THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1928.

PRICE 5 CENTS

GREEKS WILL MEET TONIGHT FOR BANQUET

Hainer Cup Will Be Given to Group With Highest Scholarship

PLAQUES WILL BE GIVEN

W. C. Ramsey and Chancellor Burnett Will Address Organizations

Final arrangements for the annual Interfraternity banquet, scheduled for this evening at 6:15 o'clock at the Scottish Rite temple, have been completed and everything is in readiness for the traditional gathering of the Greeks.

The banquet, which is sponsored by the Interfraternity council each year, is for the purpose of promoting scholarship activities and to encourage good feeling among the organizations.

Trophies Will Be Presented

The Hainer scholarship trophy, which is presented each year to the fraternity having the highest standing for the past year, will be awarded. Fifteen plaques will be presented to the fraternities having the smallest percentage of delinquencies. The Hainer trophy goes only to a national social fraternity but both professional and social fraternities are eligible for the plaque awards.

William C. Ramsey, president of the Nebraska Alumni association, and Chancellor Burnett will deliver addresses. Professor Schramm, chairman of the Interfraternity council will present the scholarship awards and explain the manner in which standings are compiled. Merle Jones, president of the Innocents society, will preside as toastmaster.

Indications point to a complete turnout from all the houses. Fraternities have closed their tables for the dinner hour. Arrangements have

Farmers' Fair Goddess Will Soon Be Chosen

Senior Girl in Home Ec Department Will Receive Annual Honor For 1928 Carnival

Voting started Monday and will continue throughout Tuesday, for the election of the goddess of agriculture of the Farmers' Fair.

This is an annual procedure by which the senior girl in the home economics department who is the most representative, and the best known, is chosen for the honored position as goddess. Another phase of this tradition is the parading of the goddess and her attendants on the especially constructed float in the Farmers' Fair parade.

Any senior girl in the home economics department is eligible for this election which will continue all day Monday and Tuesday in the home economics parlors. The girl receiving the greatest number of votes becomes the goddess, while the six girls having the next high number of votes have the honor of attending the goddess.

KNOW YOUR KAMPUS

Did You Know That? Extensive plans, involving models of buildings and parks, have been made so that, in a few years, you won't "know your kampus."

The entire plan has been laid out on paper. Landscaping and gardening will be done to get the new kampus into shape. While we walk past the drill field and get dirt in our eyes we might look to the future and contemplate the day when Nebraska will have a "campus beautiful."

William C. Ramsey

William C. Ramsey of Omaha, who will deliver the principal address at the Interfraternity banquet to be held at the Scottish Rite temple at 6:15 o'clock this evening. Mr. Ramsey is president of the Nebraska Alumni association.

EXHIBIT NIGHT IS TO BE THURSDAY

Pharmacists Will Give Out Favors to Visitors at Annual Display

PICNIC WILL BE FRIDAY

Eighth annual Pharmacy Week will officially open today, May 1, and last until Saturday night, May 5, according to an announcement made yesterday by Eugene Bach, chairman of the committee in charge, concerning the definite program for the week.

The first event on the week's calendar will be Wednesday morning when a convocation will be held at 10 o'clock in room 7 in Pharmacy hall. The feature of the week's events will be the Exhibit Night, Thursday night. From 7:30 o'clock until 11, personal exhibits will be shown in the laboratories, motion pictures on "Biologicals" will be shown, and music will be provided by a ten-piece orchestra. "The Pharmacuticians". Favors will be given to all visitors attending Exhibit Night.

Will Hold Picnic

Friday afternoon, students in the College of Pharmacy will picnic at Antelope park. The Pharmacy baseball team will play the Engineers in the afternoon. Saturday night, the week's events will be concluded with a banquet at the Cornhusker hotel.

Regent Stanley D. Long, William Brookley, ex-Chancellor Avery, Chancellor Burnett, J. A. Porter, druggist, Judge Chappell, and Judge Frost will be guests at the banquet. Dr. Frankforter will be toastmaster. In regard to the annual Pharmacy Week, Bach stated yesterday, "It has

MANY TICKETS ARE SOLD FOR CO-ED BANQUET

Eleven Hundred Will Attend Annual Panhellenic Dinner Tonight

MRS. KISTLER WILL TALK

Sorority Scholastic Rating Is To Be Announced; Plan Musical Program

"May Day" will be the feature of the annual Panhellenic banquet scheduled for 6 o'clock tonight in the Coliseum. The revealing of the scholarship standings of the sororities will be part of the program.

Covers will be laid for active and alumni members of the twenty-one national sororities represented on the University of Nebraska campus. It has been the custom of the various Greek-letter houses to close their tables and attend the banquet.

Many Tickets Sold

Eleven hundred tickets have been sold for the banquet tonight, which is more than the number sold the past two years.

The revealing of the large slab which will have the twenty-one sororities listed in order of their scholastic standing will be one of the features of the evening. The four Greek-letter groups with the highest average will be awarded scholarship prizes by the Panhellenic board.

Mrs. J. J. Kistler of Lawrence, Kan., will give the address of the evening. Her talk will be an idealistic talk for the college girl and her later life. Mrs. Kistler received her A.B. degree in Journalism at the University of Kansas in 1921, and

COOPER ADDRESSES GROUP AT MEETING

'Raw Material and Diplomacy' Is Topic of Professor at Cotner College

"Raw Material and Diplomacy" was the topic of Prof. Vernon Cooper's talk given before a meeting of the Institute of International Relations Monday evening in the First Christian church. Professor Cooper is professor of European history at Cotner college.

Professor Cooper stated that the control of the raw materials of the world is not in the political control of the regions in which they lie, but in the buying power of those parties interested.

All through recent history, the raw materials of the world have had an important part in the relations of the nations. There are nine types of raw materials which have a yearly

Gunderson Leaves for Minneapolis Meeting

L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary will leave today for Minneapolis where he will attend the eighteenth annual meeting of university and college business officers. The meeting will be held at the University of Minnesota on May 3 and 4. Mr. Gunderson expects to be gone all of this week.

Where They Vote

Above is the scene in the Temple lobby at the spring elections a year ago when more than 1150 students swarmed to the polls to cast their votes. Following masked appeals for votes by the "Yellow Jackets" Monday evening at sorority houses and a serenade by the "Blue Shirts", political activity is believed to be at white heat today. Political dopesters are predicting even a larger vote than a year ago.

ENGINEERS ARE TO HOLD EXHIBIT

Week of Display Will Open Tomorrow Morning at Convocation

GEOLOGISTS WILL ASSIST

Chairmen of committees for Engineers' Week met with general chairman Harold Zipp yesterday to make final preparations for the exhibition which will get under way with the convocation and pep rally Wednesday morning.

Tickets for the banquet, field day, and engineers' tags are selling rapidly, according to Rensch, in charge of ticket sales for the exhibition.

Geologists Cooperate

The department of geology, which will cooperate with the engineers in staging the exhibition, has announced its program for the annual display Thursday night. This department is not a part of the College of Engineering, but is cooperating with it because of the similarity of the work.

The geology display will be conducted largely under the sponsorship of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary geology fraternity. Students will demonstrate their work in the mineralogy, fire essay, and oil laboratories as well as in the rock and fossil laboratories.

The entire College of Engineering will be open to the general public Thursday night for inspection and demonstration of laboratory methods and practices, as well as for the purpose of demonstrating some of the newer developments in the field of engineering.

Burnett Visits North Platte Test Station

Chancellor E. A. Burnett left Sunday evening for an inspection trip of the agricultural experiment station at North Platte. Monday was given over to a general inspection of the station. He will return some time today.

CHEMISTRY DISPLAY IS TO BE THURSDAY

Exhibits in Chemistry Hall Will Be Explained; Professors Supervise Work

As an incentive for research and a demonstration of chemical ability, Thursday night has been set aside as the annual Chemistry Night in conjunction with the Colleges of Pharmacy and Engineering.

From 2:30 until 11 o'clock exhibits and actual working processes will be shown visitors at the Chemistry hall. Under the direction of Prof. C. J. Frankforter, the oil chemistry laboratory in the basement of Chemistry hall will demonstrate the refining of crude oil. Crude oil will be distilled into fractions of cleansing oil, gasoline, kerosene, and lubricating oils.

Laboratory Will Be Open

The freshman chemistry laboratory under the direction of Dr. E. Washburn, and Dr. Clifford B. Hendricks, will be open for inspection. In room 217, the Bio-chemistry laboratory, students will offer working experiments on vegetable and animal products with analysis. An attempt will be made to obtain furfural, the chemical substance taken from corn stalks and oat hulls. This laboratory work is sponsored by Dr. H. M. Harshaw.

The research laboratory, under the supervision of Prof. Fred Upson, will

Dean Thompson Will Attend Omaha Meeting

Dean T. J. Thompson, Dr. L. Van Es and Dr. I. H. Blake will go to Omaha today where they will give the state basic science board examinations to medical students there. The students will be examined in chemistry, bacteriology, physiology, hygiene, anatomy, and pathology. These state examinations must be taken as a prerequisite for an M. D. degree. They will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday at the county court house.

PARKING RULES ARE DISCUSSED

Three Students Voice Their Disapproval of Plan Now in Force

CONCERNS TWO STREETS

Three University of Nebraska students have expressed their disapproval of traffic conditions near the city campus and the fraternity and sorority sections. Sentiment has been increasing in opposition to the rules of parallel parking set down by city officials since the law was passed last February.

Dwight Wallace, '28, Casper, Wyo., editor of the 1928 Cornhusker, expressed his feelings concerning the problem to a Nebraska reporter yesterday. "A few years ago," stated Mr. Wallace, "agitation was aroused to move the University of Nebraska campus to the site now occupied by the College of Agriculture. "Lincoln citizens voted against it, and the campus remained in the city. Now, instead of attempting to make the campus quiet and conducive to study, Lincoln officials are sending the city's heaviest traffic through

Holtz Will Attend Alumni Conference

Fifteenth Annual Meeting Will Be Held All This Week in Minneapolis

Harold F. Holtz, secretary of the Nebraska Alumni association, will attend the fifteenth annual conference of the American Alumni council to be held at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, May 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Three days of business, lectures and entertainment and one day for registration appear on the program sent out to officials of alumni associations. Addresses by Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, and Daniel Lindsey Grant of the University of North Carolina, appear on the program. Mr. Holtz will return to Lincoln after the close of the conference.

Cadel Regiment Will Parade This Afternoon

Nebraska's R. O. T. C. regiment will be formed for a review in honor of the sponsors Tuesday evening, by order of Lieut. Col. F. F. Jewett. The Pershing Rifles will form as the right company of the first battalion.

The regiment will form in line on the north side of the parade ground facing south. First call will be sounded at 4:50 o'clock, and assembly at 5 o'clock.

Agricultural Campus Buzzes With Activity for Annual Farmers' Fair

There have been weeks of careful preparation, meetings every night, and special convocations to arouse the enthusiasm of the students in regard to Farmers' Fair, Saturday, May 5.

This preparation has been like a threatening storm but the storm is now raging furiously as the tenth annual Farmers' Fair is becoming a reality instead of merely plans on paper.

If one will visit the Farmers' Fair office in Agriculture hall, he will find the "brains" of the Fair—the machinery that makes the wheels go round. Here the manager, Art

ANNUAL SPRING ELECTION WILL BE HELD TODAY

Thirty-Two Candidates Are in Field for Publications Board, Council

POLITICIANS ARE ACTIVE

'Blue Shirts' Hold Serenade, 'Yellows' Visit Co-Eds To Get Votes

(By the Rag Man)

Today is May Day. But what is of more interest to thirty-two candidates for positions on the Student Publications board and the Student Council is the fact that it is the day of the annual spring election.

Fervish campaigning Monday by representatives of "Blue Shirts" and "Yellow Jackets", rival fraternity political factions, and girl candidates for the Student Council give rise to belief that today's election may rival the vigorous campaign of last spring when more than 1150 students voted in the largest spring election since 1921.

James Is Added

Addition of the name of Theodore James to the ballot as a candidate for senior member of the publication board to run against Charles Bruce, business manager of the Cornhusker, insured a real race for the coveted positions on the publications board.

Bruce was announced Sunday as the only candidate for the position. The filing of James was lost in the Student Activities office where filings were made and was not discovered until late Saturday. Although not go-

Hauke, and his staff of assistants hold forth and are busily engaged in making final plans, signing orders, or perhaps giving helpful advice to some troubled chairman who has got into difficulty.

Like a Toy Shop
Now if one will divert his attention to the old better known building of finding an old empty building as is usually the case, he will enter a building that must be Santa Claus's toy shop. But any good Cornhusker knows "there ain't no Santa Claus" and he no longer believes in fairyland, so he investigates and concludes. Here the manager, Art
