorial sections of the book."

Cornhusker to Cost $5.00 Later
Another step which has been taken to encourage reservation of Cornhuskers and to favor those students who do reserve books, is that of setting a double price standard. That is, those students who reserve their Cornhuskers will be charged $4.50, the regular price; while those who wait until the book is issued before they buy, will have to pay $5.00. This also insures the management against any possible loss from ordering extra books.

New methods of circulation and bookkeeping will be installed to facilitate efficient handling of the Cornhusker and a number of smaller changes are being made.

WEATHER MAN SAYS GOOD DAY SATURDAY

Government Reports For This Week's Weather Predict Ideal Day For Football Game

According to the report of the United States Weather Bureau at Washington, Nebraska may expect fair weather and an ideal football day next Saturday when the Cornhuskers take the field against the Drake Bulldogs.

The forecast for the week of September 26 to October 3 as received by the Lincoln branch of weather forecasting was fair weather with the temperature a little below or at normal. Normal temperature for this time of year is about sixty-two degrees, Mr. Thomas A. Blair, Meteorologist of the Government station here, said.

No exact prediction of the Saturday condition can be made by this station because of the fact that this would have to include reports from the northern United States stations, Canadian stations, and also Alaskan stations. The Washington office has, however, these reports and so we may rely upon their report and expect an ideal football day next Saturday.

DRAKE FOLLOWERS COMING ON SPECIAL

Huge Delegation To Cheer Bulldogs When They Play Cornhuskers Saturday Afternoon

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 28.—A delegation that will far outnumber the representation Lincoln and the state of Nebraska sent to Des Moines last fall for the Drake-Nebraska football game is expected to accompany the Bulldogs when they invade the Cornhusker State Capitol for the opening gridiron contest of the local season Oct. 2.

A special train carrying Drake followers will be chartered, according to tentative plans.

Students, many of them, will take to the roads, hiking and traveling by automobile to negotiate the distance between the two cities whose contending elevens will meet in a contest that will have an important bearing on the championship of the Missouri Valley conference for the 1926.

Nebraska Wins Five
In the seven contests between Drake and Nebraska, the Bulldogs have suffered decisive defeats but twice. In 1915 and 1916, the Huskers rolled up 48-13 and 53-13 respectively.

But in years before and especially after those dates, things have changed, especially scores. In 1898 Drake was beaten 6 to 5, in 1899 it just again 12 to 6 and in 1900 fell a third time, 8-0. One touchdown decided the difference in Nebraska's favor in 1906.

But in 1925, on a field covered with snow and in the teeth of a raging blizzard, the Bulldogs, wary and ferocious, overcame All-America's Captain Ed Weir and his band of Nebraskan's, 14-0.

Drake Wants to Repeat
Coach Ossie Solem's gang is out to prove to the big, wide world that last year's victory was no accident and the team that invades the Nebraska Capitol this fall will be in there battling to repeat last year's triumph.

END AWGWAN SALES CAMPAIGN TONIGHT

Efficient Work of Salesforce Results in Drive Being Shortened in Length One Day

The sales campaign of the Awgwan, Nebraska's humorous publication, will end tonight instead of Thursday as originally planned.

Louis Turner, business manager of the Awgwan announced that the drive for subscribers had been highly successful, and that he was well pleased with results. Owing to the very efficient work of the salesforce, the Awgwan will be able to terminate its campaign earlier than usual. The work of the organizations and of the individual members has been unusually fine.

The Awgwan is making its last offer today to the student body. The Awgwan is issued eight times a year for a sum of one dollar and a quarter. Every student should be interested in the Awgwan as it is the official court jester of the University of Nebraska.

Nebraska Songs

"THE CORNHUSKER"

Come a-runnin', boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the sky,
How it rolls along
In the Good all song.
For the sons of Nebraski.
Now it's coming near
With a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away,
So, with all our vim,
We are bound to win,
And we're going to win today—

Chorus

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream
The they go through many a battle
Our colors still are seen.
So in contest and in victory
We will wave them for the team

And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker
The old Scarlet and the Cream.

THERE IS NO PLACE LIKE NEBRASKA

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest
Of any old place that you know,
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together,
In all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.
