Spring Frolic Inaugurates New Idea in Holding Affair At Ag Campus

SPECIAL BUSES WILL RUN

Student Activities Building Is To Be Scene of University Function Saturday

Plans are complete for the Varsity Party committee's "Spring Frolic" which is booked for the College of Agriculture Activities building Saturday night. The spring party will inaugurate a novel idea in University parties in having the party off of the city campus and at the Ag campus instead.

Extra traction company buses will be run to the Ag College campus, early in the evening and after the party to take care of those not wishing to go in cars, it was announced yesterday.

Dance Floor Is Good

The Student Activities building at Ag College is one of the new buildings at Nebraska, having been built last year. It is large enough to accommodate a large crowd and is pronounced to have one of the best dance floors in Lincoln.

On account of University night being scheduled for Saturday night very few fraternity or sorority parties were scheduled and as University night has been cancelled for this year, the Varsity "Spring Frolic" offers the Nebraska University students the only school function for that night.

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of interviews with the University's student pastor, concerning the Lenten season and its relation to University life which will be published by The Daily Nebraskan.

"Lent, in its original meaning, is supposed to be a period of fasting," declared Rev. Carey J. Pope, Baptist university pastor, in an interview on the meaning and significance of the Lenten season. "In later years, however," he continued, "only a few of the churches have retained this custom."

Advanced Class Shows Ignorance Concerning Noted Political Leaders

Curtis, Donahay, Meredith, Ritchie, Underwood, and Willis were quite unknown to three Arts and Science students, one Fine Arts student, one Agricultural College student, four Teachers College students and two graduate students, in an advanced class in Education, according to Professor H. C. Koch of the department of Secondary Education, following the Nebraskan's poll Wednesday.

In this small class of eleven some thought that Hughes was a member of the Supreme Court while others thought Hoover to be Secretary of the Interior.

Great Operatic Spectacle Will Attract Many

(By Lyman Cass)

When you step into the University Coliseum next Thursday, your heart is apt to miss a beat or two. Nearly seven thousand people will be witnessing the greatest operatic spectacle ever presented in Nebraska.

The dazzling lights will show a different Coliseum than has ever been seen before. The grandeur of the equipment necessary to form a background for some of the world's greatest opera stars, will be reflected by the audience resplendent in full evening dress. Strains of the finest music ever written will fill the room. The presentation of Il Trovatore will be a climax to Lincoln's social activities.

Company Is Now in Oregon

The Chicago Civic Opera company which will present the famous Italian opera is now playing in Portland, Oregon. A long jump will take them to Denver for two nights after which they will appear here. Lincoln is one of the smallest cities that will see the production.

Lincoln will be filled with opera displays next week. Chicago publicity men will be responsible for special window displays, special newspaper sections, and added advertising.

Is Big Production

John W. Selleck, who is taking a very prominent part in the opera management says that "students and people over the state are backing the opera well, but they do not seem to realize the size of it. It is positively the biggest production of grand opera ever staged in Nebraska." The only other attempt at grand opera in Lincoln was twenty-three years ago.

Provisions are being made to seat 8500 people. The elevating of the floor, in order that everyone may see well, is to start Saturday.

Spring Fever Is Devastating Campus Morale

(By Bill McCreery)

A movement is being started by some of the prominent men on the campus to postpone spring until mid-semester exams are over. Rain is advocated, but a straw vote will probably be taken to determine just what weather is most desired.

"Books are man's best friends—" remarks the sage. (Don't feel badly—we always thought this was spice too). But there are times when a man (or a woman—we believe in a single standard) cares not for his best friend. There are things that even your best friend can't tell you. Spring seems to create a desire to hear those very things; the result (according to report—we don't know) is devastating for the old scholarship.

Evening Is Collegiate

Wednesday, aside from the ordinary activities of such a day, was the first day of spring. Characterized by a warm day and a cool evening the day was a striking success. The evening was intensely collegiate. Strolling down R street one could hear music from every angle. And even from the Beta house came strains that a slight imagination could interpret to be music. "Blue Skies"—a good old summer song seemed to rate well.

Turning the corner of Sixteenth and R one was confronted with a spectacle which should leave a lasting impression (provided he turned to the left). At least half of the Lambda Chis were out playing "catch" (the last word is quoted because, according to the Pi Phi very little actual catching is done.) The Gamma Phi Betas were out, too. We almost forgot the Alpha Sigs, but they must have been out also because if the Gamma Phi were out of the house there wouldn't be anything to entice the Alpha Sigs to stay inside.

Benches Are Enticing

The Alpha Delta Pi girls were dancing with each other, with all of the doors wide open. Perhaps they had initiation—they were dancing in formal—or maybe they were aprons. The Thetas will rate with the warm weather because they have two nice benches out in their front yard. (You get a good view of the Alpha O windows from them.) And just as we passed the Alpha Phi house we hear the bell ringing for study hall—poor girls.

On down Sixteenth we passed the Kappa house, but nothing was stirring. The yard looks nice though, really.

Law Senior Speaks On Trial of Christ

'Most Memorable Act of Injustice' Says Ervin Jones Before Bible League

"Christ's trial was the most memorable act of injustice ever committed by a court of justice," declared Ervin Jones, senior in the College of Law, in a lecture to the Lutheran Bible League at its regular meeting Wednesday, at the Temple. He maintained that because of the "saffron-tinted spines" of the judges the trial was grossly unsound and illegal. "In the trial proper," continued Jones, "the otherwise strict and formal Hebrew judiciary used a procedure which knew no bounds in its illegality. Accusation against the accused were vague and indefinite. Witnesses were chosen on illegal grounds."

Appears Before Pilate

After being taken to the Roman court, Jesus suffered the same harsh and brutal treatment, expressed the speaker. Pilate, the representative of Roman law, did not dare to let Jesus go free and as a result make himself subject to the insistent mob which was calling for the blood of Christ.

'Il Trovatore' Tickets Are Placed on Sale

Tickets for the opera "Il Trovatore" on Thursday evening, March 29, are now being sold to students for one dollar, at the Student Activities office in the Coliseum.

These seats are special bleacher seats that will be put up around the side of the room. The low price is introduced to heighten student interest, and the ticket sale is expected to be well patronized.

GRIDMEN HAVE STIFF PRACTICE

Candidates Put in Intensive Drill Period Working On Fundamentals

SIXTY PROSPECTS REPORT

Hindered by a hot and windy day, the spring football gridsters put in a lengthy practice on fundamentals Thursday afternoon. On account of the illness of his wife, Coach Ernest Bearg was unable to attend yesterday's session but the other coaches were on hand for the strenuous workout.

About sixty candidates reported on the south field and were divided according to the position they played. "Bunny" Oakes and Ray Lehman had the linemen under their direction, Leo Scherer and Vint Lawson had the ends working out, and Charlie Black had sole control of the intensive activities of the backfield men.

Linemen Improve

A number of linemen are beginning to show improvement in the gentle art of tackling and blocking. Craig, Ray, and a host of weighty performers made up the squad which Oakes sent through setting up exercises, duck walking, blocking, and finally a stiff drill on tackling. According to rumor, several of the men who were on hand for the initial performance of the season Wednesday were unable to attend yesterday.

An unusually large number of ends were at work on boxing tactics under the eye of Leo Scherer, for the past few years coach of the wing performers. Leo sent them down the line in elusive fashion, using their hands and side stepping to elude the would-be tacklers. Bushee, Ashburn, Still, and a host of new gridsters spent the afternoon in strenuous fashion. The varsity is especially weak in effective wingmen this year and needs material.

Bud McBride, Clair Sloan, Wally Marrow, Harold Peaker, Blue Howell and several other promising pigskin jugglers went through a snappy session. (Continued on Page 4)

Spring Weather Causes W.A.A. to Choose Motto 'See Lincoln on Skates'

"See Lincoln on skates" that is one of the new mottoes of W. A. A. Premature spring weather has brought its inevitable result—roller skating. The Women's Athletic Association has taken this much discussed sport under its protection and organized roller skating parties will soon become a familiar sight.

Roller skate enthusiasts are asked to meet at the women's gym Friday at 6:30 o'clock. W. A. A. points will be awarded, fifty for eighteen hours participation and twenty-five for eight hours. The trip scheduled for Friday afternoon will last two hours.

Fraternities and Sororities Devour Great Quantities of 'Java' in Attempt to Keep Awake While Studying Late at Night

HOOVER KEEPS HIGH PLACE IN STUDENT POLL

Dawes Still Runs Second and Smith Is Third in Count Made Thursday

MANY BALLOTS COME IN

Republicans Receive 1,660 Votes; Democrats Get Total of 401

Herbert Hoover retained first place in The Daily Nebraskan's "straw vote" after the counting of yesterday's ballots. Two thousand and fifty-nine ballots have been received at the Nebraskan office out of a total of more than 3,000 sent out. Hoover is credited with 719 votes, and Charles G. Dawes, his nearest competitor, with only 359.

Although a number of ballots have not yet been returned to the Nebraskan office, no change is expected in the proportionate standing of the candidates. The proportion held almost constant both days.

Smith Runs Third

Alfred E. Smith is holding third place with 260 votes. The other candidates in their order are: Charles E. Hughes, George W. Norris, Frank Lowden, James A. Reed, Charles E. Borah, Thomas J. Walsh, Charles Curtis, Edwin T. Meredith, Albert C. Ritchie, Oscar W. Underwood, Frank B. Willis, and Vic Donahey.

The Daily Nebraskan's "straw vote" was taken in 9 o'clock classes on Wednesday morning. In all probability the ballots will all have been returned and the final results compiled by tomorrow, making it possible for a review of the "straw election." (Continued on Page 2.)

CO-ED NET SEASON WILL OPEN MONDAY

Annual W.A.A. Tourney Is Scheduled For May; Events Will Count Toward Numerals

Co-ed tennis season starts Monday, March 26. Tennis is a W. A. A. minor sport, and a tournament under the auspices of W. A. A. is scheduled for the second week in May. Katherine Indoe, '29, now holds the tennis title and Edith Grau, '30, was runner-up in the tournament held last fall.

Five hours of practice are required for team members. Prospective tournament entrants are requested to turn into the W. A. A. office a record including their class, scores, hours played and the date.

Many Are Expected

Thirty-seven girls qualified for the tournament last fall and it is hoped that the list will be even larger this spring because of the increased length of the season. Only six courts can now be used and the girls are urged to get in their practices as soon as possible.

Points won in tennis may be counted toward "N" award, numerals and other W. A. A. awards. They are given on the basis of scholarship, progress in the tournament, ability and sportsmanship.

W. A. A. Riflers Lose One of Thirty Matches

Co-ed Close Successful Season; Syracuse Administrators Only Defeat This Year

Nebraska co-ed riflers have only dropped one match out of thirty scheduled this season. The solitary defeat was administered by Syracuse. The ten girls with the highest scores each week fire in the inter-scholastic matches.

Rifling is another of the many W. A. A. activities. Ten practices are necessary for points in this sport. The range will be open one more week for the benefit of those who have not reached this total. Inter-scholastic competition ends this week.
