IN THE VALLEY

By JACK ELLIOTT

The Pitt Panthers, Nebraska's foe for November 17 will present a far lighter line and lighter backfield when the two eleven clash on Memorial Stadium field than the Pitt team did last year on the Panther gridiron. Coach Jack Sutherland realizes that with a light line and a lighter backfield, he cannot expect to crash the line for yardage and consequently the Pitt attack this season will be nothing short of spectacular, consisting of end runs and a variety of forward passes.

Information has been received from the athletic officials at West Point that a block of 3,500 seats are reserved for Nebraska rooters at the Army-Nebraska game at West Point on November 24. This section will be open to eastern alumni and Nebraska's going back with the team. Tickets for the Nebraska section will be in the east steel stands and in mid-field. The price of the tickets will be four dollars.

Nebraska enters the new Big Six conference this year with a Varsity baseball nine. The call for practice has gone forth and candidates for the team will have short workouts and practice sessions in the Coliseum this fall. John "Choppy" Rhodes is the Varsity baseball coach and expects a large turnout of sand lot aspirants this spring.

Harold Keith, one of the best sport writers in the Big Six conference and stellar distance man for the Oklahoma Sooners was ruled off the Oklahoma track team for this year because he participated in athletics at a state teachers college in 1925 before he entered Oklahoma University. Keith was elected captain of the 1929 Sooner track team and this ruling comes as a great blow to Sooner hopes of capturing the first Big Six championship on the track next spring.

Coach Noel Workman, Iowa State football mentor is working his football charges to the limit in preparation for the opening game with the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Ames in two weeks. With the loss of Captain Johnny Miller, the Cyclone coach must re-vamp his backfield for the 1928 season. A number of sophomore footballers are fighting for positions in the backfield. Captain Harold Lindblom is working at one halfback position, Glenn Johnson at quarter, and Marshall at full.

Charley Black now has the largest squad of freshmen footballers in the Big Six conference. The number now totals close to one hundred and fifty yearling pigskin luggers. Before the close of this week the number is expected to increase and Black intends to form a varsity freshmen football eleven which will work out with the Varsity eleven later in the season. The remainder of the squad will be divided up into leagues and games played every week.

CORNHUSKERS CLASH IN TOUGH SCRIMMAGE

Red and White Teams Rip and Charge in Full Sixty Minute Conflict

FIRST GAME SATURDAY

Coach Ernest E. Bearg started his Scarlet and Cream football charges on a week of intensive training last night on the practice field by sending two full teams through sixty minutes of hard scrimmage.

This week will be devoted almost entirely to formations and scrimmage. The eleven wearing the red put the white team to route with line charges and wide runs around the wing positions. Clair Sloan, Nebraska's triple-threat man was doing the largest share of the ball lugging and doing it to a great advantage. Punting and passing also came in for its share in the practice session and during the scrimmage. Peaker, Witte, and Sloan handled that department of the pigskin pastime.

Blue Howell, Nebraska's captain in the backfield was performing in polished pre-season form. Line drives and smashes through tackle are the Husker fullback's specialty and in the first real scrimmage of the season, he carried this part of the backfield job. Two weeks yet remain before the opening of the conference season and in those two weeks the Husker coaching staff will devote all its time to perfecting the Cornhusker grid machine that will open against Iowa State at Ames next week.

The annual Freshman-Varsity game is scheduled for next Saturday and until that time the Scarlet warriors will take their workouts behind the closed doors of stadium field. The annual clash with the yearlings is looked forward to with a great deal of anxiety. With

Meeting of All Fresh Grid Men Is Called

Choppy Rhodes, freshman football coach, has called a meeting of all freshman football candidates to take place in the N Club's rooms in the Coliseum at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday.

145 fresh out for football this fall, Coach Black expects to put an eleven on the field Saturday that will make the Nebraska eleven work hard for everything it gets.

Coach Bearg expects to try several combinations in the season opener this week but the probable backfield will be Captain Blue Howell at full, Clair Sloan and Farley at half and McBride, Witte, Peaker, and Rowley or Russell at quarter. Russell was not out for the practice session last night as the big quarterback is having some difficulties in the scholastic line. He is expected to get his work straightened up and be out tonight.

The lineup in last night's practice consisted of Bushee and Lewandowski at the wing positions; Holm and Zuber at guards; Broadstone and Ray at tackle; and James at center. In the backfield were Clair Sloan, Blue Howell, George Farley and "Bud" McBride. The second eleven was made up of Simic and Ashburn at the end positions; McMullen and Justice at guard; Richards and Munn at tackle; and Maasdem at center. In the backfield were "Dutch" Witte, Frahm, Peaker, and Rowley.

DIABOLO POWDER causes an exceedingly tormenting but harmless itching sensation that makes it the most hilariously essential novelty on the market. Simply apply a few grains of Diabolo on the victim's neck or wrist and watch him execute a series of mirth provoking antics. Its effects are temporary but highly entertaining. Package the freshmen with Diabolo and watch them squirm. Try it on your roommate. Diabolo is packed in 50c and $1.00 sizes. Order now for Fall Initiations.
