REGENTS REFER DEAN'S BUDGET TO COMMITTEE

Appropriation Not Large Enough; Finance Committee Will Examine Estimates

REVISION IS NECESSARY

Anton Jensen Presents Complaint Concerning Requirement of Doctor's Degree

The Board of Regents at its meeting at 11 o'clock yesterday morning referred the budget which has been prepared for next year by the deans of the colleges to the finance committee for further consideration. According to an announcement from the chancellor's office, the budget was larger than the appropriation made by the legislature for this purpose.

This appropriation was made by the legislature in its last session, just before the spring recess. In the meantime the deans of the various colleges have been preparing estimates of the amounts which will be needed by their colleges next year. These estimates have proved to be larger than the legislature's appropriation for running the university.

As a result it will be necessary for the finance committee to go over the deans' estimates and pare them until they come within the funds available. This means that most if not all of the schools and colleges will either have to curtail their plans for next year or economize in expenditures.

When the committee has completed its work, the revised budget will be referred back to the Board, which will consider it and either accept it or reject it again.

In the same meeting, the board considered a report submitted by Anton H. Jensen, instructor in the department of romance languages. Among other things, Mr. Jensen complained about the arts faculty's Ph. D. requirement for instructors. He gave the Board until 12 o'clock to consider the report. At 1 o'clock he issued an open letter to the press.

GRINNELL STAR WINS NET TITLE

Coggeshall Defeats Barnes of Oklahoma A. & M.; Oklahoma U. Takes Doubles

DOUBLES GOES FIVE SETS

A new Valley net champion was crowned today when Coggeshall, flashy Grinnell player, handily defeated Barnes of Oklahoma Aggies, 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. The Oklahoma U combination of Royer and Mason took the doubles championship back to the Sooner school by virtue of their win over Coggeshall and Stotts, 6-3, 5-7, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4.

The terrific drives of Coggeshall were too much for Barnes' net game.

The Oklahoman rallied in the third set after the Pioneer flash had taken the first two sets in quick fashion. The rally was short lived, however, and Coggeshall took the fourth set to win the match.

The deciding doubles match was the feature of the meet, it being necessary to play five sets to decide the victor. The playing started on the match at four o'clock and ended three hours later. The Sooner combination proceeded to take the first set in short order but dropped the next two sets to the Pioneer team. The Sooner defense bolstered in the fourth set and the games saw-sawed until they extended the necessary punch to win the set 10-8. Each

First Track Meet Held In 1891 At Crete

Husker Men Meet Teams from Doane, Cotner and Wesleyan in Contest

WIN NINE FIRST PLACES IN TEN EVENTS HELD

(Editor's Note)

This is the twenty-first chapter of an historical resume of Nebraska athletics which has been compiled by a member of The Daily Nebraskan sports staff. A chapter of this account will appear in each issue of The Daily Nebraskan for the remainder of the school year.

By Jack Elliott

The first track meet that was ever recorded at the University was held at Crete, Nebraska the first week in June in 1891, when the Husker tracksters ran against the teams from Doant, Cotner and Wesleyan. Nebraska's colors were not the scarlet and cream but old gold. Accommodations for the followers of the "Old Gold track team" were not like they are today, in fact there were no accommodations at all.

The meet was held at the fair grounds at Crete, which was nothing more than a wide open prairie, with a circle in the middle, which was called a race track. The bell started the first Nebraska track meet and the Nebraska team seemed to have things much its way from the start to the finish. The Herperian says that in the 440-yard dash two Nebraska men were sitting at the tape resting when the first Doane man came up. There were ten events in the meet and out of the ten Nebraska won nine first places.

But track did not continue as did football, but only led a mediocre life in the sport world at Nebraska. Not until after the coming of Coach Henry "Indian" Schulte did Nebraska arrive at the height of the track world, and from that day on Cornhusker track stars have received world-wide fame.

The Cornhusker track team in 1923 had a very successful season, winning two of the three dual meets and a great number of first places in the Missouri Valley indoor meet. "Ed" Allen, Omaha medic star, was captain of the 1923 track team.

The first meet of the season was held in Kansas City at the Kansas City Athletic club track carnival. Kansas took first place, with Nebraska a close second. The Missouri Valley record in the 880-yard run was shattered by "Mad" Gardner, Husker ace. The second meet on the Nebraska program was the Illinois Relays on March 3. Ted Smith,

MORRILL HALL IS TO BE DEDICATED

Ex-Chancellor MacLean Will Be Speaker of Day at Formal Ceremonies Saturday

MUSEUM TO BE INSPECTED

The formal dedication of Morrill Hall is set for Saturday, May 28, at 2:30 o'clock, according to Dr. E. H. Barbour, in charge of the program. Ex-Chancellor George E. MacLean, now of Washington, D. C., will be speaker of the day, and other addresses will be made by the Hon. Charles H. Morrill who has done much for Nebraska education; Prof. Paul H. Grummann of the School of Fine Arts, and Dr. E. H. Barbour, who represents the department of geography and geology, and the State Museum.

Governor McMullen, the president of the Board of Regents and Dean E. A. Burnett and Chancellor Avery may also make talks on this occasion. Musical entertainment will be offered, both harp and orchestral numbers, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Shanefelt, assisted by the Misses Ruth Ann Coddington, Carol Wirts, Millicent Davis, and Sarah Vance.

Museum To Be Open

The museum will be in order and ready for inspection by Friday, Dr. Barbour promised, but no installations will be complete by that time. Miss Elizabeth Dolan, Nebraska artist who is doing the fresco backgrounds for the corridor cases, will have finished her work, or practically so, by then, and some of the animals will be given a first pose, to be corrected later, in order that Round-Up visitors may see what the finished work will be.

Before the actual animals can be placed in the cases, life-size drawings will be made, colored, and cut out to represent them until the bones can be properly mounted in each instance.

In Elephant Hall, the first elephants, about two feet in height, which began far back in the oligocene, are now drawn and set in place, and backgrounds for three of these have been completed by Miss Dolan. The plan is that, when finished, these paintings of the giant mastodons of the past will glare from the mystic dark ages down to the present time.

A special feature of Elephant hall will be the Eubelodon, morrilli, a remarkable Nebraska elephant named in honor of Mr. Morrill, which will be set up against a background sufficiently painted to be ready for the dedication exercises. Mr. Morrill intends to be present with his children and grand children, on this occasion. Dr. Barbour extends an invitation, especially to the "Old Grads", back for the Roundup, who will no doubt be interested in seeing the development of the museum, and of the Fine Arts department in Morrill Hall.

WIRSIG SETS NEW MARK IN MISSOURI VALLEY MEET

Kansas Is Victorious, Taking First Place with 45 1-3 Points; Oklahoma Noses out Nebraska for Second Honors, the Husker Cinder Team Getting 37 Points

CONGER WINS MILE BUT FAILS TO PLACE IN HAL-MILE

Stalker of Oklahoma Beats out Team-mate to Make New Record in Broad Jump; Pospisil of Nebraska Wins First in Discus, Nearly Bettering Valley Mark

Kansas University walked off with the 20th annual Missouri Valley track and field championships at Nebraska Memorial stadium Saturday afternoon with 45 1-3 points. The University of Oklahoma nosed Nebraska out of second place with 38 5-6 points to 37 for the Cornhuskers but Frank Wirsig ended the day in a blaze of glory for Nebraska by topping the bar in the pole vault at 13 feet 4 27-64 inches for a new varsity, Missouri Valley, and American intercollegiate record.

Wind made the sprints fast but slowed up the time in the other events, forbidding any record-shattering marks in the runs. Stalker of Oklahoma upset the dope when he defeated his team-mate Mullins in the broad jump and set a new valley record of 23 feet 5 1-4 inches. His record-breaking leap was made Friday and was not bettered Saturday.

Conger, great Iowa State miler, almost met his match Saturday in the mile. Niblack of Oklahoma and Johnson of Nebraska stuck with him for the first half of the distance. Then the giant Oklahoman fell behind. Johnson matched strides with him another lap, then pushed him down the back stretch of the last lap and rounded the corner onto the final straightaway together but Conger's sprint gave him a few yards to spare at the tape.

That was all, however, for Conger. He wasn't even in the running in the half-mile, finishing in the last group in that event. His team-mate, Caulum, set a fast pace and slipped through the tape inches ahead of Van Laningham of Drake. Johnson finished third, worn-out from his great mile which had completely overcome his conqueror, Conger.

Wirsig Was Feature

Wirsig's vaulting, however, was the great feature of the afternoon. Four vaulters got over the bar at 12 feet 6 inches, a feat likely to be recorded in but few college conferences this season, but the Sargent senior rose almost a foot more before going out. He cleared 12 feet 10 and a fraction inches and 13 feet 1-2 inches easily for successive advances on the valley record he set last year.

He had space to spare even on his top mark of 13 feet 4 inches. Although all the rest of the meet was over, practically the entire crowd stayed in the stands while officials measured and remeasured the heights that there might be no question of its being accepted as a new American intercollegiate record. He fell short by a close margin on his first two tries at 13 feet 6 inches. On his third try he was apparently over when his hand caught the cross-bar. The bar bounded and then fell off. Spectators and coaches said that Wirsig's attempt was as close as could be made without successfully clearing it.

Drake upset the dope by finishing fourth in the meet with 22 1-2 points. Missouri University nosed Kansas Aggies out for fifth place with 18 1-2 points to 18 for the Kaggies. Oklahoma A. and M. followed with 16 5-6, Iowa State with 16, Grinnell with 15 and Washington with 12.

Grady of Kansas flashed to victory with ease in both sprints, giving Farley the most decisive beating he has received this year. Crady's time of 9.6 in the 100-yard dash was run with a strong breeze at his back so will not be considered as equaling the valley record set last year by Roland Locke.

Martin Ran Nice 660

Alva Martin, former Northwestern star, ran a beautiful 660 yards to come within 1-10 of a second of the world's record. Martin was paced by Kimpfort, former Kansas Aggies star, who fell far to the rear.

McCartney, Husker senior running his last race, turned in a beautiful performance in the two-mile to place third. McCartney has been out for four years but was never good enough to make the team until this year. He lettered in cross-country last fall and has steadily developed as a two-miler this year.

"Poco" Frazier, diminutive Kansas two-miler, won the heavy distance event after a close tussle with Keith, blond-haired Oklahoman. Both are sophomores, running in their first year of valley competition. Niblack of Oklahoma pushed Frazier in the early part of the race. Coach Schulte pointed these two out to the crowd as the "long and the short of it."

Pospisil, lone Cornhusker qualifier in the discus throw, rose to the heights in his final valley meet, to win the discus throw and to come within four inches of the valley record set last year by "Doas" Dichter-son of Missouri. Mandery, also surprised the Huskers by winning a clean-cut third place in the javelin throw.

Taylor of Oklahoma, winner of the low hurdles last year, led around the curve in the finals Saturday and then fell, putting himself out of the race. He returned with his legs scoured (Continued on Page Two)

AT THE 440 FINISH

Best, Oklahoma Aggie, is seen leading above just before he broke the tape in the 440 yard dash in the Valley meet. McKie, Grinnell is second, slightly ahead of Frank Dalley who finished third. Chew of Drake can be seen a poor fourth. Best broke the tape in less than 50 seconds despite a heavy wind on the last straightaway.

BETTERS OWN MARK

FRANK WIRSIG, Pole Vault

Frank Wirsig did all that was expected of him Saturday by track critics and then kept on going up in the pole vault. Before he got through he had cleared the bar at 13 feet 4 27-64 inches for a new American intercollegiate record, beating the old mark by almost two inches. His vaulting was the outstanding individual performance of the Missouri Valley meet.
