

SCHULTE PLANS ON AGGIE MEET

Use Indoor Track Monday to Prepare for Contest Here Saturday

ILLINOIS SHOWING GOOD

Varsity track men played around on the stadium indoor track Monday afternoon while novices, freshmen, and tri-color men competed in the second tri-color meet of the season. Henry F. Schulte, head track coach, expressed himself as well pleased with the showing of the team at the Illinois Relays and forecasted a lively meet with Kansas Aggies here Saturday.

Taking on Kansas Aggies Saturday afternoon increases the list of Husker meets for the season to fourteen, the largest number ever scheduled. It is being put on as a conditioner for the Missouri Valley Indoor track meet to be held at Des Moines, March 11 and 12. The strength of the Kaggie team is not very well known but some rare contests are expected in the distances and hurdles.

Feature Race
Moody of Kaggies and Johnson of the Cornhuskers should stage the feature race Saturday in the half mile. Moody won the half in the Valley indoor last year. Johnson has been clipping the distance in close to two minutes this year and will have the added advantage of being used to the bad curves on the stadium indoor track. In the mile, Axtell of Kaggies and Chadderdon and Hays of Nebraska should put up a real race. McGrath of Kaggies is a two miler of no mean ability who will be faced by a trio of coming two milers in McCartney, Cumings and Frink.

In the hurdles, Nebraska is depending on Krause, sophomore hurdler, who surprised the fans by beating the Valley's best at the K. C. A. C. indoor meet. Kaggies have Fairchild, one of the best hurdlers in the Valley last year to pit against him. Strength of the Kansans in the sprints and field events is not known.

Cornhuskers Make Good Showing
Although the number of points made was not high, the Cornhuskers showing at Campaign last Saturday was a very creditable performance. Coach Schulte said Stephens would have placed first or second in the broad jump if he had kept him out of the sprints. The coach wanted to test Stephens' ability against a classy field of sprinters and the Hastings led succeeded in getting into the finals. After running three 75-yard dashes, he had to broad jump immediately, which was a little too much for him. After being laid up for several weeks with tonsillitis, Frank Wirsig, got into his season's first competition but was a little weak. He succeeded in making 12 feet, despite his weakened condition. Coach Schulte states that he feels that if Wirsig had been in shape that he would have broken the carnival pole vault record.

Krause Placed
Contrary to the special report received by the Nebraskan and published Sunday, Krause placed in the low hurdles. He took third in the low barriers but had a little hard luck in the highs, getting set on the start and then losing his step to knock down three out of the six which disqualified him.

Glen Johnson ran another great race in the 1000 yards. He drew one of the rear positions and had trouble getting out. Phillips of Butler University, the man who beat him, won the same event at the Relays last year also. The mile relay team, composed of Johnson, Tappan, Daily, and Davenport, only finished fifth but their time was nearly a second and a half better than they made at the Kansas City meet. Dalley ran a nice race against Alderman of Michigan to place second in the 300 yard dash.

IN THE VALLEY

By JACK ELLIOTT

The old belief that it doesn't work out to pay a man to come to school for his athletic ability was proved true again when John Kuck, one of the greatest weight men of the nation dropped out of school at the Kansas State Teacher's College at Emporia.

Kuck, while still in high school, bettered the Missouri Valley record in the shot put in an exhibition in the Valley meet two years ago. He talked of coming to Nebraska but wouldn't come unless he was guaranteed a living. Nebraska has always gone on the theory that if a man doesn't want to come to Nebraska of his own accord and take the chance of making his way through college in competition with hundreds of others, then he had better stay away.

So Kuck went to the Emporia Teachers. Reports are that he decided that there he should be given scholastic credit on his track ability but now the star weight man of the country is out of school. He was told that he wasn't needed at the Kansas school on account of his poor scholastic showing. Sometimes too rabid fans would like to offer men their way through school, but in the long run it doesn't pay, either for the athlete or for the school.

With eleven letter-men as a nucleus for his 1927 track squad, Coach Henry Schulte is developing another team at the University of Nebraska that will make a strong bid for honors in the annual Missouri-Valley conference meet on May 20 and 21. The loss through graduation of Roland Locke and Ed Weir has been somewhat diminished by outstanding performances of sophomores in recent indoor meets and workouts.

A practically new Iowa State line-up will step on the Cyclone field next fall, according to an inventory, taken by Coach Dopey Workman, of the football material available for spring grid practice which starts on March 24.

Drake, the Nebraska foe for Saturday at Des Moines, was completely smothered by the Kansas Aggie Wildcats last week. The final score was 29 to 10 for the basketekers from Kansas. Stradski, Aggie center, was the high scorer of the game, garnering five baskets from the field.

It looks as if the Kansas Jayhawk crew have the Missouri Valley championship for 1927 cinched. With two remaining games on their schedule and doped to win both, the men of "Phog" Allen should take their sixth straight Valley basketball title. One more win for the Kansas team is all that is necessary for the title. If Missouri goes down to defeat at Lawrence Wednesday, it will be a three cornered tie for second place; Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Missouri.

Nebraska has small chances to win the title but it does possess one of the leading scorers in the Valley, and before the season is over the Husker captain may lead the Valley. "Lefty" Byers, Kansas Aggie ace, is leading the scorers at present but has one game left to play in, while Captain Clark Smaha has two conference games. Smaha has run up a total of 103 points in ten games, or an average of over ten points a game. Ted Page has increased his percentage in the scoring column and is in eighth place with a total of 76 points in ten games. The individual scoring (including games of Feb. 26):

KAPPA SIGS BASILY DEFEAT ACACIA FIVE

Post-tourney Game Places Winner In Tie for Second Place In Basket Race

The Kappa Sigs sluffed through to an easy victory over the Acacias, 25 to 10, in a post-tourney basketball game yesterday afternoon in the coliseum. The first half was marked with ragged passing and inability of the Kappa Sigs to hit the hoop.

The first half ended in a five to five tie but Paulsen and Kronkright started the second half by quickly snagging two baskets. Kronkright led the scoring for the winners with four baskets from the field, while Castleman carried the brunt of the attack for the losers, with five points.

Roper played a good game at guard and also slipped in for two nice tip-in shots. Storms was guarded closely and was only able to register once.

The victory placed Kappa Sigma in a tie for second place with the Sig Eps. Second honors will be decided Wednesday when the two teams meet.

INDOOR BASEBALL FOR CO-EDS

All Women Urged to Sign Up; Practice Starts Today

All co-ed baseball fans are urged to come to the front entrance of the Armory and sign the W. A. A. poster for indoor baseball practices. Instruction and playing periods start at 4 o'clock today on the big gymnasium floor. Miss Wheeler will coach. The field has been marked and the equipment is all in shape. No gloves are used by the fielders and base men because the ball is relatively soft and cannot be batted with a great deal of impetus. With the exception of the pitching regulations the rules governing the indoor game are practically the same as those used in league ball. Ten practices are necessary for eligibility for tournament competition which is made up of inter-class games at the close of the practice season. Practices for outdoor base ball will be started immediately after the indoor season closes.

Practice Hours

Practices will be held at five o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Monday is designated as Freshman night, Wednesday Sophomore night and Friday as Junior-Senior night. Practices on Tuesdays and Thursdays are general and are arranged for four o'clock. Those signing up should select their own class night and one general practice night if possible. Any question concerning this sport may be asked of Clara Schuebel, manager.

AG MIXER AIDS IN DEFRAUDING EXPENSES

An all-university mixer was held in the student activities building at the college of agriculture Friday evening under the auspices of the Varsity Dairy club. The money raised will be used by the club to help defray the expenses of the senior and junior dairy judging teams which have represented the University of Nebraska at the country's leading dairy shows.

"Long enough to reach the ground"

LINCOLN'S famous answer to the question "How long should a man's legs be?" suggests a similar answer to the question "How large should an industrial organization be?"

Large enough to do its job, of course, which simply means that there's need in this country of ours for both small and big businesses and both can prosper.

The job of providing electrical communication for the country calls for a vast organization backed by vast resources. And that's what the Bell System is.

Here great size has advantages in greater operating efficiency through which its customers benefit, and advantages to those engaged in the industry who find here a wide range of interesting work offering opportunity to men of varied talent.
