OFFICIALS WILL HEADLINE BILL AT CONVOCATION

Burnett, Thompson, Schulte, Bearg and Condra Will Give Speeches

PLANS MADE FOR 2,000

Freshmen Will Get First Taste of University Traditions

First year men students in the University will receive their green caps immediately after freshman convocation Thursday morning at Bennett and Flugstad's, according to Fritz Daly, president of the Innocents. Freshman women may secure their green buttons at Rudge & Guenzel's. All first year students must wear the "fresh" insignia following the freshman initiation Thursday.

Traditional freshman convocation will be held in the Coliseum. Approximately two thousand new students are expected to attend the informal initiation. The welcome to Nebraska will last from 10 to 12 o'clock, at which time freshmen will be acquainted with Nebraska's customs and traditions.

Classes Are Excused
In order that all freshmen may attend the convocation, 10 and 11 o'clock classes for first year students will be excused. At the close of 9 o'clock classes the University R. O. T. C. band will play in front of Social Sciences, and march with the throng of freshman students to the Coliseum.

Final plans for the installation into Cornhusker territory have been completed by the Innocents society and the Mortarboards, senior honoraries in charge of the affair. The first words of welcome to the underclassmen will be delivered by Chancellor E. A. Burnett.

T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs at Nebraska, will next familiarize the freshmen with certain activities on the campus. He will also explain the value of these opportunities for service to the Cornhusker school. Coach Ernest Bearg of Nebraska football fame will address the assembly on the topic of athletics. Captains of major sports will be introduced to the new student body by Coach Bearg. Guy Chambers, prominent

GLEE CLUB TRYOUTS TO BE WEDNESDAY

Bass and Tenor Voices Are Needed — Plans Laid for K. C. Trip

Tryouts for the University of Nebraska Men's Glee Club will be held in Morrill Hall, Gallery B, on Wednesday, September 26 from 1 until 5 o'clock. It was announced at the first meeting of the club this year. All male students registered in the University are eligible to try out although only a limited number of freshmen will be admitted.

It is the club's aim to keep its membership smaller this year in order to make the organization more widely. Twenty-three of the old members attended Monday's meeting although some expressed a desire to become inactive in the club. From the check taken of the old members that will be affiliated in the organization, Director Decker announced that there was a greater need for second tenors and basses than for other voices. Other sections, however, are not yet filled.

As an added incentive for members of the club, Business Manager Pickett announced plans for a Thanksgiving engagement in Kansas City. All upperclassmen will be eligible for this trip.

MARLOW FILLS NEW OFFICE FOR HEPNER

Former Student of U of N Becomes Assistant to Dean of Women

Miss Mildred Marlow is now assistant to Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women. She is occupying the position held by Miss Harriet Battenon and Mrs. Lantz last year. Miss Battenon is now studying at Columbia University.

Miss Marlow was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1927 with a Bachelor of Science degree from the college of Business Administration. While in school she was president of the Girls' Commercial club and a charter member of Phi Chi Theta, honorary Business Administration fraternity. She worked her way through school, holding positions with the Guaranty Fidelity commission and the Chamber of Commerce. Miss Marlow was also secretary to Governor McMullen for a year. She will be in the receiving line at the given by Miss Heppner, Thursday afternoon.

The staff at the office of the Dean of Women includes Miss A. H. Heppner, dean of women; Miss Elsie Ford Piper, assistant dean of women; Miss Mildred Marlow, assistant to the dean of women; and Miss May Gund, part time assistant.

Names for Ushers To Be Filed Soon

All sophomores who desire to try out for sophomore cheer leading positions are requested to report on the football field in the stadium at 4 o'clock, Friday, September 28. Last year's sophomore yell leaders will try out for junior positions.

TRYOUTS NET 38 NEW MEMBERS FOR BAND

Fifty Old Men Are Expected Back; May Make Band Of 85 Players

DRILL WILL BEGIN SOON

Prospects for one of the largest and finest R. O. T. C. bands in the history of the University were given another boost today when the names of 38 new members were added to the band's roster, following tryouts in which nearly eighty men took part.

Fifty veteran bandmen were present at the organization's last meeting and indications point to a membership of at least 85 this year. Outdoor drill will probably be started this week in preparation for the football season.

The size of the band is limited each year by the number of uniforms available, and it is the desire of Prof. William T. Quick, director of the R. O. T. C. musical

TASSELS WILL DIRECT GREEN BUTTON SALE

All Freshmen Women Must Have Emblem; Sold at Rudge & Guenzel

Mortar Board has given over to the Tassels the duty of enforcing the green button rule for freshmen women. Heretofore this has been a part of the duties of Silver Serpent, junior honorary.

Plans have been laid for the freshmen women to secure the green buttons at Rudge and Guenzel's hosiery department as in former years. The distributing of the green buttons is in charge of Sally Pickard. Every freshman woman will be required to wear a green button and the Tassels will enforce this rule in earnest this year.

Routine business of the organization was carried on at the meeting. Esther Helme presided in the absence of Blanche Farness, the president who at present is in California. The resignation of the acting secretary, Geraldine Helkes, was accepted and Janet Schmitz was elected to fill the vacancy left by Kathryn Arnsburg who did not return to school.

FACULTY GIVES $136 TO RED CROSS FUND

Gish Collects Money for Tornado Swept Part of Nebraska

After a canvass of the University faculty and administrative staff, H. D. Gish, athletic director, has collected $136.00 for Red Cross relief work in northeastern Nebraska, which is suffering from effects of the recent tornado that struck that vicinity.

Mr. Gish was appointed by the Lancaster chapter of the Red Cross to head the solicitation campaign for the University. Some contributions were given by members of the faculty, but the above amount was officially credited to the faculty and administrative staff.

Former Nebraska Girl Accidentally Loses Life

Miss Hulda A. Haenig, former University of Nebraska student, lost her life at Washington, Pennsylvania. Her body was found at the bottom of an elevator shaft in a dormitory building and it is believed that she fell from the fourth floor while inspecting the dormitory. There were no witnesses to the tragedy.

Miss Haenig was granted a degree of Bachelor of Arts in history by the University of Nebraska last June and she also held a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan and a Master of Arts degree in religious education from Columbia University.

Tackle On Holy Cross Team Dies of Injuries

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 24.—(IP)—The first football fatality of the 1928 collegiate gridiron season occurred here when James J. Penton of Lawrence, Mass., died in a hospital of injuries received while tackling a runner in Holy Cross football practice. His neck was broken.

Yell Leaders to Tryout on Friday

R. O. T. C. cadets wishing to act as ushers for the home football games should sign up for positions at once at the Student Activities office at once, according to a statement issued by that office yesterday. Admittance to the games will be the compensation for the work. All ushers will be required to appear in R. O. T. C. uniforms on Friday.

FRIDAY STARTS SALE OF 1928 SEASON TICKETS

Student Athletic Books Will Be Sold in Coliseum September 28

TICKET PRICE IS $8.50

Representative Must Appear To Procure Tickets for Student Groups

Student season tickets for all varsity athletic events for the coming year will go on sale Friday, September 28, at eight o'clock in the Student Activities office in the Coliseum. That office announces that "first come, first served" will be the rule regarding selection of choice seats.

The price of the season books is $8.50. This entitles the holder to admission to all varsity games during the school year. Outsiders are charged $11.00 for season tickets to football games alone.

This year baseball has been added to the list of varsity sports, so there is an added inducement to the purchasers of season books. Attention is called to the fact that organizations wishing a block of seats together may procure them by sending a representative to the office with identification cards for all the group purchasing seats.

"N" men, football squad members, band men and freshmen football candidates are not eligible to purchase student books as they receive free admission to the games. All lists will be checked by the student activities office to remove any such names.

STAFF OF TEACHERS HIGH IS ANNOUNCED

Grads and Students Fill Vacancies and Begin Year's Work

Ralph Dexter, Joe Toman, and Emerie Cummings, Nebraska University seniors, are handling athletics in the Teachers College high school this year. All of these men are taking the course in coaching offered at the University.

In general, the work at Teachers College is progressing swiftly. W. B. Jones is supervisor of mathematics this year instead of W. H. Steinback, who resigned last year. Mr. Johns was principal of York, Neb., high school for 14 years. Last year he was a graduate student at the university and he obtained his masters degree this summer.

Mrs. Norma Grumann Green replaces Mrs. Mirth Sherer as superintendent of social science. Mrs. Green has her masters degree from the University of Nebraska. She has taught in the junior college at Scotts Bluff and last year she taught social science in a senior high school at Pittsburgh. Mrs. Sherer is now teaching in a college in Houston, Texas.

Miss Minnie Schlichting is the new assistant principal in charge of the office. She has an A.B. degree from the University of Nebraska and has taught in Sidney. Last year Miss Schlichting was appointed assistant in the commercial department of the University.

NAVY BAND WILL PLAY HERE ON NOVEMBER 6

Nationally Known Musical Unit is Scheduled for Two Concerts

The United States Navy band, under the direction of Lieut. Charles Benter, will appear at the University of Nebraska Coliseum, Tuesday, Nov. 6, according to an announcement made by John K. Selleck, business manager of athletics.

According to Mr. Selleck, the Navy band is on a tour authorized by President Calvin Coolidge and will appear in only a limited number of cities. Lincoln is the western point of the band's itinerary.

The musical organization, which will appear in Lincoln, is the same group of musicians that is heard each week over the national radio-casting system. It is the official band of the U. S. Mayflower, the president's yacht, and it has accompanied presidents of the United States on trips away from the Capitol. On the Alaskan trip of President Harding the Navy band also provided all the music. The band also frequently heard at the White House, its last appearance there

Kappa Phi Plans First Meeting of New Year

Kappa Phi, Methodist girls' club, will hold its first meeting of the year at the Wesley Foundation, on Thursday evening Sept. 27 at seven o'clock. The meeting will be in the form of a rally for all Kappa Phi girls.

Short talks on the national annual council held at Winona Lake, Indiana, June 19-26, will be given by the delegates who attended from the Nebraska chapter. Several of the stunts, which were features of the entertainment part of the program at the council will also be presented.

Corn Cobs to Meet Tuesday at Temple

There will be a meeting of all last year's Corn Cobs in room 204, Temple building, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. New members and officers for the coming year will be selected. All men who were active last year are requested to be there.

SCHOLARSHIP RULES ARE AGAIN GIVEN OUT

Each Sorority, Fraternity Receives Copy From Dean of Men

Scholastic requirements for University students were issued this morning from the office of T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs. A copy of these requirements was sent to each sorority and fraternity.

There are but a few minor changes from last year's requirements. They are as follows:

1. Whenever at the middle or end of any semester a student is making an unsatisfactory scholastic record in two-fifths or more of his hours of registration, he is dropped from the rolls of the University. However, if there are unusual extenuating circumstances, he may petition the Scholarship committee for permission to continue his University work. Such

ROOTER TICKET SALE COMMENCES FRIDAY

Cheering Section Admission Is Not Limited to Fraternities

Sale of tickets for the rooters section will begin Friday, September 28 at the same time as the regular student activities tickets. These tickets will be available to all men students, and not only to fraternity men as has been the impression of some.

The purchase of a rooster's cap will be absolutely necessary to obtain a ticket for this section. In order to take care of those having caps from last year, the second-hand caps will be bought by the University at 50 cents each.

Caps must be turned in Thursday at the Student Activities office in order to take advantage of this offer. These caps may be bought by the students at the same price of 50 cents when they appear for their tickets Friday. The price of a new cap will be 75 cents. This arrangement will make the purchase of a cap imperative for those wishing to get into the section.

The organized rooster section plan which was used for the first time at Nebraska last year, met with the hearty approval and cooperation of the student body, and according to present plans the section will be much improved this year. The Innocents society are sponsoring this feature of football crowd entertainment, with Carl Olson as chairman in charge of all arrangements.

MERCHANTS DEMAND NEW IDENTITY TAGS

Senior Woman Fails Show Card; Check Refused At Local Store

Stressing the value of identification cards issued to freshmen, Dean T. J. Thompson yesterday cited the case of a senior girl who lost her card. Because she lacked proper identification she was unable to obtain books at the university and Social Sciences libraries, also her check was refused on presentation at a store.

Purchase of student tickets for football games will also require presentation of these cards, and although the University will issue duplicates, they will be difficult to obtain, and only on positive proof of loss to L. E. Gunderson, financial secretary.

Ingersoll Estate Left As Student Trust Fund

DENVER, Sept. 24.—(IP)—The estate of the late Robert H. Ingersoll, of dollar watch fame, who died here recently, has been left as a trust fund to aid boys seeking a college education, according to the terms of the will filed in New York.

Although Ingersoll estimated the estate as worth "over $10,000," friends of the philanthropist estimated it to be worth between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

The trust, to be known as the Robert and Roberta Ingersoll Foundation, will go to boys seeking a collegiate, university or professional education.

University Reserve Library Proves To Be in Popular Usage by Students

More than 250,000 books were given out from the reserve library of the university during the last year, a total which makes an average of 800 books a day.

The peak of the school year, according to Miss Glass, who has charge of the reserve library, was reached in the month of March, during which time more than 26,000 books were checked out and returned within the regular two hour time limit.

October and March, the two months following the beginning of the semesters, seem to mark the high interest points in school work. During the two months an average of more than a thousand books per day were issued.

In many courses much outside reading must be done. This parallel reading would necessarily cause much extra expense, if the students were to buy their own books. The size of the average class makes it practically impossible for each student to check out the specified book from the regular library for any length of time.

As early as 1904 professors would go to the library and mark certain books with a label pasted to the cover, which designated that it was not to be removed from the reading room. At that time the shelves were all open and there was no manner in which the reserved books could be checked.

So, in 1909, a reserve desk was installed at the west end of the main library reading room. The growth of the department soon necessitated its removal to more spacious quarters. When the space in the old art gallery, to which the reserve collection was moved, became inadequate, provisions for additional space were included in the plans for the Social Sciences building.

The university reserve library is one of the best equipped in the middle west. Although the seating capacity will accommodate approximately three hundred students, there is often need for more space, especially just before examinations, when many students seem to try to catch up with their neglected supplementary reading.

The reserve library system is of tremendous value to students majoring in history, education, political science and the English courses, according to the librarian, Mr. Doane, since it gives a greater number of students access to the books prescribed for outside reading.

During the fourteen hours that the library is open each day, seven students may obtain one book. In that way, Mr. Doane pointed out, a class of fifty or more can easily do all the required supplementary reading, at a great saving of time and money both to the student and the library.

A student may secure a reserved book for a period of two hours. At the end of that time he may renew his claim, if the book is not being called for, by resigning for it. Reserved books may be taken out for overnight use after 9:30 o'clock.

Initial Week Is Perplexing to New Students
"I'm lost."
"Where is S. S. A."
"I must be in the wrong class."
These and many other similar exclamations can be heard on the campus last Thursday and Friday as an army of freshmen endeavored to find the right place to start off a college education. Some of the first year students, after an unsuccessful search, departed to the corner drug store, where they found many others opening their college careers over a nickel drink.

It is becoming evident this year that the freshmen are losing their characteristic "greenness." On finally arriving at the proper classroom they handled themselves in an experienced collegiate manner. One young fellow showed himself to be "dye-in-the-wool" already when he answered roll call with a long 2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2-2.

It was a long weekend for the new students as they endeavored to get their surroundings on their new playground. The university faculty is always prepared for this happening and adopts a friendly and courteous attitude to aid the situation. One teacher unfortunately lost her patience, however, when one senior reported to her gymnasium class for biology.

MISS HEPNER WILL GIVE TEA FOR WOMEN

Dean of Women Will Preside At Annual Affair To Be Given Thursday

Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, will give her annual tea to all university women Thursday at Ellen Smith hall between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

The tea is for the purpose of bringing together the women students, faculty members and house-mothers. The new students will be introduced to Miss Heppner, dean of women; to Miss Pfeiffer, assistant dean of women; Miss Marlow, new assistant in the dean of women's office; Miss Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A.; and Mrs. Burnett, wife of the Chancellor of the University.

Members of the Mortar Board, the A. W. S. Board, and the Big Sister Board will help to introduce these women. The Y. W. C. A. cabinet and the W. A. W. C. A. assist in the dining room.

Delta Omicron, honorary musical fraternity will provide the musical program.

EDITOR OF DIRECTORY URGES COOPERATION

Head of Publication Calls for Data on Presidents of Organizations

All organizations are urged to turn in the name and address of their presidents to the student directory staff, according to Sherman Welpton, editor. This information should be in immediately and can be handed in to Mr. Welpton at the Y. M. C. A. office in the Temple building.

The directory will be out by the first of November if the co-operation of the students and organizations is obtained. This year's directory promises to be a very complete issue.

KOSMET SHOW WILL HOLD CO-ED TRYOUT
Klub Needs Talent for Fall Comedy; Request to Be Present Made

University co-eds will try out for the next Kosmet Klub show at 7:15 o'clock this evening. The competition for parts in the fall musical comedy will be held in Temple 203. University men will have an opportunity to try out Thursday at the same hour in the Temple.

Kosmet Klub announced yesterday afternoon that a coach for the chorus has been engaged. Mrs. Mervin B. Cooksey, dancer of vaudeville fame, will have charge of dancing instruction. Mrs. Cooksey is a graduate of Adolph Bolm Dancing Academy in New York City, and has held a position on the teaching staff of the Horner Institute of Fine Arts in Kansas City. She danced on the Orpheum circuit for two years and is considered the most competent instructor the Kosmet Klub has ever engaged for work of this kind. Charles Cox will assist in the chorus coaching.

Mrs. Cooksey expresses herself as being interested in the chorus work of the Kosmet Klub. She hopes to turn out an unusually good co-ed chorus for the fall musical comedy. Kosmet Klub urges all men and women with talent along the lines of singing or dancing to report for tryouts. Twenty-four hours of accredited University work is necessary for students to appear in the Kosmet Klub production, as in any other student activity.

VARSITY PARTY HEAD CLOSES FILES TODAY

All Committee Applications Must Be in Selleck's Office by Noon

Applications for positions on Varsity Party committees will be accepted at John K. Selleck's office in the Coliseum up until noon tomorrow. The Student Council will make their selection of committee members Wednesday evening.

According to Jack Elliott, Varsity Party chairman, more students will be used on the committees this year than last. Those in charge of the dances for this season, expect to have larger crowds than ever before at the parties. All students who have ability along the lines of publicity, decorating, entertainment, receiving or checking in regard to the all-University parties are urged to apply.

The first party, a "Fall Frolic" will be held in the Coliseum, October 13. Announcements concerning this dance will be made in the Daily Nebraskan as soon as committees have been picked and work begun.

Classics Department Has Three New Members

C. E. Demaray from the University of Michigan, is one of the new professors in the classics department of the University of Nebraska. Besides Mr. Demaray, O. W. Reinmuth, a graduate student of Yale, and Miss Joanna Orden, a graduate of Smith College in Massachusetts are new instructors in this department.

Baseball Prospects Will Hold Session
All varsity baseball candidates are requested to meet in the N Club's rooms in the Coliseum at 8:30 o'clock, Tuesday. This meeting will follow the along freshman football candidates at 7:30 o'clock.

SUBSCRIBERS IS CAMPAIGN AIM OF DAILY PAPER

Tassels Given Command Of Drive and Plan to Do Soliciting

PRICE IS TWO DOLLARS

Method of Distribution Is Different This Year From Others

Subscription campaign for the Daily Nebraskan began yesterday and will be carried on all this week. The Tassels, honorary women's pep organization, will have charge of the campaign and its members will solicit the subscriptions.

Subscriptions are $2 a full year, and $3 a year by mail. The Daily Nebraskan will be distributed free until Monday, October 1. Subscriptions will then be listed and only subscribers will receive the paper.

Distribution System Perfected
The College book store, and the Co-Op book store will distribute the copies this year. As students will obtain their copies through Tillman's store across the street from the Ag campus. Faculty copies will be distributed through the University mail and will be in the office of the subscriber before seven o'clock on the day the paper is printed.

Tags will be given to each subscriber in order to avoid repetition in soliciting.

INTEREST HEIGHTENS IN IMPROVED AWGWAN

Sororities and Fraternities Are Quick to Accept Bargain Blocks

With promises coming from the Awgwan staff for one of the snappiest and liveliest series of eight issues of the University of Nebraska's humorous publication yet to be offered, sororities and fraternities are taking up the block-subscription bargain of twenty-five issues with great interest. Charles W. Wahlgvist, business manager, announced Monday.

Something new and different in the line of college humor papers is to be presented to the University students on October 10 when the "Frosh" number of the Awgwan makes its debut. Kenneth G. Anderson, editor, announces that he has revised some of the make-up of the magazine in order to present a new appearance.

New departments to make their appearance include the theater, style, and music sections. Members of the editorial staff who have contributed to the first issue or who are preparing work are Douglas Timmerman, Margaret Keating, Bill McCleery, Warren

STAFF OF YEARBOOK HAS FEW VACANCIES

Applications for Positions of Department Editors Are Available

Applications for positions on the 1929 Cornhusker staff will be received at the Cornhusker office, south side of University hall basement, from 1 until 5 o'clock every afternoon this week.

The following positions are open: editor of administration section, editor of activity section, sorority editor, military editor, associate editors, and several assistant managing editors. William Mentzer, editor of the year book, says that the number of upperclassmen on the editorial staff will be reduced this year, and a large number of freshmen will be used in the work on activities.

Circulation Manager Needed
Several advertising assistants are needed on the business staff, according to Bruce Thomas, business manager. The position of circulation manager is also open.

The work of the associate editors will be writing interesting accounts of organization history from a list of facts. The position of photographer calls for students who are especially interested in taking snapshots.

A complete outline for the annual was made this summer by the editor, and the art work is nearly completed. The body of the yearbook will be put together in the next few months in preparation for its distribution next spring.

College of Engineering Receives Alumni Guests

Visitors at the College of Engineering during the past week included: Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Reedy of Denver, Colo. Mr. Reedy, a graduate in civil engineering in 1898, is now senior assistant highway engineer of the state highway department of Colorado. Mrs. Reedy graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1900.
