PLAYERS GIVE THE EASY MARK THIS WEEK END

Play Is A Comedy Drama of Small Town Life; To Be At Temple

TICKETS ON SALE NOW

Harold Felton and Betty Coolidge Will Play The Leading Parts

"The Easy Mark," comedy drama of life in the middle west, by Jack Larrrie, will be presented by the University Players Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings, at the Temple and Saturday afternoons, at the Temple and Saturday afternoons, at 3 o'clock and 2:30 o'clock, respectively. The play, a quick-moving comedy, ran a solid season at the Thirty-Ninth Street theater, in New York City.

Harold Felton will portray Sam Crane, the small town dreamer with big town ambitions. Betty Coolidge, as Mary Jordan, the pretty school teacher, and center of Sam's ambitious dreams, together with Arvella Hansen, and Hattie Crane, his sister, played by Margaret Dunlap are the reasons for the big business plans of the town dreamer.

Comedy Is Promised

Jack Roach, as Charley Hatfield, the town's leading citizen, and rival of Sam for the hand of Mary Jordan promises some excellent comedy situations, along with Ray E. Ramsay, in the role of old Amos, a veterinary thrown out of business by the popularity of Henry Ford's flivvers. Harold Sumption, Thad Cone, Howard Cattle, and Ernie Lundgren are additional members of the cast.

The ups and downs of Sam's experiences in an oil deal he is lured into by a pair of smooth villains, the unexpected "gushing" of the apparently worthless well, piles up an exciting and laughable climax which is full of thrilling situations and many laughs. The audience is carried along in sympathy with the blunders of Sam, and is captured by his unflinching good humor.

It is full of excellent comedy tangles and humorous slants, and offers a wide appeal to all in its simple, yet skillful delineation of the fortunes and joys of small town people, their joys and sorrows. It is a comedy, but it is done in an intensely human manner.

Tickets are one dollar for evening performances, and seventy-five cents for matinees. They are on sale at the Ross P. Curtice Co.

Junior-Senior Prom is Forgotten Tradition at Nebraska University

Event Will Be Instituted at Nebraska Again After a Five Year's Absence Due to Deficit; All Classes Will Be Admitted.

The Junior-Senior Prom is quite a Nebraska tradition, according to Dean Amanda Heppner. At first the affair was given by the junior class members for the seniors. The members would meet for dinner and afterward would hold the dance; this was the outstanding social event of the season. Alumni would return for the occasion, and the eighty tickets that were sold were spoken for days ahead.

The Daily Nebraskan for Wednesday January 25, 1911, announces the arrangements for the party of that year. It says:

"As stated by the chairman of the prom, the committee is working with a view to making the formal a new and different type than its predecessors. A novel feature of the 1911 prom will be the two orchestras to (Continued on Page Three.)

ELEPHANT GROUP ONE OF GREATEST

Morrill Hall Collection Praised by Barbour; Museum Will Rival Greatest

The collection of prehistoric elephants which is now at Morrill Hall is the most famous in America and is regarded by scientists as one of the most complete in the world, said Professor Barbour, head of the university geology department, in his lecture on Morrill Hall at the Rotary Club luncheon in the Lincoln hotel Tuesday noon. $15,000 was spent in mounting a group of three elephants belonging to this collection.

Professor Barbour stated that the museum in Morrill Hall, when completely finished, will be one of the show places of the state and midwest. He explained the prehistoric fossils found in the state and told of the importance they would play in the decoration of the museum. The interior of Morrill Hall will be decorated with panels of early man and contemporary animals.

The state owes a great debt to Charles H. Morrill who made possible by donation and research the new museum. Acting Chancellor E. A. Burnett also praised the work of Mr. Morrill.

Daily Nebraskan Inquiring Reporter

Every day he asks a question from different students picked at random on the campus.

Today's Question: What do you think of the proposed Freshman Week plan which was printed in The Daily Nebraskan yesterday? One week before students actually start to school will be given to lectures and excursions over the campus to acquaint the new student with his new work.

Virginia Dougall, '27, Lincoln, Teachers.

"I think it would be a good idea. It's hard for people to get started the first week with registering and rushing."

Bob Stephens, '27, University Place, Engineers.

"In a way it would be a pretty good thing. The students would have some idea of what they were getting into."

Edwin Potter, '29, Douglas, Wyo., Arts and Science.

"It seems to be worked out other places. It ought to be pretty good here. When freshmen start out they don't know anything about it."

Genevieve Calhoun, '30, Cambridge, Teachers.

"I suppose it would be all right. It would be beneficial to them."

Gertrude Welch, '30, Omaha, Arts and Science.

"I think it would be a very good idea because freshmen would have an idea what college life is like. They could get located before they settled down."

Leonard Waters, '30, Jackson, Arts and Science.

"I think we should have it."

Blossom Hilton, '27, Lincoln, Teachers.

"I think they can find out about it by being around here and going to classes."

Mable Matteson, '27, Lincoln, Teachers.

"I think it would be a bad idea."

Lowell F. Beer, '27, Western, Arts and Science.

"I believe it would be a very good idea. The majority do not know much about it."

Linn K. Twinem, '29, North Platte, Arts and Science.

"I think it would be an excellent means by which freshmen might become better acquainted with school before the busy days of sorority and fraternity rushing."

DR. RICE COMES FOR ADDRESSES

Father of Nebraska Professor Brought Here by Church Workers' Federation

WILL BE HERE THREE DAYS

Dr. John A. Rice of Tulsa, Okla., father of Prof. J. A. Rice, of the Classics Department of the University, will be on the campus Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of next week for a series of meetings and addresses. He is an eminent clergyman, now pastor of a Methodist church in Tulsa, and a well known scholar, especially in the realm of the Old Testament. He formerly held a chair as professor of the Bible in the Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas. Dr. Rice is being brought to the campus by the Federation of Church Workers, and the United Religious Campus Council has voted to cooperate in planning for the meetings.

Will Talk at Vespers

According to tentative plans Dr. Rice will speak at Vespers Tuesday at five, and at a round table discussion at seven that evening. Wednesday he will speak at World Forum at noon, will give a talk, followed by a discussion, at four and at seven perhaps another address will be given. He will speak at a Convocation at eleven Thursday, at the Ag College Forum at noon, at four a talk and discussion will be held, and the series of meetings will probably close with a dinner that evening.

It is expected that Dr. Rice will be able to help students in solving problems of our social order, as well as aiding them to think of the Bible in the right way, and to interpret it properly so that real spiritual help may be secured. He will probably deal with the application of its teachings to modern life and problems.

Kansas Director Will Make Academic Report

Dr. F. C. Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas, has addressed a letter to members of the faculty asking their co-operation by the making of reports at the end of five weeks on the academic progress of students who are also members of athletic teams, to the end that athletes who are not making the progress they should in their studies may be assisted by persons who are interested in their maintaining "eligibility" by keeping up their grades.

Grace Coppock Staff Tells Why Her Work Should Continue at Nebraska

"Up to this time to see a soldier was like a rat seeing a cat. You were so afraid you couldn't run fast. We are not most exalted sirs any more. We are your soldier friends." This is the beginning of a handbill of the new revolutionary government in China, and the "Get Together" of the soldiers and the people. Extracts from three months of handbills were translated by members of the Y. W. C. A. staff and sent to the American office in New York. These were relayed to the Grace Coppock Staff by Miss Agatha Harrison to help the staff to understand more about China and why the Nebraska women should continue the memorial to Grace Coppock.

The Grace Coppock Memorial Fund was established in memory of Grace Coppock who graduated from Nebraska in 1905. She was Y. W. C. A. National Executive in China, and she died in 1921, "the best loved in China." The fund was first established to pay Grace Coppock's salary and now goes to support the work she founded in China.

There is a general consensus of opinion that the work of Y. W. C. A. secretaries in China has practically come to a halt but such is not the case. From a general secretary in China come these words of encouragement:

"You seem to think these days are hard and sad. Far from it. I've never had a happier year in China in spite of it all. One reason: It is a very good thing it seems to have fewer outward activities. It gives us more time for personal contacts and I believe that this means more than a lot of meetings and busy all too full days. Our work has not been in vain when we can stand together."

"In spite of all the difficulties Christian schools and other institutions have been facing, as yet our Y. W. C. A. has been left quiet (Continued on Page Three.)

"My Purpose in Life," will be the subject of Rev. J. D. M. Buckner's address, to be delivered at the World Forum luncheon at noon today at the Grand Hotel. Rev. Buckner, who was former pastor of the Methodist church at Aurora, Neb., residing now in Lincoln, is very well known as a lecturer and his discussion promises to be very interesting.

He is a Nebraska graduate and father of Emory Buckner, present District Attorney of New York and famous as one of the country's leading lawyers. Mr. Buckner has addressed University student gatherings before and his ability as a talker is very well known. The Forum committee is considered very fortunate in securing him to address the weekly meeting and all students are urged to attend.

Tickets for the luncheon can be secured either at the Y. M. C. A. office or from members of the Forum Committee.

JOE HUNT TALKS AT VESPERS TUESDAY

Student Speaks on "What Christ Means to Our Lives" in Pre-Lenten Student Meeting

"Religion is the searching of human personalities for that which they can understand and comprehend," said Joe Hunt in his speech on "What Christ Means to Our Lives" at the vespers service yesterday evening. In connection with his talk Mr. Hunt gave his own conception of God.

"God seems to me," he said, "like the waves of ether that are given off from the central radio station. In that way we can all tune in on the spirit of the universe. Some do this by means of music, others prayer, and still others by study."

Mr. Hunt cited an incident which occurred to Rev. G. A. Studdert Kennedy, a speaker at the Milwaukee Conference, and who was known during the war as "Woodbine Willie." This young man was sent on a dangerous mission to the German lines at dusk. On his way he stumbled over a body and flashed his light on it. The glare revealed the body of a dead German, a shell hole through his body and piece of his head shot (Continued on Page Two.)

Acacia Makes Move Toward Limiting Number of Parties For Next Season

VARSITY DANCE TO BE SATURDAY

St. Patrick's Day Motif To Be Carried Out, Committee Announces

TICKET SALE THURSDAY

Tickets for the St. Patrick's Varsity party are being placed in each fraternity house today by the general Varsity dance committee. A man in each fraternity house has been selected to handle the admissions for that house and to represent the committee in the fraternity.

The advance ticket sale will start Thursday morning, with the price the same as general admission at the door. Tickets will be checked in Saturday.

Shamrock To Be Used

The party will be held in the Coliseum, with the Troubadours' orchestra furnishing the music. The decorative motif will be the shamrock; green punch will be served during the evening, from punch booths decorated with shamrocks.

Entertainment has not yet been definitely planned. The committee in charge is considering omitting entertainment from the party program as it feels doubtful whether or not it adds anything to the evening.

The orchestra stand will be placed in the middle of the west side of the room, where it has stood in previous dances. The row of chairs, usually around the outside of the concourse will be moved to the edge of the floor and a special corner is being provided for the chaperones to be furnished with furniture from the trophy room on the second floor.

NEBRASKA MATMEN PERFORM THURSDAY

Meet Oklahoma Sooners at 4 O'clock in Dual Contest; Changed Lineup Scheduled

The University of Nebraska wrestling team will meet the Oklahoma Sooners in a dual Missouri Valley wrestling meet at the Coliseum Thursday afternoon. The mat meet will start at 4 o'clock.

This is the first time the Huskers have met the Sooners on the mat this season, and the Sooners come to Lincoln with a formidable team. They lost to the strong Iowa State grapplers 14 to 11, while the Cornhusker grapplers were shut-out by the Cyclone mat-men. The Oklahoma team will meet the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan on Saturday.

There will be a few changes in the Husker lineup from that which took the beating from the Kansas Jayhawkers at Lawrence last Saturday. Albro Lundy, who has been handling the light heavyweight division all season was eliminated in the tryouts and McBride will handle the heavyweight class for Nebraska against the Sooners. "Chief" Davis, who has been representing the Husker school in the heavyweight class is training down to the light heavyweight division and will go against the Oklahoma heavyweight. The remainder of the squad with the exception of Karrer will be the same that wrestled the Jayhawkers.

Kish will be in the 115-pound class for Nebraska, Luff will handle the 135-pound division, Captain Brannigan will appear again in the 145, Tomman will be the Nebraska representative in the 158, with Davis and McBride in the heavyweight division.

The Oklahoma lineup will be Lewis in the 115-pound class, Huddle in the 125, Danforth in the 135, Ingles in the 145, Cooke in the 158, Fullerton in the 175, and Will in the heavyweight division.

Lions Club Will See Special Track Workout In Stadium Thursday

Exhibitions by Nebraska track men will be staged at the stadium Thursday noon for the benefit of the Lions Club of Lincoln which will hold their weekly luncheon at the stadium.

Coach Schulte has not announced a complete list of the men who will appear. Ed Weir is scheduled to run a flight of hurdles with Trumble and Keiss. Art Easter, fast freshman sprinter, will run. The list of men who can appear is somewhat limited on account of the necessity of saving men for the Kaggie-Nebraska dual meet Saturday.

A similar program was put on last year, Locke, Weir, and other stars running. Coach Schulte explained the various events and attempted to give the club members some idea of the various track events.

Active Members and Pledges Decide To Hold One Downtown Party and One House Party Each Semester During Year 1927-1928.

The Acacia fraternity is the first to take any definite action concerning the number of parties to be held during the year. At the regular meeting held Monday, February 28, a resolution was unanimously adopted by the active and pledge members of the fraternity concerning the limitation of social activities.

WHEREAS the recent discussion of the limitation of the social activities of the men's Greek letter organizations has been tabled by the Inter-fraternity council, and

WHEREAS the general sentiment has been expressed to the Student council and the Inter-fraternity council that the majority of the fraternities on the campus approve of the general movement to limit the number of downtown representative parties, and

WHEREAS most of the members of this fraternity have expressed themselves as favoring the new policy;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED in active and pledge meeting assembled that, despite the failure of the Inter-fraternity council to take a stand on the question, the following general and continued policy be adopted by the Acacia fraternity.

1. That beginning with the year 1927-28 Acacia shall have one large downtown representative party and no others.
2. That the number of house parties to be given during the year be limited to one each semester.
3. That Acacia shall publicly and privately lend its approval and support to the development of the more representative and larger social functions of the University such as the Military Ball; the Pan-Hellenic Ball; the Junior-Senior Prom, the Spring Hop and other parties of that character.
4. That the members of this fraternity shall lend their whole-hearted approval and support toward the development of the Varsity parties as the center of the University social affairs in substitution for the many small private parties that have been the custom on this campus for the past few years.

There are several groups that have space in the 1927 Cornhusker, but which have not had their pictures taken at the Campus Studio. Included in these is Iota Kappa Society, Pi Lambda Theta, Gamma Sigma Delta, Rifle Team, Pharmaceutical Society. The presidents of the organizations should see Mr. Larvae of the Campus studio today and set a time for a group sitting either next Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday. These groups must be taken at that time so that the pictures may be sent to the engravers.

There are a number of groups that have not yet filled out the key for their pictures at the studio. Seventh Corps Area Head To Speak At Pershing Rifle Dinner

IS SECOND OF DINNERS

Banquet Tonight Given To Stimulate Interest in The Organization

Major General B. A. Poore, commanding officer of the Seventh Corps area, Colonel Frank D. Eager, Acting Chancellor E. A. Burnett, and Dean George R. Chaburn are to be honor guests and speakers at a Pershing Rifle banquet to be held this evening at six o'clock at the Grand Hotel. The affair tonight will be the second of a series of banquets planned to stimulate interest in the organization, and in the Spring Hop that they will sponsor on March 12.

At the first banquet, held two weeks ago, short talks were given by George E. Condra, Colonel F. F. Jewett, and O. J. Fee.

General Poore, whose headquarters are in Omaha, will come to Lincoln in response to an invitation sent to him last week. Through his work in Omaha he is very interested in all R. O. T. ## UNIVERSITY PARTY NIGHTS ARE CLOSED

Student Organizations Committee Passes Favorably on Student Council Recommendation

Saturday evening is closed to university parties, according to the decision reached by members of the faculty committee on student organizations some few weeks ago, after favorably passing on the request presented them by the Student Council for the closing of Varsity dance nights for the remainder of the school year. Favorable action was taken by the committee on this matter only after it thoroughly investigated the situation. The closing of these nights enables university students to attend all-university parties.

No organization will be allowed to schedule parties for this night or any other Varsity Dance night for the remainder of this school year.

Student Council members have endeavored to explain this to the Greek letter societies. Several have planned parties for this week-end. The measure adopted and passed by the two organizations definitely states that no social event may be scheduled by campus organizations, other than those downtown representative parties which have been previously planned and previously scheduled on the Dean of Women's calendar.

Any society member desiring to communicate with the Student council in regard to these rules may do so today at their regular bi-monthly meeting held in Temple 204 at 5 o'clock today.
