Tassels Organized to Promote Nebraska Spirit Among Women

The Tassels, women's pep organization, was organized in the fall of 1923 by Mortar Board. This honorary organization for senior women felt that there was a need on the campus for an organization to promote school spirit among the women of the school.

The membership was first chosen, one from each sorority, and an equal number of non-sorority members. An effort is made to maintain this proportion although membership is not limited in any way except that there may be not less than twenty-five and not more than sixty members of the organization. This year there are about thirty women on the campus who belong.

They sit together at football games to help with the cheering, attend the rallies as an organization, and, since the Coliseum has been in use, usher at basketball games. Each year they have served at the May morning breakfast, and in 1926 this event took on a gipsy atmosphere because of the efforts of the Tassels who were dressed in gipsy costume.

The Tassels made their first appearance on University night of 1923 when they were introduced in costume as an organization. Later that fall they sponsored a tea for all University women. In the spring of 1924 they appeared at one of the local theaters for a week, featuring Harriette Cruise and a chorus.

It was in the fall of 1924 that the Tassels began their real work as a pep organization, putting on stunts at the football games and attending the rallies as an organization. Since then they have assisted the Corn Cobs with stunts at the games although they have not staged any themselves. They accompanied the team to Kansas, paying a part of their own expenses.

Tassels have always been sponsored by Mortar Board. Ruth Small and Ruth Miller were chosen as the first sponsors of the organization. Neva Jones was appointed the sponsor for 1924; Frances McChesney was sponsor for 1925, and Ruth Ann Coddington and Helen Aach are this year's sponsors. In 1925 Miss Dorothy Simpson was chosen as faculty advisor, and she holds this place for 1926.

Corn Cobs Keep Nebraska Spirit Soaring During Athletic Season

By Fritz Daly
To the Corn Cobs of Pi Epsilon Pi, men's national pep organization, falls the lot of instilling and preserving the far-famed Cornhusker spirit. At rallies, on the campus, between classes—they are always present—cheering, shouting, trying to stir up that necessary enthusiasm.

Being deprived of their stunt between halves of the games this season, an important part of their purpose was taken away, and their work the past season was not as marked as in previous years. Their only entertainment this year was put on between halves of the Kansas Aggie game, but rain hampered it to such a great extent that it perhaps was not fully appreciated as it might have been had the weather been favorable.

Their important work this year consisted in the rallies and the selling of the official programs at the games. Before each rally, every sorority house on the campus was visited as a "starter" to the evening mass meeting. Members of the organization furnished entertainment for the co-eds, followed with a song and "one big one for the team." By the time that the rounds of the houses was completed it was time for the rally to start, and here the Corn Cobs continued their work.

Sell Programs
A total of 18,000 programs, issued by the University, were sold at the five games this year. A staff of forty men handled the selling of programs. This year program sales exceeded those of former seasons a great deal.

"The Corn Cobs will please appear in full uniform" was a notice found in the columns of The Daily Nebraskan during the past season a great deal, and when the team left or when the team came home, the Corn Cobs were there to give them a rousing cheer. They led the rallies, they worked hard to keep that renowned spirit and when lots of enthusiasm was needed, the Corn Cobs provided it.

Make Kansas Trip
From the funds received for selling programs the whole organization made the trip to Kansas with the team. Here they made their first appearance on the field with a stunt, and although minus some of the previously intended property, it was a decided success.

If the stunt between halves of the games is permanently taken away, their importance as a campus organization is lowered. When they first made their appearance on the campus several years ago, they were set up as an organization, mainly for the providing of entertainment between halves of the games.

Nevertheless they will continue their work as "pep instigators" through the athletic seasons, and with the Tassels will keep the Nebraska spirit aflame.

Husker Football Games Broadcast Over KFAB Bring Many Telegrams

Thousands of people in all parts of the United States listen in on the Nebraska Buick Radio Broadcasting station in broadcasting play by play reports of all the games played by the University of Nebraska football team. Hundreds of telegrams coming from all parts of this continent and some parts of other continents are received by this station thus assuring the broadcasters that their efforts are being rewarded. The members of this wonderful, invisible audience may indeed bite their lips or raise themselves in their chairs when Bobbie Stephens returns a punt for 20 yards or even when the opponents are rushing toward the last chalk line that marks defeat or victory for the favorite team. These things they can picture without even leaving their own homes.

Back home the old grocery store or barber shop may be crowded with the old and young lustily cheering for the team representing the school of their state, and so broadcasting of these games helps to bring the state institution into the very homes of the out-stater.

Not only are the home game reports sent out over the country but when the team invades foreign soil, the station immediately leases a telegraph wire leading directly from the stadium to the Nebraska Buick studio.

Buick Company
This studio occupies the greater portion of the mazzanine floor of the Nebraska Buick Company building, and here the broadcasting of the out-of-town games takes place. While in the case of games played at home there is a temporary pick-up station installed at the stadium.

Last year the radio audience listened to the jests and announcements of Monte Munn, of sport fame, who announced all games of the 1925 season, but this year Monte was heading the call of the sports himself thus leaving his brother Wade to do the broadcasting. KFAB, as this station is known to the fans has Gayle Grubb as its regular announcer.

During the Nebraska-Washington game played at Seattle there were over a hundred telegrams sent through KFAB to Captain Lonnie Stiner of the Nebraska team paying compliments, and cheering the Nebraska captain and his followers, especially the men playing their last game on that day.

Wisconsin University Receives Fund Of $45,000 From German Seminary

The University of Wisconsin Regents has just accepted a gift of $9,000 annually for five years from the National Teachers' Seminary of Milwaukee to be used in the enlargement of courses for the training of teachers of German.

The gift virtually represents the reestablishment at the university of one of the most famous American normal schools for the training of teachers of German. The National Teachers' Seminary is the former German-American National Teachers' Seminary which was obliged to close during the World War because of the falling off of demand for teachers of German, according to Prof. A. R. Hohlfeld of the university German department.

After the war it was found impossible to reopen the seminary. The board of directors decided this fall to give the income from the seminary's $250,000 endowment to the University of Wisconsin for the next five years with the stipulation that the money was to be used to train teachers of German. At the end of the five-year period the endowment may be turned over to the university.

The income from the seminary endowment will be used to pay the salary of Prof. Max Briebsch, former head of the seminary, who will take charge of classes in training of German teachers, to establish scholarships and fellowships and to revive the monthly journal for teachers formerly published by the Milwaukee school, "Monatsheft fuer Deutsche Sprache unde Paedagogik." The magazine has been published of recent years as an annual. Professor Griebesch and Prof. E. C. Roedder of the university German department will be the editors of the magazine.

One scholarship of $1,000 for the use of a graduate student in German who wishes to study in Germany, and several minor scholarships and fellowships are planned.

Best in any class

To be absolutely truthful, we must admit a Wahl Pen will not get up and make your 8 o'clocks for you. It won't answer the roll call, or take notes all by itself.

But it will go along with you to any class you have, and do a better writing job than any other fountain pen you've ever seen. Hour after hour, it will glide across the pages with an ease that rests your wrist and leaves your mind free to consider what you're writing.

Its iridium-tipped point of solid gold will stand up to the action when the "prof." is talking fast and you just have to "jab 'em down," or it will roll the rounded out sentences when you're building a theme for somebody else to read.

This most serviceable and handsome pen comes in a wide variety of materials and styles. In slim, symmetrical cylinders of solid gold or sterling silver, gold-filled or silver-filled, or in red, black, or mottled rubber. For point, you can choose exactly the Wahl nib that suits your writing style: stiff or flexible, fine, medium, stub, oblique, or Wahl Standard Signature.

And, oh, yes! A Wahlful of ink is a bookful of words, whether you're passing an exam or writing out your alibi. Fill up a new one at the Wahl Pen and Eversharp counter and see if it isn't so.
