

DEBATE TEAMS ARGUE PROBLEM OF FARM RELIEF

Nebraska and Kansas Aggie Groups Discuss McNary-Haugen Bill

OPEN FORUM IS LIVELY

Rapid-fire Arguments Draw Much Interest; Audience Divided on Question

Farm relief and the McNary-Haugen bill in particular were critically and intensely analyzed and discussed for two and a half hours Saturday afternoon when debaters representing the University of Nebraska and Kansas State Agricultural College clashed in Nebraska's opening debate on the question, "Resolved: That the essentials of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill should be enacted into Federal law."

Within twenty-four hours after President Coolidge had vetoed the McNary-Haugen bill, Charles B. Stewart, secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, who presided, opened the debate. Rapid-fire arguments, slashing rebuttals, swift jabs in refutation which drew laughter from the audience, characterized the debate which was as informative as it was timely.

Agricultural Position Serious

The position of American agriculture, was pointed out by David Fellman, who opened the debate for Nebraska and the affirmative, as being very serious. He called attention to the low purchasing power of farm products, the material increase in farm indebtedness, and the great number of bank failures, in explaining the necessity of some remedy for American agriculture.

TRACK SQUAD PLACES TWO IN ILLINI RELAYS

Johnson Takes Second in 1000 Yard Run; Dailey Second in 300-Yard Sprint

RELAY TEAM TAKES FIFTH

Champaign, Illinois, Feb. 26.—(Special to The Daily Nebraskan)—Although failing to take a first place in the tenth Illinois Indoor Relays held here this afternoon and evening, two Nebraska runners succeeded in placing second to last year's winners who repeated today.

Glen Johnson put up a great fight in the 1000 yard run but lost out to Phillips of Butler University, victor in the same race last year. Frank Dailey made a vain effort to avenge the defeat of Roland Locke, Nebraska comet, by Alderman, Michigan star, in the 300 yard dash here last year. The fleet Maroon again led the field but Dailey flashed across the tape second.

Nebraska's mile relay team composed of Dailey, Tappan, Johnson and Davenport placed fourth in their section, giving them fifth in final standings on time basis. Krause, sophomore hurdler, got into the finals of the low hurdles against the best hurdlers in the Middle West but failed to place. Captain Stephens failed to place in the 75-yard dash after getting into the finals.

Senior-Frosh Game Ends in 24-to-24 Tie

The championship bear refused good bait at the Freshman-Senior game of the Women's basketball tourney Friday afternoon and consequently neither team led him away. The final record showed a 24-24 tie, and because girls' rules do not allow an extra period for playing off ties it must stand.

The game was thrilling and fast all the way through. The last minute of play, however, made the rest of the activity look like positive inertia. It had so much velocity that the time keeper was seen to hold the stop watch to her ear in order to determine whether it was still grinding out seconds, so many events were being crowded between ticks.

It all started when West, senior forward, caked the shot that brought the moult from behind the freshmen's heels. She immediately scored another two-points on top of that. The freshmen snagged two points for themselves after a quick pass down the floor. The seniors took the lead again with a pretty close-in shot. With the score standing 24-22 in favor of the Seniors and only five seconds to play the youngsters struggled loose and matched them with a successful try for goal. The timers whistle ended the excitement.

The starting lineup: Freshman forward West, center Safford, Dem center Zorbaugh, Dem center Kidwell, Shick guard Fredrickson, Hall

This year only those teams are eligible which have won forty per cent or more of their regular scheduled games. Tournament games and games with non-members of the Nebraska High School Athletic Association are not considered regularly scheduled games and do not count for entrance requirements.

The Phi Sigma Kappa, interfraternity champions of the University of Nebraska won from the Phi Chis, champions of the Medical college at Omaha in the Coliseum Friday evening, 21 to 14. This was the final round in the championship tourney and the first defeat for the Omaha Medics. The Phi Sigs are now undisputed champions of the entire university. The score at the end of the first half found the Omaha Greeks trailing 11 to 9.

Harvey Grace was the high scorer of the game snagging four tallies from the field and counting once from the free throw line, while King his running mate, was close behind with three baskets and a free one. Calvert was the mainstay of the Phi Chis and was playing a fast floor game with the assistance of Bill Hama, rangy center for the Medics. (Continued on Page Three.)

PROM TICKETS GO ON SALE TOMORROW

Attendance Open to All Students; Tracy Brown and Beck's Will Provide Music

Tickets for the Junior-Senior Prom which will be held March 18, will go on sale Monday morning, and can be obtained from representatives in the various fraternities. The admission price is $2.50.

Music for the dancing will be furnished by two well-known orchestras, Tracy Brown and his Oklahomans, and Beck's. Positions on the stage will be eliminated and both orchestras placed directly on the floor. They will play continuously and will furnish clever dancing skits from their advantageous positions.

A smaller dance space has been made by the decorating scheme which will do away with objections to the large floor. Before this time, one orchestra lacked volume enough to be heard at all parts of the hall. With two orchestras and a smaller space this objection will be overcome.

Several entertaining numbers are to be given between dances. These will be announced later. Special prom favors have already been arranged. Attendance is not to be limited to juniors and seniors. The floor space permits under-graduates to attend also.

A successful Prom this year will place it on the University calendar on ensuing years. The Prom has not been held for the last few seasons but the juniors hope to make it an important social function of the school life.

AG CLUB DISCUSSES SEMESTER PLANS

Organization Starts Move to Fuse Several Departmental Clubs into One "Ag Club"

Emil Glaser, '27, was chosen to meet with representatives of the departmental clubs of the college to formulate plans whereby all the clubs could function as part of Ag Club. It was the opinion of the meeting that Ag Club should be the major organization among the ags, the other clubs functioning as departments.

The matter of the award of judging team medals was considered, but owing to lack of funds, no definite plans were made. It was voted to award medals to the meat judging team, which is a new activity this year. It was also decided to award medals to the alternates of the teams.

PLAN FEATURE FOR SPRING HOP

Second Semester Sponsors Will be Announced At Party

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETE

Second semester sponsors of military organizations are to be announced and formally presented at the first annual Spring Hop, a party to be given by Pershing Rifles, on the evening of March 12. The sponsors of the first semester will resign their positions, and a new regimental sponsor, three battalion sponsors, thirteen company sponsors, and a Pershing Rifle sponsor will officially take office at the Spring Hop. The honorary colonel will probably be present to lead the activities of the military escorts.

Plans for the dance are rapidly nearing completion according to the committee in charge. The Scottish Rite Temple ball room is to be elaborately decorated by an experienced man. The decorations will be in blue and white, the Pershing Rifle colors.

Deans of the various colleges of the University and their wives, rather than faculty members of the military department alone, are being invited to attend the party as chaperones, which fact, the committee expects, will give to the occasion a most democratic air.

Tickets for the Spring Hop are distributed among the members of Pershing Rifles, and are being sold by them at $1.50. Reports from early sales indicate that tickets are much in demand, which means that the party will be attended by a good crowd.

KANSAS TAKES 34-TO-25 GAME FROM NEBRASKA

Late Rally Proves Disastrous To Huskers; Jayhawks Lead Valley

SCORE TIED AT HALF

Smaha and Page Star in Final Home Game; Peterson Leads Visitors

By Jack Elliott

The Kansas Jayhawks were successful in smothering every hope the Cornhusker basketball team had to win the Missouri Valley cage title when they took the long end of the count in the Coliseum last evening 34 to 25. The score at the end of the first half was tied 14 to 14.

The two ancient basketball rivals were playing an even terms during the first period and half way through the second half, but the last ten minutes of play, the Husker defense slackened and the Jayhawk offense started on a rampage of baskets that ended disastrously for the Nebraskans. This game and the Missouri loss at the hands of the Oklahoma Sooners gives the Kansas team undoubted first place in the hectic Missouri Valley cage race. The largest crowd of the season, packed the Coliseum for the big game.
