'CANDIDA' WILL BE OFFERED BY PLAYERS CAST

Dramatic Organization Prepares for Presentation of Shaw's Play This Week

MISS HOWELL HAS LEAD

Cast for Drama of 1890 Small; One Act Christmas Play Will Be Addition on Program

"Candida," one of George Bernard Shaw's most successful plays, will be put on by the University Players December 8, 9, 10, in the Temple Theatre. The play, which has been produced by John Erskine, dramatic critic, as the best play of Europe or America in the last twenty-five years, will be presented in the costumes of the period in which it was written. It was written in 1890, and was presented on Broadway for several successful runs.

Miss H. Alice Howell will take the role of Candida, in addition to directing the production. The rest of the cast is:

- Posperrine Garnett...Ruth Clendenin
 - Rev. James Morell...Theodore Diers
 - Lexy Mill...Cecil Schmitt
 - Burgess...Ray Ramsay
 - Eugene Marchbanks...Jack Rank
- The cast for this play is small. Miss Howell usually acts one role a season; last year, she played in "The Swan." Mr. Diers has had several years of professional experience, having played with Margaret Anglin, James K. Hackett, and others. He took part in the University Players production of "The Goose Hangs" (Continued on Page 2)

Mrs. Lehnhoff Appears At Convocation Today

A regular University Convocation will be held this morning in the Temple at 11:00 o'clock. Mrs. Rai Lehnhoff, contralto, will appear with a group of vocal numbers. She will be accompanied by Miss Marguerite Klinker.

The program follows:
Mel cor piu non mi sento, Giovanni Parsiello; Lascia, ch-is pianga, from "Rinaldo," Handel; Convien partir, from "La Figlia del Regimento," Donizetti; By a Lonely Forest Pathway, Charles Griffes; A Book of Verses Underneath the Bough, from Khayyam's "Rubaiyat"; The Sleep that Flits on Baby's Eyes, from "Gipsy Jig," Tagore. Organ Grinder, Schubert; The Monotone, Cornelius; The Mouse Trap, Spring Song, Hugo Wolf.

OFFICERS OF BIG SIX TALK RULES

Scouting and Transferring Are Discussed; Tabled for Future Action

NEXT MEETING IN MAY

Non-scouting and non-transfer were the two major rulings taken up at the Big Six conference meeting in Kansas City Friday. Both of these items were tabled until the May meeting in Lincoln, according to Herb Gish, acting athletic director at Nebraska.

The non-transfer ruling is being enforced in eastern athletic circles and the officials of the Big Six will pass judgment upon this in the spring after the football fever has completely died away. This non-transfer ruling was the rule that made Bruce Caldwell of Yale ineligible the eve before the Yale-Princeton clash. Nebraska lost a valuable athlete this year because he had competed in college athletics. According to Gish it looks very probable that the athletic officials of the new conference will adopt this rule when they hold their next meeting.

To Discuss Scouting

The non-scouting ban will also come up at the same time. This rule was discussed at length during the Missouri Valley meeting in St. Louis Saturday but no definite action was taken on the rule. Gish intimated that the non-scouting rule may be left out of the Big Six bylaws when the directors convene (Continued on Page 2)

FOSTER WILL BE FORUM SPEAKER

Educational Worker Will Talk To Group Wednesday on Scientist's Religion

HE IS PLAIN TALKER

Dr. Allyn K. Foster, secretary of the board of education of the Baptist church, will address the World Forum luncheon Wednesday noon on the subject of "Religion of a Scientist." Doctor Foster is here under the auspices of the United Student Religious Council, an organization representative of denominational groups the Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A.

While in Lincoln last year, Doctor Foster addressed World Forum on the subject of "Prayer from a Scientist's Viewpoint." He will be here for three days, December 6, 7, and 8, having just come from a three weeks' stay at Manhattan, Kansas, where he was conducting lectures for university students. For three consecutive Sundays in Manhattan he lectured in an auditorium holding more than 2000 students and faculty members. According to word received from Manhattan, "Doctor Foster is a plain-pointed, practical speaker."

In regard to the talk at World Forum, C. D. Hayes, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., stated that "the talk will not fail to be of interest to all students attending."

World Forum tickets may be procured at the Temple today or in Social Science Hall for twenty-five cents each.

Quartette Members Will Be Announced This Noon

The new members of the College of Agriculture quartette will be announced at the meeting of the college Y. W. C. A. this noon at 12:15 o'clock in the Home Economics parlors.

The quartette will sing Christmas carols and the spirit of Christmas will be carried out in the meeting.

GIRLS ORGANIZE AN INTRAMURAL SPORT PROGRAM

Definite Steps Taken to Form Groups to Compete in Athletic Events

HOOP DRAWINGS MADE

Rules Formulated to Regulate Contests by Representatives of Groups

Definite steps toward an intramural recreational program for women were taken at a meeting held Monday under the direction of Miss Lee, director of the physical education department. Great enthusiasm was expressed by the representatives from various groups who were present at this second meeting.

No experience is necessary to play on the team. Undue competition will be eliminated by the rule which states that not more than one first team point winner nor more than one upperclassman physical education major may play on a team. Coaching and instruction will be given by instructors and majors in the department.

Drawings for the basketball tournament were made at the meeting. The date will be set by the executive committee today and posted on (Continued on Page 2)

FIRST MEET IS SET FOR TODAY

Indoor Track Season Opens With Lettermen vs. Yearling Squad

YEAR'S HOPES IN EXHIBIT

Nebraska track fans will get their first taste this afternoon of what the university can expect from the 1928 squad when varsity meets non-varsity on the indoor track under the east stadium.

The varsity line-up will include last year's letter-men and a few who ran in varsity meets last year but did not letter. The non-varsity squad will have all of the members of last year's crack freshman team and the members of this year's yearling contingent.

The meet will start at 4:30 and will follow the usual indoor order of events. The indoor track was put into shape Saturday by a corps of managers and fraternity freshmen. It was rolled and wet again Monday night to finish getting it ready for the opening track trials of the season. Another meet will be held next Tuesday after which the squad will lighten up until after the Christmas holidays.

AG COLLEGE HAS MIXER

Dance Sponsored by Varsity Dairy Club on Agricultural Campus

The university mixer held at the College of Agriculture and sponsored by the Varsity Dairy Club last Saturday evening, December 3, drew a crowd of near five-hundred people.

This, according to many that attended, was one of the largest mixers held at the College of Agriculture in recent years. The Polka Dot orchestra furnished the music for the evening.

Members of the committee, Howard Alexander, Elvin Frolk and Otis Dillon, report that they are planning to stage another party for the benefit of the Dairy Club sometime next spring.

Dr. Allen K. Foster Is Weekly Vespers Speaker

Dr. Allen K. Foster, self-styled the official buffer between science and religion for college students, will speak at the weekly Vespers service Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall. Dr. Foster is already well known to many students on the campus. Helen Day will lead and there will be special music.

COSTUME PARTY PLANS FINISHED

Arrangements for Cornhusker Girls' Party Friday Are Completed

SKITS WILL BE GIVEN

Plans for the Girls' Cornhusker Costume Party to be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the Army were completed Monday. Orrel Rose Jack, chairman of the party announces that a surprise feature for the evening has been arranged, besides the regular program of stunts and dancing.

Tickets will not be sold but an admission fee of twenty-five cents will be collected at the door.

The Cornhusker Costume Party is an annual event, under the auspices of the Associated Womens' Student Board, the same evening as the Cornhusker Banquet for men. The party last year was attended by more than 700 women and as large an attendance is expected Friday evening.

Honoraries Present Skits

Skits will be given by the Mystic Fish, freshmen womens' honorary, Xi Delta, sophomore womens' honorary, Silver Serpent, junior womens' honorary and Tasseis, womens' pep organization.

A grand march, during which the costume judges will make their decisions will be the feature of the evening. The judges include, Miss Margaret McPhee, Miss Clara Wilson and Miss Mable Lee. Mable Heyne is chairman of the committee in charge of the prizes. Prizes will be given for the cleverest costume, the prettiest costume and the funniest costume. (Continued on Page 2)

MRS. ALDRICH WILL SPEAK AT LUNCHEON

Noted Author Will Talk to Girls on Writing as a Profession; Given by Theta Sigma Phi

All university women interested in writing professionally are invited by Theta Sigma Phi to a luncheon Thursday at which Bess Streeter Aldrich, prominent Nebraska writer, will speak.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the organization for fifty cents, and the luncheon, which will be served in the private room of Mrs. Bixby's Food Shop, will begin promptly at 12 o'clock so that students may be through in time to attend 1 o'clock classes.

This is the first luncheon which Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary and professional journalistic sorority will sponsor to promote a professional attitude among the women on the campus.

Mrs. Aldrich, who was initiated as an honorary member of the Nebraska chapter, was also the first honorary member of the Writer's Guild and has been a contributor to various magazines for a number of years. She is well known for her "The Rim of the Prairie" and for her "Mother Mason" and "Nell Cutter" stories.

UNIVERSITY IS ALLOWED OWN RADIO NUMBER

Commission at Washington Gives School Wave Length And Number for Programs

FARMERS LOSE BY CHANGE

Commission Recognizes Work Of University, But Rules Others More Important

According to word received from the radio commission at Washington the University of Nebraska will be permitted to have an individual number and wave length for educational programs to be sent out during the day, but will not be allowed to send in the evenings on account of interference with the chain entertainment programs sent out from the big stations in the east and linked up across the country.

The new ruling affects the University agricultural college extension seriously, according to Acting Chancellor Burnett. In cutting down KFAB to half time only morning and early afternoon hours were left for educational material to be broadcast to farmers, hours at which they would of necessity be in the fields. Home economics extension work could be sent during the day to farmers' wives.

Seaton Visits Commission

L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent of the university under whom radio contracts have been undertaken, has returned from Washington, D. C., where he was in conference with the radio commission. While the extension work of the Ne- (Continued on Page 2)

HEDGES CHOSEN BY AG COUNCIL

National Organization Elects Indianola Student As Secretary of Body

FIRST NEBRASKAN PICKED

Gordon Hedges, '29, Indianola, was elected national secretary of the National Agricultural Council which held a conference in Chicago last week.

Mr. Hedges is the first Nebraska student to hold an office in the national organization which is composed of representative of the various agricultural schools throughout the country. The organization was formulated several years ago as a medium in organizing students interested in agricultural work.

Mr. Hedges attended the conference as the Nebraska delegate. He is circulation manager of the Cornhusker Countryman, the College of Agriculture representative on the Student Council and will represent Nebraska at the third annual meeting of the National Student Federation of America to be held here December 15, 16, and 17.

Tickets Still Available For Grid Banquet

Tickets for the Cornhusker Banquet may be procured at any fraternity house, at the Temple from C. D. Hayes, or at "Red" Long's Book Store, for one dollar. According to Glen Davis, chairman of the committee, the tickets are selling well and there is only a limited supply left.

The banquet will start promptly at 5:45 o'clock and will end about 8:15. All fraternities are closing their tables so that all men may attend the banquet. The convention of Nebraska High School coaches which opens Friday, December 9, will attend the banquet. Entertainment will consist of two ten piece orchestras and vocal selections by Harriet Cruise.

BIZAD NEWS WILL APPEAR THIS WEEK

December Issue of Publication Will Be Distributed by Staff Wednesday

The December issue of the Bizad News will be distributed Wednesday morning from stands at the north and south ends of third floor, Social Sciences building.

In addition to a humor element, this issue contains writeups of the various business organizations on the campus and an article naming players on an All Bizad-Nebraska lineup. (Continued on Page 2)

SCIENTIST WILL LECTURE

Authority on Science and Religion Talks Wednesday in Bessey Hall

Dr. Allyn K. Foster, noted lecturer on science and religion, will give an address, Wednesday evening at 5:00 o'clock at the general lecture room in Bessey Hall, on the subject, "Does Evolution Dispose of Religion?"

According to C. D. Hayes, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., "Doctor Foster is scientifically sound, and can be taken as an authority on all subjects upon which he lectures."

HAWAIIAN AND FRENCHMAN ON WAY TO MEET

Universities of Hawaii and Paris Will Have Students At Council Convention

HAWAII WANTS CONGRESS

Peggy Legaret, Representative From Honolulu Will Bring Official Invitation

Delegates from the University of Hawaii at Honolulu and from the University of Paris will attend the third annual conference of the National Student Federation of America according to cablegrams received by the local chairman of the congress.

Miss Peggy Legaret will represent the University of Hawaii. The name of the French delegate was not given. Miss Legaret sailed from Hawaii early last week and will arrive in Lincoln Wednesday morning, December 14. The French delegate will arrive on Thursday of the same week.

Receive Cablegram

The cablegram from Hawaii was signed by the American Ambassador and stated that Miss Legaret brought with her her official credentials from her university as a representative of the Pan-Pacific Cosmopolitan division of the international organization.

The University of Hawaii will also bring an invitation for the fourth annual meeting of the organization to be held on the Hawaiian islands with the University of Hawaii at Honolulu as host. The invitation, the cablegram stated, came officially from Governor Farrington of the Islands and would be presented to the Congress by Miss Legaret. The message from the Hawaiian ambassador was sent direct to the Nebraska chairman while the one from Paris was directed to the national organization and details have not been forwarded in regard to the identity of the delegate.

National Chairman Enthusiastic

A letter from Chandler Wright, national congress chairman expresses great enthusiasm in regard to the third annual meeting of the Congress. He says in part: "Never in the history of the national organization has the response from school, universities and colleges been as it is this year. We re- (Continued on Page 2)

GUESSERS BUSY IN AWGWAN CONTEST

Many Make Try at Puzzle of Theme Of Cover Title for December Issue of Humor Magazine

Guesses on the scientific subject to be treated in the cover of the December Awgwan began flowing in Monday. The cover, drawn by Tom McCoy, went to the engravers early yesterday morning.

The few who know the cover subject have expressed the belief that it is one of the most unique cover designs the Awgwan has published. Tom McCoy, cover artist for the December issue, is a freshman in the University. A former Omaha Central student, he has had art work in the Weekly Register of Omaha Central, the O-Book of the same school, the Omaha Bee, and the Nebraska State Journal. Since coming to the University he has been a regular contributor to the Awgwan and a series of football head sketches drawn by him was published in the Daily Nebraskan.

With five free yearly subscriptions to the Awgwan being offered for the first four successful guessers of the cover subject, the editor announced that the guesses to date had not jeopardized the limit.

Funds from Pamphlet Sale Will Be Used to Preserve Old Frigate

Rebuilding of the frigate "Constitution" better known as "Old Ironsides" is the aim of an organization operating from Chicago.

The historic warship of the early American navy which was saved from destruction many years ago by Oliver Wendell Holmes' appeal in his poem "Old Ironsides" is to be completely rebuilt and preserved according to the plans of the "Save Old Ironsides" organization.

For that purpose they are publishing pamphlets citing the interesting history of the ship. Selling for twenty-cents, twenty-three cents of this sum is to be devoted to the rebuilding of the ship. The remainder will be used to defray the expenses of publication of the pamphlet.

Prominent Figures At Congress

Munro Kezer

Munro Kezer will represent the University of Nebraska at the third annual conference to be held here. He is joint chairman with Ruth Palmer of the committee for arrangements for the meeting. Joseph Owens, of Kansas Wesleyan, is secretary and treasurer of the national organization and will be present at the conference. Merle Jones will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of Nebraska at the general meeting on Thursday of the conference.

Conference Staff of Y.W.C.A Sponsors Novel Christmas Sale

Santa's Sale, a bargain bazaar offered as a salvation to frenetic university girls seeking last minute Christmas gifts for friends and relatives, will be held from 10 until 6 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 7, 8, and 9. Miscellaneous novelties and hand made gifts will be on sale, in addition to delicious home made candy.

The six booths will be in charge of members of the conference staff of the Y. W. C. A., which is sponsoring the sale. Eleanor Berge will have charge of the linen and handkerchief booth, Louise Van Sickle of the kitchen booth, Marjorie Bailey of the Grab Bag, Lois Hanning of the candy booth, and Marjorie Sturdevant of the miscellaneous and novelty booths.

Ether Heyne has general charge of the sale and Dorothy Otto is finance chairman. Ruth French is chairman of the conference staff. The proceeds of the sale will be used to help pay the expenses of delegates to the Estes Park conference which will be held the latter part of next summer.
