

In the VALLEY

by Jack Elliott

The Nebraska state high school basketball tournament in the Coliseum on March 8, 9, and 10 will be another large get-together in the realm of the King of the winter sports. It is estimated that around 250 teams will participate in the tourney despite the restrictions that the Nebraska athletic board set for entrants. The rules this year read to the effect that a team must win 50 percent or more of its games to enter.

The curtain on the basketball season will soon be down but that does not keep the proteges of Henry Schulte from making preparations for the coming track season. The "Indian" took a squad of cinder path artists to the Kansas City Athletic Club relays at Convention Hall and with the tracksters return from Kay Cee they will start the hard grind for the indoor meet.

Tom Jones, head track coach at the University of Wisconsin, will referee the sixth annual Kansas Relays, in the University of Kansas memorial stadium on April 21, Dr. "Phog" Allen announced. Jones is one of the best track coaches in the western conference.

The Kansas Aggie track team this year should be exceptionally strong in the hurdles, 880-yard run and the one and two-mile relays, according to report from the Manhattan school. Five of last year's mile relay championship team are back and several lettermen are also available for the two-mile events, in which the Purple tracksters finished second last season.

Washington University's swimming team consisting of twelve men has left St. Louis for an extended trip through Iowa where they will meet Iowa University, Drake, Grinnell and Iowa State in a series of dual meets. The Bears won the swimming championship last year, and are said to have another strong team. In their only meet so far this season they defeated the University of Cincinnati tank squad.

SCHRAMM TELLS OF OIL POSSIBILITIES

Geology Professor Says Nebraska Oil Wells Have Valuable Producing Power

Prof. E. F. Schramm, of the Geology department, spoke on Nebraska oil possibilities Sunday afternoon in Morrill Hall. Mention was made of the many deep test wells in Nebraska, the deepest one being in Banner county with a depth of 5697 feet.

Professor Schramm stated that the test wells have shown that Nebraska has underlying structural oil formations that are similar to those in oil producing regions in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Wyoming, and have valuable producing power. The reason for the non-productivity of Nebraska wells is that nature has not yet completed the distillation of oil shales. He stated that testing has not always been thorough, the drilling having not been carried far enough to test all sands. A number of favorable structures were cited, particularly those near Chadron, Agate, Cambridge, Table Rock, and Union.

Ohio State Students Criticize Pastors on Apparent Frankness

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 20—(By New Student Service)—Ohio ministers in convention at Ohio State university were somewhat disconcerted when university students, whom they had invited to present undergraduate views on religious leadership, became truly critical. Ministers, the students said, pose as final authorities and never admit they do not know, fail to discuss frankly, sincerely, willingly and intelligently the most vital problems of life, and talk at, rather than with, their followers. At first the ministers rose in protest and wanted to give battle. After a lively meeting the clerics agreed to wait until all the student criticisms were in before making their defence.

More Awgwan Copy Is Needed

Poems, short skits, and jokes have been turned in by Douglas Timmerman, William McCleery, Jack Lowe, Lynn Cox, Clarence Clevor, and others.

Students having ability to write or draw are asked by the editor to send a copy of their work to the Awgwan office where it will receive careful consideration.

CENTRE STAR MAY COACH KANSAS AGS

'Bo' McMillan, Famous 'Praying Colonel' Will Replace Coach Bachman

Manhattan, Kansas, Feb. 20—A. N. "Bo" McMillan, former Centre college quarterback and one of football's most colorful contemporary heroes, has agreed to become head football coach at Kansas State college, providing he can secure his release from Geneva college, Beaver Falls, Pa., his present post. He plans to fill the vacancy left by Charles W. Bachman who will assume head coach's duties at Florida university next fall.

McMillan has had, since his football career with the "Praying Colonels" at Centre college, a most unusual record as a coach. In his five years of coaching his teams have played fifty-eight games. Records show victories in forty-eight of these, defeats in eight, and one tie. In 1926 his Geneva eleven won from Harvard, 16 to 7, and last year from Boston college, 13 to 0.

CADMAN DECLARES CHAPEL NEEDLESS

Great Congregational Minister Tells Harvard Reporter Atheism Is Losing Ground

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 20—(By New Student Service)—"Atheism among college students is of no important consequence," Dr. Samuel Parkes Cadman, minister of the Central Congregation church, of New York, told a reporter for the Harvard Crimson. "As these students grow older they will come to realize that there is a God," he continued. "Students as well as other people often confuse the term God. It takes in a broad sweep of meanings."

People who call themselves atheists really are not atheists at all. Any one who has any ideals at all, which are worth while, could not be an atheist."

Asked if he thought college chapel exercises should be made compulsory, Dr. Cadman replied:

"They are no longer necessary in colleges. Many institutions still insist upon students attending chapel, but a great many have abolished the idea, and in a university like Harvard, it is, indeed justifiable. The mere fact, however, that there is no required chapel attendance does not mean that one must turn his back upon it. President Angell, of Yale, told me recently that voluntary attendance had proved more satisfactory at Yale than the old system."

Klub Tryouts Continue Fair And Warmer

(Continued from Page 1) ated Scouler, "and never darken my door again—Lucile makes a gesture of despair." "Irish" Ireland was on hand last night dancing with all the ambitious chorus men. Time after time he made his little hot-foot across the floor, showing the applicants, who looked on with mouths open, the proper step. One self-satisfied gentleman (or maybe it was the A. T. O. who forgot to try out Saturday) watched the antics of "Irish" as he attempted to show the poor unsuspecting lad wotzwt. As Mr. Ireland finished, out of breath, and started back across the floor the boy gave him an encouraging smile. "That wasn't half bad," he said.

Lovely Ditties
As an added feature of entertainment "Red" Krause furnished a little piano music. Paul Morrow, recognized pianist for the tryers-out gave all Kosmet Klub a delightful surprise when he came back with a new piece. In addition to "Rain" he was able to play a lovely little ditty composed by "Red" Long's janitor, entitled "Keep Sweeping Cobwebs Off the Moon."

Two freshmen attempted to try out last evening, but were discouraged. That is, they were denied that privilege; they must have been discouraged anyway. Judging from the splendid material that has tried out, or had tried out at 12 o'clock last night, the Kosmet Klub show "The Love Hater" will be a knockout.

Cagemen Work For Week-end Contests

Although starting the week right by winning from the Drake basketballers and moving up to the head of the second division, the Huskers lost their week-end tilt in a couple of warmly contested games. After meeting the Jayhawk and Sooner teams on the home court, the Varsity meets Grinnell here Feb. 28 and finishes the season with games at Norman and Stillwater March 3 and 5.

Holt, Oklahoma center, still leads the list of individual scorers with 164 points. Lande, Arnes forward, follows with 159 markers and Thomson is third with a point total of 155. "Jug" Brown ranks first for the Cornhuskers with an even 80 points to his credit.

Scrimmage with the yearling cagers under the direction of Coach Bunny Oakes will occupy the major part of the remaining practice sessions for the week. Coach Charley Black hopes to at least break even in this week's games and is bending every effort to get his players in condition for the tussle with Kansas Friday evening.

Norma Clark Tells Of Mexico Conditions

(Continued from Page 1) that the Mexican government is a republic in name only, for in the voting for government officials the people are given only one person to select from, the others having been removed from the field by the time the election arrives.

The Mexicans have very little desire for education, many of the rural districts being entirely without schools of any kind. Of course, the cities and towns have some facilities for education.

In concluding her talk, Miss Clark spoke of the fact that most of the Oklahoma Track Star Has "Dateless" Record

Norman, Feb. 20—Leap year may cause considerable trouble for Harold Keith, University of Oklahoma track star. Urged into action by a recent letter from an alumnus to "the best looking woman student at the university" Sooner co-eds are out to break Keith's record of not having had a "date" since entering school three years ago.
