

GAGE TOURNAMENT WILL BE DIVIDED THRICE

Lewis Announces Three Classes for Inter-Fraternity Basketball Season; Practice Starts

Inter-fraternity basketball will begin soon after the close of the football season, announces "Jimmy" Lewis of the athletic office. There are to be three classes in the tournament, A and E fraternity classes, and a non-fraternity class.

The teams of each class will be divided into leagues, probably of four teams each. Winners of these leagues will go into another league and the winners of the second league will go to the finals.

The tournament will be conducted under the same rules as last year. Fraternities desiring to practice may begin any time.

HUSKER HARRIERS RUN OVER COURSE

Try-Outs for Kansas Aggie-Nebraska Meet at Manhattan Will Be Held This Afternoon

Nebraska cross-country candidates are all set for a fast try-out this afternoon. Trials will be held over the regular cross-country course, starting at 4:30 o'clock from the stadium.

Captain Johnson, Chadderdon, and Sprague, members of last year's squad, will run but the trials will not affect their place on the team.

A real fight is expected for the other three places on the team. Cummings, Griffen, and Batie who ran last week for the Huskers will find tough competition in Janulewicz, Kibbel, and Etherton. Janulewicz was a varsity long-distance man last season. Kibbel was a substitute on last year's varsity track team while Etherton was one of the trio of freshmen miler that showed up so well in tri-color meets last spring.

Griffen and Batie were the other members of the trio.

Mer making the team in today's try-out will run against Kansas Aggies at Manhattan, Saturday, October 22.

CYCLONES PREPARE FOR ILLINOIS GAME

Workman Drilling On Defense Against Zuppke's Passing Tosses; New Plays Introduced

Ames, Iowa, Oct. 12—Special: New plays, changes in old plays and a defense against Illinois' passing attack will be the training program for the Iowa State Cyclones in preparation for the coming clash with the Illini at Urbana Saturday. No injuries are reported following the 26 to 6 victory Saturday over Simpson.

Iowa State's work against Simpson was satisfactory in Coach Workman's opinion, although Simpson flashed an aerial attack that the Cyclones, especially the second team, had difficulty in solving. Considerable time will be spent this week in perfecting the forward pass defense. Zuppke in last Saturday's game used the aerial attack twenty times.

Besides the power shown by the Miller, Lindbloom, Lamson combination in scoring 26 points, the work of Hall, second string half, was also good, although marred by two fumbles. The work of the reserve line was also notable.

The Cyclones will be coached to watch Garland Grange, brother of the illustrious Red, who plays end for the Illini. Grange is on the receiving end of most of the Illinois passes.

MICKY AT OHIO MEETING

Engineering Professor Attends Fall Conference of A. S. C. E.

Professor Clark E. Micky, chairman of the department of Civil Engineering, is attending the fall meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers in Columbus, Ohio, October 12, 15.

The purpose of the meeting is to work on a plan to incorporate the flood control along the Mississippi river with the drought prevention in the Great Plains area.

IN THE VALLEY

By JACK ELLIOTT

Coach Cappon is putting his Jayhawk pigskin jugglers through an intensive week of practice in preparation for the Kansas Aggie-Kansas game Saturday. The Aggies took the count of the Kansas eleven last year and Cappon is out to beat the Wildcat this year when they meet on the Kansas stadium field. A driving rain storm did not stop the Hawker coach from sending his proteges through the usual scrimmage Tuesday night. Several of the Kansas regulars are on the injured list as a result of the Wisconsin-Kansas game last Saturday and in the practice session Tuesday night the reserves took the regular eleven to a 6 to 0 win in a full time scrimmage.

Gwinn Henry pays tribute to Ernest E. Bearg, the Nebraska football mentor when the Tiger coach gave his version of the Missouri-Nebraska football game. "In the game Saturday the Nebraska eleven showed perfect coaching as a result of the hard work of the capable Husker coach, Bearg." Many Husker followers are not real Cornhuskers and are willing to follow the crowd of Husker fans and follow in the front line but just as soon as a Nebraska team goes down to a glorious defeat in a battle that was a football classic of the season, then these followers get off the band wagon and crab. This is not the true spirit of Nebraska and the Husker school is far from being proud of this class of followers.

The Oklahoma Aggies are also suffering injuries from the trouncing the Minnesota Gophers handed them in last week's battle. The Aggie coach has shifted Claude Poole from end to a backfield position and is using Gabe Martin, sophomore, as a first string halfback. Injuries to regulars prompted many changes in the Stillwater Aggie lineup for the coming game with Marquette. Sam Meyers, veteran center is out of the game for the rest of the season. He was left in Minneapolis with a broken jaw after the Minnesota game last Saturday.

It is out, according to Dame Rumor, that the Grinnell Pioneer eleven is coming to the Cornhusker stronghold with an aerial attack that will sweep the Nebraska eleven off their feet. Coach Bearg has already inserted the remedy into his Husker pigskin jugglers and they expect to do more than that when their passing game gets under way Saturday. Forward passing will be the by-word in the Grinnell game. Nebraska fans will see a Nebraska team on the field made up entirely of reserves and will see a Bearg passing machine at work.

Drake's football eleven is working on defense to stop the smashing and running attack of the Pittsburgh Panthers, the Bulldog foe for this week. In the game last week with the Navy eleven the Drake line failed to show a great deal of defense and the Bulldog coach is giving his grid-ers plenty of drilling on tackling and dummy scrimmage. The Drake eleven came through the Navy clash with few injuries, Barnes, quarterback being the only member of the squad to receive an injury and he is back in the mole skins after a few days rest.

Several coaches and officials of the Missouri Valley have been giving their version of the Missouri-Nebraska game which is history now. Gwinn Henry's verdict is that Missouri fought but Nebraska outplayed his Tiger eleven four to one. "It was simply that Missouri realized it was meeting a far superior team and if it hoped to win it would have to outfight the Huskers as much as outplay them. I certainly know that we did not outplay them. We did outfight them."

Coach Black has called in his Husker cagers for the opening of basketball practice. Black is sending his proteges through a light practice three times a week on the Coliseum floor until the close of the football season when basketball practice will start in full swing for the coming season. Tuesday afternoon was the initial workout for the 1927-28 cagers and fourteen men responded to the Husker coach's call for basketball material.

The feature game in the Valley this week will be the annual Kansas-Kansas Aggie quarrel at Lawrence. For three years the Farmers have beaten the Jayhawkers from Lawrence and this year Bachman is driving his Wildcat eleven more than ever in an attempt to keep up the winning streak. Bachman also has a backfield surprise that he is going to spring on the Kansas eleven. What ever it is, it will be good, for Bachman is a football coach that ranks with the best in the Valley. His purple warriors will use the aerial attack to a great extent and the Notre Dame shift which has been altered somewhat by Missouri Valley rules.

The combination of Rose to Davis is the Grinnell passing attack that will be used against the Huskers in Saturday's clash. Liedtke, Pioneer halfback, is on the injury list but will appear in the lineup against Nebraska. The Grinnell eleven will use the forward passing game against Nebraska to a great extent.

George Farley is another of the reserves who will see action in the Pioneer game Saturday. Farley will start in the backfield in one of the two combinations Bearg intends to start. Farley is developing into a real pass receiver and defense man. He featured in the Missouri game when he snagged a long pass which was good for 30 yards. Farley is a sophomore this year and looks good for the coming year.

Coach Bearg will probably use Clair Sloan in his backfield four against Grinnell Saturday. Bearg is casting around for a punter and all season Sloan has been showing up well on the booting of punts but has never been in a game. Sloan is also a good passer and has developed an accurate eye on forward passing. These are the two big weak departments of the Husker eleven today, and could they be filled by one man Coach Bearg could cast his eyes in other lines. "Dutch" Witte, Lincoln high school star is the second back that will feature in the starting lineup for Saturday. Witte is a good punter and passer and a fast ground gainer around end or through the line.

FORMER STUDENT GETS APPOINTMENT

Jose Adeva, Graduate of University, Appointed Partial Pensionado in Philippine Islands

Word has been received from the Bureau of Insular Affairs at Washington, D. C., that Mr. Jose A. Adeva, last year graduate of the Civil Engineering department of the University of Nebraska, has been appointed a partial pensionado of the Philippine Government.

Mr. Adeva's appointment came as a result of a competitive examination held by the United States Civil Service Commission on August 18.

In consideration of this appointment Mr. Adeva must agree to work for the Philippine Government for at least one year for each year of scholarship.

This appointment carries a cash monthly allowance, tuition, actual and necessary travel expenses in the United States; first class transportation, including railroad, pullman and steamship fare, from last station in the United States to Manila, upon satisfactory completion of work, and a port and steamer allowance.

At the present time Mr. Adeva is employed at the State House in the Department of Public Works. He is also working on his master's degree in Civil Engineering.

BEARG PLANS ON NEW BACKS

from the side lines it looks like a toss up for which one will open the battle against the Grinnell eleven. The Varsity eleven scrimmaged against the frosh and the reserves, drilling on the passing attack. The Pioneer grid-ers are coming to Lincoln with a passing machine and Bearg is drilling his Scarlet eleven on defensive work in the aerial line.

The first string line will also be on the bench when the whistle opens the game Saturday. At the wing positions there will be Still and Lewandowski, at tackle Munn and Ray, Raich and Whitmore at guard and Zuver at center. Bearg intends that his first eleven shall watch how the reserves do it in the opening quarters of the Grinnell game. The entire Nebraska squad may see action in the game Saturday but it is very probable that the Husker football mentor will save his first eleven for the clash with the Syracuse team on October 29.

The Orange eleven is one of the most powerful and fastest teams on the eastern coast and this is the first trip to the Husker camp for many years. Out of the four encounters with the coast team the Husker eleven have been able to annex but one giving the Orange the distinction of being the only team in the country that has the edge on Nebraska for games played in the past.

Officials for the Grinnell-Nebraska game are Ed Cochrane, Kansas City, referee; B. L. McCreary, Kansas City, umpire; E. M. Tipton, Kansas City, field judge; Earl Johnson, Lincoln, headlinesman.

OKLAHOMA AGGIES BEGIN HOME STAND

Returns from Two-game Journey to Prepare for Football Team From Marquette

Stillwater, Okla., Oct. 12—Considerably battered up, but still showing a spirited determination to win the rest of their games, the Oklahoma A. & M. college football team returned to the campus after a two-game trip.

Marquette university of Milwaukee comes here Saturday to open the home season for the Aggies. The new south stadium, built of concrete and steel, will be used for the first time Saturday, and director of athletics E. C. Gallathier promises there will be plenty of good seats for everyone.

With a record of having held the Army to a 21 to 12 score last Saturday, Marquette will present one of the strongest backfield combinations in the middlewest. Most of their offensive play is built around quarterback Rupert O'Keefe, who was unanimous choice for all-western last year and was placed on some all-American teams. O'Keefe is a triple threat man, punting, passing, and skirting the ends with equal skill.

The Minnesota game was a grueling contest and several of the Aggies received bruises and injuries that, while not serious, will hamper practice this week. The most serious injury was a broken jaw-bone suffered by Sam Meyers, veteran center. While Rodgers, the second-string center, who substituted for Meyers in the Minnesota game, is a dependable and consistent player he has not had the experience of the regular pivot man.

The University of Wisconsin now has in its possession the most elaborately equipped telescope of its kind in the world.

Pivot Man

Merle Zuver, center on Bearg's Scarlet eleven will start with the Nebraska eleven in Saturday's fray on Stadium field. Zuver is another of Bearg's reserves who has been showing up well this year.

School buildings will be available for holding these Smith-Hughes classes, including afternoon or forenoon classes, where arrangements may be made which do not interfere in any way with day school classes.

Hayward, Bancroft, Park and Longfellow will be opened as centers. The Whittier school will be conducted exclusively for Smith-Hughes classes. Lincoln high will offer Smith-Hughes classes and in addition, recreational activities. No classes will be conducted in the McKinley school.

FRESHMAN COUNCIL DISCUSSES CHEATS

Fifteen Yearlings Attend Regular Weekly Discussion Held at University Y. M. C. A.

A meeting of the Freshman Council was held last night in the Temple Y. M. C. A. rooms. About fifteen freshmen attended this meeting, which was presided over by Mr. C. D. Hayes, head of the university Y. M. C. A.

The meeting began at 7 o'clock, and discussion was opened concerning the way in which the Freshman Council could better the freshman class. Whether a boy should stay away from undesirable company, or associate with those whom he considers below his level for the purpose of bettering them was one of the questions discussed.

The question of cheating—whether it is justifiable to glance on a classmate's exam paper—was brought up. "A fellow may be slick enough to fool his professor," said one of the freshmen, "but he can never be slick enough to fool himself." It was decided that, as the purpose of a university student is to get an education instead of grades, it would be better to do one's own work and fail, than to copy a classmate's and pass with honors.

The difference between character and personality was brought up in the informal round-table discussion. Personality was said to be what one is to other people, while character is what one is alone in the dark.

The point to be taken up at the next Wednesday evening meeting will be, "How can the Freshman Council influence the greatest number of freshmen?" The purpose of the Freshman Council is to promote Christian ideals in campus life, and especially in the freshman class. Meetings are held each Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

All freshmen who have not yet attended a Freshman Council meeting are invited by the cabinet and Mr. Hayes to attend the meeting tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the Temple "Y" room.

SCIENTISTS HAVE MEETING

Home Economics Teachers and Students Invited to St. Louis

The American Scientific Association is holding its national convention at St. Louis, Missouri, on October 17-19, and all Home Economics teachers and students are cordially invited to attend.

Among the speakers the following are the best known: Dr. Henry C. Sherman, Professor of Chemistry at Columbia University; Dr. Icie G. Macy, of the Merrill Palmer School at Detroit, Michigan; Lydia Roberts, Assistant professor of Home Economics at the University of Chicago; Dr. Ruth Wheeler of Vassar College; and Faith Auley, Assistant Professor in the Institute of Economics at the University of Chicago.

South Dakotans Find Many Occupations for Paying School Costs

That the students in the University of South Dakota are interested in getting an education is shown by the large number who are doing part-time work at the university and in the city of Vermillion in order to defray the expense of school.

Among the many departments in the office of the Extension division is the Employment Bureau, which enables students to find positions of all kinds while going to school. These include everything from waiting tables to selling seat covers. Many girls are placed in private homes working for room and board. Some students assist in the printing office.

Student salesmen handle everything including stationery, jewelry, magazines, suits, hosiery. There are newsboys, typists, bank clerks, telephone linesmen and installers, taxi drivers, draymen, clerks, musicians, and movie ushers. Then there are two students filling the pulpits in churches.
