MISSOURI BAND IS ENGAGED FOR R. O. T. C. DANCE

Herb Fick and His Men Will Perform at Annual Ball October 27

NEGOTIATIONS COMPLETE
Contract, Held Up Pending Sanction, Is Definitely Signed

Herb Fick and his Missouri Quadrangle orchestra of Hotel Mitchell fame have been definitely engaged for the R. O. T. C. Band Ball, which will be held in the Coliseum, Homecoming night, October 27. It was announced early today by Joyce Ayres, member of the Band Ball executive committee.

Negotiations have been under way for some time, but due to some doubt as to whether an imported orchestra would be permitted, the contract was held up until official sanction was given. Price of tickets to the Ball has been set at one dollar. Due to the comparatively low price of admission, it will be necessary to sell at least 4,500 tickets if the sum needed to send the R. O. T. C. band to West Point.

A corps of fifty ticket sellers will launch a city-wide sale Saturday morning. The salesmen will be divided into squads, and the business district and university campus will be zoned off.

He Fick's Missouri Quadrangle orchestra has long been recognized as one of the leading collegiate musical aggregations in the middle west. Ten youthful jazz artists will play tunes guaranteed to tickle the toes of the most indifferent of dancers. Novel entertainment as well as the latest dance numbers hot off the press will be featured by the "Show Me" state players.

Many Endorse Ball
The Band Ball has been endorsed by E. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, Frederick Daly, president of the Innocents society, Eldred Larson, president of the Student Council, Jack Elliott, president of the Corn Cobs, and Lynn Twine, president of Kosmet Klub, as well as by many prominent Lincoln business men and scores of students.

Sending the R. O. T. C. Band to the Army game would be one of the best advertisements for Nebraska and for the University that has ever been seen, many business men have declared, and if the present enthusiasm over the project which has been shown by scores of students, is any indication, the bandmen will have little difficulty selling enough Band Ball tickets to defray their expenses to West Point.

CORNHUSKER WORK PROGRESSES RAPIDLY

Daily assignments of juniors and seniors to either Hauck or Townsend studios being continued, work on the 1928-29 Cornhusker is progressing rapidly, according to William Metzger, Jr., editor of the year book.

All of the persons whose names are listed below must have their pictures taken, today or tomorrow, at either of the above mentioned studios. As the deadline has been set, all pictures must be taken within the time assigned.

Kosmet Rehearsals Come to Close As Cast Reaches Peak of Perfection

Quartet Goes Sleepless for Two Weeks in Order to Compile Most Effective Score to Present Tonight

"Curtain," cried the stage manager and the hand hoisted the asbestos on "The Match-Makers," what? Oh yes, this is just rehearsal but it's the last one 'cause the fall production of Kosmet Klub opens tonight at the Liberty.

Now we'll let you in on this, that the book is not only ultra-modernized but that the musical score is up to the minute. A quartet of tune-smiths have gone sleepless for the last few weeks compiling a score that would be most effective. Wilbur Chenoweth offered the finale, "I'll Hear You Sing," and how it fits our heroine's voice. Harriet Cruise Kemmer is the heroine—how can you ask?

Many Melodians
The other melody manufacturers that have contributed their efforts and inspirations are Lamar Burling, Lovell, "Jiggs" Miller, and Joyce Ayres. Lamar Burling and Jiggs Miller were responsible for the musical score of the Kosmet production "The Dream Pirate." Joyce Ayres, in collaboration with Lamar Burling, furnished the music of last year's show, "The Love Hater." Such numbers as "Lady of the Night," "Scatter Sunshine" and others will be associated with this show and these writers.

"On your hats and hang on to your hearts when you hear Harriet Cruise Kemmer, if you insist, sing "Sweet Surrender." Hang on to them tight for if you don't you will certainly lose them.

Long Night Planned
And that chorus—well it's going to be a long night, girls. These Kosmet Klub Steppers can step. Opera glasses are being taken out of cold storage and dusted off for the benefit of those who come in late and are forced to sit in the balcony.

From the looks of the line down in the box office this morning, the Sig Alphas are going to get their fall party orchestra for half price. Why everybody is going to the show—well—that won't be over until after ten-thirty.

"This cast should be Chinamen," remarked someone at rehearsal the other night, "so they wouldn't forget their cues." Then came the eclipse. (If your face is red it won't be Red Long.)

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT IS SLIGHTLY INJURED

Mitchell Ferris, 16, Is Hit By Car Driven by Alan McIntosh

In an accident which was termed by bystanders as being entirely unavoidable, Mitchell Ferris, 2506 N street, Lincoln, sixteen, student of Teachers College high school, was struck by a car driven by Alan McIntosh, university student, at the north side of Memorial mall in front of the Coliseum yesterday afternoon.

Ferris was rushed to the Lincoln General hospital. Director of Athletics Herbert Gish's car before the ambulance had arrived. After numerous x-rays had been taken, the injury to Ferris' leg, doctors announced that it was not serious. At the time Ferris was taken to the hospital, he was in a dazed condition, but the extent of his injuries proved to be slight.

The accident occurred as Ferris was crossing the street toward the Coliseum. McIntosh's car was approaching and Ferris was pushed in front of it by some boys with whom he was playing. According to Coach Henry F. Schulte, who witnessed the accident, "McIntosh could not be blamed, because the accident was unavoidable."

It was first thought that Ferris might have been suffering from internal injuries but examination proved that condition not true.

ORGANIZATIONS EFFECT PLANS FOR DISPLAYS

Fraternities, Sororities Will Decorate Their Houses For Homecoming

RULES ARE ANNOUNCED
Limit on Expenditures Is Set by Committee of Senior Society

Plans are being effected by the fraternities and sororities for their house decorations for Homecoming Day, Saturday, October 27. The decorations contest committee announces that twenty-five dollars is the limit to be spent on the house decorations.

Judging will be done the Friday before Homecoming Day. A committee of three persons will be selected to pick out the winners, but this committee is as yet unknown. Another ruling made is that flood lights be used by all contestants.

Cups Will Be Awarded
Cups for first and second prizes, both the fraternity and sorority contestants are being offered by Fenton B. Fleming, who has also furnished cups for past competitions.

The contest, which is sponsored by the Innocents society, is in charge of a committee composed of Kenneth Anderson, Charles Bruce, Munro Keizer Bruce Thomas and John Trout.

Alpha Delta Theta won in the sorority division last year. Sigma Phi Epsilon has held the first honors for the last three years, making them permanent possessors of the fraternity cup.

Movie Will Be Shown at Sunday Morrill Program

"Indians of the Plains" a movie will furnish the entertainment for the regular Sunday program at Morrill hall, October 21. The program will begin at 4:15 o'clock in the afternoon.

Group Entries Must Be Filed Today for Opening Tilt of Season
Monday, October 22, the first Nebraska ball games of the season will be played in the women's gymnasium, or if the weather permits, on the hockey field. All group entries should be filed in the office of the Department of Physical Education not later than this evening.

Game schedules will be posted on the bulletin board in the gymnasium, as well as sent to the addresses of the competing groups. If teams are desirous of scheduling games for any particular time, all efforts will be made to arrange the competition to suit their convenience. Preferred time lists games for 6:45 to 8:00 o'clock.

New Plan Suggested
At the last meeting of the intramural sports representatives, held at Ellen Smith hall, Nellie May Bloss presented a report on the tennis tourney, which will take place during this month. She explained that the tennis plans are being formulated and entries will be accepted beginning this week.

"We are going to initiate a new mixed doubles idea which I know will prove an interesting experiment," stated Miss Bloss.

Any girl who already has a partner for mixed tennis doubles must turn in the two names at the intramural office before Saturday. Players without partners, wishing to enter mixed doubles tournaments are requested to sign up and partners will be procured for them. Each competing group is entitled to one entry in the mixed doubles and as many singles entries as they may wish.

Horseback Races Planned
All girls interested in horseback riding should arrange to see Margaret Ames, who is in charge of this sport. A great variety of races is being planned, including Laun celeo races and pick-up races of all types.

HUGE RALLY WILL WELCOME SYRACUSE

Large Gathering Scheduled To Parade From Coliseum To Lincoln Hotel

Two thousand Nebraska students are expected to throng the downtown streets this evening, when the Cornhusker spirit marches on its way to the Lincoln hotel with a welcome to the Syracuse team in one of the biggest rallies in Scarlet and Cream history.

The rally is scheduled to open at the coliseum at 7:00 o'clock Friday evening, where a short program has been arranged.

From here they will march to the Lincoln hotel where the Syracuse team will be present to receive the mighty ovation the Nebraska student body has for them.

The university band, Corn Cobs, and Tassel will lead the march from the Coliseum, followed by the students.

Rhodes Will Talk
"Choppy" Rhodes, backfield coach of the Scarlet and Cream varsity and one of Nebraska's greatest athletes will address the gathering at the coliseum. "Chick" Box, varsity yell king will have charge of the yell and the band will be on hand to furnish music for the huge pep gathering.

The Syracuse-Nebraska clash, Saturday, is considered by sport writers as one of the biggest games of this week end. The Orange are coming from New York with a powerful aggregation and those in charge of the rally are asking for a hundred per cent turnout in preparation for a victory in Saturday's game.

Support Is Solicited
The Cornhusker event is entering into the hardest part of its terrific schedule. Support for the team is needed and all are hoping that the renowned Cornhusker spirit will burst into full blast Friday evening.

Nebraska Dads, who will be in Lincoln for the Dad's Day game, are urged to attend the pep meeting. The program will be as short as possible to enable everyone to fill engagements for the evening.

A short rally will be held in front of social sciences, between 9 and 10 o'clock classes, Friday morning.

RIFLES TRYOUTS WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK
Eligibility Rules for Basic Military Group Members Are Published

DADS WILL VIEW STUDENT PEP AT SYRACUSE GAME

Festivities Will Begin With Gigantic Rally, Parade This Evening

EXPECT MANY FATHERS
Indications Point to One of Greatest Assemblages in History

When the gigantic rally and parade for the Syracuse game begin at 7 o'clock tonight, festivities for Nebraska Dads will begin.

Indications are that the assemblage of Dads of student Cornhuskers will be the greatest in the history of the holiday, according to Gordon Hodges, who is in charge of the arrangements. The students of the University of Nebraska, the Innocents society, and Chancellor Burnett will be hosts to the Dads of Cornhusker sons and daughters at the seventh annual Dad's day program of events.

Before the intercollegiate football game between Syracuse and Nebraska, the visiting Dads will be guests at luncheon at the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce at 11:30 o'clock. Governor Adam McMullen, R. E. Campbell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Chancellor E. A. Burnett and Coach Henry Schulte will serve on the toast list at the banquet and will officially welcome the Dads to Lincoln.

Corn Cobs Will Perform
As a special block of seats has been reserved in the stadium for sons, daughters and their Dads, all students who hold tickets in the regular student section may exchange them for tickets in the Dad's section.

Dad's Day dinners have been planned by fraternities and sororities who are cooperating in the program for the day. When the Dads gather in Lincoln, next Saturday, they will be given a taste of traditional college life. The Corn Cobs, pep society, will give a unique pep stunt at the noon day banquet.

Again the old Cornhusker spirit will be roused in the Dads when the Corn Cobs conduct the monstrous parade tonight which will lead to the Lincoln hotel and the visiting Syracuse team. Those who remember the success of the parade last Dad's Day will not wonder at the success of the parade this year, as planned by the Corn Cobs.

Dad's Day has become a tradition on the Nebraska campus, first originated in 1922 on the day of the Kansas-Angle-Cornhusker game. The Syracuse game was a feature of the gathering last year and because the game is regarded as one of the best on Nebraska's 1928 football schedule, it was again chosen for this year.

W. A. A. ENTERTAINS AT ROBBERS' CAVE

Freshmen Women Invited To Annual Funfest to Be Held Tonight

Robbers' Cave, two and a half miles south of Lincoln, is to be the scene of the Fun Fest staged by the W. A. A. this evening for all freshman women of the University.

INNOCENTS NOW HAVE DELTA-PHI DELT TROPHY

Senior Society Is Latest Owner of Historic Landmark

Delta Tau Delta-Phi Delta Theta bell, that has been receiving publicity for thirty years because of fights staged between members of the two fraternities over its possession, has now been turned over to the Innocents society. It was announced last night. Just what use will be made of the bell is as yet unknown.

The bell came into the hands of the Deltas and Phi Delt in 1898, as near as can be determined from clippings found in an old Delta Tau Delta scrap book.

Members of both fraternities required considerable urging before they would relinquish their claims to the bell. It had made a place for itself in fraternity traditions of both Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Theta.

Last year, early in the spring, the Innocents society tried to get the bell from these fraternities, but were unable to make any headway. Students are becoming excited and curious as to the outcome of all the "bell business." This, apparently, is exactly what the Innocents desire.

Briefly told, even the history of this famous bell is considered interesting. It originally graced the belfry of a negro church in Seward, Nebraska, until cadets in summer camp decided to annex it for their own use. The cadets were members of Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Theta with Deltas predominating. The Deltas took the bell home from that summer camp in 1898, but it has not remained in their possession for very long periods at a time since then.

Students have inquired as to the size of this bell. "After all I've heard about this bell I would imagine that it's about the size of the Sig Alpha house," joked one upperclassman. The bell is only about twenty inches across. It is cracked and slightly in need of refinishing, but the Greek letters signifying Phi Delta Theta and those of Delta Tau Delta stand out proudly on its rough surface.

STUDENT DIRECTORY NEARS COMPLETION

Copies Will Be Distributed November 1, Editor Announces

Student directories will be ready for distribution November 1, is the announcement made by Sherman Welpton, editor of the directory this year.

The directory will have a blue cover and will include a great deal of useful information. All copy was turned in Wednesday and only the final work putting the book together has not been done.

Lists of students' names and addresses were posted in Social Science hall for correction last week. Fraternities and sororities have turned in their membership and officer lists, and practically all of the written work has been completed.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU AIDS MANY STUDENTS

Secretary Cites Figures of Activities During First Month

"The university employment bureau during September secured more work and placed a greater number of students in permanent part time work than the bureau records have ever shown in the last eight years for the first month," declared Sherman Welpton, secretary of the bureau.

Through the dean of student affairs a most comprehensive canvass of the Lincoln business firms was made and the results were most gratifying, he said. One hundred twenty-eight positions were secured and filled, and an additional forty-nine positions were reported to the secretary by phone or personal calls during September.

In addition there have been eight two and half filled during the first month. The total earnings accrued to students from these various positions is reported to be $4696.00. From statistics this is by far the best year ever reported for securing employment.

Pfeiffer Will Relate European Travels At Open Meeting of Palladian Society

At the open meeting of the Palladian Literary society tonight Dr. Laura B. Pfeiffer of the department of history will tell of her travels in Europe this summer.

The meeting will be held in the Palladian hall in the Temple building at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Pfeiffer spent July and August in Italy, studying Renaissance art of the fifteenth century and Italian unification of the nineteenth century. She visited the University of Bologna and the leading cities from Milan to Genoa, including many of the smaller places not usually visited by tourists.

the police department in the hands of the army one is safer in the average Italian city than in Chicago. When a stranger registers at a hotel he must show his passport and other identifying data.

The number of soldiers seen everywhere was especially noticeable. Home life in Italy was more peaceful and less like than in America. With 10 at 12 o'clock the shops and even post offices are closed until 3 o'clock because of the intense heat, and stay open until 8 o'clock at night.

Nebraska agricultural bulletins were in use at the University of Bologna, the oldest university in Europe. Miss Pfeiffer found on an inspection of the campus.
