Past Season Considered One Of Most Successful in Nebraska History

ONLY TWO GAMES LOST

Pittsburg and Missouri Able To Win; Team Led Valley In Points Scored

By Jack Elliott

The scarlet-clad Cornhusker football team just closed one of the most successful seasons on the gridiron in many years. The Nebraska eleven piled up more points during the season than any other Missouri Valley team and held their opponents to the lowest score among the conference elevens.

Although the Huskers finished in rated by critics all over the country to be the strongest eleven in the Valley conference and Middle West. It was Nebraska's last year in the Big Six conference.
