

NEW INTRA-MURAL SPORTS PLANNED

Gish Elaborates Program to Include All University Men By New City Sub-divisions

"Heretofore intra-mural sports in the university has been more or less confined to fraternities, but this year the plans are being elaborated to include the non-fraternity men," Herbert Gish, director of athletics, stated yesterday.

"The only way the men could be reached before was through some such organization as the fraternity, but now a division of the city is being made whereby the non-fraternity men will be able to compete in intra-mural sports," Gish continued.

"In all probability the districts as outlined will not prove satisfactory, but in time they can be worked over to distribute the men more equally."

A map of the districts is on the bulletin board in the stadium dressing-rooms, and each man should find out his district and then register. "Jimmie" Lewis, in the athletic office, will be in charge of registration.

One of the big features in intra-mural sports this year will be the Hare and Hounds chases. This is a new game here, but is the revival of an old Anglo-Saxon game.

Hare and Hound Chase

Two hares will carry bits of paper with which they leave a trail or scent. The hounds will follow the paper scent and attempt to overtake and capture the hares before the home base is reached. Points are scored according to the number of hares that reach home, and the hounds score by either capturing a hare or by returning home at the end of the chase first.

The Hare and Hounds chases will be only one of a number of activities planned for competition this fall. The chases will be run each week beginning October 4 and continuing October 12, 18, 26, November 1, 7, and 15. Chases will start at 4:30 sharp. Further announcements will appear in the Daily Nebraskan and on the bulletin board in the Stadium.

Trophy skins or banners will be presented to the winning teams, both fraternity and non-fraternity. The non-fraternity trophy will remain in the stadium, and the fraternity skins or banners will become the possession of the winning groups. Individual medals will be presented to the men scoring the most points for the series. Points will be awarded to fraternities on the all-year trophy in the Hare and Hounds chases. Meets at 4:03 P. M. The regular fall track and field meets will be held at 4:00 p. m. Thursday, October 20, and Monday, November 7. Thursday, November 10 is the date set aside for the annual interfraternity cross country run.

The athletic office, with the cooperation of the coaches of the various sports are working to put intra-mural sports where they should be in the University of Nebraska. Detailed information on any of the events may be had at the Athletic office.

"Choppy" Rhodes, who will coach the freshmen football team this season, issued the call for yearling candidates to report this afternoon at the stadium.

The Home Economics club gave a tea to all freshmen home economics women yesterday afternoon in the home economics parlors. A short program was given consisting of a vocal solo by Miss Kathryn Dean and a violin solo by Miss Dorothy Luxford.

Miss Pedde, chairman of the home economics department, Miss Morton, an instructor in the home economics department, and Miss Gladys Penfro, president of the Home Economics club were in the receiving line to greet the new students.

The women serving the refreshments during the afternoon were, Thelma Young, Lucille Bedell, Marjorie Brinton, Mary Theobald, Ipha Lutz, Edna Backer, and Louise Genung.

Decorations were cleverly arranged carrying out an old fashioned Dutch idea.

TRACK PROSPECTS PROVE PROMISING

Three Members of Last Year's Regular Team Return; Work Outs Begin

With three members of last year's regular cross-country team and a bevy of promising candidates from last year's freshmen team on hand, prospects are bright for Nebraska harriers this year according to "Jimmie" Lewis, Coach Schulte's right-hand assistant who will direct early season cross-country practice. Coach Schulte is giving football talks over the state.

Captain Glen Johnson, Norris Chadderton, and Robert Sprague, regulars from last year are already working out. The other two regular members of last year's squad, Hays and McCartney graduated last spring. Frink, substitute was another loss by graduation.

Leading contenders for places on this year's team from last year's freshmen include Griffen, Etherton, and Beattie, all of whom were consistent point winners in the distances in numeral meets last spring. About 50 suits have been issued to date.

IN THE VALLEY

By JACK ELLIOTT

With but two weeks before the opening football game at Nebraska, fans are predicting that the Cornhuskers will take the Missouri Valley championship this year. It is just a little ahead of time to start "dopping" out the valley, but with Coach Ernest Bearg directing the destinies of Nebraska's pigskin pastime, and with the abundance of lettermen and seasoned freshmen material, Nebraska should forge ahead to the position of champions. The schedule is heavy an dthe practice season is short, but the coaching staff at the Cornhusker school is predicting a winning season for the Huskers of 1927.

Yesterday's practice resembled a busy day on a Paramount movie lot more so than a football practice on the gridiron of a Missouri Valley school. Camera men galore were running hither and yon trying to get pictures of the Cornhusker team in action. Pathe News, Paramount, and Lincoln News camera men were on the scene of the opening practice of the Scarlet and Cream football warriors. "Cy" Sherman, sports editor of the Lincoln Star, and John Bentley of the Lincoln Journal both had their camera men shooting pictures of individual players, group pictures, and scrimmage scenes. The campus photographer, McDonald's man, and several other camera men were clicking a shutter throughout the afternoon's practice session.

The results seemed pleasing for all the men with the little black boxes under their arms left Memorial Stadium late in the afternoon with a big smile on their faces. But then why shouldn't they, there isn't a better looking football team in the Valley. The players had received their new sweaters and what a good looking sweater it is! New football equipment always does look good—until the first game, and especially if it is a game like the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska game last year.

Franklin C. Cappon, football mentor at Kansas University, who is starting his second year as head football coach at the Jayhawk school is facing a big worry in finding a center for his Kansas football eleven. Lewis Davidson, center of last year's team left a hole in that position that will be hard to fill, says the University Daily Kansan. Cappon is figuring on "Zeke" Burton for that position, which will leave Burton's position at center open. With the exception of the center of the line, Cappon has a strong line and is figuring on giving the Cornhuskers a real battle when they tangle in Lincoln on Homecoming day, November 5.

Kansas opens the home season with a game with Coach Thistlewaite's Wisconsin Badgers on October 8. Wisconsin will also meet Grinnell at Madison on November 5. The Kansas-Wisconsin will mark the initial time that a Wisconsin team has played in Missouri Valley territory and the first time for a Big Ten team to meet the Kansas school on their own gridiron.

All the coaches and officials of the Missouri Valley met in Kansas City on September 10 to work out a uniform interpretation of all changes made in grid rules by the national rules committee. "Mike" Ahern, director of athletics at the Kansas State Agricultural College was the Missouri Valley representative at the national convention and presided at the meeting in Kansas City. In addition to the coaches and officials from the 10 Missouri Valley schools, there were numerous coaches and officials from the Valley high schools.

The 1927 championship meet of the National A. A. U. which was held on Stadium field July 1, 2, and 4 was one of the greatest gatherings of track and field athletes in the history of the A. A. U. Athletic clubs representing 25 cities entered the meet. In addition to the host of athletic clubs and association groups there was a great number of stellar university and college performers, many of whom competed unattached. Cities from Los Angeles to New York, and from New Orleans to Chicago were represented in Lincoln at the big meet.

Navy, Pittsburgh, Minnesota, Iowa State, Notre Dame, Simpson and Grinnell with Kansas thrown in for good measure is the schedule which confronts the Drake Bulldogs for the coming football season. With such a formidable schedule facing him, Coach Ossie Solem, the Drake mentor is whipping his Bulldog warriors into shape for one of the greatest schedules in football history at Drake. How the Bulldogs will make out against such an array of powerful ridiron elevens as appear on the Drake schedule is a hard question to answer and foolish to predict, but the backers of the Bulldog eleven will consider it a successful year if Solem's pigskin jugglers can cop a 500 per cent of the games.

The University of Missouri eleven began work under coach Gwynn Henry yesterday on the Columbia field. Twenty lettermen reported for the initial practice in addition to the host of men from last year's freshmen team. The Missouri Tigers open the Valley season with the Kansas Aggies on October 1 at Columbia. Henry has from one to three veterans for each position, the odds being heavily against any of the sophomores breaking into the lineup for the opening encounter. The Tiger-Wildcat game marks the first appearance of a Missouri team against a conference opponent in an opening game in years, and followers believe that Gwynn will follow his usual conservative procedure and will cast his first lot with the old heads and save his youths until they have been further seasoned.

A varied collection of large butterflies and moths, all common in Nebraska, has been received by the university museum.
