Twenty-One States Join Forces for Great Lakes to St. Lawrence Canal

Twenty-one states have banded together to assemble and disseminate helpful information in regard to the improvement of the St. Lawrence river to connect the Great Lakes with the ocean. The program which they are endeavoring to follow formed the basis of a talk on "Sectionalism and the Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Canal," by Albert La Fleur, professor of Geography, over the University Radio recently.
"The Association has keyed its program to three things," said Professor La Fleur, "First: A treaty drawn in 1927 between the United States and Canada. Second: Digging started in 1928. Third: Opened for commerce in 1934. It is at once evident that the planks of this 'tidewater platform' will need immediate renovation for the year 1927 is about to pass into history. The basic idea of making Chicago a great seaport will continue to engage the thoughts of the twenty-one member states until something is accomplished."
"As a student of Economic Geography," went on Professor La Fleur,

Varsity Track Men Lose Meet

Veterans Score Only 23 Points To 140 Compiled by Non-Letter Runners

NEXT MEET DECEMBER 13

Due to the scarcity of their representatives, the varsity track men were swamped by the non-varsity aggregation in Tuesday afternoon's meet, making only 23 out of a total of 140 points tallied. Only six varsity men entered in the competition, so the score can not be taken as truly representative of the merits of the two sides, though it speaks well for the hitherto unused material that the coaches will have to pick this year's squad from.
Janulewick, a varsity runner, led in the one mile run, but was closely followed by Dexter, a non-varsity representative. Those placing in (Continued on Page 4)

EDITOR ISSUES CALL FOR GROUP PANELS

Fraternities and Sororities Asked To Get Pictures Soon to Avoid Late Rush

Fraternity and sorority members desiring to have their pictures appear in the 1928 Cornhusker must report to the studios as soon as possible. The usual Christmas rush will make it necessary for students to have their pictures taken at once.
The fraternity and sorority panels of this year's annual are to be especially attractive. Some special art features will be included in the designs and title pages of this section and the editor and his staff are particularly desirable to have the pictures for this section ready to go to the engraver at an early date.
"We are spending a great deal of time and putting some extra expense on this section and we are desirous of having all groups report to the studios for their sitting before the Christmas holidays," Mr. Wallace, editor of the year book stated yesterday.
This division of the book is one of the most prominent ones and should include photographs of all fraternity and sorority members. Those in charge of this section are urging all fraternity and sorority groups to set a particular day as a deadline for the photographic sittings at that particular house.

Miss McPhee Talks on Short Story in Radio Address on Literature

The short story from a literary standpoint was considered by Miss M. C. McPhee in a radio talk called "The Short Story as a Literary Form." Miss McPhee's talk dealt with the short story from the time of Irving to the present day, and clearly distinguished the difference between popular short stories and the literary short story. There are many stories, however, that would come under both constructions.
"The peak of the short story from a literary point of view came in the late nineteenth century," said Miss McPhee "but that does not mean that there are no good stories of today. Short stories are experimental today and are not to be judged by the same standards as the short stories of a few decades ago."
Most stories today are of a more popular type and this is perhaps to attract a larger number of readers that do not have the time and opportunity to read a longer story or a novel.

Fun and Recreation Are Objects of Girls' Intra-Mural Sports Program

By Florence Seward

"We want every girl in the University who wants to play to have a chance to play," stated Miss Mabel Lee, Director of the Department of Physical Education for Women, when questioned concerning the new Intra-mural Sports program recently formulated for University women.
"The present system of physical education for young women is largely restricted to our credit work department, while no program has hitherto been offered in which all girls would be given the chance to indulge in wholesome play," she added.
Two years' work in the department is required of all university women for graduation. This requirement is usually worked off during the freshman and sophomore years leaving the last two years practically empty of any organized physical work for the girl. It is to fill this gap that the Intra-mural program for University women has been adopted.

SPEAKER TALKS ON BELIEF IN RELIGION

Vespers Address Given by Dr. Allen K. Foster Stresses Importance of Faith for Certainty

"The Basis of Religious Certainty" was the topic of the talk which Dr. Allen K. Foster gave at the weekly Vespers service last evening at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall.
Dr. Foster introduced his subject by describing the absolute uncertainty of all things material, all things scientific. "Science is based on imaginative hypotheses," he said, "we may think certain facts are certainly proven but they are really only hypotheses, the reactions to which are almost always the same."
"All of physics is based on the theory of the atom," he continued, "and yet we have never isolated an atom, and we do not know what it is. No physiologist or scientist, no man today can explain to you what happens when you contract your muscles, but man would be in a sore plight if he could not contract his muscles."
