"N" CLUB AWARD

Above is a replica of the N Club Scholarship Trophy which will be awarded annually to the high school whose athletes have the best scholastic average. The schools are divided into three groups; group one including high schools which have less than 100 pupils; group two, 100 to 299; and group three, 300 or over; each group winner receiving the award.

This trophy is being offered by the N Club and will be awarded annually. The idea of the N Club is to foster the idea that athletic ability should go hand in hand with scholarship.

DRAMATISTS GIVE RECITAL

Senior Club Members Give Readings in Temple Wednesday Night

The senior class of the Dramatic department presented a recital consisting of four readings given by Alyce Connell, Lucille Harris, Thad Cone, and Esther Zinnecker Wednesday evening at 8:15, in the Temple theater.

Alyce Connell read the first act of S. Joan by Bernard Shaw. The act was a presentation of the picture of Joan of Arc seeking to convince the governor of her province that she was capable of leading the soldiers of France to victory over the English.

Act 1 of "The Man From Home," by Booth Tarkington, was read by Lucille Harris. The "man from home" was a young American, by profession a lawyer, who while in England, showed his ignorance of the hereditary customs of English nobility. He had a genuine American love of his Indiana home town, and bluntly pointed out the qualities of superiority it held over anything of English caste.

"Sun-u," by Lulu Volmer, was a tragedy that took place among the uneducated people of the southern mountains. Acts 1 and 2 of the play were given by Thad Cone. The story what the struggle was about. She had lost her husband, a Confederate, who had been killed by government officers in the Civil war. Hating the government for taking her husband's life, she likewise accused the government of taking her son's life when he was killed in the World war.

James M. Barrie's play "Mary Rose" was presented by Esther Zinnecker. The story was about a little girl, who, while playing on an island, suddenly disappeared. She was not found in the search that was made for her, until twenty days later. She could not explain where she had been. In later years, after she was married, she revisited the island and mysteriously disappeared again. Her son, when an elderly man, revisited the vacant house of his childhood where he saw his mother's restless ghost. Not until she had found her son, did she become content and leave her sojourn on this earth.

Electrical Engineers Enjoy Inspection Trip to Omaha Tuesday

The students and faculty electrical engineers who were in Omaha Tuesday as guests of the Nebraska section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers report a very interesting trip.

The inspection tours were carried out as scheduled, and the members of the organization received the program presented by the students in the evening with hearty applause.
