Three Riding Classes Open After Vacation

Three classes in horseback riding are to be opened to all University women directly after re-registration in physical education classes, which takes place immediately after spring vacation. Those hours most convenient for women desiring to register for the course were determined at a meeting held Thursday afternoon in the Armory. Sections are to be offered on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 6:00 until 7:30 o'clock, Saturday mornings from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock, and Tuesday afternoons from 3:00 until 6:00 o'clock.

Approximately thirty girls attended the meeting and it is expected that many more will sign up for classes after vacation.

The horses are to be available for members of the class from the time of re-registration until the end of the season for a rate of $25. If the plan is a success, an indoor riding ring is hoped for by fall, in the new academy which is to be built next season.

DEBATE SEASON CLOSES IN MEET WITH CREIGHTON

Parliamentary Responsibility Is Subject of Closing Debate of Season

TAYLOR PRAISES SPEAKERS

Presiding Officer Characterizes Discussion as One of Best On Public Questions

University of Nebraska debaters closed the 1927 season in Law 101 Thursday evening in a brilliantly contested forensic engagement between the Nebraska negative team and a Creighton affirmative team on the question, "Resolved: That the government of the United States should be changed to include the principle of parliamentary responsibility." At the same time the Nebraska affirmative team was debating a Creighton negative team in Omaha.

Nebraska's closing debate at home was characterized by H. G. Taylor, chairman of the Nebraska railway commission, who presided, as one of the finest discussions on public questions that he had heard. He complimented the six speakers on the continued high level of excellence which was maintained.

Carl F. Hansen, Archibald W. Storms, and Lincoln Frost, Jr., represented Nebraska in the home debate. The Nebraska debaters at Omaha were George Johnson, John P. McKnight, and Evert M. Hunt. Creighton was represented in their debate here by George Skow, George Havel, and Phillip Klutzauk.

Skow Opens Debate
George Skow opened the debate with the contention that the parliamentary form of government was more efficient. Hansen countered for Nebraska by pointing out that our present system of government was founded to meet the basic needs of our people and that it has been developed to meet our changing needs.

Havel, in carrying on the affirmative case attacked the bureaucracy and secrecy of the presidential form of government and denied the danger of instability on the part of the parliamentary form.

Besides his books, he has written a large number of pamphlets and articles for magazines and reviews.

Dean Le Rossignol's two hobbies are chess and trout fishing. He particularly enjoys the latter, and has waded trout streams in many parts of the world. He has received special honors during both his school days and his later life. After recounting the ballots, the senior committee of the A. W. S. board today announced the results of the Tuesday and Wednesday elections. Due to errors in the counting, results could not be announced Thursday. Many of the candidates were tied according to the first count.

The final results are as follows:

Eloise Keefe, Lincoln—vice-president.
Audrey Beales, Blair—secretary.
Vivian Fleetwood, Lincoln—treasurer.

The senior members are: Helen Van Gilder, Hastings; Laura Margaret Raines, Maryville, Missouri; Grace Elizabeth Evans, Lincoln.

New Members Installed in May
These new members will be installed sometime in the early part of May as soon as the A. W. S. personnel work is completed. Since this work is in charge of the old members of the board, it is felt that the work will go more smoothly if kept in the hands of the old committee. This personnel work is one of the most important things that the A. W. S. board accomplishes during the year. An expert is to be secured from Chicago. She will be here for several days to give help and advice to all girls who are in doubt as to the vocation they will pursue.

A. W. S. also sponsors all women's activities such as the Girls Cornhusker Party, the Co-Ed Follies, and also presents a scholarship each year. The members are elected from the entire student body of women and are thus representative of the school. A. W. S. was formerly known as the Women's Self-Governing Association. The name was changed to Associated Women Students because most of the similar organizations in other schools bear this name.

TRACK SQUAD LEAVES TONIGHT FOR COAST TRIP

Huskers Start at 1:55 a. m. for Meets at Denver, Berkeley, And Albuquerque

MAY TAKE TWENTY-TWO

Fraternities Asked to Raise Funds to Send Extra Men To Strengthen Team

University of Nebraska track and field men are all set for their California trip, leaving tonight on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway at 1:55. Definite announcement of the men to make the trip is still being withheld by Coach Henry F. Schulte in the hopes that he can take twenty-two instead of twenty.

Fraternities of the campus were being asked Thursday evening to contribute ten dollars each to raise a fund to send the extra two men on

At a late hour Thursday evening, it looked as if fraternities would raise money to send two men on the California track trip, making it possible for Coach Henry F. Schulte to take a full squad of twenty-two men. A complete check of the fraternity canvass had not been made but early returns indicated that the $250 necessary will probably be raised.

The trip. The addition of these men will give the Huskers a more balanced team and a better chance in the three meets on the trip. Coach Schulte is unwilling to announce the twenty-two men can go or whether the squad will be forced to make the trip with twenty men.

Leaving after midnight tonight, the Huskers will get into Denver at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, just in time for their triangular meet with Colorado Agricultural college and Denver University. They will leave Denver shortly after the meet and tackle the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque in a dual track and field meet Monday afternoon. Then the squad will resume its trip to the coast and will face the University of California at Berkeley on Saturday April 9 in one of the most important inter-sectional track and field meets of the 1927 season.

Locke Will Make Trip
Roland Locke will make the trip with the rest of the squad, taking part in exhibition races at the Husker meets. The blond sprint ace hasn't definitely announced that he will go further than Denver but his friends predict that once on the train they could never get rid of him. Locke is in shape again and is expected to show the fans along the way some real sprint work.

Captain Bobby Stephens is rapidly rounding into shape and his knee should be in good condition by the time the squad hits California. Stephens is figured on for the 100 yard dash and broad jump. "Perly" Wyatt and Frank Dailey will probably assist Stephens in the sprints, with Krause possibly doubling back in the 220 after his hurdle races.

Take Five For Quarter
Because of using Wyatt and Dailey in the sprints, Coach Schulte is planning on taking five men for the quarter-mile, Wyatt, Dailey, Tappan, Davenport, and Campbell. This will give him men for both the 440 dash
