"Well, it may be six days of agony for the student and it would be for me if registration lasted over a day," said Dean Lyman of the College of Dentistry.

"You know it would hardly be fair for me to speak as I have the smallest college of the University. Now I don't know what I would do if I had as many students to register as Dean Candy.

This Way Is Best
"I think that this way of handling the registration is the only way, as it saves such a jam in the fall. Mr. Gunderson has worked out the paying of the fees very well by having the student pay in the fall when he returns.

The dean then continued, "In my twenty years of experience I have discovered that you can't run an institution without advisors, so no matter how much the student has to run around getting this said advice it is good for him."

Dean Candy admitted that he had not read the article on registration in yesterday's issue of the Daily Nebraskan but how he enjoyed it when it was brought to his attention. He could not keep from commenting as he read the article, and when he came to the place mentioning that the freshmen and the sophomores were trying to find the pipe courses he said, "You just don't want to forget that the juniors are looking for such courses and so would the seniors if they were only coming back."

"For me registration means six days of mighty close hard work. Not many of the students realize the
