PRICE 5 CENTS

COUNCIL LEADS AIM FOR LOWER MUSIC CHARGES

Co-operation of Social Organizations Expected to Bring Results, Says Chairman

GROUPS APPEAL FOR AID Societies Find It Impossible to Give Functions; Petition Being Prepared

"Cooperation on the part of social organizations with the Student Council in their effort to lower the prices of orchestras playing at university functions is bound to bring results," declared Glen Buck, chairman of the Council, at the Student Council meeting held Wednesday evening at five o'clock in the Temple Building, Room 204.

"It is our desire," he continued, "that fraternities and sororities join us in our effort. We are requesting that no parties not already scheduled be arranged for at present."

Action on the part of the Student Council came about after a number of social organizations, finding it impossible to give functions appealed to that body for assistance in the matter.

Two hundred and ten dollars is allowed by the Pan-Hellenic Board for two down-town parties during the college year. With orchestras at one hundred to one hundred and twenty-five dollars, ballroom rentals ranging from thirty-five to fifty dollars and numbers of other incidental expenses, it was pointed out to the Council that it would be impossible for many organizations to give their annual parties.

The prices of local orchestras have increased nearly fifty per cent according to the range of prices quoted by the city manager of local orchestras late Wednesday afternoon.

Petitions are being prepared by members of the Council and will be presented to every sorority and fraternity, requesting that they cancel all parties not already scheduled, and asking for their cooperation in the effort to bring down the prices before the opening of the formal season December 3.

General Pershing's Return Arouses Reminiscences of His Nebraska Work

General John J. Pershing, who will address the University at convocation today, was at one time the Commandant of the R. O. T. C. unit at the University of Nebraska. That time was over thirty years ago, however, and then the General had a rank of lieutenant. His popularity at the school was great, and the Military Department improved very much with his coming. One writer says:

"He is the strictest disciplinarian, as proved by the final subsection of the band to discipline. The members had become notorious for their walk. They had baffled the efforts of all previous commandants. No two of them had ever been seen by human eyes to keep step. Their marches were suitable simultaneously to Chang and Tom Thumb. All has changed now."

General Pershing was in charge of the Nebraska battalion (there were only four companies then) for two years, 1891-92. He was also instructor in mathematics. A story is told by an old faculty member of a an instructor in the dramatic department and a well known University Player. Oscar Noeling will be the student manager.

Mr. Ramsay graduated from the Junior College at Kansas City and has received his A. B. degree from the University of Nebraska. During the war he served in the tank corps of the 339th battalion with the rank of first sergeant.

Upon his return to America he spent four years in lyceum work and was connected with chautauqua during the summer months. For two winters of his lyceum work he was engaged with various theatrical productions in New York City. While there he acted with many famous artists such as Lionel Barrymore in "Macbeth," and with Julia Arthur.

The most outstanding contribution made by Mr. Ramsay in his work last year with the Players was his portrayal of the title character in "He Who Gets Slapped." In reviewing the play after the first performance, a critic in a Lincoln press, said of his work, "Ray Ramsay, he picks the thing up with both hands, plants it squarely on his shoulder, and carries it through all four acts. One cannot imagine what the play would be without him."

Football Enthusiasts Asked to Attend Entertainment on Night Of Game

The Missouri students attending the Nebraska game here, October 9, have been invited to attend the Varsity party to be given that evening in the Coliseum.

Three or four hundred men and women are expected to be here for the game according to J. K. Selleck of the Student Athletic office, and every effort is being made by the Varsity party committee and the Student Council to have them remain in Lincoln for the party.

A Missouri orchestra will very likely be used for the party, stated Gregg Watson, joint chairman of the entertainment committee. At present negotiations are being made with a band which has just returned from a tour of Europe. The entertainment and the decorations will be carried out in a "Welcome Missouri" spirit.

The letter which was sent to the Missouri athletic director said in part:

"The several hundred Missouri students who are attending the Nebraska game at Lincoln, October 9, are cordially invited, and urged to attend the Varsity Party which is being held in the Nebraska Coliseum the night of the game."

KEEGAN SPEAKS TO MEDICAL STUDENTS

Over Hundred Attend Banquet Last Evening; Avery, James, Manter And Thompson Guests

The first pre-medical banquet of the year was held last night at the Grand Hotel. Over one hundred were present. Chancellor Samuel Avery, Dean J. Jay Keegan of the College of Medicine, Dean Herman G. James, Dr. H. W. Manter, and Prof. T. J. Thompson were honor guests.

Chancellor Avery in introducing Dean Keegan, the speaker of the evening, reviewed the history of the Nebraska College of Medicine from its original founding in Omaha to its present status as an integral part of the University.

Dean Keegan emphasized the need of broad mindedness on the part of the members of the medical profession. He mentioned in particular the value of the subjects offered in the liberal college and leading to the bachelor's degree. He pointed out that although two years is the minimum requirement for entering the medical college authorities are urging three and four years.

The medical profession, Dean Keegan said, was accepting and should accept its position as a real and vital influence in the community.

Dean James was the first speaker of the evening. He pointed out the fact that medical men are the leading educators in their communities. The pre-medical students have frequent banquets during the year, at which prominent members of the medical profession and members of the Medical college are speakers.

SIXTEEN THOUSAND EXPECTED AT GAME

Prospects for Good Attendance At Opening Football Season With Drake

When the whistle of Referee Hedges opens the grid season of 1926 for the Cornhuskers it is expected that about sixteen thousand fans will be in the Stadium. This number will fill approximately one-half of the arena, but is considered a good attendance for the opening encounter.

The sixteen thousand people will include the three thousand students of the university to whom student tickets were sold and about two hundred Drake enthusiasts who are expected to accompany the Drake university band to the home of the Cornhuskers. About two hundred tickets are being sold each day but the game-day sale will depend a great deal upon the weather next Saturday.

It was announced at the athletic offices that enough ushers have signed up for the game. Two hundred and thirty-seven University cadets will show the people to their places in the Stadium. All of them will be in the uniform of the University P. O. T. C. so there will be no difficulty in finding them. The same system of ushering that has been in force in the past years will be used again this season.

The officials for the contest have been secured by the athletic department and are as follows: referee, G. Hedges, Dartmouth; umpire, Ira Caruthers, Coe; head linesman, Cemo Brown; field judge, Cochrane, Kalamazoo.

STUDENT DIRECTORY TO BE ON SALE SOON

1926-27 Handbook Will Be Out Early This Year; Joe M. Hunt Editing Publication

The student directory for 1926-27 is nearing completion, according to Joe M. Hunt, editor and business manager. It will be out earlier this year, probably by October 15. The advertising has all been turned in and has been sent to the printer.

Lucille Refshauge is compiling the fraternity lists and Leroy Snyder the sorority lists.

It is desired that changes of address or of telephone numbers should be turned in to the Registrar's office before October 7 if they are to get into the directory. Any new organizations should give their names and addresses to Blanche Allen, 1527 M Street.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS TO AID CAMPUS TRAVEL

Automatic Light at Twelfth and R Streets May Be In Operation In a Few Days

The traffic situation at the intersection of Twelfth and R streets, which has for so long been troubling the university authorities, is soon to be remedied, according to the statements of E. E. Duncan, commissioner of streets and public improvements. This remedy will be in the form of one of the automatic traffic signals such as are in operation in the downtown business district of the city.

Early last spring university authorities made the request that such traffic control equipment be installed. At the time they were promised that this would be done. It has not been possible to install the signals earlier because the city did not have the equipment but a few days' time should see the "lights" in operation.

Increased automobile traffic on Twelfth and R streets and the increased number of students attending the University make this traffic signal a necessity.

The committee in charge of the arrangements have done everything in their power to make the reception and convocation a complete success. Governor Adam McMullen, of Nebraska, Mayor Zehrung of the city of Lincoln, and General Poor of Fort Crook, commander of the Seventh Corps Area, will be present at the convocation.

It is expected that the audience will fill the new Coliseum, where the exercises will be held. Arrangements have been made to accommodate even more than the capacity, as amplifiers have been placed outside of the building, in case no room remains.

This will be the second convocation held in the Coliseum. The new facilities hold more attractiveness for the students than under old arrangements. Eleven o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday are traditional hours for convocations at Nebraska. The University officials are certain that the opportunity to meet these distinguished gentlemen is well worth the loss of the class time.

Second year students of six companies of the R. O. T. C. regiment will go to the train to meet the Dawes party. They will arrive at 10:20 via the Northwestern from Chicago. A reception party of prominent Lincoln citizens, with the P. O. T. C. band, the American Legion, the Spanish-American War veterans and Lincoln high school students will escort the vice-president and General Pershing. When they reach the campus, a salute of nineteen guns will be fired. The party will then proceed to the Coliseum for the addresses.

Guests to Be Escorted to Campus—Prof. C. J. Frankforter of the department of chemistry, who is president of the Lancaster County Reserve Officer's association, has asked all members of the association to assemble with the American Legion and march with the Legion in the parade this morning.

Both of the famous visitors are former residents of the state of Nebraska. General Pershing is well known in Lincoln, having been an instructor in the Military Department many years ago. The Pershing Rifles, honorary military society was organized in recognition of his popularity while at Nebraska.

The citizens' committee that has arranged the details of the reception and convocation is composed of Mr. Peterson, Mr. Tomson and Dean Chatburn.
