MYSTICISM IS FORUM TOPIC

a whole that was satisfactory might be made ludicrous when taken apart and analyzed piece by piece, by reason.
That mysticism sometimes runs riot, refusing to abide by reason was admitted by Mr. Sears after pointing out that there was more than one approach to religion.
"As a scientist," he explained, "I am aware of the provisional nature of my evidence. I realize that we can not oppose evidence. But all that evidence does is to explain a thing in terms of something else. That is the difficulty with mysticism. There is nothing else like it by which we can explain it. Because we can't get back to it in that form, to assume that it does not exist, seems to me to be assuming a good deal."
Comparative Religions Studied
Professor Sears then turned to the study of comparative religions, declaring that they were one of the strongest evidences for the justification of religious belief. He pointed out that they vary greatly but that there is a certain consistency running through them all. He closed by calling attention to what he called the miracle of the individual, that despite everything, each individual develops differently from every other. This he had earlier pointed out was one of the chief difficulties of reaching a religious understanding because each individual had come to it in a different way.
Lincoln Frost, Jr., chairman of the World Forum committee, requested all those in attendance to submit suggestions for suitable subjects to be presented at the Forum in an attempt to overcome the objections recently advanced in a Student Opinion article in the Daily Nebraskan.

WALTER CAMP DAY WILL BE OBSERVED

legiate Association last December, it was decided that a $300,000 memorial to Walter Camp be built at Yale University. Half of this sum will be raised by Yale University, the students and the alumni. The Association agreed that the other half would be raised by the other schools in the country. Nebraska will raise her quota by the Kansas Aggies Freshmen-Nebraska Freshmen game. The method which is being used by the Missouri Valley conference is of this nature. Five freshman games have been scheduled this season and the net receipts of these battles will go into the Walter Camp fund. Some schools have added a tax to the regular admission prices of their Varsity games, and others have asked for collections.
The expenses of the Kansas and Nebraska teams, and of officials will be paid out of the gross receipts, the net receipts going to the Walter Camp fund. In this way the finances of the Varsity games will not be bothered and an innovation in the form of Freshman games has been introduced.
Inter-fraternity singing is held each month at the University of Southern Branch. At the meetings, three houses give short sings. This is a tradition of two years and has been popular with the fraternity men.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE TO SPONSOR MIXER

All University students are invited to attend the mixer. Thirty-five cents will be charged to help defray the expenses of the mixer and the net proceeds will be used to help pay the expenses of the Senior Fat Stock Judging Team on its trip to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. At this place it will uphold the standards of the University of Nebraska against the main schools of the United States and Canada.

Daily Nebraskan Inquiring Reporter

Every day he asks a question of different students picked at random on the campus.
Today's Question: Are you in favor of Freshmen wearing green caps?
Where Asked: In Social Science Building.
Max Neumann, A. S., '27, Oakland.
"Freshmen should be proud to wear green caps. It shows the outsider that the wearer is a university student and helps the freshmen become acquainted among themselves."
C. W. Holmquist, Bizad, '28, Oakland.
"I am in favor of the green caps. The frosh should wear them, for it helps them stick together."
W. Strand, '30, A. S., Polk.
"The caps are all right. They help us recognize our classmates when we see them on the campus."
G. A. Darlington, '29, Pre Med, Ne-leigh.
"I am in favor of them. They help create a friendly feeling among the freshmen and besides, they furnish the upperclassmen a little amusement."
James Wood, '29, A. S., Lincoln.
"I can't see a single good feature

Take a tip from the triple-threat man
HE keeps them guessing, does the back, because when he gets the ball he can pass, kick or run—a triple threat.
Men preparing for industry or commerce can put themselves in an equally strategic position. It all gets back to the simple idea of being broad and versatile.
An engineer should be well up on his specialty, of course, but he should also keep an open mind for questions of finance, law and public relations—if he aspires to a high place in the councils of his organization.
Such "all-aroundness" typifies in particular men who have brought the electrical communication industry to what it is today, and who will carry it to still greater development in the years to come.
