HUSKERS REST FOR BULLDOG ELEVEN

Team "A" Takes Day Off After Short Signal Workout On Muddy Field

With no injuries in camp and all men in good condition the Huskers are ready for the Bulldog tussle Saturday. A short signal practice was the only workout yesterday afternoon for the first string squad, as the heavy drizzle made the scrimmage disagreeable, and Coach Berg sent "A" team in early.

"B" team ploughed their way through to two touchdowns in a short scrimmage against the freshmen. Wallie Marrow was making consistent gains and scored both of the touchdowns. He hits the line hard and takes advantage of the openings the linemen make. Shaner made a pretty catch from Marrow and raced sixty yards through the freshmen before being overtaken by "Chief" Elkins, the speedy freshman back.

Roy Mandery and Shaner at ends; Gates and Randells, tackles; Whitmore and Zuber, guards; Grow, center; Lindell, quarter; Marrow, Mielenz, and A. Mandery, alternating at the halves; and Oehlrich, fullback was the lineup of the "B" squad.

With the news that the Bulldogs are bringing a line that will average 195 pounds, the Huskers are hoping for a dry field Saturday afternoon. The stadium sod has been in excellent condition this fall and a little sunshine would soon assure solid footing.

country for all who intend to run distances next spring. For several years, all the men who have placed in the distances, were the same men who had shown up well in cross-country the fall before.

The tryouts this week will practically determine the make-up of the cross-country team this fall. Changes will be made only in case those failing to make the team tonight show superior merit later in the season or in case of injuries.

BULLDOGS POINTING TO HUSKER TUSSLE

Drake Coaches Working With Only One Game in View; Special Train To Be Run

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 29.—Coach Ossie Solem's pigskin warriors at Drake have only one contest on their schedule this year, so far as their work and thoughts are concerned from now until the end of the Nebraska battle October 2.

Coaches Ossie Solem and Bill Boelter and their forty-one varsity candidates are pointing for that game alone. They realize that they are to meet one of the toughest teams in the country and are determined to make Nebraska realize that Drake teams fight every minute.

In the nightly skirmishes with the husky freshman squad using Nebraska formations, the varsity has developed rapidly and Coach Solem has his forces ready for the big initial battle. He has a sprinkling of veterans to depend upon, in the effort to deny Nebraska's effort to wipe out the decisive defeat they received in a roaring blizzard here last year.

These are Captain Gail Fry of Kalona, Ia., quarterback; Bill Cook, a star halfback of last year, whose home is Excelsior, Mo.; Charles "Chuck" Everett, the versatile Des Moines boy, Johnny Dustin, fullback and Willard Sutherland, halfback, both two year letter men, in the backfield, and Jeff Robertson, Lyle Ewart, Ray Dalbey and Jim Shearer starting their third year in the line. The Rock Island railroad will run train to the game from Des Moines.

making stops at Atlantic, Avoca, Council Bluffs and Omaha. It will leave Des Moines at about 6 o'clock in the morning, arriving in Lincoln in time for lunch. Returning it will leave Lincoln in the early evening, arriving in Des Moines soon after midnight.

Hawaiian Stalactite Is Sent to Museum

In an interesting set of specimens received by the Museum from Hawaii are some pieces of unusual stalactite, composed of lava and sulphur. The common stalactites found in America are composed of limestone, but these are made of lava and sulphur and are rare. The collection also contains specimens of olivine as it was found bearing basalt in an ancient lava flow. Olivine is frequently used in jewelry and is a greenish colored stone. There is a beach in Hawaii which is made up of this eroded lava flow, and the Museum has a small quantity of the material from this beach. It shows a very large olivine content.

BULLDOGS WORKING HARD FOR HUSKERS

Drake Is Pointing For Nebraska And Players Will Be Aided by Hundreds of Rooters

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 28.—Coach Ossie Solem's Bulldogs, to the last man of forty-one varsity candidates, are training and working today as though their first game with Nebraska, Oct. 2, was to be the greatest battle of all Drake's football history. The Bulldogs realize that they will meet one of the foremost teams in the country, and they are going to give all they have in one of the hardest fought battles of the year.

Of much interest at this time, to Des Moines and Iowa football fans, is the announcement of the Rock Island lines that they will run a special Des Moines to Lincoln train leaving Des Moines at about 6:00 a. m. the day of the game and arriving at Lincoln in time for lunch. The train will leave Lincoln soon after the game, arriving in Des Moines at about 12:30 o'clock. Stops will be made at Atlantic, Avoca, Council Bluffs and Omaha. Hundreds are also planning to make the trip by automobile.

The forensic rules at Kansas University have changed and women are now allowed to form squads to debate with women's teams from other schools.

Ben Simon & Sons

The stereotyped words of the advertising man sound "awfully" hollow, when it comes to talking about the new College Clothes we are showing this fall.

If we said "it was the greatest line we have ever shown" — You'd come back with the rejoinder. "That's what you said last year; or perhaps you'd say "maybe you did not have any good ones last year."

But leaving the superlative adjectives out — and just talking plain United States — Ben Simon & Sons, have so far this fall, over Four Hundred Suits of new Fall Clothes on the campus of the University of Nebraska. These Suits are there by virtue of the choice of the individual wearer. Many of these men shopped all over town before they bought. There certainly must be some merit in the distinctive College Clothes found at this store; and College Men have found it out.

MUST HAVE MORE TRACK MANAGERS

All Sophomores Intending to Work Should Report at Stadium; About Twenty Needed

A second call for sophomore track managers was issued yesterday. All anxious to work as sophomore track managers should report to Robert Dubois or Justin Somerville, the junior track managers, at the stadium shortly.

About twenty sophomore track managers are needed. Only one responded to the first call issued over a week ago. With cross-country practice already actively progressing and a large number of additional track men expected out shortly when Coach Schulte officially starts fall track practice, the junior managers are anxious to have candidates for sophomore track manager lined up immediately.

DISTANCE MEN TO TRY OUT TODAY

All Cross-Country Men Expected to Run; To Pick Team for Dual Meet With Missouri

Cross-country tryouts for the Missouri-Nebraska dual meet will be held this afternoon, starting from the stadium. Coach Schulte is anxious to have all men interested in cross-country work this fall go over the course this afternoon.

Almost twenty participated in the tryouts last week which were won by Captain Hays. Glenn Johnson, varsity half miler finished second last week.
