

TRYOUTS HELD DESPITE COLD

Tracksters Face Cold and Wet Grounds in Tests For Kansas Relays

SPRINT EVENTS RUN OFF

Despite a cold wind and a wet track, Coach Schulte ran off tryouts in the sprints for the Kansas Relays, at the stadium track Tuesday afternoon. Tryouts in the javelin throw were also held but hurdle tryouts were called off.

Davenport won the 110 yard sprint while Dailey walked away with the 220. Time in both events was as slow due to the wind and cold, with the track slow from the rains. Almy threw the javelin 162 feet to beat Mandery, with Gerald Wirsig third in the javelin throw trials. Arganbright's ankle wasn't as badly injured as it was thought Monday. He suited up Tuesday but will not be able to run in competition for a day or two.

Sixteen Men to Make Trip

Sixteen men will make the trip to the Kansas Relays with a slightly larger squad going to the Drake relays, a week later. Coach Schulte is again faced with the problem of who to take. Wyatt and Stephens are recovering slowly and whether they will be able to run Saturday is still problematical. As yet, every tryout has seen the men finish in a different order so that Coach Schulte is up a stump as to knowing which men to select for his relay teams. He has not yet decided whether to run a four-mile or medley team.

Results of the trials Tuesday were: 110 yard dash: Davenport, Dailey, Lowe, Doty, Krause. Time: 11.1 seconds. 220 yard dash: Dailey, Lowe, Davenport, Krause, Doty. Time: 23.5 seconds. Javelin throw: Almy, Mandery, G. Wirsig. Distance: 162 feet.

BLACK DRILLS CAGE SQUAD

Second Workout of Candidates For 1928 Quintet Proves to Be Pleasing to Coach

SPECIAL DRILL ON PASSES

Spring basketball got well under way with the second practice held yesterday afternoon in the Coliseum. Coach Black seems well pleased with the candidates for the Varsity five for next season. This session of practice is mainly for the purpose of finding out what material will be available for next year.

Yesterday's practice was given over to basket-shooting, passing, and scrimmage. Coach Black is drilling the squad on the short pass, which will be a big factor in the game now that the dribble is limited to one bounce.

Teams Scrimmage

Othmer and Lewandoski, forwards; Munn, center; Gerelick and Ghode, guards, made up the first team which scrimmaged with a team composed of the rest of the squad, the second team being changed frequently. Calvert, Grace, and Melieski showed up well on the second team.

Captain Elliot played forward on the first team for a while, but tennis is taking most of his time.

More men are expected out for practice before the end of the week, and by that time Coach Black will have a good idea as to the material available for the 1928 season.

(Reaches behind the counter and picks up a handful of ballots.)

Buck: This is a really honest election. (The other puts the handful of ballots in the box.)

Second: That's fine, I am glad to see it. (Leaves.)

(Two others are talking in the other corner.)

First one: This election is really a cinch for us, the other side thinks that no one is playing politics. Just to make sure though you'd better slip in a few extra ones for Dick Brown. We want to be dead sure that he gets it.

Second: Yeah, I'll do that. (Goes over to the counter and talks to Buck.) Well, Buck, it's a fine day, isn't it? (Picks up some ballots from behind the counter.)

Buck: You bet it is, and this is an honest election, too. (The other reaches around behind his back and puts the ballots in the box.)

(More people come in. By perfectly executed end-runs and hidden ball formations that would puzzle any football team they advance innumerable ballots to the box.)

Buck: (Looks at his watch): It's time to close the polls. I wonder where Sim Morton is? (Buck unlocks the ballot box.) I'd better close the doors. (The other members of the council are busy at the other end of the counter, gathering up the ballots and cards. Buck starts across the room to lock the door. Morton comes in.) Hello, Morton, it's about time you're getting here to help count the votes. Here, help me get these people out of here and close the doors. (They go to do so.)

(Enter, mysterious stranger by rear door near ballot box. He is pulling a coaster wagon. In it is a huge package of ballots about as large as the ballot box itself. They are neatly tied with cord. Buck has inadvertently left the box unlocked, so the stranger picks up the whole package, opens the box, and shoves them in. He makes a hasty exit as Buck and Morton return to the counter.)

Buck: Well, let's get started counting the ballots for senior president. Ruth Palmer: (Opens the ballot box and sees the large package. She lifts it part way out of the box): Why, look here. We can't count these. That wouldn't be right.

Buck and Morton: Oh, that's all right, we've been watching the box.

Buck: Those are probably just a few ag campus votes.

Morton: No, I left a piece of string in there. Sometimes they do get rolled up that way.

Buck: (Goes over to look at the package of ballots. He examines one of them and suddenly becomes angry): No, we can't count these.

Morton: (Rushes over): What! Those are all right. (Then he looks at the ballots and he too becomes angry and excited.) No, you're right. We can't count these. These are all written in for Wilbur Gaffney. He's a barb. That'll never do.

Council members: What! Gaffney. Who's he.

Morton: Oh, he's a barb.

Buck: What'll we do about this?

Morton: Well, we'll just have to throw all these ballots out and have a new election.

Buck: Yes, there is plain evidence of dishonest work in this election. We'll have to have a new election. Imagine electing such a person as Gaffney. Yes, sir, we'll have to have a new election. We'll show them what the student council can do. (Curtain)

'UNE REVELATION AU SALON'—LE TEMPS. PARIS

"M-m-m, so that's the new car. Thought the governor declared war on extravagance and all that sort of thing. Looks imported to me."
"He did, but smart little daughter put over a diplomatic coup with this coupe. Got just the car I wanted and still saved enough for a heavy summer at Bar Harbor."

IMPORTED? Well, yes, in a manner of speaking. Its style was conceived in the fashion center of the world—Paris—and its lines and colorings smack of the sophistication of the Champs Elysees. Dietrich designed it—Dietrich, builder of the finest custom bodies. Sounds expensive, doesn't it—but the Erskine Six will win the heart of even the canniest descendant of the Scotch.

Dimensions are compact, but there's room inside no end—thanks again to Dietrich, the master. Two in front, two more in the rumble seat—a foursome; let's go.

Performance as typically American as Grantland Rice's hand-picked team—and as far ahead of its time as the class of '30. Through traffic and away while others are wrestling with gear-shifts—a regular Charlie Paddock on get-away. Honest-to-goodness mile-a-minute speed if you want to "get there in a hurry." Stop and turn on a manhole cover or park with a hair's breadth.
